24. The owner of the salt shall be required to pay full duty on any difference between the quantity of salt originally delivered from ship-board or the Golahs and the quantity cleared out from the warehouse, less an allowance of 3 per cent. on the whole, if such wastage actually occurs.

25. In any special case the Chief Customs authority shall be competent to direct that an increased allowance for wastage shall be granted in accordance with the provision of section 122, Act VIII of 1878.

26. When the seals are found intact, the owner or his agent may, within 24 hours from the time of arrival of the salt at its destination, pay the duty on the whole quantity of salt, less one per cent. for wastage, in any consignment as shown in the pass or boat-note, after which the Collector of the district or Collector of Customs, if there be any, shall allow him to break bulk without weighing or warehousing being required.

27. If the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, as the case may be, has any reason to believe that any fraud has been perpetrated by the bonder or owner of the salt or any person in his employ, he shall refuse to make any allowance on account of wastage, and shall demand the full duty payable on the entire quantity received into bond.

28. Before permission can be granted to transport salt to the warehouse, the bonder will be required to enter into an engagement with the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, to defray the cost to Government of the establishment noted in the margin, which will be appointed by the Collector for the guard and supervision of the warehouse.

Rules for the clearance of salt.

29. Before any quantity of salt is cleared from the warehouse, duty shall be paid at the district treasury, and the necessary protective document, if any be required, issued. The Chief Customs authority may, however, at its discretion allow the duty to be paid through the post-office at places where there is no Government Treasury and which are outside the salt limits.

30. All deliveries of salt bonded in the warehouse under the provisions of Act VIII of 1878 shall be supervised, as required by section 99 of the above Act, by the daroga, who shall give proper security, the amount of which will be determined by the Collector of the district, subject to the approval of the Commissioner and the Board. In the case of warehouses situated within the salt limits he shall allow delivery to be taken on the production of the necessary protective document In other cases he may deliver on the production of the treasury chalan or the post-office receipt for the money-order.

31. For the use of scales and weights, which will be provided by Government, the bonders will be charged at such rates as may from time to time be prescribed by the rules relating to weighment, admission into and clearance from bonded warehouses, public or private, under the custom law. The bonders are required to make their own arrangements for cutting and removing their salt from the warehouses, as well as to supply their own tools for cutting the salt, such as sabools, kodalies, &c.

32. The duty of the daroga will be to keep in a book, provided for the purpose at the expense of Government, a correct tally of the weight of the salt taken off the scale by the bonder's people. He will be held personally liable for any excess or deficiency that may be discovered. Both the daroga and the bonder's agent will be required to certify at the end of each day's weighments the correctness of the tally book for that day's work.

33. Should any dispute arise between the daroga and the bonder or purchaser of the salt under delivery, the former will stop the weighment and at once refer the matter in dispute to the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any.

34. The daroga will be particularly careful to bring every irregularity that he may become cognizant of to the notice of the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, without delay, and will be held responsible for failure in doing so.

35. When discrepancies in the accounts cannot be reconciled, and whenever there is reason to believe that the quantity of salt conveyed to the boat or cart is not correctly represented in the accounts, the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, shall order a reweighment. The expense of such reweighment shall be borne by Government.

36. Whenever the bonder or purchaser is desirous of removing his boats or carts from the premises, the daroga shall satisfy himself on every point before removal, and shall also see, even where the accounts agree, that the boat-load or cart-load represents the exact quantity entered in the rowannah or covered by the chalan or money-order receipt.

37. These rules shall come into force from the date of the publication of this notification.

The following notifications are hereby cancelled :—

Notification, dated 30th November 1888, relating to the removal of salt under bond to a private warehouse at Khulna.

H. J. S. COTTON,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules for the appointment of Sub-Inspectors of Police.

THE next divisional examination of candidates to fill 60 vacancies in the rank of Sub-Inspector of Police will be held on the 16th and 17th July at the following centres:—at Calcutta for the Presidency, Rajshahi, and Burdwan Divisions; at Bankipore for the Patna, Bhagalpur, and Chota Nagpur Divisions; at Dacca for the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions; and at Cuttack for the Orissa Division. The following classes of candidates will be admissible to the examination:—

(a) Persons who have passed the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, provided they are not more than 25 years of age.

(b) Persons now serving as head-constables and writer-constables in the police, who have obtained the permission of the District Magistrate to appear at the examination, provided that they are not more than 30 years of age, and are of not less than two years' standing in the department. This permission will only be given to persons who satisfy the conditions laid down in Rule 2.

2. No person will be deemed qualified who does not satisfy the following conditions:—

I.—That he has no disease, constitutional affection or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for police duties, and that he is up to the physical standard prescribed for the area in which he wishes to serve.

II.—That he is of good moral character.

III.—That he belongs to a respectable family.

IV.—That he produces a certificate of ability to ride signed by a district officer.

3. Applications for permission to appear at the examination must be submitted, not later than one month before the date fixed, to the Magistrate of the district in which the candidate resides, stating the place at which he desires to appear for examination. Each application from class (a) candidates must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 5 and by satisfactory proof that the candidate fulfils the conditions specified above. The certificate of health should be signed either by the Civil Surgeon of the district in which the candidate ordinarily resides, or in Calcutta by one of the Professors of the Calcutta Medical College. The fee for medical examination will in all cases be Rs. 4. The application with the necessary certificates and fee should be sent by the Magistrate of the district in which the candidate resides to the Magistrate of the centre at which the candidate wishes to be examined.

4. The subjects of the examination will be as follows:—

I.—Dictation, letter-drafting, precis-writing, and a short translation from Bengali, Uriya or Hindi into English. Europeans and Eurasians will be allowed to choose one out of these three languages to be examined in. No candidate failing to obtain half marks in this paper will be considered qualified for appointment.

II.—Paper on general knowledge. The questions will be set so as to test the general information and intelligence of candidates.

III.—Mathematics, including arithmetic and algebra, and account-keeping.

IV.—Law, including the Penal Code, the Criminal Procedure Code, and the Evidence Act.

N.B.—Class (b) candidates will be exempted from passing in algebra.

5. The marks will be given on the following scale:—

1.	Dictation and language	...	...	... 200
2.	General knowledge	...	...	... 200
3.	Mathematics	...	...	... 200
4.	Law	...	...	... 200

6. The number of candidates to be selected by the Examiners for each Range will be notified in the Calcutta Gazette on or before the 30th June 1894. This number will be determined by the Inspector-General of Police with reference to the number of vacancies existing or estimated as likely to occur within the course of the following year.

7. After the results of the examination have been ascertained, a list will be prepared for each Division of the candidates selected for appointment during the year. Those who have not obtained half marks in dictation and language, and one-third marks in the aggregate of the remaining papers, may be struck out as ineligible for appointment. Of the remaining candidates a list will then be composed as follows—(a) one-half of the candidates who stand highest on the list in order of merit; (b) one-half of candidates selected from among those candidates who have obtained not less than one-third of the marks. At least two-thirds of the appointments will, if qualified candidates are available, be given to outsiders.

8. Natives of Bengal Proper will be eligible for appointments in all Bengal districts and in Manbhum; natives of Bihar in Bihar districts and in Hazaribagh and Lohardaga; and natives of Orissa in the Orissa Division and the district of Singhbhum. Selected candidates will be liable to be transferred to any district.

9. Selected candidates on appointment will undergo a two months' course of instruction at a centre to be selected by the Inspector-General. This course will include drill, elementary surveying, anthropometry, instruction in prosecuting cases in Magistrates' Courts. At the end of the two months all probationers obtaining a certificate of proficiency will be posted to districts and receive appointments in due course as 5th grade Sub-Inspectors. During the period of probation candidates will receive 20 rupees a month as salary. Candidates who fail to display due diligence during their period of probation will be liable to lose their appointment.

10. Candidates resident in any of the districts of the Patna, Bhagalpur, and Chota Nagpur Divisions, who take up Hindi at this examination, will be considered to be natives of Bihar. Candidates competing at Cuttack, who take up Uriya, will be considered natives of Orissa.

11. Information as to the hour and place of examination can be obtained 15 days before the examination by applying to the District Magistrates of the 24-Parganas, Dacca, Patna, and Cuttack.

SENATE HOUSE, the 23rd April 1894.

NOTIFICATION.

IT is hereby notified that for the ensuing half-yearly examination of Assistant Magistrates and others, to be held on the 7th May 1894 and the following two days, two local Examination Committees will be convened in this Division, viz., one at Bankipore for officers employed in the districts of Patna, Gaya and Shahabad, and the other at Muzaffarpur for officers employed in the districts of Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga.

The examination will commence at 10-30 A.M. each day.

A. FORBES, Commr., Patna Division.

PATNA COMMR's. OFFICE, BANKIPORE, the 13th April 1894.

Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Engineer Department should apply to the Principal before the 15th May 1894. The session begins on Monday, the 4th June 1894. Candidates must furnish proof that they have passed one of the following tests :—

(1) The F. A. examination of the Calcutta University or a similar standard of any Indian University recognised by the Calcutta University. The candidate's age must be under 21 years.

(2) The B.A. examination in the B. Course. The Candidate's age must be under 23 years. (These students are admitted direct into the 2nd-year class.)

The number to be admitted each year is limited to 40. The position in the University Examinations and the age of candidates will be taken into consideration when selection is made, and such selection will be made by the Principal.

Ten scholarships will be awarded to students entering the Engineer Department, not being already holders of junior or senior scholarships.

Every applicant, before admission to the College, will be examined by the College Surgeon as to his physical strength, fitness for manual labour and eyesight.

Further particulars will be supplied on application to the Principal.

J. S. SLATER,

SIBPUR, the 19th April 1894. Principal, Civil Engineering College.

The yearly examination of candidates for fourth grade of Accountants.

THE yearly examination of candidates for 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department, will be held at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on Monday and Tuesday, the 4th and 5th June 1894 at 10-30 A.M.

SUBJECTS.

	Full marks.	Minimum pass marks.
Writing (neatness, clearness, and rapidity) ...	100	50
Dictation (spelling, punctuation, etc.)	100	50
Arithmetic (the whole)	240	160
Mensuration (a), the whole	60	30
Book-keeping (b), mercantile	100	50
Total ...	600	400

Minimum required in all papers collectively.

"Book-keeping" by double and single entry, by W. Inglis (Chambers Educational Course).

The marks gained by candidates who fail will not be published.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in June. The examination will be conducted either at the College or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed, but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements in regard to the place and hour of examination with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it, but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned :—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, on a consideration of these certificates, to decide whether the candidate should be registered for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. He will only forward the names of accepted candidates to the Principal together with their applications in their own handwriting, statement of their ages, and fees. These should be transmitted altogether under one covering letter on the last day allowed by the rule.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the department.

7. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

J. S. SLATER,
Principal, Civil Engineering College.

SIBPUR, the 30th March 1894.

N.B—The attention of candidates is drawn to the alteration in Rule 2 (3). In future no candidate is to apply direct to the Principal for permission to attend the examination, but must send his application through an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who will decide whether the candidate is to be admitted. The Principal will attend to no applications received direct.

The 30th April 1894.

No. 800-F.—The following letter is published for information :—

No. 766-F., dated Simla, the 18th April 1894.

From—W. J CUNINGHAM, ESQ., C.S I., Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department.

To—SIR H. MORTIMER DURAND, K.C.S.I., K C.I E.

I AM directed to convey to you the acknowledgment by the Government of India and by Her Majesty's Government of the very efficient manner in which your recent special duty in Kabul was performed.

2. The Government of India thus expressed themselves in writing on this subject to the Secretary of State—"We desire to place upon record our high sense of the service rendered by Sir Mortimer Durand in discharging the arduous and difficult task confided to him. A settlement such as that which has been arrived at would, in our opinion, have been altogether unattainable but for the confidence with which Sir Mortimer Durand was able to inspire the Amir. That confidence was probably in some measure due to Sir Mortimer Durand's decision to enter Afghan territory without any escort and as the Amir's guest, and there can be no doubt that, as the negotiations proceeded, His Highness became more and more impressed with the sincerity and goodwill of our representative and of the British Government, and gradually abandoned all idea of suspicion or mistrust. To conduct a protracted negotiation of this kind to a successful close required no ordinary qualities of tact and patience—qualities which, together with all others required for so exceptional a negotiation, have been found united to a remarkable degree in Sir Mortimer Durand." To this Lord Kimberley replied—"The warm terms in which your Government acknowledge the services of Sir M. Durand and of the officers attached to him are fully deserved by the admirable tact and discretion with which this most difficult negotiation has been carried through from the beginning to its very satisfactory conclusion. I despatched to you on the 10th November the telegram quoted on the margin, and I now take this opportunity of requesting that you will communicate to Sir M. Durand the entire approval by Her Majesty's Government of his conduct of the important and difficult mission entrusted to him." The Governor-General in Council has much pleasure in thus complying with His Lordship's request.

Telegram, dated the 10th November 1893.
From—The Secretary of State,
To—The Viceroy.
"Your telegram of 8th. I congratulate Your Excellency and Sir Mortimer Durand on the successful result of the mission to the Amir. The arrangements seem very satisfactory. I await detailed report before commenting on them."

3. The Government of India cannot but regret, however, that the occasion for conveying to you the sentiments of Her Majesty's Government should also be that on which they must bid you farewell on your departure from India.

4. You entered the Foreign Department Secretariat twenty years ago, and have almost uninterruptedly served in the same office with conspicuous merit and great distinction, occupying in quick succession all grades up to the highest, to which you attained nine years ago. You have, however, been more than once employed for a time outside this office; and your distinguished service on the occasion of your mission to Kabul last year was not the first which you had rendered to your country in Afghanistan, where you served as political officer in the field with credit in the years 1879 and 1880.

5. During your whole service you have sought little relaxation by taking leave of absence, and only when your health temporarily broke under the severe strain of your duties did you once remain absent for any long time. Besides the protracted and critical negotiations which have resulted in the settlement of the boundary and improved relations with Afghanistan, you have had to deal with many matters of the highest importance, among which may be mentioned the settlement of the boundary between Afghan-Turkistan and the Russian dominions, coupled with the negotiations conducted with the Amir on the occasion of His Highness's visit to India in 1885; the conquest, annexation, and consolidation of the administration of Upper Burma; the altered relations of the Government of India with Kashmir; the reconstitution of the Gilgit Agency and extension of political influence in Chitral, Hunza, and Nagar; the negotiations with China relative to the Sikkim frontier; the institution of a British protectorate on the Somali Coast and improvement of British relations with the tribes round Aden; the negotiations relating to the boundary of Burma with Siam and China and the association of Native States in India with the British Government in furnishing troops for the defence of the Empire.

6. A record so distinguished as the history of your service in India cannot be closed without feelings of regret on both sides. The Governor-General in Council rejoices, however, to think that, in the high office to which you have been called in Persia, you will still be in a position materially to serve the interests of India, and that this country will not lie altogether beyond the horizon of your regard.

7. The Governor-General in Council now bids you a cordial farewell. You have before you the opportunity of winning great fame and distinction in a career which offers far wider scope than service in India can; and you leave behind you a record which gives brilliant promise of success in the future, while it is one upon which you may always look back with pride.

APPENDIX TO

The Calcutta Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1894.

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—No. 76.

[First Publication.]

SOUTH INDIAN AND SOUTH PACIFIC OCEANS.

Provision depôts for relief of ship-wrecked mariners.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 133 of 1894, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

The following particulars of all the Provision depôts, established in the South Indian and South Pacific oceans, for the benefit of ship-wrecked persons, are again published for the information of mariners:—

1. CROZET ISLANDS—HOG ISLAND.—The provision depôt is a hut near the landing place on the eastern side of the island, 2¼ miles southward of the Five Giants, which lie off the north-east point of Hog island. In December 1887, the French vessel La Meurthe left at this depôt one ton of preserved beef, half a ton of biscuit, three-quarters of a hundredweight of sardines in oil, 20 blankets, 15 pairs of shoes, and 15 pairs of cloth trousers, all carefully packed in boxes Also 2 spears, 2 hatchets, and cooking utensils.

Approximate position: depôt, lat. 46° 6½′ S., long. 50° 14½′ E.

1*a*. CROZET ISLANDS—POSSESSION ISLAND.—The provision depôt consists of huts situated about 100 yards from the coast in the south-east corner of American bay, which is on the east side of the island, and about 7 miles from Dark head, the north-east point. H. M. S. Comus, in 1880, left here sufficient provisions for 50 people for 50 days; also jerseys, trousers, stockings and shoes. The provisions were intact when Possession island was visited by the French vessel La Meurthe in December 1887.

Approximate position: depôt, lat. 46° 23′ S., long. 51° 46½′ E.

2. KERGUELEN ISLAND.—The depôt established by the French Government is situated in the south-eastern part of Jachmann peninsula, Hillsborough bay, near the south-western shore of the eastern lake, and about half a mile northward of the coast, opposite Gazelle basin. It is in a cave at the foot of the west cliff of a rocky chasm running north and south, and its position is indicated by a stone cairn 11½ feet in height, and about 14 feet broad at the base, erected on the summit of the west cliff of the chasm.

This cairn, visible from Gazelle basin, is painted black, and shows clearly against the grey rocks which form the background.

The entrance to the cave has been closed by large stones, and on the cliff a few yards above it is the inscription—

Vivres et Vêtements, Eure, Janvier 1893.

Approximate position: lat. 49° 16′ 45″ S., long. 69° 40′ 30″ E.

This depôt contains:—

2,250 lbs. of preserved beef in boxes of 9 lbs.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
20 swan-skin shirts.
20 pairs of woollen drawers.
20 woollen blankets.
4 packets of matches.

The boxes of preserved beef are stowed in a pile, coated with coal tar. The biscuits are in 4 iron-hooped barrels, thickly covered with coal tar. The clothes are in two similar barrels. The matches are in a box similar to the beef boxes, painted with minium (red lead) and with a label of the contents on it.

In the event of the cairn being destroyed, the following directions should be followed to find the depôt. Land on the north side of the inlet opposite Gazelle basin, in a small creek, sheltered by a rocky point, where boats may go alongside under any circumstances of wind or tide. Proceed directly inland about half a mile as far as the shore of the lake, then turn to the westward and follow the lake to its western end, where the chasm in which the depôt is situated will be seen on the left land.

8. St. Paul island.—The depôt established by the French Government is in a hut of rough stones with a thatched roof, situated on the northern side of the crater near the jetty and about 50 yards from the flagstaff:—

Approximate position: lat. 38° 42′ 45″ S., long. 77° 34′ 40″ E.

This depôt contains:—

1,350 lbs. of preserved beef in boxes of 9 lbs.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
10 woollen shirts.
10 blankets.
1 soldered metal box containing 4 packets of matches.

The provisions and clothes are in 13 iron-hooped barrels, coated with tar and sand, and placed under a tarpaulin. On the door of the hut is the inscription France, Vivres et Vêtements pour naufragés, Eure, Janvier 1893, and a similar inscription is on a board within the hut.

4. Amsterdam island.—The depôt established by the French Government is in a large cavern in the side of a hill, about W. by S. ½ S. (S. 73° W.), 800 yards from Hosken point, the north-east extreme of the island, and bears W. ½ N. (N. 85° W.), distant about 600 yards, from the first flagstaff southward of that point.

At the entrance to the cavern is a board, fixed to two upright tarred posts, with the inscription, France, Vivres, Vêtements pour naufragés, Eure, Janvier 1893, on it.

This depôt contains:—

1,350 lbs. of preserved beef.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
10 woollen shirts.
10 pairs cotton drawer.
10 blankets.

One soldered metal red box containing 4 packets of matches.

Approximate position: lat. 37° 48′ 50″ S., long. 77° 32′ 30″ E.

The landing place used by the Eure is about 400 yards southward of Hosken point, and under the flagstaff mentioned above.

Directions for finding the depôt on Amsterdam:—Having landed, go to either of the flagstaffs, from whence a cross will be seen; from the cross follow the direction of its arms, leading past two ruins of rough stones, and then directly to the cavern, the entrance to which faces seaward. In the cavern, besides the provisions and clothing, there are cots, a cooking pot, and dry wood, left by the fishermen who sometimes live there. Cabbage and celery will be found near, and fish and lobsters (crawfish) abound near the landing place.

The following depôts are maintained by the Government of New Zealand. Those on Auckland, Campbell, Antipodes, Bounty, and Snares islands are visited by a steamer twice a year, and those on Kermadec islands once a year. Finger-posts to indicate the positions of the depôts are to be erected on all these islands.

5. Snares islands.—A provision depôt will be established on North-east island during 1894; it will be situated in Boat harbour at the eastern end of the island.

Approximate position: lat. 48° 4′ 35″ S., long. 166° 34′ E.

6. Auckland islands.—There are three depôts: one, a square wooden house on the south side of Erebus cove, port Ross, on the east side, and at the northern end of the principal island; the second will be placed at the head of Norman inlet, in the middle of the east coast of the principal island, during 1894; the third is in the western arm of Camp cove, Carnley harbour, at the south end of the principal island.

A life-boat has been placed on Enderby island, the north-eastern of the group; another at the north-west end of Adams island, the southern of the group; and one will be placed on Rose island, immediately south-west of Enderby island, during 1894.

Approximate position: Erebus cove depôt, lat, 50° 33½′ S., long. 166° 12′ E.

Approximate position: Norman inlet depôt, lat 50° 40½′ S., long. 166° 8′ E.

Approximate position: Camp cove depôt, lat. 50° 52½′ S., long 166° 3′ E.

7. Campbell island.—The depôt's position, indicated by a white staff, is in Tucker cove, at the head of South or Perseverance harbour, on the east side of the island.

Approximate position: lat. 52° 33½′ S., long. 169° 6½′ E.

8. ANTIPODES ISLANDS.—The depôt is a hut at an elevation of 100 feet above the sea, visible from some distance north-eastward, and situated 300 feet from the landing place, which is on the north-east side of the large island, and half a mile westward of its east point.

Approximate position, lat. 49° 41½′ S., long. 178° 43′ E.

9. BOUNTY ISLANDS.—The depôt is a hut at an elevation of 120 feet above the sea, visible from the northward, and situated southward of the western inlet of the principal island—the north-eastern—of the Western group of the Bounty islands.

Approximate position: lat. 47° 43½′ S., long. 179° 0½′ E.

10. KERMADEC ISLANDS.—There are two depôts, each a small galvanised iron shed, fitted with spouting and a tank to catch water, and containing a supply of biscuits, medicines, tools, &c. One is situated on the southern side of Macdonald cove (crater), on the north-west side of Curtis island; the other at Lava cascade, about 1½ cables south-eastward of the northern point of Macauley island.

Approximate position: Macauley island depôt, lat. 30° 15′ S., long. 178° 31′ W.

BENGAL PROVINCIAL SERVICE BUDGET FOR 1894-95.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon said:—"Before I reply to the questions of which notice has been given, I must take the liberty of calling the attention of hon'ble members to a fact which must I believe be generally known, but which is very frequently forgotten, although it is essential that all should constantly bear it in mind, and that is that Budget provision is an entirely different thing from sanction. The Budget is merely a forecast of probable expenditure, and the fact that a sum has been entered therein is no authority whatever for expenditure: every one of the many items which go to make up the grand total of expenditure requires the definite sanction of a particular authority under precise rules which are well-known to all disbursing officers. Consequently, when a grant or allotment is made, it is by no means certain that the whole or indeed any part of it will be expended."

RECEIPTS.

STAMP REVENUE.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked—

I. The receipts from "Stamps" under Head IV of the Budget have been estimated at Rs. 1,20,38,000 for 1894-95. Information is solicited as to how much of this sum is to be credited under Law and Justice as representing stamp revenue derived from proceedings in connection with the Courts of Law?

The expenditure under the head of Courts of Law (Head 19B) is estimated at Rs. 88,76,000 for 1894-95; the receipts from the Courts of Law (Head XVI) are estimated at Rs. 9,04,000 for 1894-95. There is thus a heavy deficit. Is not this deficit made good from the Stamp revenue? Is any surplus balance left? If so, what is the amount of the surplus balance to the credit of the Courts of Law?

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon replied:—

"The revenue shown under 'Stamps' (Head IV) is collected under two Acts—the Indian Stamp Act, I of 1879, and the Court-fees Act, VII of 1870. Stamps prescribed by the latter are called indifferently judicial or court-fee stamps, and the receipts from them for 1894-95 may be taken at Rs 1,14,25,000. Three-fourths of this sum is credited to Provincial Funds, so that out of the total of Rs. 1,20,38,000, the sum of Rs. 85,69,000 represents the receipts to be derived by the Local Government in 1894-95 from court-fees levied in stamps. These receipts are not credited to Law and Justice at all, but to the general head of Stamps, as the Budget shows.

"The deficit referred to by the hon'ble member is met from the general revenues of the Province, and no comparison is made in these accounts between receipts from Stamps on the one hand and expenditure upon Courts of Law on the other."

EXCISE.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked—

II. Receipts for license and distillery fees and duties for the sale of liquors and drugs under Head V, "Excise," are estimated for 1894-95 at Rs. 91,50,000. How much of this revenue would be derived from outstills, stating the number of outstills? What was the number of outstills in 1893-94, and the revenue derived therefrom? The explanatory note says that administrative reforms have been introduced rendering more elastic the arrangements for settling shops for the sale of country spirits. What is the nature of these arrangements? Are they at all calculated to increase the consumption of country spirits?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"Judging from the actuals for 1892-93, and the figures for nine months of 1893-94, the revenue from outstills during 1894-95 may be estimated at twenty-six and-a-half lakhs of rupees. The number of outstills in 1893-94 was 2,004, but the revenue derived therefrom cannot at present be stated.

"The administrative reforms referred to in the explanatory note comprise the concession to local officers of a larger discretion in regard to the upset price of shops and stills, and the withdrawal of certain restrictions on the number of vats and the size of stills. Experience has shown that, owing to a disregard of local conditions, the upset price has sometimes been fixed too high, with the result that the shops remain unlet. In these circumstances the Government revenue suffers unnecessarily in areas where the shops have not been let, the licensees of neighbouring shops obtain a profit which they were not intended to get, and a strong incentive is offered to the distillation of illicit liquor. District officers have accordingly been authorised to lower the upset prices wherever the circumstances demand it. These orders are not calculated to increase the consumption of country liquor, but merely to prevent illicit liquor from passing into consumption without taxation."

PROVINCIAL RATES.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

III. Under the Head VI, "Provincial Rates," the revised estimate as regards the Public Works Cess for 1893-94 is fixed at the sum of Rs. 41,65,000. Will the Government state how much of this sum was spent upon ordinary public works, and how much for protection against famine and upon the following extraordinary public works; the three irrigation canals on the Sone, in Orissa and at Midnapore, and the State Railways of Port Canning, Nulhati, Northern Bengal and Tirhut?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"This question has apparently been asked with reference to the arrangement sanctioned by the Government of India in 1877, when the management of certain works classed as productive public works was made over to the Government of Bengal, together with the responsibility for the payment of interest on the capital expended on their construction. In order to enable the Local Government to meet this burden, the Provincial Public Works Cess was introduced, and Provincial responsibility for all productive public works existing and prospective was definitely assumed: at the same time the Local Government was given full liberty to utilize the balance, if any, of the proceeds of the cess on other works tending to the improvement of the country. As explained in reply to a similar question put before this Council on the 9th February, 1894, no separate account is maintained, in which the receipts from the cess are balanced against the definite expenditure for which the cess was imposed. The possibility of doing this has been destroyed by the system on which the Provincial contracts are framed, under which the whole income entrusted to the Provincial Government is balanced against the whole expenditure imposed upon it, and no special hypothecation of particular sources of revenue to particular modes of outlay can be maintained.

"The following general information, however, can be given. In the first place, the Provincial Government has been relieved of all administrative charges connected with railways, and especially of the charge for interest on account of the railways mentioned above. As regards canals, the interest payable for 1894-95 on the capital outlay on the three canals mentioned above, which are classed as 'Productive' or 'Major Works,' amounts to about 24½ lakhs. The difference between this sum and the estimated receipts (42 lakhs), is about 17½ lakhs. Against this sum may be placed the 8 lakhs granted in 1894-95 for Irrigation Minor Works, plus the 7½ lakhs granted for embankments, plus the 7 lakhs to be expended on roads, plus a considerable part of the 5½ lakhs granted to District Boards and shown under the head of Contributions. All this expenditure can, by the spirit and letter of the law, be debited to the Public Works Cess, and it greatly exceeds the receipts from that cess."

CINCHONA CULTIVATION.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

IV. Under Head XXI, "Scientific and other Minor Departments," the estimate of receipts from cinchona plantations in 1894-95 is put down at Rs. 1,25,000, against Rs. 1,35,000 in the revised estimates of 1893-94. Does the falling off indicate want of appreciation by the people of the system of selling quinine in small packets through the agency of the post-office? Will Government state how much was realized from such sales during 1892-93 and 1893-94?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The actual receipts in 1892-93 under the sub-head 'Cinchona Plantations' were Rs. 1,18,000, and in view of the growing popularity of the pice-packets of quinine supplied through the post-offices, the estimate for 1894-95 has been placed at Rs. 1,25,000. The reason why the revised estimate for 1893-94 was placed Rs. 10,000 higher than the sanctioned estimate is, that in that year unusually large quantities of the drug were supplied to the Medical Store Department at Mian Mir.

"With regard to the second part of the question, 475lbs. of quinine were issued in 1892-93 to be made up into pice-packets, and 1,490lbs. were issued in 1893-94. The receipts credited were Rs. 569 from 1st December, 1892, to 31st March, 1893, and Rs. 21,492 from 1st April, 1893, to 31st March, 1894.

"These figures will show that far from there being a want of appreciation of the system, the demand for the pice-packets is rapidly increasing, and quinine for this purpose has been supplied to Assam and the Central Provinces, while negotiations are still going for supplying Burma: the Madras Government has adopted the Bengal system for the distribution of its own quinine grown in the Nilgiris."

VETERINARY.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

V. Under the head of "Scientific and other Minor Departments" (No. XXI) the falling off in the veterinary receipts from Rs. 25,000 in 1892-93 to Rs. 5,000, the estimate for 1894-95, is not explained. Similarly, the falling off in Sone Canal receipts under Head XXIX, "Major Works (Direct Receipts)" from Rs. 10,56,373 in 1892-93 to Rs. 8,35,000, the estimate for 1894-95, is not explained.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The information as to veterinary receipts has already been furnished and will be found in paragraphs 18 and 37 of the explanatory note. The amount shown against 'Veterinary Receipts' for 1892-93 represents the contribution of Sir Dinshaw Manockji Petit of Bombay towards the cost of constructing the Veterinary School and Hospital at Belgachia. The sum of Rs. 5,000 shown for 1894-95 is the estimate of fees to be paid by owners of cattle and horses for the keep of their animals while in the hospital.

"The high receipts under 'Sone Canals' in 1892-93 were due partly to extensive rabi irrigation at the beginning of 1892 induced by the early cessation of the preceding rains and partly to large recoveries of the arrears of previous years. The system of collection has now been placed on a satisfactory footing, and few or no arrears are allowed to accrue: consequently the estimate for 1894-95 represents the current demand only. The hon'ble member is doubtless aware that the receipts from irrigation canals fluctuate with the rainfall."

CIVIL WORKS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

VI. Under Head XXXII there is a steady falling off in the ordinary normal receipts under "Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department," which is not explained. The actuals for 1892-93 came up to Rs. 1,63,060; the revised estimates for 1893-94 came up to Rs. 1,30,000; the estimates for 1894-95 have been fixed at Rs. 1,20,000. This is not explained by the following remarks made in the explanatory note:—"The receipts under Civil Works were swelled by better revenue from ferries, but chiefly by a special payment of Rs. 99,250 by the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway in settlement of a disputed claim."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The remarks quoted from paragraph 7 of the explanatory notes regarding the increase of revenue in 1893-94 refer to the Civil Works receipts as a whole, and not to the special item of ordinary receipts from Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department. These ordinary receipts are derived partly from the sale proceeds of buildings, old materials, and tools and plant, and must necessarily vary greatly from year to year according to the materials available for disposal."

FERRY RECEIPTS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

VII. Will the Government state the total amount of the ferry receipts under Head XXXII? How much of it is made over to the District Boards and how much absorbed in the Provincial Funds? Is there any rule followed in making this division of the ferry receipts between the Provincial and the Local Funds?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The receipts from ferries credited to the Provincial and District Funds respectively are as follows:—

		1892-93. (actuals)	1894-95. (estimate)
		Rs.	Rs.
Provincial Funds	...	2,24,065	2,25,000
District Funds	...	3,68,771	3,85,000
Total	...	5,92,836	6,10,000

"These receipts are divided between the Provincial Government and District Boards according to no fixed proportion: the total contribution to District Funds is an aggregate of many district grants, each of which was separately allotted on the merits of the case. On the formation of District Boards under the Local Self-Government Act, the control of certain branches of the Provincial administration was made over to those bodies, and when it appeared that the aggregate cost of maintaining these departments in their then state of efficiency would exceed the departmental receipts, the ferry revenue was selected as a convenient vehicle for adjusting the difference, and the deficit was made good by the transfer to the District Board of a certain number of the ferries of the district, the net proceeds of which were expected to make up the deficiency. The remainder of the ferries have been retained under the direct management of Government. In districts where the receipts from all the ferries were insufficient to cover the deficit, special additional grants have been made from the Provincial Fund to place the District Fund in equilibrium."

EXPENDITURE.

SALARIES OF MENIALS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

VIII. The estimates bear no indication of any increased expenditure due to compensation for dearness of provisions to the menial servants of Government. Will Government state whether any such compensation was paid, and if so, what was the amount, and whether in view of the long-continued scarcity prices in several districts during the expiring financial year, Government considers the grant adequate to relieve the hardship caused to its poorly-paid servants by high prices?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The payment of compensation for dearness of provisions is governed by the orders contained in section 72 of the Civil Account Code, according to which when in any district common rice is dearer than one rupee for 12 seers, the pay of all menial servants in such districts drawing Rs. 5 or less a month as whole-time servants of Government may be raised by one rupee a month. When the common food-grain of the district becomes dearer than 10 seers for the rupee Government may sanction the grant of Re. 1-8 per mensem to all whole-time servants whose pay was not higher than Rs. 12 a month. Advantage was taken of these provisions during the past year, but the Financial Department of this Government does not possess the detailed figures showing the amount expended under this head."

CUSTOMS ESTABLISHMENT.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

IX. Under the sub-head Customs in Calcutta (Head 9) the expenditure has increased from Rs. 5,17,000, the revised estimate for 1893-94, to Rs. 5,38,200, the estimate for 1894-95. It was explained that the increase is partly due to exchange compensation allowance and partly to the entertainment of additional preventive Wharf establishments provisionally sanctioned in connection with the shipment and loading of goods at the Kidderpore Docks. If the establishment was appointed provisionally, will it be required for the whole year, especially having regard to the fact that the Docks are so little used?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"It is impossible to say for how long the establishment will be entertained, or whether it will be entertained at all. A small provision has been made to meet the contingency of their employment, and any unspent portion of the allotment will lapse to Government at the close of the year."

LAW AND JUSTICE.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

X. Under the head of Law and Justice (19A) the expenditure on the Civil and Sessions Courts has risen from Rs. 45,93,000, the revised estimate for 1893-94, to Rs. 46,37,000, the estimate for 1894-95. The explanatory note says that provision has been made for the appointment of an Additional Judge for the districts of Dacca, Jessore and Faridpur, and two Munsifs, together with increased provision for their establishment. Does the Government consider the provision sufficient to meet the increasing pressure of work on the subordinate judiciary of the country?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"As stated in paragraph 10 of the explanatory notes, the estimate for 1894-95 provides for an increase of more than a lakh of rupees over the revised estimate for 1893-94 for improvements in the administration of justice, and the Government considers that the increase is adequate for the present.

"The hon'ble member is doubtless aware that a very large increase in the number of Subordinate Judges and Munsiffs took place in the years 1888, 1889, and 1890, after prolonged discussion between the Bengal Government and the High Court and the Government of India."

JAIL EXPENDITURE.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

XI. In explaining the increase in Jail expenditure under head 19B, the explanatory note says:—"With a steadily increasing jail population, jail expenditure on clothing and rations must necessarily rise" This, however, would not explain the increase in the charge for superintendence from Rs. 52,836, the sanctioned estimate for 1893 94, to Rs. 55,000, the estimate for 1894-95. What was the jail population for 1892-93 and 1893-94?

In explaining the increase of expenditure under Jails, no reference is made to the prevailing high prices of food-grains. Have such high prices contributed to increased expenditure? If so, to what extent?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The small increase in the charge for superintendence from Rs. 52,836 to Rs. 55,000 is due principally to exchange compensation allowance (Rs. 1,500), to the annual increments in the pay of clerks (Rs. 992), and to travelling allowance.

"In 1892, the daily average jail population of the Province was 17,180: in 1893, it was 17,724.

"The increase of expenditure under the head of Rations is due partly to the increasing jail population and partly to the high price of food-grains.

"It is impossible to give exact figures showing how far the estimated increase is due to the higher price of food. Statistics showing the variations in the price of the principal articles of diet are published every year in the Annual Resolution of Government on Jail Administration. It was stated in last year's Resolution that the average price of rice rose from Rs. 2-1-9 per maund in 1891 to Rs. 2-9-1 in 1892."

POLICE CHARGES.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

XII. The expenditure under head 20 "Police," sub-head "District Executive Force," has risen from Rs. 40,30,000, the revised estimate for 1893-94, to Rs. 42,99,000, the estimate for 1894-95. The explanation given is, that the increase is provided to carry out improvements recommended by the Police Committee, and also for exchange compensation allowance. Is it proposed to carry out the views of the Police Committee in the matter of the increase of pay recommended by the Committee to Sub-Inspectors and Inspectors of Police?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The proposals submitted to the Government of India contemplated a total expenditure of Rs. 3,08,309 during the first year in which they were in operation, but in the absence of sufficient funds the most important items only have been selected as follow:—

	Rs.
(a) Cost of increased allowances for holding charge of a station	1,53,240
(b) One-tenth of the cost of substituting Sub-Inspectors for head-constables*	28,206
(c) Cost of increasing constabulary employed on duties other than investigation	22,310
(d) Cost of free kits for ditto	4,665
(e) Cost of giving to Military Police recruits the minimum pay of sepoys as soon as they are efficient	480
Total ...	2,08,901

* (Scheme to be carried out in ten years.)

"As will be seen from items (a) and (b), three-fourths of the proposed expenditure will be devoted to the better payment of the superior grades of native officers in the district executive force."

EDUCATION AND MEDICAL.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

XIII. An explanation is solicited as to why there has been a decrease in expenditure in the following items under Heads 22 "Education" and 24 "Medical"?

(a) The expenditure on "Government Schools, General" for 1893-94 was Rs. 5,35,000; the estimate for 1894-95 has been fixed at Rs. 5,30,000, though no doubt under the general head of Education the estimate provides for an increase of a lakh of rupees, a part of which is due to exchange compensation allowance.

(b) The expenditure on hospitals and dispensaries for 1893-94 was Rs. 4,27,000; the estimate for 1894-95 has been fixed at Rs. 4,13,000.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"(a) The decrease of Rs. 5,000 under 'Government Schools, General' in 1894-95 compared with the grant for 1893-94 is due to a reduction in the teaching staff of the Hindu and Hare Schools, which will take place upon the retirement of certain teachers, whose places will not be filled up. The total saving in consequence of such retirements, it is anticipated, will amount to Rs. 9,600, but as the arrangement will not have full effect till September, 1894, a reduction of Rs. 5,000 only has been made in the Budget.

"(b) The revised estimate of expenditure under 'Hospitals and Dispensaries' for 1893-94 is Rs. 4,27,000. It includes heavy expenditure for medical stores and clothing of patients, which, it is anticipated, will not be so high in 1894-95. The actuals of 1892-93 were Rs. 4,04,000, and a provision of Rs. 4,13,000 is considered to be ample for 1894-95."

DURBAR PRESENTS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

XIV. Explanation is solicited as to why the expenditure on Durbar Presents, &c., under Head 25, "Political," has been estimated at Rs. 17,000 for 1894-95, when the actuals for 1893-94 came up to only Rs. 10,000?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The actuals of any one year cannot possibly be taken as a safe guide in framing an estimate under a head of expenditure subject to such fluctuations as this is. The actuals for the four years previous to 1893-94 were:—

		Rs.
1889-90	...	... 17,000
1890-91	...	... 17,000
1891-92	...	... 27,000
1892-93	...	... 3,000 and the revised estimate (not the actuals) for 1893-94 stands at Rs. 10,000. The sum of Rs. 17,000 estimated for 1894-95 thus represents about the average of the previous five years."

CANALS EXPENDITURE.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

XV. An explanation is solicited as to why the working expenses of the Midnapore Canal under Head 42 Irrigation—Major Works have been estimated at Rs. 2,50,000, when the sanctioned estimate for 1893-94 came up to Rs. 2,29,000, and as to why the working expenses of the Sone Canals have been estimated at Rs. 7,00,000 for 1894-95, when the sanctioned estimate for 1893-94 came up to Rs. 6,84,000.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"Of the increase of Rs. 21,000 in the working expenses of the Midnapore Canal for 1894-95 on the sanctioned grant for 1893-94, about

Rs. 16,000 is under Establishment, due partly to the revision of grades and pay, and partly to exchange compensation allowance, and the remainder is for a provision for revetting with stone the banks of the canal to protect them against the damage caused by the wash of steamers.

"The increase in Sone Canals is wholly under Establishment, and is due to causes such as those mentioned above."

SPECIAL COMMISSIONS OF ENQUIRY.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked—

XVI. An explanation is solicited as to why under Head 32 "Miscellaneous," a sum of Rs. 10,000 has been estimated for 1894-95 for special commissions of enquiry? Is any Special Commission under contemplation?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"It is impossible to foretell the necessity of commissions such as these, but it is usual to keep a small reserve to meet the cost of any commission that may be appointed. No Special Commission is under contemplation."

CALCUTTA PILOTAGE.

The Hon'ble MR. STUART asked—

XVII. Will the Government state what are the receipts and expenditure on account of Calcutta Pilotage? The items under the head of Marine do not show clearly what the total profit on pilotage is?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The receipts aggregated $8\frac{1}{3}$ lakhs in 1892-93, and the charges about $10\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, of which Rs. 8,42,000 were incurred in India, and the balance in England. The charges in England comprise leave allowances to Pilots, pensions to Pilots or their widows and families, and outfit and passage money of leadsman apprentices. The accounts for 1893-94 have not yet been made up.

"A statement attached to the printed copy of this reply shows that during the last 11 years there has been an average loss on pilotage amounting to about Rs. 2,15,000 per annum."

SMALL CAUSE COURTS.

The Hon'ble MR. STUART asked—

XVIII. Will the Government say what are the receipts and expenditure on account of the Small Cause Court, and what is the profit or loss on its working?

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The annual report and returns of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes for 1893 show that the total receipts amounted to Rs. 3,68,591, and the total expenditure, including refunds of receipts amounting to Rs. 47,074, was Rs. 2,16,444, giving an apparent profit of about a lakh and-a-half of rupees on the year's working. The charges, however, do not include the cost of pensions paid to retired officers of the Court, nor the price of stationery supplied, nor Public Works expenses, all of which are shown under other heads of account."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON moved for the discussion of the Bengal Provincial Service Budget for 1894-95.

The Hon'ble MR. STUART said:—"I congratulate you, Sir, and the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary in the increasing revenue disclosed by the revised Budget for the year 1893-94, and I trust that the improvement will continue during the year 1894-95. The appendices attached to the financial statement are an improvement upon the plan adopted last year, when only a bare abstract statement was presented. The detailed particulars given in them add considerably to their value and elucidate many points. I regret to notice that there is a deficit of Rs. 4,70,000 in the Budget for 1894-95, apart from the three lakhs handed over to the Imperial Government. Budgetting for a deficit, however, seems to be the order of the day, and we have the example of higher authority in adopting that course. In the present instance I do not disapprove, for I consider that there is no use in showing tempting surpluses to catch the eye of an impecunious Imperial Finance Minister. Regarding the special contribution of three lakhs, as it is called, to the Imperial Revenues, it is not, I understand, allowed by the Rules of this Council to criticise the action of the Imperial Government. But I presume I may be allowed to express a hope that the Imperial Government will, on the first opportunity, refund this forced loan. In time of war, as has been done before, or of any special distress, such as famine or other calamity, I would gladly support such a contribution, but in the present too well-known circumstances, I desire to record my emphatic protest.

"As regards the Small Cause Court, the Hon'ble MR. RISLEY explained last year that the receipts under the head of Courts of Law formed only a portion of the total receipts, but he was unable at that time to state what the total receipts really were. We are now informed by the Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON that the gross profits derived from the Small Cause Court, apart from deductions for pensions and certain other items, amount to one-and-a-half lakhs. Roughly, we may take it that after paying these expenses there was at least a profit of one lakh per annum. I notice, however, as stated in the explanatory note, that a reduction in the establishment and other expenditure of that Court has been made on the report of Mr. Beighton, but I gather that this reduction of establishment has not improved the efficiency of the Court; at least it is but seldom the case that reduction in expenditure leads to increased efficiency, and it appeared from the statement of the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary that the reduction was hardly necessary for the sake of mere economy, seeing that there has been a large profit.

"For many years there has been a very substantial profit, exceeding a lakh of rupees yearly, on the working of the Small Cause Court, and I venture to maintain that our finances cannot be considered to be in a satisfactory state as long as the Government depends on profits derived from the administration of justice. It is contrary to the views of the most eminent jurists that justice should be taxed: and though the hon'ble member spoke in his explanatory note of the luxury of litigation, I look upon the expression as a little joke on his part, and not as the serious opinion of a responsible administrator; for, however much the Government may want to curb the litigiousness of the people, it must be borne in mind that any unnecessary expense in dispensing justice is a distinct hardship and injustice to the poor suitor. These remarks apply with equal force to the Civil Courts throughout the whole of Bengal, for, as far as I can gather from this statement, the receipts from stamp fees and the general receipts from the administration of justice in the Civil Courts cover not only the whole expense of those Courts, but also the whole cost of the Criminal Courts, and leave a surplus to the Government of about thirty lakhs, of which apparently the Government of India receives twenty-five lakhs. I would like to ask the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary to furnish the Council, on an early occasion, with a statement of the receipts and expenditure of the Small Cause Court for the past ten years, and also with a copy of Mr. Beighton's report on that Court."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"As this is the first occasion on which the Provincial Budget is being discussed by the enlarged Council, it may not be out of place to express our sense of recognition of the great boon which has been conferred upon the members of this Council. I am well aware of the limitation under which this right has to be exercised—we may discuss, but we cannot divide the house; nevertheless such a discussion is calculated to place the financial administration of the province in touch with popular opinion. Restricted as the right is, its judicious exercise makes a heavy demand upon the responsibility of the non-official members of this Council in the discharge of which we have to contend against difficulties of no ordinary magnitude. I do not make this a matter of complaint. I should not be justified in making it a matter of complaint, but I state the bare truth when I say that in regard to financial matters, the Government is the master of the situation, the Government is in possession of all material information bearing upon the financial situation. Our enquiries and our observations are necessarily based upon imperfect data, and we have accordingly to throw ourselves upon the indulgent consideration of this Council and to rely upon the indulgent judgment of the country at large.

"A great deal has been said about the inelastic character of our revenues. I am not prepared to join in this complaint, at least in the unqualified form in which it is put forward. It does not represent the whole truth. It is not exhaustive of the whole case. Our revenues are inelastic only in a relative sense, as compared with the steadily growing revenues of the great European countries. Our revenues expand and increase, but the misfortune of the situation is that our expenditure shows even a greater tendency to outstrip the limits of our revenue, and this is amply borne out by the figures of the Financial Statement which we are now considering. The Statement gives the actuals for 1892-93, the revised estimates for 1893-94, and the estimates for 1894-95.

"Looking at the figures on the receipt side, we find that the actuals for 1892-93 came up to Rs 4,47,00,000; the revised estimates for 1893-94 are calculated at Rs. 4,56,00,000, while the estimates for 1894 95 have been fixed at Rs. 4,58,00,000. Looking at the expenditure side, we find that the actuals for 1892-93 came up to Rs. 4,25,00,000; the revised estimates for 1893-94 are calculated at Rs. 4,26,00,000, and the estimates for 1894-95 have been fixed at Rs. 4,35,00,000. These figures are significant in their own way, and they provoke an obvious remark; for while we find that in 1893-94 the receipts show an increase of Rs. 9,00,000 over the receipts for 1892-93, the expenditure shows an increase of only Rs. 2,00,000. But this hopeful view of the matter disappears when we consider the figures for 1894-95. The expenditure has arisen by Rs. 9,00,000, the receipts only by Rs. 2,00,000. But this is not all. The cash balance for 1893 94 has been fixed at Rs. 29,00,000, but it dwindles down in 1894-95 to Rs. 22,00,000.

"But we have even less cause for congratulation when we consider some of the items which have contributed to swell the receipt side of the Statement. Among these I would mention Customs, Stamp and Excise. I desire to call the attention of the Council to a telegram which appeared in the morning papers of the 2nd April last, giving some details of the financial position of the British Isles for 1893-94. From that telegram we learn that the revenue for the British Isles for 1893-94 came up to £93,800,000; the proceeds from the income-tax showed an improvement of £740,000 over those of the preceding year; but that (and this is the point which bears upon the remarks I am now making) there was a decrease in the receipts from Customs, Stamp, and Excise. Therefore, the items which, on the receipt side of the budget estimates of the British Isles show a decrease, are the items which in our financial statement show an increase. We may, therefore, well pause, before we join the Financial Secretary in the very hopeful view of the situation which he takes, having regard to the increase from these items. Referring to the increase in the Stamp Revenue, the Hon'ble Member regards it as an index of prosperity. The people being prosperous and happy, he says they indulge in the luxury of litigation. Well, Sir, litigation is a dangerous and expensive luxury. It has impoverished many a family; it has ruined many a home; it has kept burning the embers of animosities which have been fraught with disastrous consequences. I know of no section of the community which have derived any benefit from it, except that section which has furnished to this Council some of its most distinguished members.

"Coming to the receipts from 'Excise,' we have even less cause for congratulation. The increase represents an increase in consumption, which means an increase in the demoralisation of the people. I desire to call attention to what was done in this connection some few years back in consequence of an urgent demand made by an influential Association in this city. Sir Steuart Bayley appointed Mr. Westmacott to enquire into the operation of the outstill system. The outcome of that investigation was that the outstil system was abolished so far as regards the more populous districts in the Presidency Division. I ask the Bengal Government to complete the beneficent policy initiated by Sir Steuart Bayley to abolish the outstill system, and to spare the rustic population of Bengal the dangerous luxury of cheap liquor made readily accessible to them.

"On the expenditure side of the accounts, our attention is arrested by the expenditure under the head of Law and Justice. Under this head an expenditure of 89 lakhs is estimated for 1894-95, against a receipt amounting to nine lakhs of rupees. So that apparently there is a deficit, and a heavy defect; but we have just heard the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary observe that from the Stamp revenue there are receipts to the extent of nearly 85 lakhs to be credited to the judicial courts; therefore, instead of a deficit, there will be a surplus balance of about five lakhs to the credit of the courts of law. The first charge upon this surplus balance should be the improvement of the administration of justice, both Civil and Criminal. Our system of administration of justice is not perfect. To say that it is not perfect is to say that it is a human institution. Why, Sir, there is that pressing question of the separation of judicial and executive functions in regard to which there is a universal consensus of opinion. A late Viceroy of India has described it as a counsel of perfection I hold that, if there is a surplus balance available, this urgent reform should be attended to with as little loss of time as possible. Then our subordinate judiciary is undermanned and overworked. There was considerable controversy about this question a few years back. Sir Steuart Bayley described it as a triangular duel between the Government of Bengal, the Government of India, and the High Court, and as the outcome of that controversy there was a considerable addition of strength to the subordinate judiciary. But the complaint is still loud and persistent; it remains unremedied and unredressed, and I cannot regard a provision for two additional Munsifs, and one additional Judge, as at all adequate, having regard to the needs of this Province. Further, the ministerial establishments attached to our courts of law are very much under-paid. The pay is not high enough to attract the class of men you want. Our courts of law are not, what they ought to be, the temples of purity and justice.

"The next item of expenditure to which I shall refer is 'Education.' We have an aggregate amount of 26 lakhs put down under that head. I am thankful to observe that that sum represents nearly one lakh over last year's estimate, but having regard to the progressive character of these provinces—having regard to what has been done in other parts of the British Empire—I am constrained to observe that the grant is exceedingly niggardly. I hold in my hand a statement which shows the expenditure on education per head of the population in different parts of the Empire, and ours is the lowest. In Natal the expenditure on education is one shilling per head of the population, in British Guiana it is 3 shillings per head, in Jamaica it is 11 pence, in Mauritius it is 10 annas, in Ceylon it is 2 annas. What do you think is the expenditure per head of the population in Bengal? It is only 7 pies. I need not read the other items in this comparative statement, because, having regard to the figures which I have just read, I think it will be admitted on all hands that the expenditure on education should be increased, and that it is necessary to increase it, bearing in mind the progressive character of the people and the enlightened policy of the Government.

"The Hon'ble the Financial Secretary has been good enough to give us the figures with regard to the expenditure under the head of Provincial Public Works Cess. I hold to the view that the first charge under this head should be the maintenance of the extraordinary public works, and the making of provision against the contingency of famine, for which indeed the Public Works Cess was originally levied. Still there would be a balance of more than 11 lakhs of rupees, which should be devoted to the carrying out of works of sanitation contemplated under the Drainage Bill.

"One other observation which I have to make is that, as we run our eyes over these accounts, we meet with a large item of expenditure under the head of Exchange Compensation Allowance. I know that, as far as this matter is concerned, the Government of Bengal has no independent voice or control, and that it must obey the mandate of superior authority; but I feel that I shall not be doing my duty if I did not record my respectful but firm protest against this exchange compensation allowance."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I must ask the hon'ble member not to make any observations on this point, as it is a matter over which the Government of Bengal has no control, and is therefore one of the questions excluded from discussion in this Council."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE continued:—I bow to the authority of the Chair, but I must be permitted to observe that by reason of the exchange compensation allowance and the complications which have followed in its train, we have been called upon to make a payment of three lakhs to the Imperial Government. The Financial Secretary approaches the consideration of this matter with some degree of levity. To my mind it is a very serious question. It may mean the restriction or the indefinite postponement of useful public works calculated to advance the material prosperity of the country or the sanitary well-being of the people. As exchange compensation allowance has been granted to the European and non-domiciled Eurasian employés of the Government, may I say one word in behalf of the ministerial servants of the Government. They draw a miserable pay. Hard as their lot is, it is rendered doubly hard by the rise in the price of food-grains. Their case is worthy of the indulgent consideration of a generous Government.

"I cannot conclude these remarks without thanking the Hon'ble Financial Secretary for his admirable and lucid explanatory note which has been of great service to me, and I am sure to the other hon'ble members of this Council in helping us to make our way through somewhat dry details of the financial statement."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I shall not detain the Council many minutes by my remarks in reply to the observations which have fallen from the two hon'ble members who have discussed the Budget.

"The Hon'ble MR. STUART expressed the hope that, when the financial position of the Government of India is more favourable, the contribution of the three lakhs which has been levied from the Provincial revenues will be repaid. It is probably in the knowledge of several hon'ble members here present that an assurance of such a character has already been given, and that in the Resolution in which the Government of India indicated their intention to levy this contribution, it was distinctly stated that as soon as possible an effort would be made to restore the sum so withdrawn from the Provincial revenues. The hon'ble member asked for a copy of the report of Mr. Beighton on the establishment of the Small Cause Court; his request for a copy of that report will be dealt with in the Department concerned. As to the remark that the stamp duties from the Civil Courts apparently paid for the whole expenses of the Criminal as well as the Civil Courts, I wish to point out that this is not so, since very large sums are levied by the Criminal Courts also in the shape of court-fees and in cash, as well as in the way of fines and forfeitures, which are all credited in the accounts in their appropriate places under the head of Law and Justice.

"As regards what fell from the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE with reference to the Excise Revenue, it is impossible for the Government at this moment to give any guarantee as to the abolition of the outstill system, or as to its policy at this or any future time. I can only repeat that its efforts have been steadily directed towards reducing consumption, and at the same time increasing the revenue, and I have already pointed out in the explanatory note that during 1892-93, the last year of which the Excise administration has been reviewed, this object has been effected under four of the largest heads of revenue. In the debit and credit account which the hon'ble member drew between the cost of the courts of law and the receipts from stamps, he altogether omitted, no doubt by inadvertence, to take into consideration the fact that under the head of Stamps there is a considerable expenditure aggregating over 5 lakhs in the cost of providing stamps.

"Turning next to the hon'ble member's remarks upon Education, it is superfluous criticism to say that the province of Bengal, as regards the expenditure upon Education, cannot be compared with Natal or British Guiana, or any other outlying Colonies of the British Crown. Every member of this Council must be well aware that the comparison is impossible, and that the conditions of administration in Bengal and in the Colonies must differ in almost every respect. Moreover, the hon'ble member should always remember that the whole of the expenditure upon Education is not represented in this Budget, for very large sums are contributed by District Boards and Municipalities, which appear in their own Budgets, and are not dealt with in the Budget now before Council.

"The hon'ble member also criticised severely the diversion, as he was pleased to call it, of the Public Works Cess from its legitimate object, that is to say, the improvement of the country and the guarding against famines; but I have already pointed out that against the apparent balance of 17½ lakhs must be set about 8 lakhs to be spent on minor irrigation projects, 7½ lakhs on embankments, and 7 lakhs upon roads, besides a very large proportion out of the 5½ lakhs given to District Board in the shape of contributions, which will be utilised in the construction of works of the same character. Surely the improvement of communications, the maintenance of protective embankments, and the execution of well-considered irrigation projects deserve to be recognised as steps for the protection of the country, so far as it can be protected, against the invasion of famine.

"The hon'ble member who last spoke has criticised the Budget at considerable length, but there is one cardinal defect, which characterises his speech, namely, that his criticisms have been merely destructive; he attacked the receipts under several heads, and the expenditure under others; but he has not ventured to suggest how, by decreasing taxation, we shall at the same time be in a position to spend larger sums of money on objects which he considers specially deserving of such expenditure."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I think we all sympathise in the wish which has formed the leading string of thought which ran through the speech of the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE, and which is the wish that it was possible to have larger funds to expend upon the many objects of usefulness and improvement of the administration which presented themselves to the Government of this great Province, and to those who are able to make suggestions to the Government whenever they look into the details shown in the Provincial accounts. But as the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary has just remarked, we are bound by the limits of our income, and it is almost an idle pleasure to suggest what we should be glad to do if we had more money to spare. No doubt from some points of view it would be satisfactory to be able to raise the pay both of the ministerial and menial establishments of Government. There are many things which might be said on this subject, and perhaps it may be suggested with regard to some of them that we should not do much good to the country if we were to raise the salaries of the superior classes of the Government employés. It is a great temptation to all of us to utter or to give way to such suggestions. It is very easy to be generous with other people's money, but what the Government has to do when such suggestions are made is to resist them to the utmost, as long as it can do so with any sense of justice. What we have to consider is not whether they would like to raise the pay of the ministerial establishment, but whether private employers pay more, and if not, whether the Government would be justified in raising the market rate by giving more than private employers do give, or more than the men are willing to receive. As long as we have this exceedingly tight fit between revenue and expenditure, the Government is bound to exercise the strictest supervision over all temptations to increase expenditure. It is a great satisfaction that we have been able to justify ourselves on this occasion in accepting one proposal for increased expenditure which has been pressed upon us by the highest authority—a proposal which has been laid before the Government of India in accordance with a report by a Special Committee, the President of which was the Chief Secretary of our Government, and the principle of which has been accepted by the Government of India, namely, that we have been able to add three lakhs of rupees to the pay of the Subordinate Police establishment. We have raised the pay of the lowest police from Rs. 5 to Rs. 6, and we have raised the allowances and in some instances the pay of head-constables and sub-inspectors. We trust we have done a good deal to remedy the evils complained of owing to the shortcomings of the police, so far as they were due to the temptations which surrounded them, and which they were unable to resist. This was the chief item in which we have been able to indulge ourselves by being liberal; we were also able to meet the demand of the Government of India to assist them in their financial distress, which was so much greater than ours, by a contribution of three lakhs. That we could do so is chiefly due to a remarkable rise in the income last year, namely, a rise in the receipts from railways, which was an altogether unexpected windfall, and also to a moderate increase under Stamps and Excise.

"The hon'ble member compared the Budget of the United Kingdom with ours with some degree of regret that the comparison was unfavourable to us. To my mind this was a mistaken impression on his part, and if he understood better what the conditions of Imperial finance were, he would feel thankful that he is in Bengal and not in England. The only increase in the British Government's revenue for the year just closed is an increase in the receipts from the income-tax, which was due to an extra penny in the pound having been put on from the 1st of April last. It would be very easy to raise the rate of the income-tax here, but I do not think I should receive a hearty welcome from my hon'ble colleagues if I stood here on the part of the Government of India to propose such an increase. Then the hon'ble member speaks of the falling off in the English receipts from Customs and Excise in the United Kingdom, as affording ground for satisfaction, but that is mentioned in all the economic papers which I have seen as a proof of the general depression and general backwardness of trade, and largely to the distress and discomfort due to lock-outs and strikes, and the fall in the price of silver. It is our great good fortune that we have not been subject to such distress. The rise here in the Excise has been a very small one—hardly exceeding the ratio of the annual increase in the population, namely, one per cent. That increase has been looked upon with regret by the hon'ble member, but in England a decrease in the revenues from Customs and Excise was looked upon with universal regret as a proof of the poverty of the people, and the restrictions they were in consequence obliged to impose upon themselves. I venture to think there has been no year among the years I have studied in which the Provincial revenues occupied so favourable a position as in the year before them. We have, as has already been pointed out, an increase in the revenues by about 10 lakhs over the receipts of 1892-93, and we have been able to spend that on most useful reforms in the Police, in Education and in the Courts of Law and other departmental administrative purposes, all of which I have no doubt will tend to the improvement of the general administration. We have also been able, without pinching ourselves, and without restricting any expenditure, to make this large contribution of three lakhs to the Government of India which, in no past year whose figures I have studied, the Bengal Government would have been able to do without very considerable distress.

"I think, therefore, I may congratulate you and the Province on the whole on the position we have been able to lay before you as regards the financial measures of the next year, and as to the receipts and expenditure of the Province of Bengal."

BENGAL MUNICIPAL ACT, III OF 1884, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON also moved that the clauses of the Bill to amend Bengal Act III of 1884, as amended by the enlarged Select Committee, be further considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER moved that in section 15 of the Bill the words "or Vice-Chairman" be omitted. He said:—

"This section of the Bill had already been passed by the Council; but I believed that mistakes in drafting may be pointed out and corrected at any time. These words have only been left in this section by oversight; they refer to a provision previously in the Bill, but which has now been omitted by which the election of the Vice-Chairman was subject to the approval of the Government. As it is no longer so subject, the words 'or Vice-Chairman' are quite unnecessary."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON moved that after section 15 of the Bill the following section be inserted:—

"After section 26, the following section shall be inserted:—

'26A. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections twenty-four, twenty-five and twenty-seven (A), the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of every municipality shall resign office at the first meeting of the Commissioners newly appointed and elected at which a quorum shall be present. The meeting shall thereupon proceed (a) to elect, or to request the Local Government to appoint, a Chairman, and (b) to elect a Vice-Chairman:

Provided that, if the municipality is in the second schedule of this Act, or if the meeting decides to request the Local Government to appoint a Chairman, the resignation of the Chairman shall not take effect until a new Chairman is appointed.'

He said:—

"The amendment which stands against my name has twice been laid before this Council, and a decision upon it has twice been postponed owing to the difficulty of selecting the most suitable form of expression, but since the last meeting of this Council, the wording of the amendment has been further considered by an informal Sub-Committee consisting of the Hon'ble MESSRS. ALLEN and COLLIER, the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE and myself, and we recommend the amendment in the form which it has now taken.

"Section 15 of the Bill provides that an outgoing body of Commissioners with their Chairman and Vice-Chairman shall carry on their duties until the first effectual meeting of the new body is held. The addition which I propose to make to section 15 of the Bill and to section 26 of the Act will declare that as soon as this meeting is formed the old Chairman and Vice-Chairman shall resign, and the meeting shall then proceed to elect a Vice-Chairman under section 25 of the Act, and either to elect a Chairman under section 23, or under the same section to request the Local Government to appoint one. The case of municipalities which are in the second schedule of the Act will be covered by the proviso which follows the new section.

"When this Council last met, a member enquired what was to be done in the event of there being an equality of votes at the meeting, and it has since been asked who is to take the Chair at this meeting, whether the President shall have a casting vote, and whether a member shall be entitled to vote for himself. These are matters which, in the opinion of Government, need not be dealt with by legal enactment. Under section 90 of the present Bill, it is proposed to give to municipalities power to make rules, among other things, for the conduct of business: these rules require the sanction of the Local Government, and when they are prepared, the opportunity will be taken to lay down definite and uniform rules on these and other points on which doubt still prevails. I therefore ask the Council to accept the amendment as it stands."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON also moved that in section 16 of the Bill, for the number "26" the number and letter "26A" and for the number and letter "26A" the number and letter "26B" be substituted.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"At the last meeting of the Council, I asked permission to allow the amendment which I moved in section 22 of the Bill to stand over till to-day, so that I may have time to consider the course I should persue, having regard to the acceptance by the Government of the amendment moved by the hon'ble member for the Corporation. Having given the matter my most serious consideration, I have come to the conclusion that while I must abandon the first portion of my proposed amendment, it will be my duty to lay before the Council the second portion, which proceeds on altogether different lines, and which proposes to confer a veto on a majority of not less than two-thirds of the entire body of the rate-payers. The Council will remember that these sanitary sections formed no part of the original Bill, which was referred to the first Select Committee. They were the outcome of the Belvedere Conference, and were embodied in the Bill as amended by that Select Committee, though they carefully abstained from expressing any opinion. Subsequently, when the Bill was referred to the enlarged Select Committee, no portion of the Bill was more anxiously considered than these sections, the result being that they were considerably modified, and to a large extent recast.

"I believe the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill will bear me out that as regards sections 37A to 37J we were unanimous; but it was only when we came to section 37K, which proposes to confer compulsory powers upon the Government, that any serious difference of opinion arose. There was no difference of opinion as regards the character, the utility or the importance of the works contemplated under these sections: we were as keenly alive to that part of the question as the majority of the Committee. Nor do I believe that public opinion has lagged behind: so far I have not come across any newspaper or any individual so foolish or so fanatical as to deny the advantages of a proper system of drainage and a supply of pure drinking-water. At the same time, there has been considerable opposition on the part of the public to compulsory legislation. That opposition was entirely based on the question of ways and means which, it is feared, might not always be considered by the executive Government with sufficient regard for the means and resources of those who will have to bear the expenses.

"More than twenty years ago it was declared by so high an authority as the late Lord Mayo that taxation had reached its utmost limits in this country, and since then we have had so many additional turns of the screw that the people are afraid that if the operation of these sections is left to the discretion of the Government, the capacity of the rate-payer to bear additional burdens may receive but slight consideration, and poor and small municipalities might be forced to embark on schemes which are far too expensive for them. It is possible to pay too high a price for even the blessing of pure water. It may be a poor mercy—if I may quote the happy phrase of the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer—to give them an elaborate system of water-works if it involves crushing taxation, such as may appreciably diminish their power of procuring solid food, and compel them to rely more or less on such nourishment as may be derived from pure water. I had the advantage of talking this matter over privately with the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, and I was glad to find that he deprecates as much as I do any great and intolerable increase of taxation, even in the name of sanitation; and I also gathered from what he said that the Government may possibly see its way to accept my amendment in the case of a single or isolated municipality, but that it was considered that in the case of a group or a series of riparian municipalities which are expected to join with each other in the carrying out of such schemes, it would be undesirable to allow any one of them by its obstinacy to paralyse the action of all the others. I admit that there is great force in that argument; and having regard to the fact that the Government have accepted the amendment of my hon'ble friend the Member for the Corporation, I am unwilling to ask the Government to make any further concessions as far as that case is concerned. I am, therefore, prepared to restrict the operation of my amendment to the case of an isolated municipality alone. But before the Government or hon'ble members generally make up their minds, I desire to read a short extract from a communication with which I have been favoured by my learned friend Mr. Graham, who also happens to be a Municipal Commissioner of Serampore. He says:—

'Of course the chief objection to a joint scheme is the taxation it will involve. The suggested taxation on Serampore has been over Rs. 20,000, or equivalent to an extra 50 to 55 per cent. on our taxes, which many find a difficulty in paying now. The incidence of taxation may be unfair, but in the long run you must tax on the numbers, and it would be grossly unfair to throw the whole burden on comparatively few rate-payers, as would be the case the moment the level was raised. Owing to the scattered nature of this Municipality—and I take it all municipalities in Bengal—the sums collected have to be spent on very large unproductive areas, and a water-works scheme is really only possible in localities where the density of population will provide the requisite money at a fair cost. With large unproductive areas it is almost impossible to raise the money fairly to provide for long stretches of pipes and numberless taps. Of course the same applies to roads, but a road is a very cheap thing compared to a water-supply.'

"These are the views not of ignorant native rate-payers, but of a cultured English gentleman, who from his local knowledge, is satisfied that such a scheme would be disastrous to the rate-payers of Serampore. These are considerations of such a cogent character that I do not think any Government in the world could be indifferent to them. I fully believe that if the Government were convinced that the results would be such as Mr. Graham anticipates, it would hesitate long before enforcing such a scheme. But, Sir, the danger lies in this. The Government is far removed from the people; its views are mostly formed on the representations of the District Officers, who are its eyes and its hands, and the younger, the more active and the more zealous those officers are, the greater the danger. To them the improvement of a municipality within their district is an object of paramount importance, while the ability of the tax-payer to bear additional taxation may receive little or no consideration.

"These are the grounds on which we felt compelled to differ from the conclusions of the majority of the Select Committee. We felt that when such matters came up before the Government, it would naturally place the greatest reliance upon the recommendations of its own officers, and any objection on the part of the rate-payers would be attributed partly to the stupid conservatism of an ignorant people, and partly to the natural reluctance of all men to pay any taxes whatever.

"We had one of two courses open to us: either to move that section 37K be omitted, or to introduce into it such safeguards as in our humble judgment may provide against the dangers we apprehend. We have adopted the latter and the more moderate course, and we could not do less without surrendering our deliberate convictions. I am glad to say that the Government has done much to allay popular apprehension and alarm by accepting the amendment of my hon'ble friend, the Member for the Corporation. I now ask you to go one step further, for, unless you accept this proviso, there will still be many cases in which no protection will be afforded by the amendment which has been accepted. Even in the case of a municipality to which the franchise has already been extended, one-third of the Commissioners are appointed by the Government on the nomination of the district officer, and speaking from personal knowledge, I have no hesitation in saying that it would be idle and futile to expect that any of those nominated Commissioners will ever venture to vote against any proposal made by the very officer to whose recommendation they owe their appointment; so that, unless you have the solid vote of the whole body of elected Commissioners, you will never get the requisite majority of two-thirds. In the case of illness or absence of any one of the elected Commissioners, or any difference of opinion on the part of one of them, the case will immediately go out of the provisions of the amendment of my hon'ble friend. Then, again, there is a large number of municipalities to which the franchise has not been extended, where all the Commissioners are appointed by Government, and the rate-payers have not a single elected representative. These are just the cases where my proviso will afford some protection. In this connection, I desire to remind the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill of the words used by him when replying to me on another occasion :—

'As far as my experience goes, there is very little hope that the majority of the rate-payers of a municipality will ever combine to submit a petition of any kind.'

"If that view, which was then endorsed by several hon'ble members who took part in the debate, be correct, then no possible objection can be urged against my amendment, for the proviso would either be inoperative, or it would be only in very exceptional cases of great and general hardship that such a large number as two-thirds of the whole body of the rate-payers will ever be able to combine to petition the Government. Besides, it should be remembered that this is the first time that these sanitary sections are being enacted, and it is not fair or just to legislate on the assumption that the attitude of the people must necessarily be one of obstinate opposition or unreasonable obstruction. I therefore ask you to give them a voice in the administration of their own local affairs. If after giving them a fair trial you find them utterly unreasonable and wholly unworthy of the confidence reposed in them, it will never be too late to amend the law. Should the results unfortunately justify a demand for further compulsory powers, no reasonable voice would be raised against such a demand. But, Sir, I do not anticipate that such a contingency will arise. I rely on the good sense and moderation of my countrymen, and I have faith in the gradual development of municipal institutions under the enlightened guidance of the Government, although I am not prepared to go so far as to place the popular voice upon such a high and lofty pedestal, or to claim for it such superlative authority, as was done by the hon'ble Member for the Corporation the other day. I am content to rest my case on a far more humble and prosaic ground, namely, that those who are expected to bear the expense as well as to enjoy the prospective benefits of a particular sanitary proposal should have an opportunity of deciding by an overwhelming majority of two-thirds of their whole number, whether such a scheme is suited to their means, or is utterly beyond their resources. Surely that is not too much to ask.

"Sir, you are about to inaugurate great and important measures of sanitary reform which, if successful, will for ever be honourably associated with the present administration, and I venture to think that a little confidence in the people at the beginning will not be thrown away. They are sure to reciprocate the sentiment and to feel grateful for the concession. Confidence will beget confidence, and you will have done much to advance the cause of sanitation by placing it on a popular basis and by dissociating it from all ideas of compulsion and coercion. You will succeed in completely re-assuring the public mind; you will satisfy the country that the Government has no intention of retracing its steps as regards Local Self-Government, and you will convince it beyond all doubt that so far from desiring to narrow or to circumscribe the privileges of the people, you are sincerely anxious, as opportunity may arise and as occasion may serve, gradually and cautiously, it may be, but steadily to widen the sphere and to enlarge the bounds of popular liberties.

"With these remarks, I have the honour to move that in section 22 of the Bill, after sub-section (3) of section 37K, the following proviso be added:—

'Provided further that in the case of a municipality not required to act conjointly with any other municipality or local authority if within two months from the date of the publication of the particulars of any such scheme in the Calcutta Gazette, a petition is presented to the Local Government by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the registered rate-payers of a municipality objecting to the compulsory introduction of such scheme into such municipality, the Commissioners thereof shall not be compelled to carry out such scheme.'

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I take leave to doubt, Sir, whether it would have been possible to find a better exponent of the views expressed in this amendment than the hon'ble member who has just spoken, and though I am unable to accept his arguments or to advise the Council to do so, I congratulate him upon the force and the lucidity with which they have been set forth.

"The effect of the amendment is to provide an alternative system for blocking proposals for sanitation and drainage, and for representing the popular voice on proposals made by the Government. The only question seems to be whether it is necessary to supply this alternative. In the first place, to allow two-thirds of the rate-payers of a municipality a voice in a matter like this is to go altogether beyond the provisions of the Municipal Act. We hear frequently and from many quarters that the privilege of the franchise is a boon which is greatly valued, and the elections which have taken place within the last few months have raised an interest in many districts in Bengal, which has not at all been approached in the case of any previous elections, and it may be presumed that the Commissioners who have been elected have the fullest confidence of the electors, and that they are entitled to speak with authority on behalf of the persons whom they represent. The elective system is in force in five out of every six municipalities in Bengal, and wherever it is in force two-thirds of the Commissioners are elected by the rate-payers. Why should the elected representatives of the people be ignored? Why should two-thirds of the rate-payers be entitled to throw over the Commissioners and decide for themselves upon a matter which is eminently one for the decision of those who are elected by the rate-payers? The hon'ble mover of the amendment has assumed as a matter of course that in a matter of this kind the elected Commissioners will vote solid, and that the nominated Commissioners will vote against them; and he has urged that therefore the accidental absence of one elected Commissioner might at any time prove disastrous. But the Government are not at all prepared to admit that these two classes will always be divided by a line of this sort, and at any rate the argument is double-edged. Moreover, as the hon'ble member has already admitted, petitions of the rate-payers are matters of little or no account, and they remind me always of Lord Palmerston's definition of a deputation as a noun of multitude implying numbers but signifying nothing. If, as the hon'ble member put it, it will be so difficult to obtain a combined petition of two-thirds of the rate-payers, what will be the advantage of putting into the statute book a provision which will practically remain inoperative.

"Nevertheless, it is only fair to the mover of the amendment to admit that there is one class of cases in which I think it would be possible to accept the hon'ble member's proposal, namely, that of a municipality in which all the members are appointed by the Government. In those places, it is conceivable that the rate-payers would not be so thoroughly-represented as they would be in a municipality where the elective principle is in vogue, and I believe that the Local Government would not be unwilling to accept the amendment if it were guarded by the limitation that it should be restricted to municipalities acting singly, and should apply only to municipalities in Schedule I, in which none of the Commissioners are elected, but all are appointed by the Government. If the hon'ble member will limit his amendment in this way, I shall not be disposed myself to accept it."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"If that is the final opinion of the Government, I shall thankfully accept it."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I am glad the hon'ble mover of the amendment accepts the proposal, and I am glad to associate myself with the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, and say that the Government is prepared to go this length, namely, that the proviso shall only apply to municipalities in the first schedule of the Act. The exact wording of the amendment may stand over to the next meeting."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE moved that the following further proviso be added to section 76 of the existing Act:—

"Provided also that the control exercised by the Commissioner of the Division under the terms of this section shall be restricted to the heads of the estimate, and shall not extend to the details thereof."

He said—

"Under the existing law, Commissioners of Divisions enjoy much greater power of control over the budget than they did under the Act of 1876. Under that Act he could sanction the budget, if he accepted the figures of the budget, but he could not alter or modify it. The Local Government alone had those powers entrusted to it. Under the Act of 1884 these powers have been delegated to the Commissioner of the Division. My amendment does not seek to deprive the Commissioner of his powers over the budget, but it proposes to curtail them, to restrict them, and confine their exercise to the principal heads of the budget. And, Sir, I beg leave to say that I press this amendment as much for the sake of the Municipalities as for the sake of the executive officers of Government who control these Municipalities, for one of the dangers of local self-government—in my opinion the chief danger—arises from friction between the executive officers of the Government and the Municipalities consequent upon the interference of the Commissioner of the Division with the minutest details of municipal administration. My amendment will minimise this danger; it will relieve Divisional Commissioners of a large part of their municipal work, and mark a distinct stage in advance in the history of local self-government by enlarging the powers of Municipal Commissioners, and by adding to their efficiency, by adding to their responsibilities.

"I have referred to the friction between Municipalities and the executive officers of the Government. It is somewhat of a serious allegation to make, but I make it with a full sense of the responsibility which belongs to my position. As a member of this Council I am prepared to prove it to demonstration. Let me somewhat enlarge upon the matter. The budget is presented in February or March. With the submission of the budget there begin the demand for explanations by the Divisional Commissioner and the submission of explanations by the Municipal Commissioners. Three or four months expire before the budget is finally sanctioned, and even then the troubles of the Commissioners are not at an end; for while correspondence was going on in regard to the budget, the work of the municipality had to be continued, expenses had to be incurred, and it might be in respect of some of the items which afterwards come to be disallowed, and with regard to such unsanctioned items, there is a further demand for explanation. Thus from year's end to year's end there goes on this merry-go-round of explanations to the great detriment of real and useful work. For let it be that the Chairmen of our municipalties are for the most part non-official gentlemen, who can devote only a portion of their time to the concerns of the municipality; but if a good portion of that time is thus taken up, then it is very obvious that their opportunities of doing useful work are necessarily restricted.

Let me illustrate the manner in which Divisional Commissioners exercise this power of control by reference to one or two concrete instances; and here I necessarily fall back upon my own personal experiences. In the North Barrackpore Municipality we provided in the budget some time ago for two sircars—one to collect the latrine-rate and the other the house-rate. The Divisional Commissioner objected to the sircar for collecting the latrine-rate. We protested—we pointed out that the collections would suffer—we went even so far as to say that we could not hold ourselves responsible for the satisfactory collection of the latrine-rate if the sircar was disallowed, but all in vain: the Commissioner of the Division was inexorable, and the sircar was disallowed. But the most curious part of the affair has yet to be told. As we had anticipated, the collections fell off, and we were called upon to explain if we could in any way be held responsible for the shortness of the collections. It is only due to Mr. Westmacott, who succeeded Mr. Smith as Commissioner of the Division, to state that he has allowed that item to stand. But the fact only serves to disclose the utter absence of all principle, the want of anything like a definite rule as to the way in which the Divisional Commissioners are to exercise their discretion. It is personal government pure and simple, tempered only by the exercise of personal discretion. I will give another instance. We had a bill muharir, whose duty it was to write out 4,000 or 5,000 bills, some of which have to be written out in triplicate form. The Divisional Commissioner disallowed the bill muharrir who had been on the establishment ever since the creation of the Municipality. We pointed out that his services were very necessary, that five sircars could not be expected to write out five thousand bills, and do their legitimate work besides, but all in vain. The fiat went forth the sircars must write out their own bills.

Now I ask, is it right and fair to hold Municipal Commissioners responsible for the collections or the efficiency of municipal work, if they are to be interfered with, if their decisions are to be overridden in these essentially paltry matters of detail. It will be admitted on all hands that local gentlemen with local knowledge, responsible to their constituents and to the Government, are the best judges, and that Commissioners of Divisions, residing at a distance from the head-quarters of Municipalities and but imperfectly acquainted with local needs and wants, should not sit in judgment upon the decisions of Municipal Commissioners in these matters.

"It is, however, chiefly in reference to educational matters that this power of interference is most sedulously exerted. The hon'ble member in charge of the Bill gave certain figures in reply to a question put by me, showing the grant made by municipalities to English schools for the last three or four years. The grant in 1888-89 to English schools was Rs. 48,360, in 1889-90 it was Rs. 47,121, in 1890-91 it was Rs. 51,446, in 1891-92 it was Rs. 53,000, but in 1892-93 the grant fell to Rs. 31,480. How are we to account for this sudden fall? I am in possession of facts which accentuate the conclusions to be derived from the Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon's figures. We have two schools in the North Barrackpore Municipality, each of which used to receive a monthly grant of Rs. 20 from the Municipality. The Commissioner cut down the grant to Rs. 10 a month. We protested, but in vain. Then came another turn of the screw. The grant was disallowed altogether! We protested—we pointed out that these were essentially vernacular schools with just a little English taught in the higher forms. We could with difficulty induce Mr. Westmacott to restore the grant to one of these schools. I do not know what justification there is for this raid against education, and against English education in particular. Education and sanitation must go hand in hand. The one must minister to the other. Sanitation is impossible of attainment without education. You may flood a district with the purest water and bestow upon it the most approved system of drainage, but all to no purpose. If the habits of the people are dirty, if their sanitary ideal is low, the money will have been spent in vain. It is pleasing to contrast this discouragement of English education by the Bengal Government with the encouragement of English education by the Government of Madras. Lord Connemara, addressing a Municipality in the Madras Presidency, some years ago, thus observed:—'Local self-government was a success throughout the Presidency, and as education facilitated the working of the municipalities, so he was quite sure municipalities would do everything they could to promote education.'

"Language of the same kind was used by Sir James Lyall, Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjab. But I rely not merely on considerations of practical and administrative convenience. I rest my case on those basal principles of local self-government which were enunciated by the great founders of the system. The Government of India in a letter dated the 10th of October 1881, addressed to the Government of Bengal, thus observed:—

'It is hopeless to expect any real development of local self-government if Local Bodies were subject to check and interference in matters of detail.'

"And then in the great Resolution of the 10th May 1882, it was laid down:—

'The non-official members must be led to feel that real power is placed in their hands, and that they have real responsibilities to discharge.'

The principle was accepted by Sir Ashley Eden in some of the Resolutions which he issued. I invite this Council to adopt this principle by accepting my amendment. It would be a generous concession. It would broaden the foundations of Local Self-Government and render memorable the Municipal Amendment

Bill of 1894, by associating it with a progressive measure which would evoke deep gratitude from one end of the country to the other. The system of Local Self-Government has now been in existence for more that ten years. For ten years the Municipalities have been tried, and I venture to affirm that they have not been found wanting. Government after Government have borne uniform testimony to the satisfactory working of our Municipalities. The history of municipal laws in Bengal is the history of progressive legislation. The Act of 1876 was a distinct advance upon the earlier Municipal Act. The Act of 1884 embodies the priciple of Local Self-Government and is the charter of our municipal rights. The Council and the Government would be acting in accordance with their best traditions, if on this the occasion of the revision of the Municipal Act, they were to show their appreciation of the good work done by the Municipalities by a tangible concession which would operate as an incentive to feed the efforts in a direction where such efforts so far have been attended with unmixed blessing to the community.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I am compelled to differ entirely from the hon'ble member who has just spoken, and I must ask this Council in the most emphatic manner to reject his amendment and to leave the law as it stands at present.

"The object of the amendment is to take away from the Commissioner of the Division the power of control over details in the Municipal Budget. This is a proposal which does not commend itself to my judgment on any grounds whatever, and I hope to be able to show in a few words that it is impolitic and unpractical, and that even if carried, it would be ineffectual to secure the object for which it is framed.

"As the law stands at present, the Budget Estimate of a municipality, when it has been prepared to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, is forwarded under section 74 of the Act to the Magistrate of the District. That officer may either forward it as it stands to the Commissioner of the Division, or may return it for revision to the Municipal Commissioners: if he adopts the latter course, the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting must take his criticisms into consideration, and either adopt or reject them; in either case the estimates are then forwarded to the Commissioner of the Division for his scrutiny, and he can either sanction the estimate as it stands, or can direct the Municipal Commissioners to alter it, and sanction it when so altered. By a provision imported by section 30 of the present Bill, the Commissioner of the Division must always give the Municipal Commissioners an opportunity of revising their estimate by the light of his remarks before he passes final orders upon it.

"These Regulations seem to me to be eminently reasonable and fair. I do not suppose that the most advanced advocates of municipal independence in Bengal would have the hardihood to assert that Municipal Commissioners everywhere are fit to be freed from all financial control, and since control is to be exercised, it is natural, reasonable, and in accordance with commonsense, that it should be exercised by the local officers in the very considerate, not to say deferential, manner provided by the law.

"The proposal now is, that these simple arrangements should be set aside, and that the Commissioner should have power only to interfere with the main heads of the Budget, and should not be allowed to concern himself with details. The mover of the amendment does not say what he proposes to consider main heads and what details. I assume, however, that he intends to follow the headings of the form of Budget Estimate for Municipalities prescribed by the orders of Government of the 7th February, 1891. A glance at these forms at pages 22-23 of the rules will show members that the main heads of the Budget on the Expenditure side are the following:—Establishment, Public Safety, Public Health, Public Instruction, Public Convenience, Miscellaneous and Debt; and if my understanding is right, the mover of the amendment proposes that the powers of control of the Commissioner of the Division shall be limited merely to saying what proportion of the total expenditure shall be incurred under each of these seven heads. I cannot believe that the Council will ever agree to a proposal so unreasonable. Take, for instance, the heading of Public Health: the sums expended on the sub-heads falling under this category amounted in 1892-93 to Rs. 14,73,099, or more than 46 per cent. of the whole municipal expenditure of the year. Is the chief controlling authority of the Division to have no word in the distribution of half the expenditure in each municipality? Is he again to have no control over the distribution of expenditure upon the various branches under the general head of Education, nor over the details of Establishment, in both of which directions municipal bodies frequently show an extraordinary tendency to extravagance? I do not doubt for a moment what the decision of this Council will be.

"And why are we asked to minimise the control of the Commissioner in this way? Merely because it is the unfortunate experience of the hon'ble member, that the Commissioner of the Division has a habit of asking unpleasant questions and interfering too much in details. Sir, this plea appears to me to supply a complete answer to the contentions of my hon'ble friend. It is not to be supposed that the Commissioner of the Division, in these days of high pressure and overwork, criticises the details of a Municipal Budget for his amusement, or for the mere pleasure of making himself unpleasant: the Head of an administrative Division has no leisure either for trifling or for teasing, even if he had the inclination for both, and the fact that the Municipal Commissioners on whose behalf the hon'ble member speaks have had their Budgets closely criticised, seems to me to show that they required detailed examination, and that Government can by no means afford to exempt such estimates from that scrutiny.

"In the next place, the amendment, as it stands, must be ineffectual. For, in the first place, the heads of the Budget are fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor by executive order after consultation with the Accountant-General, and they are liable to be changed at any moment, so that by a simple notification the whole scheme of the Budget might be altered, and the entire object of the amendment evaded.

"Lastly, the hon'ble member seems to have overlooked the provisions of the section previous to that which he proposes to amend. Section 75 gives the Magistrate of the District the fullest power to criticise the estimates and return them to the Commissioners for consideration. The mover of the amendment, to be plain, objects to local officers meddling with municipal estimates, yet he has raised no objection to this process being carried out by the Magistrate: he would not allow the Commissioner of the Division to look into details, but has not noticed that the Magistrate can always do so. Moreover, if his amendment is carried, and the Commissioner is debarred from looking into details, how is he to decide matters in dispute between the Magistrate and the Commissioners?

"It seems to me, Sir, then, that the amendment is unreasonable from beginning to end. I strongly object to the principle which underlies it, namely, that of freeing municipalities from effective financial control, and it seems to me further that the measures proposed for this unacceptable purpose are unpractical and crude to the last degree."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee in reply said:—"I am sorry that my hon'ble friend does not see his way to accept this amendment, the object of which is not to relieve the Commissioner of the Division of all kinds of control because it distinctly contemplates that the control will be confined to the major heads of the budget. I do not see how the amendment will be ineffectual, as has been just stated. No doubt the Government may change the major heads of the Budget, but still the control will be confined to those heads. All that we are anxious to secure is, that whatever control the Commissioner of the Division may exercise should extend to the major heads of the Budget, and not to the details. The amendment carries with it a large body of public feeling. It has again and again been considered by various public bodies in conference assembled, and there is a unanimous feeling that the time has come when a further extension of municipal rights is desirable, and that the Commissioner of the Division should be relieved of a part at least of the control he has hitherto exercised. I have no objection if the Government were to go back to the provisions of the Act of 1876, in which whatever there was, was exercised by the Local Government."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I confess that I have seldom heard a proposal, the result of which would be so revolutionary, which was supported by arguments which seem to be so little convincing. Really all that the hon'ble mover of the amendment has brought forward is a statement regarding two cases in which the Budget of the North Barrackpore Municipality was interfered with by the Commissioner of the Division. I dare say we all remember the story of the painter and the lion. We have heard what the Chairman of the Municipality thinks of the Commissioner, but unfortunately we have not got the Commissioner here to say what he thinks of the Chairman. But even if we take the action of the Commissioner as unreasonable in the cases to which the hon'ble member has referred, surely we are not going to upset an established practice and take away from all officers the power of doing right, because a single officer has now and then made a mistake. Though I shall be glad to accept amendments which the hon'ble member may bring forward, which seem to me to be in the way of improvement, I am sorry I do not see my way to accept this proposal."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER moved that for the two first lines of section 31 of the Bill the following be substituted:—

"For section 82, the following shall be substituted:—

"The Commissioners shall keep such registers, use such forms and submit such returns as the Local Government may, from time to time, prescribe.

"The municipal accounts shall be audited each year in such manner as the Local Government may direct."

He said:—

"This is a very simple amendment, but I think it very necessary. The section as it stands in the Act at present provides that 'the municipal accounts shall be kept in such form and shall be audited each year in such manner as the Local Government shall direct.' Therefore the Government has only power to prescribe forms for accounts. The object of the amendment is to give power not only to prescribe forms for accounts, but also all registers and returns."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU SUDENDRANATH BANERJEE moved that in the first paragraph of section 85 of the existing Act, the words "or both" be substituted for "but not both", and that the following further proviso be added to the section:—

"Provided that both the taxes shall not be in force at the same time in the same ward."

He said:—

"The existing law provides that both the tax upon persons and the tax upon holdings cannot be in force at one and the same time in one and the same municipality. If the tax upon persons is in force in any Municipality, the tax according to the annual value of the holding shall not be in operation. The object of my amendment is to leave this question, as to whether both forms of taxation may prevail at one and the same time or not, to the discretion of the Municipal Commissioners, subject to the proviso that both taxes shall not prevail in the same ward at the same time. In by far the greater number of municipalities, the tax upon persons prevails. In round numbers there are about 150 municipalities, and in about 110 the tax upon persons is in force, and where that form of taxation obtains it strikes me that the well-to-do section of the community escape their legitimate share of municipal taxation. In every municipality, however poor it may be, there is a section of the people who are rich and dwell in fine houses, and they generally congregate together. Now the highest tax upon any one holding in a municipality where the tax upon persons prevails is Rs. 84 a year; a person may live in a palatial dwelling, he may have a whole village included in his dwelling-house, but if it is one holding he pays Rs. 84 and no more. This is not fair to him, or to the Municipality or to the poorer classes of the rate-payers. The object of the amendment is to rectify this anomaly. It will also have the effect of adding to the municipal revenues, not indeed by imposing a fresh burden on any section of the community, but by remedying an irregularity in the incidence of municipal taxation. I find that this amendment was actually embodied in one of the Bills drafted by the Select Committee. Section 27 of the Bill issued in July 1892 runs as follows:—

Amendment of section 85.

'27. In section 85, in the first paragraph, for the words "but not both" the words "or both" shall be substituted. At the end of the same section, the following paragraph shall be added:—

Provided also that both taxes shall not be levied in the same ward; and the Commissioners shall determine which tax shall be levied in each ward.'

"With those remarks, I beg to move this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon said:—"As the hon'ble member has mentioned, this proposal is not a new one, and it has been discussed several times. The first draft of the Bill contained this provision, the only difference being that the Bill provided that both forms of taxation should not be imposed in respect of one and the same holding. Several opinions were received on that proposal, but the general opinion was that it was a dangerous power to confer upon Commissioners. The Select Committee which sat afterwards were divided in opinion, and as there was a small majority against the proposal, it was not embodied in the Bill prepared by them. But from the statement of the hon'ble mover of the amendment, it seems to me that the possibility of allowing both forms of taxation—the tax on holdings and the tax upon persons—in the same municipality should be admitted, and any apprehensions which may be felt by hon'ble members as to abuse of the power and the difficulty of assessing and collecting both rates fairly may be left to be settled by the good sense of the Commissioners themselves, and by the regulations which they may propose in that behalf. Therefore, speaking for myself, I shall vote in favour of this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. Collier said:—"It appears to me that the hon'ble mover of this amendment has failed to recognize the actual nature of the tax on persons, or he should have seen that his proposal is, for arithmetical reasons, an impossible one. The fallacy on which the amendment is based is the assumption that the tax on persons is a kind of rate, which could be levied on à priori principles, on a single rate-payer or in a single street, or in a single ward of a municipality. But the tax in question is obviously not a rate. Its principle is simply that of an apportionment, that is to say that you must first fix the amount of tax to be raised and then apportion it amongst the rate-payers according to their circumstances and property. If you do not know the amount intended to be raised, you cannot assess any one.

"Now, the only kind of apportionment of the tax on persons provided for by section 85, is a general apportionment on all persons occupying holdings throughout the municipality. The additions to the section proposed by the hon'ble member provide that one or more wards may be excepted from this general apportionment and taxed on another system. But it is clear that if we except one or more wards from a general apportionment, the apportionment breaks down, and the calculation becomes all wrong.

"The hon'ble member might possibly urge that to hold that section 85, as proposed to be amended, only authorizes a general apportionment, is to interpret that section in too literal a manner. He might say that if we take a broad view of the section as proposed to be amended, the difficulty referred to disappears. We may assume—he might urge—that the apportionment is to be confined to those wards in which the tax on persons is to be levied.

"Now, I do not think this contention would be sound, as the language of section 85 seems to clearly imply that it only authorizes a general apportionment. But for argument's sake let us accept this contention. Well the difficulty which now confronts us is that we cannot apply the principle of apportionment to certain wards only, as we do not know what we have to apportion.

The section gives no power of fixing beforehand the amount of taxation to be raised in each ward, or in all the wards in which the tax on persons is to be levied, and until this is fixed, the principle of apportionment cannot be applied. The principle of apportionment gives you no assistance in determining what amount of tax a particular ward ought to pay. It merely enables you to apportion the tax after the amount is fixed. You can tax a whole municipality on the principle of apportionment, because you know beforehand what income you want to raise. You cannot tax one or more wards on that principle unless you have power to fix what such wards have to pay.

"There are two ways in which the section might be amended so as to carry out what is evidently the intention of the hon'ble member. One way is as follows:—You must provide that the Commissioners shall first fix the total amount of taxation to be raised under this section. Next, that they shall then proceed to apportion such amount among the different wards. Finally, that they shall then decide in the case of each ward whether the amount fixed for it is to be raised by a rate on holdings or according to the principle of apportionment, that is to say, by the tax on persons. An obvious objection to such a proposal would be that to confer on the Commissioners the power of deciding what proportion of the tax each ward should pay would be to confer a power of perfectly arbitrary taxation. The other way of amending the section would be as follows:—If both taxes are to be raised in the same municipality, the section must provide that the Commissioners shall first decide the total amount of taxation to be raised. They must then decide in which wards the rate on holdings is to be in force, and estimate how much it will yield. They must then proceed to raise the required balance in the remaining wards on the principle of apportionment. Both these modes of proceeding would be logical. But the proposal before us is not. It is simply a proposal to levy a tax in certain wards of a municipality on the principle of apportionment without any suggestion as to how the amount to be apportioned is to be fixed. It is like a proposal to apply the principle of the lever without a fulcrum, and is clearly impossible.

"Apart from these considerations, any proposal to have two different kinds of taxes in force, side by side, in the same municipality is open to grave objections. With your permission, Sir, I will read an extract referring to this point from the report which I wrote on the original draft Bill (Extract read).

"This appears to me to be a most extraordinary suggestion. If carefully examined, I think it will be found to be irrational and impracticable. Even if it could be carried out in practice, it would be liable to the grossest abuse.

"The most important and obvious principle of rating, or, indeed, of any form of taxation, is that persons should be assessed according to their means, as nearly as possible. In comparing the liability of a given number of persons to taxation, we adopt some standard by which their means can be judged. Whatever standard is adopted, the results cannot be absolutely correct, because the information supplied will not be correct. But whatever standard is adopted, it must be obviously the same for all, as otherwise the results must be incorrect. It is simply illogical to adopt two different standards of comparison in regard to one set of objects to be compared, and to use one for part of them, and the other for the remainder. The result would not be one comparison of the whole number of objects, but two different and independent comparisons of two sets of objects. The proposal, therefore, to introduce two modes of assessment, that is to say, of comparison of liability to taxation, in one and the same municipality, is simply a proposal to depart from the most important fundamental principle of taxation. Each assessee is not to be assessed according to the proportion which his assessable property bears to the whole assessable property of the town, but the whole number of assessees is to be arbitrarily divided into two groups, the members of each of which are to be compared one with another, but not with the members of the other group. If the object of this strange procedure is to compare the respective liability to taxation of the whole of the inhabitants of the town, it obviously fails to do anything of the sort, and the procedure is therefore irrational. If the object is not to compare the respective liability of the whole of the inhabitants of the town, the proposal sins against the most important fundamental principle of taxation. Obviously, the proposer of the provision in question is on the horns of a dilemma.

"It is interesting to note that the proposition that two different modes of assessment may properly be employed in the same assessable area was condemned by English Judges as long ago as 1633, in what is known as Sir Anthony Earby's case. It was then held that assessments of rates must be one and equal, that is to say, in proportion to the property of the assessees; and that in order to be so they must be made in an equal manner. The latter proposition is simply a logical consequence of the former. As Rosher remarks in his Treatise on the Principles of the Law of Rating: 'In order to rate in accordance with the principle of equality, a method of assessment is required that will affect all occupiers fairly and equally.' The ruling in Sir Anthony Earby's case has been settled law ever since. Two-and-a-half centuries of English law look down on the rash innovator, who would propose that two different modes of assessment should be in force at the same time in the same town.

"I have said that the proposed provision would be liable to the grossest abuse, and I submit that this is tolerably obvious. To allow the Commissioners of a municipality the option of assessing any person, either on his real property, or on both his real and personal property, for this is what it comes to, is obviously to allow them a dangerous amount of latitude in making assessments. The proposal appears to me to open a very wide door to jobbery and partiality. The inconsistency of such a proposal, with the remarks made on the subject of unfairness and partiality in municipal assessments in the Government letter, and with certain provisions of the Bill, seems to me to be somewhat striking. Is it not clear that under the proposed system the Commissioners can be unfair and partial without let or hindrance? A is a bania with a lakh of rupees in personal property, and a small holding. Assess him on his total property, and he will pay a large tax. Assess him on his holding, and he will pay a small one. A vote of the Commissioners can, under the proposed section, do either one or the other. Is it necessary to say any more? I think not.

"When the concluding remarks were written, the proposal was that both taxes might be introduced throughout a municipality, but should not be levied on the same holding. The hon'ble mover of the amendment will, no doubt, argue that they are met by the provision that both taxes shall not be in force at the same time in the same ward. But if we remember that a ward is only an arbitrary division of a municipality, which the Commissioners can alter at a meeting at any time, there does not seem much force in this contention. There is nothing, so far as I can see, to prevent the Commissioners from making a single holding into a separate ward."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I do not think the hon'ble mover of this amendment has sufficiently informed us of the reason why he desires that the Commissioners should be armed with both these powers. I look upon the first of these taxes—the tax upon persons according to their circumstances, as a very dangerous mode of taxation, and one which is liable to much abuse. The tax upon persons is an unfair tax, but to allow the Commissioners power to enforce both in the same municipality would be to arm them with greater powers than should be given. It is a very well-known fact that the Howrah Mills had to pay by far the largest amount of tax payable in the district of Howrah. Therefore I should be sorry to arm any body of Municipal Commissioners with the power of levying both taxes. No reason had been assigned for this proposal, and, as has been pointed out, you must start by ascertaining the amount of taxation you have to assess, and you must then select which mode of taxation you are going to adopt; but if you adopt both forms of taxation, you may be tempted to raise the largest sum of money you think you can raise, and thus create a much larger fund than you could if you were limited to one of two taxes. Even amiable bodies, such as those referred to by the hon'ble mover of the amendment, may do some amount of injustice under such circumstances."

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN said:—"While endorsing all the objections that have been made to this amendment by the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER, I will go still further and I say in this Council that a personal tax is one that has no possible justification as a resource for raising funds within a municipality. The essence of municipal taxation is, that rates levied from the owners of property within a certain area being expended in such a manner that this property acquires an enhanced value, the owners, thus while giving in one direction, receive back in another. Need we look further than this city of Calcutta, in which we are to see evidence of the enormous extent to which the judicious expenditure of taxation raised on property will enhance the value of that property. The greater part of the area occupied by Calcutta was, I believe, the property of the Government which Government made over to individuals at a rental of something like Rs. 3 to Rs. 4 per bigah, which according to the principle of valuation laid down in the Land Acquisition Act would give something about Rs. 60 to Rs. 80 as the capital value of a bigah. That was the valuation the Government placed on the soil that it made over to individuals, and when the large road called Harrison Road, between Howrah and Sealdah, was lately made, and compensation for the land taken up paid to the owners, who had simply done nothing to enhance its value, but sit still for 60 years, the actual money in some instances paid was at the rate of Rs. 30,000 per cottah. They had this magnificent property raised up at the expense of many residents of the town, who had no permanent footing here. Such is the case even where a rate is levied on a proper principle from the occupants of tenures. But what justification is there for imposing, what in practice becomes a limited income-tax upon individuals, who have no permanent footing in the town, in order that by the introduction of drainage, water-supply, and other improvements, a property may be built up as has been done in Calcutta. Therefore I say that a personal tax is never justified as a source of municipal funds, and I also say that when in the past municipal legislation has been before this Council, no hon'ble member has ever attempted to justify it on any principle which will bear examination. The history of this personal tax explains how it came to be sanctioned. There was no thought of a municipality in the early years of British Rule, but the Magistrate was authorised to raise a small tax for the support of chaukidars. A very stringent limitation was imposed; the maximum taxation on any one family was to be the cost of one chaukidar, that is to say, Rs. 4 a month. The total rate was struck, so as to average two annas a month on each. The money was to be expended solely for the protection of property. It was a simple chaukidari tax, and every pice was to be expended to protect the property within the area. Later on when the first Municipal Act was passed (Act III of 1864) that principle was abandoned in the areas which were to be brought under municipal government. The taxation provided by this Act being a rate on immoveable property or holdings. But a few years subsequently another Act was passed to provide for villages and other places which were not of sufficient importance to be classed as municipalities. That Act was called the Town Act of 1868. Under the first Municipal Act, the proper principle of taxation was adopted, namely, a rate on immoveable property within the area to be improved by the expenditure of that taxation. But under the next Act, a number of small villages were given a sort of municipal existence, and funds were provided by what I shall call a personal tax, which was really the chaukidari tax continued. When the Municipal Act of 1876 was passed, these two different constitutions—municipalities and so-called towns—were both brought under a single Act, different parts of it providing a different system for each. When the Act of 1884 was pased, the Act which we are now amending by the Bill before the Council, this distinction was not properly kept in view, and the whole mass of municipalities and quasi-municipalities and unions were jumbled together, and were all dignified with the name of Municipality; so that at the present hour we have something like 149 so-called municipalities in Bengal, whereas if due discrimination was observed, I believe the number would not exceed 20. Thus it comes that these two totally different systems of taxation are recognized in the current Act for Municipal Government.

"When subsequently under Lord Ripon's orders the charge for the police was taken off municipalities, the whole fund, which previously had been expended in maintaining chaukidars for the protection of property within towns, became available for quasi-municipal purposes. So strong was the objection to this system of a limited income-tax as it was worked in the towns in which it prevailed; so strong was the objection entertained by the Committee which was first appointed to consider this Bill of which Mr. WOODROFFE, BABU GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER, DR. MAHENDRA LAL SIRCAR, and some others were members, that after a great deal of discussion and enquiry it was decided by that Committee that the personal tax was indefensible, and that it would be for the good of everybody if it was entirely done away with. But although that opinion was given effect to in the final draft of the Bill, which that Committee prepared, and which it directed to be submitted to this Council, that direction was disregarded, and in lieu of it we have what is called the latest draft as further amended by an amended Committee, wherein that personal tax has been restored, and now we have a still greater step proposed, which is, not merely that this objectionable quasi-income tax which has been condemned by the general opinion of those who administer it, not only that it should prevail where it still prevails, but that it should find its way in and work side by side with the legitimate taxation imposed under the first Municipal Act for Bengal, which was, and always ought to be, a rate on immoveable property.

"It is needless to illustrate to the Council the sort of cases that came before us from which the inference was drawn that this quasi-income-tax was worked unjustly, and with no regard to principle. I could tell of many from my own experience of cases referred to me in which no possible justification could be offered. The appeal lately preferred from Backergunge to the High Court, and which was reported in the daily papers, illustrates to what lengths Municipal Commissioners in want of funds are prepared to go. One case I distinctly remember, as having attracted the attention of the then Advocate-General with reference to this personal tax was the ground alleged for exemption of a certain woman who had been taxed some small sum. The reason assigned was, that she had a violent temper and was very abusive. These, Sir, are the principles upon which this income-tax is based, and this is the way in which it is unjustly administered, and it would be easy to prove that it is not a proper tax to be administered by a municipal body. Odious and unjust as the income-tax is always recognised to be, the Bengal Municipalities possess no powers and no possible means of making proper enquiries as to the circumstances and condition of the individual to be taxed; and it would be the truest wisdom if some hon'ble member—I do not myself feel called upon to offer it—who represents, or who pretends to represent, the tax-paying public, would propose as an amendment that this tax upon persons should at once be removed from the Municipal Act. If there are places which are so insignificant, and so unimportant that the rate upon holdings will not provide a sufficient sum to warrant even the semblance of municipal administration, such places it would be a kindness to remove from the category of a municipality. I have no doubt that if the inhabitants of such a locality were polled, there would be an overwhelming majority in favour of their being removed from the operation of the Municipal Act, and out of the 149 quasi-municipalities, we may have 30 or 40 real municipalities left.

"I have already said that I entirely endorse the objections made by the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER. I say that the enforcement of two different systems of taxation within the same municipality will lead to great injustice, and that practically it is impossible that it can be done with due regard to equity."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE in reply said:—"I venture to say that the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer has really spoken in support of my amendment. The object of his observations was to condemn the personal tax. The object of my amendment is to limit the scope of the personal tax by introducing the tax upon holdings side by side with it. It is said that it would be anomalous to have two forms of taxation side by side in the same municipality, but have we not that anomaly in full swing now? What is the latrine-tax? It is a tax on holdings which is enforced in many municipalities in which the tax upon persons is in force. Therefore let us not be deterred by this anomalous circumstance, but let us rather be guided by large considerations of administrative convenience, and if we look to practical and administrative convenience, this amendment is one which should commend itself to the acceptance of the Council."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"There has been such an amount of legal learning expended against this amendment that I think I ought to point out a little more in detail than I would otherwise have done what the grounds are on which the Government accepts it. As originally drafted, the Bill contained a provision which went beyond this proposal and allowed the two modes of taxation to work side by side in the same municipality and the same ward, so long as no individual was taxed in both ways. The first Select Committee went so far as to strike out the tax on persons altogether. I looked upon that action of the Committee with great appprehension, and I was greatly relieved to find that the enlarged Select Committee took a view which was more in consonance with my own, and with the general view of those who have great experience in the working of municipalities, and who think that the two forms of taxation ought to go on side by side. The original proposal is now brought forward with the slight restriction that the two forms of taxation should not be imposed in the same ward. If the original proposal had been embodied in the amendment, I do not think I should have opposed it, but I feel that there is some validity in the objection which the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER took to it, namely, that the limits of a ward being arbitrary, it would be possible for a municipality to take a large house and make it a ward by itself, and so get round the intention of this provision, and put this special tax upon any individual house. I think, therefore, that there is some advantage in the proposal as it now stands; and at any rate I am not going to propose any change. But when my hon'ble friend MR. COLLIER refers to two and-a-half centuries of legal illumination looking down with disapproval upon us, and the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer points out that the tax on persons may be misused by men who wish to carry out some personal spite, or to raise the utmost sum of money they can, I think we are justified in appealing to the experience in this Province during so many years. Every one will admit that a tax based upon a certain percentage of the rental value of a house is a more scientific way of imposing taxation than that which has been justly called a limited form of income-tax; but we must remember that this is a tax which has been in force not only under our municipal laws, but in far distant times, earlier even than the law to which the Hon'ble MR. ALLEN referred, from the date of the Moghul and Nawabee Rule. It is the old ancestral system of the country, and I do not think we are in a position altogether to put it away or to declare it.

"From the mere fact that some municipalities are properly taxed under one form of taxation, and some under the other, it seems reasonable to assume that there may be areas within some municipalities in which either the one or the other form of taxation would be more suitable than to impose one and the same tax over the whole of such areas. I believe the effect, if this amendment is passed, will be, not that we shall find any municipality going back from a seven-and-a-half-per-cent. rate upon the rental of holdings to the arbitrary freedom of a limited form of income-tax, but that in these municipalities which are not sufficiently advanced, and not sufficiently urban for a rate on holdings to be universally imposed, while in certain wards the arbitrary income-tax will still exist, in other wards of the same municipality a tax based upon the rent value will be imposed. And I venture to think that that would be a change in the right direction."

The Motion being put, the Council divided:—

Ayes 12.	Noes 4.
The Hon'ble Mr. Stuart.	The Hon'ble Mr. Collier.
The Hon'ble Mr. Womack.	The Hon'ble Maulvi Abdul Jubbar Khan Bahadur
The Hon'ble Mr. Bonnerjee.	The Hon'ble Mr. Allen.
The Hon'ble Maulvi Serajul Islam Khan Bahadur.	The Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul.
The Hon'ble Mr. Ghose.
The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee.
The Hon'ble Maulvi Syed Fazl Imam Khan Bahadur.
The Hon'ble Mr. Wilkins.
The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon.
The Hon'ble Mr. Lyall.
The Hon'ble Sir John Lambert.
The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton.

So the Motion was carried.

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE moved that in line 5 of section 34 of the Bill for the word "ownership" the word "occupation" be substituted. He said:—

"I believe section 34 of the Bill was added in Select Committee at the instance of the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER, who suggested that the words 'or in respect of the ownership of any public burial or burning ground registered under section 334' should be inserted at the end of the last paragraph of section 87 of the Act. But he altogether overlooked the fact that there is a very marked distinction between these two forms of taxation, namely, the tax upon persons according to their circumstances, and a rate on the annual value of holdings. The tax on persons was payable only by occupiers and not by owners, whereas the rate on the value of holdings is payable by owners and not by occupiers If hon'ble members will turn to section 87 of the Act, they will find that an assessment list is to be prepared which shall contain certain particulars. In column (c) the name of the person occupying the holding is to be given, and in column (g), if the occupier of the holding is exempted from assessment, a note to that effect is to be made. The list is not to contain the name of the owner. Section 89 provides that no tax is to be imposed in respect of the occupation of public buildings. Section 91, which gives a power of exemption in favour of poor persons, says, 'but the name of the occupier of every holding shall be included in the assessment list, whether he be assessed or exempted from assessment,' and so in sections 94 and 95, the last sections regarding the assessment of the tax on persons, which speak of new occupiers and the vacancy of holdings. On the other hand, turning to section 103, which deals with the rate on the annual value of holdings, we find that in the rating list the name of the occupier is not to be stated, but the name of the owner, and the last paragraph of that section provides that the rate is to be paid in quarterly instalments by the owner of the buildings; so that an examination of these sections will prove beyond all doubt that there is this distinction carefully preserved; the one tax is levied always on the occupier, and the other always on the owner. Therefore by introducing the word 'owner' in this section you will be introducing into it an element of confusion, where everything at present is perfectly clear and intelligible. If this view of the existing law is correct—and I confidently appeal to my honourable and learned friends the Advocate-General and the Member for the University on the point—it is scarcely necessary to introduce these words for the exemption of burial and burning grounds. I am not aware that they have any occupiers at all unless it be those who are far beyond the reach of the tax-gatherer, and I believe that is the very reason why in the Act of 1884 there is no mention of burial and burning grounds in reference to the tax on persons. It was not because they had forgotten burial and burning grounds, because in the section relating to the rate on the annual value of holdings, burial and burning grounds are expressly exempted, whereas in section 87, which is sought to be amended by section 34 of the Bill, it is expressly stated that such tax shall not be assessed or levied on any person in respect of the occupation of arable land, or of any building which is used exclusively as a place of public worship, inasmuch as such building is usually in the occupation of some person.

The framers of the Act evidently considered that a burning or a burial-ground is not in the occupation of any person. I think, therefore, that the existing Act is very much more logical than it is considered to be by some persons who wish to improve it. We were told in Committee that some saintly Muhammadan fakir might perhaps take up his abode in a burial-ground, but he would hardly be a very hopeful subject for taxation. However, I do not desire to raise the larger question. I beg to move that the word 'occupation' be substituted for the word 'owership.' "

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER said:—"I am rather inclined to agree in the view taken by the hon'ble member, and think that the term 'occupation' should be substituted in section 34 for the word 'ownership.' But I do not know why the hon'ble mover of the amendment ascribes the authorship of this section to me. I had nothing to do with it except discussing it in Select Committee."

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON said:—"I do not know whether I shall be in order if I call attention to the provision of this section which declares that the words 'of arable lands' shall be omitted. Section 87 of the Act provides that 'such tax shall not be assessed or levied on any person in respect of the occupation of arable lands' There is no explanation why it is proposed to omit the words 'arable lands, or.' An amendment to restore these words stood, I think, in the name of the Hon'ble BABU GONESH CHUNDER CHUNDER. I should like to have some explanation by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill why those words are proposed to be omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"As far as my memory serves me, the proposal to subject arable lands to the tax on persons was to bring what is actually the practice into conformity with the law. It is true that, as the law stands, the personal tax cannot be levied on arable lands, but in practice, when the circumstances and property of a person are under consideration, Municipal Commissioners always do consider the quantity of land he cultivates and occupies. It was therefore the opinion of the Select Committee that the law should be brought into conformity with the practice. With regard to the proposal to substitute the word 'occupation' for 'ownership', the correction is sound; the word 'ownership' having, I think, been inserted by a slip. The Committee shared the feeling expressed by the hon'ble mover of the amendment that living persons do not often occupy burial-grounds. I am prepared to accept the amendment, and to substitute the word 'occupation' for 'ownership,' making only one remark that my experience does not coincide with that of the hon'ble member, for in many parts of the country those persons who dwell in burial-grounds are persons of some substance and fit subjects for taxation."

The Hon'ble MR. LYALL said:—"I wish to add another word in explanation. The main reason why the Select Committee decided to tax 'arable lands' within a municipality was, because under the Road Cess Act arable lands within municipalities at present escape taxation under that Act. Such lands are close to good markets, and the produce is easily disposed of, and we saw no reason why as they escaped from taxation under the one Act they should also escape under the other. The majority of the Committee therefore agreed that we should impose a tax upon arable lands by this Bill."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE also moved that at the end of section 39 of the Bill the following be added:—

"And at the end of the same section, the following proviso shall be added:—

'Provided that where an Assessor is appointed, such Assessor shall not be competent to authorize any other person to enter, inspect and measure any such holding.' "

He said:—

"I shall explain in two or three words the object of this amendment Section 99 of the Act confers power upon the Municipal Commissioners to enter and to inspect and measure any holding whenever they like within certain hours and also to authorise other persons to do so. It may be very necessary to enable the Municipal Commissioners to authorise their servants to exercise this power on their behalf, but when a special officer like an Assessor is appointed to perform these very duties, I do not see any reason why he should be permitted to delegate his powers to anybody else. Everybody is aware that in the Mufassal there is a great deal of blackmail levied in the execution of every petty act of authority, and the Legislature should take special care not to widen the opportunities for levying blackmail, and therefore an officer, specially appointed for a particular purpose, should not be permitted to get rid of his responsibility or to share it with any other person in the event of any corrupt practices in connection with the exercise of those powers."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. COLLIER moved that the following section be added to the Bill after section 39:—

"Section 39*A*.—In section one hundred and one, in the second paragraph, after the words 'Provided that' the words 'except in the Darjeeling Municipality' shall be inserted."

He said:—

"With your permission, I will read the representation of the Darjeeling Municipality on this subject. They said:—

'Section 101 of the Municipal Act lays down 'that the gross annual rent at which a holding may be reasonably expected to let shall be deemed to be the annual value thereof for the purposes of assessment, provided that if the actual cost of erecting a building can be ascertained or estimated, the annual value of such building shall in no case be deemed to exceed an amount which would be equal to 7½ per centum on such cost in addition to a reasonable ground-rent for the land comprised in the holding.'

'The mode of assessment followed in this Municipality has been, as regards European and superior built houses, to take the rent at which a house has been let, is let, or can be let as the annual value, and as regards houses built, used, or occupied by the poorer classes of natives, by measurement on the scale as per statement annexed. The latter course was adopted in a scattered place like Darjeeling to secure fairness and uniformity in assessments, and it has practically worked without objection.

'Recently the owners of new built houses are claiming, under the proviso above referred to, to have their houses assessed on the cost of erection, and although the letting value of such houses may be, say, Rs. 100 per mensem, or Rs. 1,200 a year, the value calculated on the cost of erection should be only, say, Rs. 50 per mensem, or Rs. 600 a year, and the loss of income to the Municipality, if these claims are persisted in now and at the re-assessment about 18 months hence, will be very serious.

'House-rent at Darjeeling is high, and taken as the basis for assessment yields more than an assessment on the cost of erection would yield. Added to this, owners may and do build houses of old or cheap material such as corrugated iron, and so reduce the cost of erection and the taxes to be paid to the municipality.

'Under the circumstances, it is suggested that advantage be taken of the movement now before the Bengal Legislative Council to amend the Municipal Act so as to allow the assessment of European and superior built houses at Darjeeling to be made on the gross annual rent at which such houses are let, or may be reasonably expected to let, and of inferior houses built, used, or occupied by the poorer classes of natives on reasonable measurements and rates to be fixed by the Commissioners.'

"The circumstances of Darjeeling appear to be altogether exceptional. The expenditure of that municipality is extremely high; they have a large number of roads to keep up in which landslips are frequently occurring; but, on the other hand, the cost of construction of houses is extremely low. A provision of the kind contained in the first proviso to section 101 appears to be no necessary part of the law of assessment, and was introduced in the Act of 1884 to meet cases of the excessive assessment of mills and factories and Government buildings, and its application would therefore be extremely limited in Darjeeling. Under the circumstances, I would suggest that it would be reasonable to except the Darjeeling Municipality from the operation of this proviso."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The consideration of the other amendments was postponed to the next sitting of the Council.

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 21st instant.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE OPIUM DEPARTMENT FOR THE SEASON 1892-93.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—OPIUM.

RESOLUTION.—No. 2208.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Opium Department for the season 1892-93.

General.

The report was due from the Board on the 1st February 1894, but did not reach the hands of Government until the 12th March 1894. The delay is sufficiently explained by the additional work imposed on the Board and the Opium Agents in consequence of the opening of the Royal Opium Commission in November 1893; the introduction of certain new and revised statements ordered by Government in the Resolution on the Opium Administration Report for 1891-92 should not have been allowed to delay the report. The area of cultivation, including the area over which the crops failed, was 4,07,157 bighas (equal to 254,473 acres) in the Bihar Agency, and in the Benares Agency, 3,51,870 bighas (219,918 acres) being 618 bighas more in the former, and 28,631 bighas less in the latter than in the previous year. The Bihar Agent has made an erroneous comparison between the area inclusive of failures of 1891-92, and the area exclusive of failures in 1892-93, and has accordingly stated the area of cultivation of 1892-93 to be less than that of the preceding year by 20,778 bighas. The Board have adopted this error in paragraph 5 of their report. The decrease of cultivation in the Benares Agency is 7·52 per cent. as compared with the year 1891-92, and taking the decrease of the two years 1891-92 and 1892-93 together, the percentage comes to 14·84 on the figures of 1890-91. In the Partabgarh, Rai Bareilly, and Azimgarh divisions, the decrease in cultivation amounted to 29·93, 27·75 and 25·59 per cent. on the cultivation of 1891-92, and in seven other divisions it was between 2 and 10 per cent. On the other hand, in the Sitapur Division there was an increase of 21 per cent., and an addition of nearly 10,000 new cultivators in the rolls of the division. Mr. Rivett-Carnac reports that according to the Report of the Director of Land Records, North-Western Provinces, for the half-year ending 31st December 1892, the area sown with autumn crop was in excess of that of the previous year by 673,083 acres The decrease in the area of poppy cultivation is accounted for by the following reasons: (1) the policy of Government not to take any measures for increasing the area of cultivation; (2) a series of bad seasons which has disheartened the opium cultivators; and (3) the competition of other crops, such as sugarcane, potato and wheat, the cultivation of which has been stimulated by European exporting firms by means of advances, and by the scale of prices which increase with the demand and are not stationary like the price paid to opium cultivators The observation made in the Resolution of the Report for 1891-92 that the price of opium paid to cultivators will have to be increased in order to keep pace with the rise of prices of other produce is strengthened by the facts now reported. It is evident that if the annual average of 54,000 chests of provision opium to be sold for exportation, and the reserve of 30,000 chests are to be maintained, the area of cultivation must be increased considerably. The area over which crops failed was discouragingly large, viz., 21,396 bighas in the Bihar, and 10,841 bighas in the Benares Agency, though in the preceding year the area was larger still, namely, 30,951 bighas and 14,225 bighas in the two Agencies respectively. The consistence of last season's crop was much lower than the year before. The average produce per bigha was 4 seers 2¾ chitaks in Bihar, and 5 seers ¾ chitaks in Benares, against 3 seers 6¼ chitaks, and 4 seers 3¼ chitaks, respectively, in the preceding year. The quantity and value of opium to each cultivator was 2 seers 8 chitaks, and Rs. 12-8 respectively in the Bihar Agency, and 3 seers 1¼ chitaks and Rs. 15-6-3 in the Benares Agency. The corresponding figures for the year 1891-92 were 1 seer 14 chitaks and Rs. 9-6 in Bihar, and 2 seers 9 chitaks and Rs. 12-13 in the Benares Agency. There was a decrease of 2,642 cultivators in Bihar, and of 43,127 in the Benares Agency, the total number of cultivators in the two Agencies was 1,195,142 against 1,241,211 in the year 1891-92. The result was therefore much better to the cultivators than during the preceding year. The cost of a chest of provision opium is, however, stated by the Bihar Agent to have been Rs. 388-5-9 against Rs. 308-2-7 in the previous year, and in the Benares Agency it was Rs. 394-15-7 against Rs. 438-13-9 in the preceding year. The Board explain that the cost of a Bihar chest in 1891-92, calculated in the same way as it has been done for 1892-93, would be Rs. 384. The Bihar Agent has, it seems, altogether neglected to take into account the value of opium transferred from the Benares Agency, which was 9,600 maunds in 1891-92 and only 2,332 maunds in 1892-93; the figures of cost furnished by him are therefore misleading. The cost in Bihar ought to be less than the preceding year for the same reason as stated by the Benares Agent, namely, the increased produce. These figures suggest the necessity for a systematic audit of the agency accounts, a subject adverted to in paragraph 39 of the Board's report, and on which separate orders will be issued. The price realized for a chest of provision opium was Rs. 1,207 in Bihar, and Rs. 1,214 in Benares, on an average as compared with the averages of Rs 1,159 in Bihar and Rs. 1,123 in Benares in 1891-92. Considering that the number of chests now sold per year is nearly 12,000 short of the normal supply as fixed for some years by the Government of India, the price cannot but be considered as exceptionally low; but this is attributed by the Board to the currency legislation of June 1893, and its effect on trade relations with China and the East. In paragraph 36 of their report for the previous year, the Board stated that the Benares system of dealing direct with the cultivators, called the asamiwar system, as distinguished from the khattadari system of Bihar, or the system of dealing through intermediaries called khattadars, had been introduced experimentally in the Adapur kothi of the Bihar Agency, and that a report of the result would be submitted. But the Board have now discovered that this system was never introduced, and express the opinion that, unless the supervising agency in Bihar is increased to the Benares standard, the introduction of the asamiwar system could not be successfully carried out in Bihar. Government cannot hold out any hopes of any increase in establishments in the present state of the opium revenue.

Outturn and manufacture.

2. The prospects of the poppy crop were excellent up to January 1893. Towards the end of that month, as well as during the next two months, damp and cloudy weather set in with rain and hailstorms, and the result was much damage to the crop and an inferiority in the quality of the outturn. The consistence was in fact so low that but for the higher consistence of opium gathered towards the end of the season, when dry weather had set in, it would not have been possible to cake at the standard consistences in the two Agencies. The gross outturn at a uniform consistence of 70° was 40,339 maunds in the Bihar Agency, and 42,970 maunds in the Benare Agency, against 31,955 maunds and 38,490 maunds in the preceding year. Of the Benares product over 2,000 maunds were transferred to Bihar for the manufacture of provision chests. The comparatively lower consistence of the produce of the season will be apparent from the fact that, while in 1891-92 an yield in the two Agencies of 65,609 maunds of crude opium gave 70,446 maunds of opium at 70°, in the year under review, 84,223 maunds of crude opium gave only 83,309 maunds at 70°. The average produce per bigha was highest in the Aligarj, Chapra, and Shahabad Divisions of the Bihar Agency, being 6 seers 1½ chitaks, 5 seers 3½ chitaks, and 5 seers 0¼ chitak respectively in each, while in the Benares Agency the highest averages were 5 seers 14 chitaks in Mainpuri, and 5 seers 11¼ chitaks in Mirzapur. The average for the whole Benares Agency was, as has been noted before, higher than the average for the whole Bihar Agency. The number of chests of provision opium of 75° consistence, made at the Bihar Agency, was 19,927, which was 919 chests less than in the preceding year. In the Benares Agency the number of chests made was 20,578 of the Benares standard of 71° against 12,833 chests in the year before. The Lieutenant-Governor notes that, in accordance with the instructions given in paragraph 5 of the Resolution on the report for the previous year, a statement of receipts and expenditure of opium in maunds seers and fractions of a seer, and reduced to a uniform consistence, has been incorporated with the reports of the Agents.

3. The number of chests of Patna and Benares opium fixed for sale during the year 1894 is 21,780 and 20,520 respectively, which will absorb the whole of the reserve of the former, and leave a deficit of six chests to be made up by the manufacture of the next season. A reserve of only 26 chests of Benares opium will be left in hand on the 31st December 1894. The Board observe that the reserve which amounted to 49,705 chests in the beginning of 1890, and the normal amount of which has been fixed by the Government of India at 30,000 chests, will thus entirely disappear in spite of the sales having been reduced by nearly 12,000 chests.

Reserve.

4. Nepal opium was delivered direct by the cultivators at Ekdari in Motihari and at the Tirhut Sub-Agency in Bihar. The total quantity delivered was 145 maunds 21 seers as compared with 136 maunds, the supply of the previous year. The Nepal cultivators are reported to be well satisfied with the present arrangements, under which the opium is received direct from the Nepalese raiyats and paid for under the conditions which apply to cultivators in British territory; it is expected that larger quantities will be delivered in future years.

Nepal opium.

5. The total quantity of excise opium manufactured during the year was 5,610 maunds, of which 1,116 maunds were made in Bihar, and 4,494 maunds in Benares: during the previous year the number was 5,203 maunds, viz., 2,610 of Bihar and 2,593 of Benares. The difference in the quantity supplied by the Benares Agency in the two years was due to the fact that in 1891-92 the Benares Agency did not supply any excise opium to Bengal, Assam, and Burma. The Board's report only shows how the total number of chests in 1892-93 were distributed from the Benares Agency; from the Patna Agency the Collectors in the neighbourhood are, it is understood, supplied direct, and the rest is sent down to the Board. There appears to have been a slight increase of the demand in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, but on the other hand there was a decrease in the demand in the Central Provinces, and in the Panjab the supply fell off from 147 maunds in 1891-92 to 50 maunds in 1892-93.

Excise opium.

6. The expenditure has been arranged under the heads and in the manner suggested in paragraph 7 of the Resolution on the Report for 1891-92. In the Bihar Agency the total expenditure was Rs. 88,74,740 against Rs. 73,73,691 in the previous year, and in the Benares Agency the expenditure during the season 1892-93 amounted to Rs. 97,43,361 against Rs. 88,72,927 in the year before. The total expenditure of the season was Rs. 1,86,18,101, which is Rs. 23,71,483 more than the expenditure for the year 1891-92. The increase in the expenditure is due to the increase in the produce as compared with the produce of the preceding season. On the other hand there was decrease in the expenditure under the head manufactory charges on account of the substitution of mango-wood for sál in the Bihar Agency, and in the Benares Agency there is a nominal decrease of nearly Rs. 90,000 under the same head, which is the result of the exclusion of the charges for opium chests supplied by the Bihar Agency. The cost of a maund of provision opium is said to have been Rs. 220 in Bihar and Rs. 226 in Benares, against Rs. 230-14 and Rs. 230-8 respectively in the preceding year. These figures are, however, to a certain extent artificial, as inter-departmental charges of one agency against the other are not properly distributed.

Expenditure.

7. The balances outstanding at the end of 1892-93 were Rs. 20,371 in the Bihar Agency, of which Rs. 13,364 appertain to the Bettiah Sub-Agency, where considerable damage was done to the crop by hail; in the Benares Agency the balances amounted to Rs. 16,595, of which Rs. 13,832 have since been recovered. These balances are only nominal in comparison with the price paid to cultivators for opium, which amounted to nearly 81½ lakhs in Bihar, and 87 lakhs in Benares. The Board agree with Mr. Rivett-Carnac in thinking that, considering the enormous transactions of the Agencies, and the successive bad seasons, the amount outstanding cannot be regarded as large.

Balances.

8. In the Bihar Agency the unirrigated area, 73,504 bighas, was 19 per cent. of the total area, 3,85,761 bighas against 17 per cent. in the preceding year. This increase is attributed to the larger rainfall of the year 1892-93. In the Benares Agency the unirrigated area in both the years was less than 3 per cent. There was an enormous falling off, for which no satisfactory explanation is given, in the advance for wells in the Bihar Agency, which amounted to only Rs. 9,670 in 1892-93, as against Rs. 49,535 in the preceding year. In the Benares Agency the advances amounted to Rs. 11,024, the amount for the previous year being Rs. 11,359.

Saw-mills.

9. As compared with the year 1891-92, there was an increase of Rs. 622 in the total cost of working the saw-mills, which amounted to Rs. 25,056. But the saving effected by abolishing sál-wood was Rs. 60,376. There was an increase in the cost of manufacturing by 1⅛ anna per chest, but this was more than compensated by the comparative cheapness of the price of timber, which was 1 anna per cubic foot less than in 1891-92. The net cost per chest was thus Rs. 2-3-7¼ against Rs. 2-7-5 in the previous year, showing a saving of 3 annas 9¼ pies per chest. The difference between the cost of a mango-wood and sál-wood chest is Rs. 3-11-9¼ in favour of the former. It is worthy of note, however, that mango-wood chests supplied by contractors are 1 anna 9¾ pies per chest less than the saw-mills chests. The Board observe that the small increase in the cost of chests made at the factory is fully counterbalanced by their superiority over the contractor-made chests, and the consequent saving on repairs. In answer to the remark made in the Resolution on the Report for 1891-92, regarding the advisability of making the saw-mills by working throughout the year turn out chests sufficient for the consumption of both the Agencies, if possible, the Board suggested arrangements for the purpose which, as stated in the Board's report, have been approved by Government.

Breaches of Opium laws.

10. The cases under the opium laws have been shown in two statements prepared in accordance with the orders conveyed on the report for the previous year. The statements for the Bihar Agency are, however, incomplete: in the first of them, instead of the revenue districts, the opium sub-divisions have been entered, so that no comparison of the breaches of opium laws in the entire province in the year 1892-93 and 1891-92, respectively, is possible, while the second statement is blank. It is understood that these defects will be remedied in the next report. Taking the opium sub-division alone as compared with the preceding year, the number of cases investigated, those brought to trial, the number of persons convicted, and those acquitted were in the year 1892-93 respectively 238, 72, 230, and 11. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 307, 81, 335 and 4. There was thus a decrease under all the heads, with the exception of "number of persons acquitted," in which there was an increase of seven persons. The great disparity between the number of cases investigated and those brought to trial appears to have been due to the fact that in the Aliganj sub-division, which furnished 73 per cent. of the total number of cases investigated in 1891-92, and nearly 70 per cent. of the number investigated in 1892-93, departmental punishment was inflicted on the offenders who were all opium cultivators instead of sending them up to the criminal court. In the Benares Agency the number of cases brought to trial was more than seven times the number in Bihar, being 546 or 9 more than in the year before. There was, however, a decrease in the number of persons convicted, and an increase in the number acquitted, being respectively 479 and 92, against 501 and 62 in 1891-92. The amount of fines imposed in Bengal was Rs. 26,094 against Rs. 17,124, in the previous year, and the amount disbursed to informers and others for rewards, was Rs. 22,233 against Rs. 15,254 in 1891-92. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh the corresponding amounts were much smaller, the amount of fines being Rs. 7,543, and of rewards Rs. 4,416 against Rs. 7,237 and Rs. 4,831 in the year 1891-92. In Bengal there were five cases of large seizures. In one of these, at Patna, one Bepin Behari Dutt, an inhabitant of Kidderpore in Calcutta, was found in possession of 40 cakes of pure abkari opium packed in three layers of Nepal paper as sent out from the factory. This case corroborates the remarks made in the Resolution on the report for the year 1891-92 as to the temptation offered by the low price of excise opium in the Bihar districts to smuggle it to other districts, where it is sold at a higher price. It appears that the question of the selling price of opium has engaged the attention of the Board who have been in correspondence with the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces, on the subject, and a report should be submitted to Government in due course. The remarks of Mr. Rivett-Carnac on the question of illicit trade in opium seem to indicate the want of a proper cordiality between the Opium Department and the Excise Department of the North-Western Provinces. The large increase of excise revenue in the latter province, as well as the endeavours of the Benares Agency to check smuggling, which are well known to Government, support Mr. Rivett-Carnac's conclusion that, though smuggling has not been wholly eradicated, the Opium Department has done much to check it. It is further reported by Mr. Rivett-Carnac that results of prosecutions in the North-Western Provinces show that opium cultivators are, in the majority of cases, punished for the possession of infinitesimally small quantities of opium. As there is no great difficulty in bringing home against a cultivator a charge of possessing illicit opium, care should, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, be exercised with discrimination in sending up cases for trial, and the course adopted in the Aliganj Sub-Agency of punishing opium cultivators departmentally for trivial offences would generally appear to be the more suitable one.

Tours.

11. The Member in charge of the Opium Department, Board of Revenue, visited the Agencies twice during the year, and submitted useful notes to Government after discussion with the local officers on several questions of considerable importance, on which separate action has been taken by Government. The Opium Agents, as well as their subordinates, appear to have performed useful tours within their respective jurisdictions. The Factory Superintendents of Patna and Ghazipur interchanged visits with, the Board report, considerable advantage to the working of the Department, as was expected by Government.

Merits of officers.

12. The services rendered to the Opium Department by Mr. Rivett-Carnac, who retired from the service on the 31st January 1894, have already been acknowledged by the Lieutenant-Governor in a Resolution separately recorded. The Bihar Agent makes special mention again of Mr. Tytler. The services of Messrs. A. C. Bryson, J. Christian, L. S. Graham, A. H. Biss, H. D'Oyly and Surgeon-Captain Maynard are also commended. The Benares Agent has not noticed the special merits of any of his subordinates, as confidential reports are now annually submitted. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to repeat his acknowledgments to the Board and the Opium Agents of their efficient management and supervision of the Opium Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

KHARIF IRRIGATION OPERATIONS FOR 1893-94.

No. 535*I*.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 20th April 1894.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Statements Nos. I, II, and III showing irrigation operations of Canals in Bengal during the kharif season of 1893-94.

OBSERVATIONS.—The area irrigated during the kharif season of 1893-94 was 456,430 acres, against 594,894 acres in 1892-93, showing a decrease of 23·2 per cent.

2. The unusually large decrease took place mainly on the Eden, Midnapore, and Orissa Canals, being chiefly due to the abundant rainfall during the season in the districts commanded by those works.

3. In all the canal districts in Bengal, the rainfall was more plentiful than last year, except in Patna, where it was slightly less.

4. The increase or decrease in the irrigation from each canal is given in the following statement:—

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS, TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY THE 21ST OF APRIL 1894.

At the close of the previous week, weather was generally fine and settled and of ordinary hot-season character. On the 15th of April, or the first day of the week under review, the pressure changes in Bengal were irregular, and a distinct low-pressure area existed over Chota Nagpur, but from the 14th to the 15th weather had been generally fine, and on the latter date practically no rain was reported. On the afternoon and evening of the 15th, the low-pressure area in Chota Nagpur caused a series of local storms with rain in South Bengal, and on the morning of the 16th the majority of stations in South-West Bengal and Orissa and many stations in East Bengal reported rather heavy rain. Over the remainder of the province, however, weather had been fine and settled. On the 16th pressure had changed irregularly in Bengal, though usually by small amounts, and the depression over Chota Nagpur had become rather less pronounced. Hence, though a few local storms occurred on this day, yet on the morning of the 17th, comparatively few stations reported rain. On the 17th pressure had also fallen briskly to rapidly, the fall at some stations equalling a tenth of an inch. The depression in Chota Nagpur again became decidedly more pronounced, and in addition a low-pressure area covered the northern part of the Bay and parts of South-West Bengal. Hence with these conditions a number of small storms with rain occurred over the Province, and on the 18th moderate to rather heavy rain was reported in South-West, North and East Bengal and in Orissa. On the 18th pressure had commenced to rise, but the changes were rather variable; a distinct barometric depression existed over the north-east angle of the Bay, and the depression in Chota Nagpur was rather less pronounced. Local storms with rain again occurred between the 18th and 19th, but the rainfall on the latter date was principally confined to North and East Bengal, to considerable parts of Bihar, and to smaller parts of Chota Nagpur. On the 19th the increase of pressure continued, and the depression over Chota Nagpur and the north-east of the Bay disappeared, and indeed pressure became generally in excess of the normal on this day. The number of local storms with rain occurring between the 19th and 20th therefore became smaller, though still on the morning of the 20th moderate rain was reported in North and East Bengal. On the 20th pressure had again risen slowly, and had become in very considerable excess. An abnormal easterly and south-easterly wind current was, however, blowing over the whole province, bringing up large amounts of moisture, and again between the 20th and 21st numerous local storms with rain occurred in South-West Bengal, and heavy rain was reported by many stations on the 21st, when a small increase of pressure had also occurred, and pressure had become in excess by amounts ranging up to about an eighth of an inch in North-East Bengal.

Hence throughout almost the whole week conditions have been disturbed and numerous local storms with moderate to heavy rainfall have occurred in practically all districts except Chota Nagpur and Bihar. The disturbed conditions have been to a great extent owing to the existence of a hot-weather low-pressure area in Chota Nagpur for the greater part of the period. Owing to the heavy rainfall on several days, temperature has been unusually low in many districts.

Pressure.—Owing to the fact that pressure was considerably below the normal in the first few days of the week and very largely in excess towards its close, the mean pressure for the period has been nearly normal, and it has been in excess usually by about 0·02 inch to 0·04 inch. The distribution is, however, irregular, and while Hazaribagh and Chaibassa show a defective pressure for the week, some of the northern stations on the other hand show excess amounts of about 0·06 inch.

Temperature has been unusually low for the period. In Chota Nagpur the mean temperature has been more than 6° in defect. In South-West and East Bengal and in Bihar the defect has equalled about 4°, and in North Bengal and Orissa about 3°.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variations from the normal temperature for the present season are most clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in the province are compared with the normal values for the same period. The day, or maximum, readings for the week have shown a very much lower temperature than usual, and the defect at the nine stations in the maximum, or day, temperature has equalled 4·5°, while the night, or minimum, temperature has also been in rather large defect, the variation at the nine stations averaging nearly 2·2°.

Rainfall.—Average falls of from one to one and-a-half inches have been received in South-West, East and North Bengal and in Orissa, and in all these divisions the falls have been largely above the normal amounts. In Bihar rather less than a third of an inch has been received, and in Chota Nagpur about a sixth of an inch, but even in these divisions the falls have been larger than usual for the period. In the four first-named divisions, which have received more than one inch of rain, the falls have been tolerably well distributed except in South-West Bengal, where in the districts of Birbhum and Murshidabad, the falls have been rather scanty.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 21st of April 1894:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; ≤, lightning; W, stong wind; ▲, hail.

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF LEASES OF WASTE LANDS FOR TEA CULTIVATION IN THE DISTRICTS OF JALPAIGURI AND DARJEELING.

NOTIFICATION No. 2453L.R.

The 30th April 1894.—The following rules which were approved by the Government of India are published for general information.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PART I.

THE following rules for the grant of leases of waste lands for tea cultivation in the districts of Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling supersede all those previously passed:—

1. The lands that are generally available under these rules in the district of Jalpaiguri are the unsettled lands, excepting reserved forests, which lie within that tract of country, bounded on the north by Darjeeling and Bhootan, west by the Teesta river, south by the State of Cooch Behar, east by the Sankos river. Any lots of waste land belonging to Government, lying in any other parts of the district of Jalpaiguri, and which are not reserved for other purposes, may also be made available for tea cultivation under these rules.

The lands that are generally available in the Darjeeling district lie in the Kalimpong or Daling sub-division of the district, east of the Teesta. They are in two blocks, bounded as follows:—

I.—North.—The Labah forest block.
South.—The Lohti, Noam, Pugo, and Mal forest blocks.
West.—The Jeet Chu.
East.—The Nim Chu to its junction with the Chu Chu, then the Chu Chu to a point about ½ mile below Ambiokh, then a line northwards up to the Ambiokh forest block, and thence southward the boundary of the Dalingkote forest block and the Gooroobathan khas mahal: area about 19·95 square miles.

II.—North.—The Mo forest block.
West.—The East Nar block.
South and South-west.—The Moohu, up to its junction with the Khoomanee.
East.—The Khoomanee and Rougo forest block: area about 8·50 square miles.

2. The following lands will not ordinarily be available under these rules:—

(a).—Lands which, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, are held to constitute a reserve for the supply of timber, fuel, grazing, or any other articles of general and public consumption.

(b).—Lands not included in the above category, but which now bear India-rubber trees, or other valuable timber (such as sâl, khair, chelownee, sissoo, &c.) in considerable quantities and in compact blocks or patches.

(c).—Lands in respect of which any person or persons, or any village community, possess rights of occupancy, or such other rights or privileges as render it impolitic or unadvisable to grant such lands to any other person or persons for the purpose of tea cultivation.

(d).—Lands lying within a distance of 60 feet on either side from the centre of any public road or thoroughfare: provided that such road or thoroughfare shall have been constructed, or shall be kept in repair, from public funds.

(e).—Lands which the Local Government may at any time, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, expressly exempt from the operation of these rules.

3. Every person, company, or association or promoter of a company or association, desirous of obtaining a grant of land under these rules, must, in person or by a duly authorized agent, present an application on stamped paper of the value of eight annas to the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land lies.

4. The application must specify—

(a).—The name or names, and address or addresses, of the applicant or applicants, and of his or their authorized agent, if any.

(b).—The area, situation, and boundaries of the land applied for, as far as they can be ascertained without a detailed survey.

(c).—The particulars, if any, which may appear to the applicant to bring any part of the land applied for within the exceptions mentioned in Rule 2. The application must also state whether the land, or any part of it, is, or has ever been, cultivated in any manner.

5. Every lot applied for must be compact and capable of being enclosed in a ringfence; and if any part of the land touches on a public road or navigable river, the length of such road or river frontage must not exceed one-half the breadth of the lot applied for.

The exact boundaries will be settled by the Deputy Commissioner, who will decide the point on a consideration of what is best in the public interests.

6. Not more than 800 acres will ordinarily be granted to any one applicant, company, or association; and when more than 800 acres are applied for, the applicant must set forth specially the grounds for such application, and give primâ facie guarantees that he possesses the requisite capital for working such larger area.

The Deputy Commissioner may, when he has reason to believe it to be necessary, demand such a guarantee when the area applied for does not exceed 800 acres.

If, upon proceeding to survey and map out the grant, the Deputy Commissioner finds that it is desirable in the public interests, or for the sake of good boundaries, to include a larger area than 800 acres within the area to be granted on the application it shall be in his discretion, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to grant to one applicant so much land, not exceeding 1,000 acres, as may be necessary to obtain good boundaries and to avoid waste, &c.

7. All applications for more than 800 acres will be forwarded by the Deputy Commissioner to the Commissioner, who, if he desires to recommend compliance therewith, will forward them to the Board of Revenue, who are empowered to sanction such grants up to a limit of 1,200 acres, and shall take the orders of Government upon applications for an area exceeding that amount.

8. The holder of a grant of 800 acres shall not be debarred from applying for a second grant if he has complied with the clearance and other conditions of the preliminary lease in respect of the first grant. Tea lease-holders may obtain arable grants contiguous to their tea lots.

9. On receipt of an application for any area not exceeding 800 acres, the Deputy Commissioner must satisfy himself, as far as lies in his power, that the requirements of the rules have been complied with. If he considers that the application should be rejected, he will record an order to that effect, giving his reasons for such rejection. An appeal will lie from such order of rejection to the Commissioner of the Division, if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order. If the Deputy Commissioner considers that an application for such area as it is within his power to grant should be entertained, or, in the case of application for areas over 1,000 acres, when the orders of Government or the Board, as the case may be, accepting the application, are received, the applicant or his agent will be required to deposit the estimated cost of the enquiry referred to in the next rule, and the cost of survey and demarcation to be made as hereinafter provided. The amount to be so deposited must be calculated at one rupee per acre of the total area applied for. If the area is found to be greater, the sum of one rupee per acre must be paid on account of such excess area before a preliminary lease is granted.

Payments under this rule do not cover the cost of erecting permanent boundary marks under Rule 24.

In the event of the applicant withdrawing his application before any enquiry has been made under Rule 10, or in the event of its being found that the land has been previously applied for, the applicant shall be entitled to a refund of the survey fee paid by him; but in the latter case (i.e., of the land having been previously applied for) an enquiry fee at the rate of one anna per acre is to be deducted from the survey fee deposited, and the balance is to be returned.

If the cost of survey is not paid within one month of demand, the application may be struck off.

10. On receipt of the sum payable under the preceding rule, and of an agreement signed by the applicant, or by his authorized agent, to pay such further sum as may be required for the purposes above mentioned, the Deputy Commissioner will record an order appointing a tahsildar or other officer to visit the land and to make full and detailed enquiries into its condition and circumstances.

11. The general object of such enquiry shall be to ascertain whether or not the land applied for can be granted under the rules in force; but the Deputy Commissioner may instruct the officer making the enquiry to furnish him with such other specific and detailed information as may seem to him to be necessary.

12. On completion of this enquiry, the officer making it will record the result thereof, and submit a report for the orders of the Deputy Commissioner. If the Deputy Commissioner, after considering the report, and after calling for such further explanations, oral or written, as he may deem necessary, shall be of opinion that the land applied for cannot be granted under the rules, and should not therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect. An appeal will lie from such order to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order.

13. If the Deputy Commissioner decides that the land applied for can be granted under the rules, and should therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect.

14. The Deputy Commissioner shall at once send a copy of any order passed under Rule 13 to the Conservator of Forests, in order that an estimate may be made by the Forest Department of the value of any forest trees standing on the land. The Conservator of Forests will depute an officer to examine the land and make a detailed report, a copy of which will be allowed to the applicant, suggesting the average rate per acre at which payment should be made for such trees. Such officer, in valuing the timber, shall have regard to its present market value on the spot, and to the local circumstances of the case, the accessibility of the grant, and the prospect of markets for timber becoming available during the currency of the lease. The Conservator will carefully examine the report, and forward it to the Deputy Commissioner with such remarks and alterations as he may think necessary. If the Deputy Commissioner, on receipt of the Conservator's decision, sees reason to object to the proposed rate per acre, he may refer the matter to the Commissioner, who shall take the orders of the Board of Revenue and of Government on any point on which he and the Conservator may eventually differ.

15. If the Deputy Commissioner finds the land, or any part of it, in the occupation of any person or persons or of any village community, he will submit a full report of the circumstances for the orders of the Commissioner, stating in detail how he proposes to deal with such prior occupants, and, if it is proposed to remove them, the compensation, if any, which the applicant undertakes to pay to such persons. If the Deputy Commissioner declines to propose the removal of such occupants, an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner within thirty days after the record of an order by the Deputy Commissioner declining to propose the removal. The Commissioner will report his orders in all such cases for the information of the Board of Revenue.

16. If any claim or objection be preferred under Act XXIII of 1863, the Deputy Commissioner will proceed to dispose of the same in accordance with the provisions of that Act.

17. The officer who made the enquiry provided for by Rules 10 to 12 will, on receipt of an order to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner, proceed to point out to the surveyor the boundaries of the land applied for, and such prominent features in it as may be useful for the purposes of the survey, and which should, in his opinion, be entered in the preliminary lease as hereinafter provided. The boundaries and other features above mentioned should be clearly marked and defined by the officer in presence of the surveyor, and the latter should be furnished with a list of them signed by the said officer.

18. The surveyor will then proceed to make the survey and put up such temporary boundary marks as are necessary for that purpose. He must prepare a map showing—

(a)—All natural features of the country lying within the boundaries as fixed by the officer who made the enquiry under Rules 10 to 12, e.g., bheels, streams, forest clumps, &c.

(b)—Such features of the country lying outside the boundary of the land to be surveyed as may serve to identify the latter and connect it with the revenue survey or other existing map.

(c)—The total area within the boundaries after deductions of areas for roads or other Government reserves, jotes, &c., and the net area of the grant.

The surveyor is bound to bring to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner any fact which may come to his knowledge in the course of the survey, rendering it advisable that the land he is surveying should not be granted under these rules. He is particularly bound to bring to notice any need for public roads across the lands he surveys, and if the Deputy Commissioner concurs with the surveyor in this matter, the road or roads should be marked off on the ground and on the map, and the area to be occupied thereby should be deducted from the rent-paying area of the grant.

19. The map should ordinarily be on a scale of 16 inches to the mile. If possible, the surveyor's field-book should be copied at the back of it. If not, a copy of the field-book should be attached to or accompany the map. If the map be made originally in the vernacular, the Deputy Commissioner will cause it to be translated into English.

20. On the map being completed, it must be checked by an officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. If found to be incorrect, it will be amended by the surveyor in conjunction with the officer above mentioned. If found to be correct, it will be laid before the Deputy Commissioner with the report of the officer who made the preliminary enquiry under Rules 10 to 12, and with all other papers connected with the case.

21 The Deputy Commissioner will then proceed to consider the application. A date for this purpose must be previously fixed by him, and due notice of it given to the applicant or to his authorized agent.

22. The Deputy Commissioner shall have power to reject an application at any stage of the proceedings under the rules, if he sees reason to do so, refunding in such case to the applicant the deposit made by him on account of survey, minus such an amount as it may seem to the Deputy Commissioner fair to retain in consideration of the expenses incurred. If, however, the application is rejected for a reason which could not reasonably be anticipated under these rules, no portion of the deposit money shall be retained. He is authorized to reject an application when he does not consider that there is a bonâ fide intention on the part of the applicant to cultivate in tea the land applied for, or when it appears desirable to reserve the land for cultivation other than tea, or to preserve any forest standing on it An appeal against every such order of rejection shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division, if preferred within thirty days of the date of the order.

23. If the Deputy Commissioner grant the application, he will without delay grant the applicant a lease in Form H of Appendix II, and call upon him to execute a counterpart thereof, which must be registered, and to pay for forest trees the sum assessed under Rule 14. Payment for these may be made by instalments with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which will only be given when the Board are fully satisfied of the good faith and solvency of the applicant. In such case the dates and amounts of the instalments shall be endorsed upon the lease, and the lessee must covenant that, in the event of his throwing up his lease, all outstanding instalments shall be forthwith recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, whether the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not; but he shall have no further right to fell or remove timber from the grant.

24. When granting the lease, the Deputy Commissioner shall also direct the lessee to mark out the land leased, within three months of the granting of the lease, by a continuous trench, or by clearing the jungle for a breadth of at least twelve feet along the boundaries, or in such other manner as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and by erecting boundary marks at the points indicated on the map

These boundary marks may be of masonry, or of stone, or hollow iron telegraph posts filled with clay or shingle, as the Deputy Commissioner may direct; and he will decide on their shape and dimensions.

25. On the expiry of the three months, the surveyor shall test the correctness of the boundary lines, and ascertain if the boundary marks have been erected and in their proper places, and report the result to the Deputy Commissioner, at the same time pointing out to the lessee or his representative, by written notice, any mistakes or omissions that may be found. If the mistakes or omissions are not rectified or supplied by the lessee or his representative within sixty days of the receipt of such notice, the lessee or his representative shall be liable to a fine, not exceeding Rs. 50 per day, from the date of the expiry of such notice till the requirements of the notice have been complied with. If at the expiration of thirty more days the mistakes and omissions are not rectified, the lessee's rights in the land will be liable to forfeiture.

26. If upon any inspection being made it shall be found that owing to the neglect of the grantee the boundary lines and boundary marks of his grant have either never been cleared and erected in accordance with instructions received by him, or have been allowed to fall out of repair or become covered with jungle in such a manner that, without a resurvey of the entire boundary line, the exact position of such boundary marks or lines cannot be ascertained, the Deputy Commissioner may direct that such resurvey be made, and may recover from the grantee such sum not exceeding Rs 1-8 per acre of grant as may suffice to defray the cost of such resurvey. All such sums shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act as aforesaid.

27. Fines, cost of notices served, of clearing boundaries, of erecting or repairing boundary marks, or any other money that may become due from lessees to Government, shall be deemed to be a demand under the Bengal Council Act VII of 1880, or any other law for the recovery of public demands that may be in force at the time, and shall be recoverable as such.

28. Whenever, after receipt of an application, as provided for in Rule 3, and after making such enquiries as he may deem necessary, the Deputy Commissioner shall be of opinion that there is no primâ facie objection whatever to the grant under the rules of the land applied for, he may put the applicant in preliminary and provisional possession of an area not exceeding one-eighth of the estimated area of the land applied for, with the object of enabling the applicant to make preparations for commencing cultivation and getting the land in order; provided that the applicant, before obtaining such preliminary possession, shall have cleared the boundaries, and erected such temporary boundary marks round the whole of the area applied for as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and that the amount of all estimated charges incurred in connection with such preliminary occupation shall have been deposited by the applicant: provided further that the applicant shall engage in writing to pay the cost of any trees felled, at such rate as may be determined by the Forest Department after inspection of the land under Rule 14: and provided further that the applicant shall take on himself all risk of loss occasioned by other claims being preferred to the land, or by his application being eventually rejected, or from any other cause whatsoever. Such preliminary and provisional possession is not to be regarded as fixing the date of entry upon the grant.

29. The order for, and conditions of, such preliminary occupation shall be in Form I of Appendix II, and shall be addressed to the tahsildar, or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. A copy of the order shall be delivered to the applicant at the time of giving preliminary possession by the officer who gives it, the officer signing and dating it then and there. The original order addressed to the tahsildar, or other officer, shall be signed by the applicant on the date he receives possession in acknowledgment thereof, and the tahsildar or other officer shall forward such original order, with his report written on the back of it, to the Deputy Commissioner for record in his office.

30. If any transfer of an application for land is desired before the grant of the preliminary lease, and if such a transfer is allowed,* it must be registered within twenty-one days of the issue of the order allowing the transfer, or within three months if the deed be executed out of India, and a registration fee of two annas an acre must be paid.

31. If after the survey an applicant shall fail to comply with any request of the Deputy Commissioner made in accordance with the rules, or fail to deposit any sums of money for which the applicant is liable under them within two months, the application may be struck off.

32. Grantees are not permitted to club or amalgamate their grants otherwise than by transfers duly registered, as provided for in the preliminary lease. Any unauthorized amalgamation will subject the holders of the grants in question to forfeiture of all rights in the lands so amalgamated.†

33. The lessee shall maintain the boundaries of the grant clear of jungle, and all the boundary marks in good repair. Where roads (kept clear of jungle) or streams do not form

* No transfer will be allowed, for instance, when the proposed transferree already holds a Tea Lease Grant, 15 per cent. of the area of which does not yet contain growing tea plants

† The following is an abstract of a ruling by Government in regard to grant held by a company Jalpaiguri No extension of time can be allowed for clearance of requisite percentage of area. Government cannot permit companies or individuals to take up under the rules large quantities of lands in separate blocks simply to hold until it suits them to cultivate or sell at a profit. When blocks are a mile or two apart, they are distinct holdings and credit cannot be given in one grant for cultivation carried on in other grants. the boundaries, the lessee shall clear the boundaries of jungle at least once a year not later than the end of February in each year.

34. The Deputy Commissioner should occasionally himself inspect or cause to be inspected the boundary lines and permanent marks referred to in Rules 24 to 26, and should he find any out of order, shall by letter instruct the lessee or his representative to place the same in order, and failing his doing so within thirty days of the receipt of the said letter, shall cause the same to be put in order, and shall recover from the lessee or his representative the cost of doing so, if need be, under the Public Demands Recovery Act.

35 If the lessee is at any time found, by survey or otherwise, to be in possession of land in excess of the acreage for which he has paid rent, he shall pay rent, at the rates payable by him for the grant itself, for such excess land, whether it be within or without the boundaries described in the lease or map, from one year after the date he received possession (preliminary or otherwise) of the grant, or any portion of it, unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner that no possession of the excess land was taken until after the grant of the renewed lease, in which case rent shall be payable from the date of the expiration of the preliminary lease. Provided that such unauthorised occupation of excess land, and payment of rent for it, shall give the trespasser no right to continued occupation, and the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled, if he thinks fit to do so, to recover possession of the excess lands.

FORM H.

FORM OF PRELIMINARY LEASES OF LANDS FOR TEA CULTIVATION IN THE DISTRICTS OF JALPAIGURI AND DARJEELING.

Preliminary Lease of Land in granted by the Deputy Commissioner of to (name) of (address)

1. The lands covered by this lease are situated within the boundaries shown by the red lines in map No. , dated , and attached to this lease. The lands may be described as being bounded as follows:—

North—
East—
South—
West—

Their area is more or less acres, and they are situated in the parganas and tahsils detailed in the margin.

2. This lease shall be for a period of five years from the commencement of the official year next following the official year of actual entry; and the rights conveyed by it are heritable and also transferable; provided (a) that the entire grant, and not a portion of it, be transferred; (b) that the clearance conditions are duly observed by the transferror and transferee, respectively; and (c) that the transfer is registered in the Deputy Commissioner's office. If any transfer* of the rights conveyed by this lease is made otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions and the rules,† all rights on the land leased shall be liable to be forfeited to Government.

3. The rent to be paid shall be as follows:—

Year of entry (i.e., from actual date of entry to 31st March following)	Nil.
1*st* full year (from 1st April following date of entry)	Nil.
2*nd* year	3 annas per acre.
3*rd* „	6 „ „
4*th* „	9 „ „
5*th* „	12 „ „

In Jalpaiguri.

The rent shall be paid to the tahsildar of or other officer appointed by Government in the following instalments:—

1st September	One-half.
1st March	„

* NOTE.—A shareholder in a registered Joint-Stock Company may transfer his shares, or any part of them, without registering the transfer. A partner in any other form of company or association may transfer his interest, or any part of it, but in that case the transfer must be registered in accordance with this rule † For instance, a transfer to the holder of a tea lease for another grant of 800 acres, fifteen per cent. of which is not under tea plants, would be a violation of Rules 7 and 8.

In Darjeeling.

The rent shall be paid to the Deputy Commissioner in the following instalments:—

On or before 20th July	...	...	...	One-half.
„ „ 12th January	...	...	...	„

4. The lessee shall either himself reside on or near to the lands covered by this lease, or he shall appoint a manager or agent who shall reside on or near to such lands, and who shall be provided with full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of or concerning the lands covered by the lease.

5. The lessee binds himself to conform to all the provisions of the rules for the grant of tea leases under which this lease is granted

6. Five per cent. of the area of the land leased shall be cleared by the end of the second year after the grant of this lease, and ten per cent. by the end of the third year.

7. Any land covered by the lease, which may at any time be required for a public purpose, may be taken up by Government free of cost on a reduction being made in the rent payable under the lease proportionate to the area taken by Government for the class of land taken. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

8. All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government, together with such rights-of-way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals.

9. No right of fishery, and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any stream, is given by this lease. A public right-of-way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, however much the bank may shift by action of the stream or otherwise, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved.

Public access shall be allowed at all times to any springs of water on the lands leased, whenever such access is, in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner, necessary for the convenient supply of good water to persons residing in the vicinity; and the lessee is bound not to injure the springs, or allow others to do so.

10. Standing timber must be paid for at the average rate per acre intimated to the lessee by the Deputy Commissioner before possession is given under this lease, unless, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, payment by instalments has been allowed. In the latter case, payment must be made according to the schedule of instalments endorsed upon the lease. In the event of the lessee throwing up the lease while any instalments due to Government on account of timber are unpaid, the lessee hereby agrees that all such instalments shall forthwith become due and be recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, whether all the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not; but he shall have no right of any kind over any timber on the grant, cut or uncut, after the date of his so throwing up the lease.

11. Whenever on an inspection being made the boundary lines and marks referred to in Rules 24 to 26 are found to be out of order, the lessee shall be bound to put them in order at his own expense on receipt of a requisition to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner. Should the lessee fail to do so within thirty days from the receipt of the requisition, the Deputy Commissioner shall cause it to be done, and if the lessee fails to pay, the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled to recover from the lessee, under the Public Demands Recovery Act, all costs incurred in doing so.

12. If upon any inspection being made it shall be found that owing to the neglect of the grantee, the boundary lines and boundary marks of his grant have either never been cleared and erected in accordance with instructions received by him, or have been allowed to fall out of repair or become covered with jungle in such a manner that without a resurvey of the entire boundary line the exact position of such boundary marks or lines cannot be ascertained, the Deputy Commissioner may direct that such resurvey be made, and may recover from the grantee such sum not exceeding Rs. 1-8 per acre of grant as may suffice to defray the cost of such resurvey. All such sums shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act as aforesaid.

13. The lessee shall be bound to furnish the Deputy Commissioner with information as to the births and deaths of residents in his tea garden, and as to progress and outturn thereof, in such form as may be approved by Government.

14 In the event of the provisions of the Chaukidari Act [VI (B.C.) of 1870, as modified by Act I (B.C.) of 1871, Act I (B.C.) of 1886, and Act I (B.C.) of 1892] being introduced by order of the Local Government in any tea garden, the lessee shall be bound to furnish proper and fit accommodation for the residence of such chaukidar or chaukidars as it may be found necessary to appoint in each garden to carry out the duties imposed under the Act. The lessee shall also be bound to see that the said chaukidar (or chaukidars) receives his pay punctually in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

15 Within one month after the expiration of the second and third year of the lease, the lessee or his representative shall report and certify to the Deputy Commissioner the area actually brought under cultivation and planted with tea

16. The Deputy Commissioner, or any officer appointed by him, may at any time enter on, inspect, and measure the area under cultivation, with a view to ascertain the correctness of the report submitted by the lessee or his representative.

17. If it be found either on a consideration of the lessee's report or on inspection that a correct report has not been submitted by the lessee or his representative, as required by clause 15, and that five or ten per cent. of the area, as the case may be, according to the report dealt with, has not been actually planted with tea, the land may be resumed.

18 If the lessee or his representative fail to submit the report required by clause 15 within the specified period, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50 per day until such report shall have been submitted. The amount of such fine shall not exceed fifteen hundred rupees. The Deputy Commissioner may, in such cases of failure, depute a surveyor to inspect and measure the area under cultivation, either immediately after the expiration of the one month allowed to the lessee for the submission of the report, or after the maximum amount of fine shall have been reached. The expenses of such inspection and measurement shall be paid by the lessee or his representative. The fine and expenses mentioned in this paragraph shall be recovered, if need be, under the provisions of the Public Demands Recovery Act. If on such inspection and measurement being made it is found that the requisite percentage has not been planted with tea, the land may be resumed, or such penalty inflicted as the Local Government may think fit.

19. After the expiration of the fifth year, the Deputy Commissioner, or any officer appointed by him, shall enter on, inspect, and make a detailed survey of the whole grant for the purpose of resettlement. The lessee may at any time demand that an inspection and measurement be made of the area cleared and under cultivation. The expenses of any such inspections and measurements as are made before the due date on demand of the lessee (but of no others) shall be paid by the lessee as rent due. If on any inspection being made during the term of this lease, or if on the first inspection being made after the expiration of such term it is found that fifteen per cent of the total area held under the lease has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and actually bear tea plants, the lessee shall be entitled to the renewal of the lease for a further period of thirty years, and to renewals for similar periods in perpetuity, subject to the rules and the terms and conditions of the renewed leases.

20. If, by the end of the fifth year after the grant of this preliminary lease, less than 15 per cent. of the total area held under it has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and less than 15 per cent. actually bears tea plants, the land may be resumed, or, on the application in writing of the lessee, he may be allowed to hold on from year to year as a tenant-at-will for three more years or such less period of time as the Commissioner, with the sanction of the Board, may determine, on agreeing to pay rent for such terms at the same rates for which he would have been liable if he had complied with the condition about bringing 15 per cent. under tea cultivation. On the application of the lessee an inspection and measurement shall be made as soon as convenient after the expiration of any one of the three years, and the Deputy Commissioner may make such inspection and measurement of his own accord after the expiration of the third year. If after any such inspection and measurement it is found that 15 per cent. of the area bears tea plants, a renewed lease shall be granted on the terms that would have been in force if the condition had been complied with by the end of the fifth year. At the expiration of three years, all rights in the lands leased will lapse to Government if 15 per cent. of the area does not then bear tea plants. The cost of all inspections and measurements made during the three years' grace shall be paid by the lessee.

21. All expenses connected with inspections and measurements, for which the lessee is liable under these rules, shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act.

22. The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease, and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any condition thereof.

PART II.—Terms and conditions of renewed leases of lands for tea cultivation.

SUBJECT to any general or special orders of Government, the rent to be paid on the renewal of the lease for a term of 30 years shall be fixed by the Board of Revenue on the report of the Deputy Commissioner on each occasion of renewal, but shall not exceed the rate* of rent per acre paid in the neighbourhood at the time of renewal for the highest class of lands under ordinary cultivation.

* The rates per acre paid at present in the Western Duars of Jalpaiguri are as follows :—

DESCRIPTION OF SOIL.	In Ambaree Falkota, Changmari, Moraghat, and North Mynaguri.	In Lakhipore and West Madaree.	In East Madaree and Chukwakatee.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Bastu and bamboo	2 0 0	1 12 0	1 8 0
Rupit	1 8 0	1 4 0	1 2 0
Faringhatty	1 2 0	0 12 0	0 9 0
Waste	0 3 0	0 3 0	0 3 0

Provided that in no case shall the total rent payable under the renewed lease be less than twelve annas an acre on the entire area of the land leased.

If at any future time the administration of the tracts under tea cultivation should entail on the State any considerable increase of expenditure, it will be competent to the Government, with the sanction of the Legislature, to impose such special taxation as may be deemed necessary, either by raising the rent or in some other mode, but under no other circumstances will the rent, which has been fixed for a term of years on the principle above enunciated, be raised during the currency of such term.

Lands actually planted with tea in the Duars will, for the present be assessed at the rate fixed for rupit land in the pargana wherein they lie. Waste lands will be assessed at six annas an acre in all parganas, and the rest of the lands in each grant will pay the pargana rate of bastu, bamboo, rupit, and jaringhatta, according to the area of the land answering to each of these descriptions that may be found in the grant.

In the case of the tract of Daling transferred to the Jalpaiguri district by Government notification dated 9th January 1882, the rates to be imposed will, for the present, be those paid for similar lands in the adjoining pargana of the Duars on the principle just stated, waste lands paying six annas an acre.

The rate to be charged for the present in the case of lands in the Darjeeling Hills is a single uniform rate of one rupee an acre for all lands in the grant.

2. The title conveyed by the renewed lease shall be heritable and transferable; provided that the prior sanction of the Commissioner of the Division be procured to the transfer of any portion of the grant less than the whole, and that no transfer shall be valid as against Government, but shall, on the contrary, be equivalent to a surrender of the lease, unless notification of the transfer shall have been given by the transferee to the Deputy Commissioner.

3. In other respects the conditions of the renewed lease* will be the same as those of clauses 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, and 22 of the preliminary lease.

FORM I.

FORM OF ORDER GRANTING PRELIMINARY OCCUPATION UNDER RULE 28.

To the Tehsildar of

and (name) of (residence) propose to enter into an agreement in regard to certain land (situated at or near the spot herein described) for the purpose of cultivating tea, and whereas

(name) of

(residence) desires immediately to enter upon occupation of some part of the above lands for the purpose of making preparations for, and for commencing such cultivation, I do hereby authorise the said

(name) of

(residence) hereby to use for that purpose any lands laying within

In the event of a lease being hereafter granted, the date of entry referred to in such lease shall be held to be not the date of this order, but the date of possession being given under such lease. In case of a lease being refused, no claim to compensation shall lie against the Government for any outlay incurred by (name) of (residence) on the strength of this order. No rent shall be payable for land occupied during the currency of this order, the term whereof shall expire on the 31st March next.

Occupation under this order, or after its expiry, without any express condition to the contrary, shall never be held to constitute any tenure other than a tenancy-at-will from year to year. The occupant shall keep the boundary line and marks in repair and clear of jungle. A copy of this order has been delivered to (name) with permission to enter into occupation. You will register him as in occupation of the land under the usual amalnama.

FORM J.

FORM OF RENEWED LEASES OF LANDS FOR TEA CULTIVATION IN THE DISTRICTS OF JALPAIGURI AND DARJEELING.

Renewed Lease of land in granted by the Deputy Commissioner of to (name) of (address).

1. The lands covered by this lease are situated within the boundaries shown by the red lines in map No. , dated , and attached to this lease. The lands may be described as being bounded as follows:—

North—
East—South—
West—

Their area is more or less acres, and they are situated in the parganas and tauzils detailed in the margin.

2. This lease shall be for a period of thirty years. The rights conveyed by this lease are heritable and also transferable: provided (a) that the prior sanction of the Commissioner of the Division be procured to the transfer of any portion of the grant less than the whole; and (b) that the transfer is registered* in the Deputy Commissioner's office. If any transfer of the rights conveyed by this lease is made otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions and the rules, all rights in the land leased shall be liable to be forfeited to Government. After the expiry of this renewed lease no right shall be claimed otherwise than as expressly provided for hereinafter.

3. The rent to be paid shall be as follows:—

In Jalpaiguri.

The rent shall be paid to the tahsildar of or other officer appointed by Government in the following instalments:—

1st September	...	...	...	...	One-half.
1st March	...	...	...	...	,,

In Darjeeling.

The rent shall be paid to the Deputy Commissioner in the following instalments:—

On or before 20th July		...	...	...	One-half.
,, ,, 12th January		...	...	...	,,

4. The lessee shall either himself reside on or near to the lands covered by this lease, or he shall appoint a manager or agent who shall reside on or near to such lands, and who shall be provided with full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of or concerning the lands covered by the lease.

5. The lessee binds himself to conform to all the provisions of the rules for the grant of tea leases under which this lease is granted.

6. Any land covered by the lease, which may at any time be required for a public purpose, may be taken up by Government free of cost on a reduction being made in the rent payable under the lease proportionate to the area taken by Government. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

7. All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government, together with such rights-of-way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals.

8 No right of fishery, and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any stream, is given by this lease. A public right-of-way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved.

Public access shall be allowed at all times to any springs of water on the lands leased, whenever, in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner, such access is necessary for the convenient supply of good water to persons residing in the vicinity; and the lessee is bound not to injure the springs, or allow others to do so.

9. Whenever on an inspection being made the boundary lines and marks referred to in Rules 24 to 26 are found to be out of order, the lessee shall be bound to put them in order at his own expense on receipt of a requisition to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner. Should the lessee fail to do so within thirty days from the receipt of the requisition, the Deputy Commissioner shall cause it to be done, and if the lessee fails to pay, the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled to recover from the lessee, under the Public Demands Recovery Act, all costs incurred in doing so.

10. If upon any inspection being made it shall be found that, owing to the neglect of the grantee, the boundary lines and boundary marks of his grant have either never been cleared and erected in accordance with instructions received by him, or have been allowed to fall out of repair or become covered with jungle in such a manner that without a resurvey of the entire boundary line the exact position of such boundary marks or lines cannot be ascertained, the Deputy Commissioner may direct that such resurvey be made, and may recover from the grantee such sum not exceeding Rs. 1-8 per acre of grant as may suffice to defray the cost of such resurvey. All such sums shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act as aforesaid.

11. The lessee shall be bound to furnish the Deputy Commissioner with information as to the births and deaths of residents in his tea garden and as to progress and outturn thereof in such form as may be approved by Government.

12. In the event of the provisions of the Chaukidari Act [VI (B.C.) of 1870, as modified by Act I (B.C.) of 1871, Act I (B.C.) of 1886 and Act I (B.C.) 1892] being introduced by the orders of the Local Government in any tea garden, the lessee shall be bound to furnish proper and fit accommodation for the residence of such chaukidar (or chaukidars) as it may be found necessary to appoint in each garden to carry out the duties imposed under the Act. The lessee shall also be bound to see that the said chaukidar (or chaukidars) receives his pay punctually in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

13. The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease, and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any condition thereof.

* NOTE.—A shareholder in a registered Joint-Stock Company may transfer his shares, or any part of them, without registering the transfer. A partner in any other form of company or association may transfer his interest, or any part of it, but in that case the transfer must be registered in accordance with this rule.

HENRY T. HYDE,
Secy. to the Board of Exmrs. for Pleadership and Mukhtarship.

Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Engineer Department should apply to the Principal before the 15th May 1894. The session begins on Monday, the 4th June 1894. Candidates must furnish proof that they have passed one of the following tests :—

(1) The F. A. examination of the Calcutta University or a similar standard of any Indian University recognised by the Calcutta University. The candidate's age must be under 21 years.

(2) The B.A. examination in the B. Course. The Candidate's age must be under 23 years. (These students are admitted direct into the 2nd-year class.)

The number to be admitted each year is limited to 40. The position in the University Examinations and the age of candidates will be taken into consideration when selection is made, and such selection will be made by the Principal.

Ten scholarships will be awarded to students entering the Engineer Department, not being already holders of junior or senior scholarships.

Every applicant, before admission to the College, will be examined by the College Surgeon as to his physical strength, fitness for manual labour and eyesight.

Further particulars will be supplied on application to the Principal.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in and subject to the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Burdwan, will be put up to sale at the Burdwan Collectorate on the 27th June 1894, corresponding with the 14th Asar 1301 B. S.

Bidders will be bound by the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The estates will be sold to the highest bidder, provided his bid reaches the upset price fixed by the Collector. The purchasers of these estates will be considered the proprietors of the estates, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to them as revenue-free or subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity, as indicated in the statement below.

2*nd*.—The sale will be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchasers will be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount shall be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid shall be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale will be cancelled, (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government,) and the estate again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India
BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, or when a separate charge will be made); packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Re. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI, which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year; but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

Acts of the Bengal Council.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

The following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 19th March, 1894, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 14th April, 1894, is hereby published for general information:—

ACT No. III OF 1894.

An Act to give effect to an agreement made between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to sanction and give effect to a memorandum of agreement made the second day of September, 1893, between the Corporation of Calcutta of the one part and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, of the other part, a copy whereof is set forth in the schedule to this Act; and whereas without the authority of the Legislature the said memorandum of agreement would be of no effect; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1894, and it shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor General.

The agreement declared valid.

2. The memorandum of agreement, a copy whereof is set forth in the schedule of this Act, is hereby authorised, sanctioned and declared valid and binding upon the Corporation of Calcutta and upon the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, and its assignees.

SCHEDULE.

(Referred to in section 2.)

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this second day of September 1893 BETWEEN THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA incorporated under Act II of 1888 of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council hereinafter called "the Corporation" of the one part and THE CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS COMPANY LIMITED a Company incorporated under the English Companies Acts having its Registered Office in England hereinafter called "the Company" of the other part WHEREAS the Corporation are the successors of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta the parties of the first part to the annexed articles of agreement dated the 2nd day of October 1879 and the Company is the assignee of the rights and liabilities under the said articles of agreement of Dillwyn Parrish Alfred Parrish and Robinson Souttar the parties thereto of the other part AND WHEREAS under and by virtue of the 17th Clause of the said articles of agreement the present rent payable by the Company to the Corporation is calculated at the rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line AND WHEREAS the said articles of agreement do not contain any express provision prohibiting the Company after the opening of any Tramway from discontinuing the working of such Tramway AND WHEREAS the parties hereto have deemed it expedient and have mutually agreed subject to the sanction and authorization of their said agreement by an Act of the Bengal Legislature that the said articles of agreement should be varied or modified to the extent and in the manner hereinafter appearing NOW these PRESENTS WITNESS that subject to these presents being sanctioned and authorized by an Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council to be hereafter passed for the purpose and in consideration of the said mutual agreement and of the covenants hereinafter contained and on the part of the Corporation and of the Company respectively to be observed and performed the Corporation do hereby covenant with the Company and its assigns and the Company for itself and its assigns doth hereby covenant with Corporation in manner following that is to say—

1. Subject as next hereinafter provided the rent payable by the Company to the Corporation from the 1st January 1894 to the 31st December 1900 being the end of the 21st year referred to in the said 17th clause of the said articles of agreement shall be calculated and paid at the present rate namely at the rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line anything in the said articles of agreement to the contrary notwithstanding. Provided nevertheless that a remission of fifteen thousand rupees a year shall be granted for five years with effect from 1894 subject to the condition that the dividends declared by the Company do not exceed three and-a half per cent. per annum during that period.

2. The Company shall not during the period from 1st January 1894 to 31st December 1900 without the previous sanction of the Corporation discontinue the working of any of its tramways which now or hereafter may be opened for traffic.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

BILL No. V OF 1894.

The following Bill was introduced and read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations, on the 28th April, 1894, and is hereby published for information, together with a Statement of its Objects and Reasons :—

A Bill to remove doubts which have arisen in connection with the re-settlement of land-revenue in temporarily-settled areas and to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen as to the period during which proceedings with a view to the re-settlement of land-revenue in temporarily-settled areas may be undertaken, and as to the date from which it may be said that a settlement of land-revenue is being made, and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed;

And whereas it is expedient to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Amendment of section 101(2)(d) of Act VIII of 1885.

1. In section 101, sub-section (2), clause (d) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the words "is to be, or" are to be inserted after the word "revenue," and a comma is to be placed after the word "being."

Amendment of section 110.

2. In section 110, after the word "chapter" the words, figures and letters "except in a local area declared to be under settlement of revenue by a notification under section 101, sub-section (2), clause (d)" shall be inserted, and at the end thereof the following shall be added :—

"And in any local area declared to be under settlement of revenue by a notification under section 101, sub-section (2), clause (d) every fair and equitable rent settled by a Revenue Officer

The section, amended as proposed, will run as follows :—

"(d) Where a settlement of revenue is to be, or is being, made in respect of the local area."

The section, amended as proposed, will run as follows :—

"110. When any rent is settled under this chapter, except in a local area declared to be under settlement of revenue by a notification under section 101, sub-section (2), clause (d), the settlement shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the final publication of the record." (and the rest as in the addition and proviso in the Bill.)

under section 104, sub-section (2), or revised under the proviso following, shall take effect from the date upon which the new settlement of land revenue comes into force :

Provided that, at any time between the publication of the record under section 105, sub-section (2), and the date upon which the new settlement of land revenue comes into force, it shall be open (a) to either landlord or tenant to apply, on the ground of special circumstances having occurred since the publication of the record, for revision of the rents settled, or (b) to a Revenue officer, if so directed by the Local Government, to revise such rents without application having been made ; and a Revenue Officer, or such officer as Government may designate for the purpose, shall take such applications into consideration and make such revision of rents as may appear to be fair and equitable and shall then make such corrections in the record as may be rendered necessary by such revision."

Saving of existing notifications.

3. Any notification or orders made, or purporting to have been made, under any law now in force, by the Local Government, directing that a survey be made or a record-of-rights be prepared by a Revenue Officer in respect of the lands in any local area liable to be brought under settlement specified in such notification or order, shall be deemed to have been duly made, and it shall be held that a settlement of revenue was to be, and is being, made in respect of such local area from the date of such notification or order.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

A QUESTION has arisen as to the time when in connection with the resettlement of land revenue in a temporarily-settled district the settlement of rents can be legally taken in hand under the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. The resettlement of land revenue depends upon the settlement of rents. By section 104(2) of that Act, the Revenue Officer is bound to settle fair and equitable rents in any case under section 101 (2) (d), i.e., "where a settlement of revenue is being made in respect of the local area."

2. As the meaning of the words "is being made" is not defined, the questions have to be considered—When may it be said that a settlement of revenue is being made in respect of a local area, and what is the earliest date on which fair and equitable rents of the raiyats of such local area, can be settled by the Revenue Officer of his own motion under section 104 (2)?

3. Two legal opinions have been expressed. On the first of the above questions it has been held that the words "where a settlement of revenue is being made" are not strictly accurate, and are to some extent misleading, and that they should be read to mean "is about to be made" or "is being revised." On the second of the questions Government have received two opinions—(1) that rents may be settled and the draft and final records published in the last year of the period of the current settlement ; (2) (a) that when under Regulation VII of 1822 the term of an engagement has been extended by one year beyond such term by six months' notice immediately preceding the termination of such engagement, a revision of the settlement may be entered upon and commenced after this notice, and within the six months last mentioned ; (b) if the term of the engagement has not been extended, the revision can only be entered upon and commenced after the expiry of the current settlement.

4. Settlements of land revenue are in progress over extensive local areas in which the settlement of rents must take more than a year, and may take two or three years, or even a longer time. To admit of the new land revenue being collected from the commencement of the new settlements, the new rents must be settled and made known by that date. According to the legal opinions above quoted, this would be impossible. It becomes therefore necessary to legislate to secure that the new revenue-settlement and the new rents should come into force on the expiry of the old settlement.

5. Section 1 of the Bill inserts the words "is to be," or" in section 101 (2) (d). The effect of this will be to remove doubts of the legality of making a settlement of rents under section 104 (2) before the expiry of a current revenue settlement.

6. Fair rents settled under section 104 ordinarily take effect under section 110 from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the final publication of the record. But this date would not necessarily synchronize with the date of the commencement of a new revenue settlement. Section 2 of the Bill is therefore meant to provide that all fair and equitable rents settled under section 104(2) (not all the rents settled under any part of section 104) previous to the expiry of a land revenue settlement shall take effect from the date upon which the new revenue settlement comes into force. At the same time, as it will now be legal to do the work of settling rents some years before the expiry of a revenue settlement, and as special circumstances (such as a cyclone or diluviation) may render desirable a revision of rents so settled before they actually take effect, a proviso has been added to oblige a Revenue Officer to take such applications into consideration with reference to the special circumstances, and to revise such rents when necessary. It is also made possible for a Revenue Officer, when so directed by Government, to revise such rents of his own motion.

7. It is proposed in section 3 to give retrospective effect to the Bill, as some work had been done in local areas under revenue settlement when the difficulty which this Bill is to meet was raised.

Search for reported rocks southward of Bramble patch.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 72, dated 20th March 1893, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 142 of 1894) that a close but unsuccessful search has been made by Lieutenant and Commander Heming, H.M. Surveying vessel Paluma, for the rocks reported to exist in (1) lat. 10° 32¾′ S., long. 141° 35¼′ E., (2) lat. 10° 37¾′ S., long 141° 31¼′ E.

Whilst it is impossible to say positively that these reported rocks do not exist in the area examined, which extends for four miles each side of the positions given by the pearl-shell divers, it appears highly probable that (1) the northern of the two is identical with the West Bramble patch, on which the Paluma found a depth of 17 feet; see Notice to Mariners No. 97 of 1894. This has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

With reference to (2), the southern of the two reported rocks, it is considered advisable at present to retain this on the Admiralty Charts, although the vagueness of the position given by the pearl-shell divers is so great as to render it possible that this also may be identical with the 17 feet found by the Paluma; or may on the other hand be to the south of the area examined.

Amended position of Matty island, and non-existence of Tiger island.

THE following Notice to Mariners, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 146 of 1894), is republished :—

Information has been received through the German Government that Captain Dallman reports that Tiger Island, marked on Admiralty charts in lat. 1° 45′ S., long. 142° 19′ E., does not exist, but is probably identical with Matty island, the correct position of which is lat. 1° 45′ S., long. 142° 47′ E., or 9 miles west of the position given on the Admiralty Charts.

Matty island is said to be 6 miles square, and to be thickly populated with a fine race of a light colour, unacquainted with the use of iron. The island is low and densely wooded.

Positions of Bernodet and Solitary islands and Salamanca rocks.

NOTICE to Mariners, No. 163 of 1894, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

With reference to Notices to Mariners, Nos. 29 of 1881 and 121 of 1891:—

Further information has been received from Mr. Greenstreet, commanding the steamer Rimutaka, that on 13th December 1893, when passing south of Kerguelen island, he sighted Mingan or Round island, which he estimated to be 300 feet high.

The Bernodet (Tremarec) islands were observed to be south (true) of Round island, or in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 55′ E.; or very nearly in the position assigned to them by Mr. Robson, commanding the Talavera, in 1891, who placed them in lat. 50° 1′ S., long. 68° 49′ E.

In consequence of these reports Bernodet islands are now placed on the Admiralty Charts in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 52′ E.

Mr. Greenstreet also sighted the Salamanca rocks, originally reported by Mr. Robson of the Salamanca in 1880, who placed them in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 69° 30′ E., but Mr. Greenstreet places them in lat. 49° 55½′ S., long. 69° 32′ E.

The probable position of these rocks is lat. 49° 58′ S., long. 69° 31′ E., and they are now so shown on the Admiralty Charts.

Solitary island was also stated by the Commander of the Talavera to be 10 miles south of its charted position in 1891, or in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 35′ E., which has been accepted for the Admiralty Charts.

Provision depôts for relief of ship-wrecked mariners.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 133 of 1894, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

The following particulars of all the Provision depôts, established in the South Indian and South Pacific oceans, for the benefit of ship-wrecked persons, are again published for the information of mariners:—

1. CROZET ISLANDS—HOG ISLAND.—The provision depôt is a hut near the landing place on the eastern side of the island, 2¼ miles southward of the Five Giants, which lie off the north-east point of Hog island. In December 1887, the French vessel La Meurthe left at this depôt one ton of preserved beef, half a ton of biscuit, three-quarters of a hundredweight of sardines in oil, 20 blankets, 15 pairs of shoes, and 15 pairs of cloth trousers, all carefully packed in boxes. Also 2 spears, 2 hatchets, and cooking utensils.

Approximate position: depôt, lat. 46° 6½′ S., long. 50° 14½′ E.

1*a*. CROZET ISLANDS—POSSESSION ISLAND.—The provision depôt consists of huts situated about 100 yards from the coast in the south-east corner of American bay, which is on the east side of the island, and about 7 miles from Dark head, the north-east point. H. M. S. Comus, in 1880, left here sufficient provisions for 50 people for 50 days; also jerseys, trousers, stockings and shoes. The provisions were intact when Possession island was visited by the French vessel La Meurthe in December 1887.

Approximate position: depôt, lat. 46° 23′ S., long. 51° 46½′ E.

2. KERGUELEN ISLAND.—The depôt established by the French Government is situated in the south-eastern part of Jachmann peninsula, Hillsborough bay, near the south-western shore of the eastern lake, and about half a mile northward of the coast, opposite Gazelle basin. It is in a cave at the foot of the west cliff of a rocky chasm running north and south, and its position is indicated by a stone cairn 11½ feet in height, and about 14 feet broad at the base, erected on the summit of the west cliff of the chasm.

This cairn, visible from Gazelle basin, is painted black, and shows clearly against the grey rocks which form the background.

The entrance to the cave has been closed by large stones, and on the cliff a few yards above it is the inscription—

Vivres et Vêtements, Eure, Janvier 1893.

Approximate position: lat. 49° 16′ 45″ S., long. 69° 40′ 30″ E.

This depôt contains:—

2,250 lbs. of preserved beef in boxes of 9 lbs.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
20 swan-skin shirts.
20 pairs of woollen drawers.
20 woollen blankets.
4 packets of matches.

The boxes of preserved beef are stowed in a pile, coated with coal tar. The biscuits are in 4 iron-hooped barrels, thickly covered with coal tar. The clothes are in two similar barrels. The matches are in a box similar to the beef boxes, painted with minium (red lead) and with a label of the contents on it.

In the event of the cairn being destroyed, the following directions should be followed to find the depôt. Land on the north side of the inlet opposite Gazelle basin, in a small creek, sheltered by a rocky point, where boats may go alongside under any circumstances of wind or tide. Proceed directly inland about half a mile as far as the shore of the lake, then turn to the westward and follow the lake to its western end, where the chasm in which the depôt is situated will be seen on the left land.

3. St. Paul island.—The depôt established by the French Government is in a hut of rough stones with a thatched roof, situated on the northern side of the crater near the jetty and about 50 yards from the flagstaff:—

Approximate position: lat. 38° 42′ 45″ S., long. 77° 34′ 40″ E.

This depôt contains:—

1,350 lbs. of preserved beef in boxes of 9 lbs.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
10 woollen shirts.
10 blankets.
1 soldered metal box containing 4 packets of matches.

The provisions and clothes are in 13 iron-hooped barrels, coated with tar and sand, and placed under a tarpaulin. On the door of the hut is the inscription France, Vivres et Vêtements pour naufragés, Eure, Janvier 1893, and a similar inscription is on a board within the hut.

4. Amsterdam island.—The depôt established by the French Government is in a large cavern in the side of a hill, about W. by S. ½ S. (S. 73° W.), 800 yards from Hosken point, the north-east extreme of the island, and bears W. ½ N. (N. 85° W.), distant about 600 yards, from the first flagstaff southward of that point.

At the entrance to the cavern is a board, fixed to two upright tarred posts, with the inscription, France, Vivres, Vêtements pour naufragés, Eure, Janvier 1893, on it.

This depôt contains:—

1,350 lbs. of preserved beef.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
10 woollen shirts.
10 pairs cotton drawer.
10 blankets.

One soldered metal red box containing 4 packets of matches,

Approximate position: lat. 37° 48′ 50″ S., long. 77° 32′ 30″ E.

The landing place used by the Eure is about 400 yards southward of Hosken point, and under the flagstaff mentioned above.

Directions for finding the depôt on Amsterdam:—Having landed, go to either of the flagstaffs, from whence a cross will be seen; from the cross follow the direction of its arms, leading past two ruins of rough stones, and then directly to the cavern, the entrance to which faces seaward. In the cavern, besides the provisions and clothing, there are cots, a cooking pot, and dry wood, left by the fishermen who sometimes live there. Cabbage and celery will be found near, and fish and lobsters (crawfish) abound near the landing place.

The following depôts are maintained by the Government of New Zealand. Those on Auckland, Campbell, Antipodes, Bounty, and Snares islands are visited by a steamer twice a year, and those on Kermadec islands once a year. Finger-posts to indicate the positions of the depôts are to be erected on all these islands.

5. Snares islands.—A provision depôt will be established on North-east island during 1894; it will be situated in Boat harbour at the eastern end of the island.

Approximate position: lat. 48° 4′ 35″ S., long. 166° 34′ E.

6. Auckland islands.—There are three depôts: one, a square wooden house on the south side of Erebus cove, port Ross, on the east side, and at the northern end of the principal island; the second will be placed at the head of Norman inlet, in the middle of the east coast of the principal island, during 1894; the third is in the western arm of Camp cove, Carnley harbour, at the south end of the principal island.

A life boat has been placed on Enderby island, the north-eastern of the group; another at the north-west end of Adams island, the southern of the group; and one will be placed on Rose island, immediately south-west of Enderby island, during 1894.

Approximate position: Erebus cove depôt, lat, 50° 33¼′ S., long. 166° 12′ E.

Approximate position: Norman inlet depôt, lat 50° 40½′ S., long. 166° 8′ E.

Approximate position: Camp cove depôt, lat. 50° 52½′ S, long. 166° 3′ E.

7. Campbell island.—The depôt's position, indicated by a white staff, is in Tucker cove, at the head of South or Perseverance harbour, on the east side of the island.

Approximate position: lat. 52° 33½′ S., long. 169° 6½′ E.

8. Antipodes islands.—The depôt is a hut at an elevation of 100 feet above the sea, visible from some distance north-eastward, and situated 300 feet from the landing place, which is on the north-east side of the large island, and half a mile westward of its east point.

Approximate position, lat. 49° 41¼′ S., long. 178° 43′ E.

9. BOUNTY ISLANDS.—The depôt is a hut at an elevation of 120 feet above the sea, visible from the northward, and situated southward of the western inlet of the principal island—the north-eastern—of the Western group of the Bounty islands.

Approximate position: lat. 47° 43½′ S., long. 179° 0½′ E.

10. KERMADEC ISLANDS.—There are two depôts, each a small galvanised iron shed, fitted with spouting and a tank to catch water, and containing a supply of biscuits, medicines, tools, &c. One is situated on the southern side of Macdonald cove (crater), on the north-west side of Curtis island; the other at Lava cascade, about 1½ cables south-eastward of the northern point of Macauley island.

Approximate position: Macauley island depôt, lat. 30° 15′ S., long. 178° 31′ W.

Approximate position: Curtis I. depôt, lat. 30° 35′ S., long. 178° 36′ W.

Beacons in the approach to Jaffnapatam.

THE Officer in charge of the Marine Survey of India has given notice, dated 3rd April 1894, that a white stone beacon, about 30 feet high, has been erected on the south-east end of Delft island; it marks the position of the station used by the Great Trigonometrical Survey of India when triangulating between India and Ceylon.

Approximate position lat. 9° 28′ 50″ N., long. 79° 41′ 20″ E.

Similar beacons, 25 feet high, and whose summits are about 35 feet above high water, mark other trigonometrical stations; their approximate positions are as follows:—

Punkudutivu beacon (Pungre Tivo), lat. 9° 34′ 25″ N., long. 79° 49′ 25″ E.
Palaitivu beacon, lat. 9° 29′ 18″ N., long. 79° 59′ 10″ E.
Kalmunai beacon, lat. 9° 36′ 20″ N., long. 80° 01′ 15″ E.

PACIFIC OCEAN—NEW GUINEA, NORTH-EAST COAST.

Reported dangers.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 120 of 1894) of the existence of the following dangers on the north-east coast of New Guinea:—

1. A reef, about half a cable in extent east and west, and on which the sea breaks in bad weather, lies about 2 miles offshore, at 10 miles westward of cape Lapar, or approximately in lat. 3° 3′ S., long. 142° 11′ E.

2. Paris island and Unei appear to be connected by a reef; the passages between Paris island and Guap, and Gressien island and Guap are reported to be free from dangers.

Approximate position, Paris island, lat. 3° 21′ S., long. 143° 24′ E.

3. A narrow reef, about a cable long east and west, and with depths of 5 to 6 feet on it, lies in the eastern approach to Dallman harbour, in a position with Meta island, bearing W. ¼ N. (N. 87° W.), distant 4 miles; and east extreme D'Urville island N. N. W. ¾ W. (N. 31° W.); or approximately in lat. 3°. 26′ S., long. 143° 39′ E.

4. A rock, with a depth of 6 feet on it, lies midway between Bilibili island and the coast, or approximately in lat. 5° 20′ S., long. 145° 45¾′ E.

5. The rock marked on the chart about 2 miles north-eastward of cape King, the north point of Rook island, lies about 2 miles north-westward of that position, or approximately in lat. 5° 24½′ S., long. 147° 48½′ E. Two small reefs lie one mile offshore at 6 miles eastward of cape King.

6. A shoal lies 3 miles W. by N. (N. 79° W) from Heyn island, or approximately in lat. 5° 23½′ S., long. 147° 42½′ E.

THE EMBANKMENT REPORT FOR 1892-93.

No. 567*I*.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 26th April 1894.

READ—

The Embankment Reports for 1892-93.

A material alteration in the scope of, and the procedure followed in submitting, the annual embankment reports was effected by the orders contained in Irrigation Department Resolution No. 5T.—I., dated 2nd May 1893. The reports for 1892-93 were for the first time compiled by Superintending Engineers of Irrigation Circles and submitted direct to the Chief Engineer, instead of the Executive Engineers' reports being forwarded through the Civil Officers and the Board of Revenue, as has been the practice in former years. The reports now deal with not only embankments, but all drainage and other miscellaneous irrigation works which are not dealt with in the Canal Revenue Report.

2. The classification of the public embankments in Bengal given in the report for 1891-92 is adhered to, the embankments being divided into two classes:—

First.—Embankments the property of Government, which are maintained at the public expense.

Second.—Embankments maintained by Government officers at the cost of the persons interested.

In the first class there are—

A.—The embankments in Orissa which are maintained under Act XXXII of 1855.

B.—The embankments enumerated in Schedule D of Act VI (B.C.) of 1873, among which are included those of the Burdwan Raj estate taken over in 1804, and some additional lengths which have at various times been added to the schedule under the provisions of section 43 of Act II (B.C.) of 1882, as also two short lengths of embankments in the Pabna and Bankura districts.

Embankments of the second class are situated in several districts, the most important being those on the banks of the river Gandak in the Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Saran districts, and those in the Midnapore district. These again are divided into two classes—

C.—Those in which the cost of maintenance is recovered from the persons interested by the payment of a fixed annual charge under a contract extending over a term of years not exceeding 30, as provided for in sections 63-68 of Act II (B.C.) of 1882.

D.—Those in which the cost of maintenance is recovered from the persons interested by an annual apportionment of the actual charges.

Lengths of embankments and areas protected.

3. The lengths of embankments in each class are shown below. As regards the area protected, the reports for this year are incomplete, but steps are being taken to collect the required information by next year—

Embankments.	Length.		Area protected.
	Miles.	Feet.	Square miles.
1	2	3	4
Embankments maintained at the expense of Government—
A.—In Orissa	801	2,795	.....
B.—Schedule D and other Government embankments.	1,124	1,134	.....
Embankments not maintained at the expense of Government—
C.—Maintained under contract.	470	3,622	.....
D.— Ditto by annual apportionment of charges.	75	840	.....

Corresponding total for 1891-92 ...	2,487	2,575	.....
Difference, decrease ...	15	4,744

An addition of 8 miles 920 feet to the reported length of embankments occurred in class A, owing to a thorough revision of the lists in the Orissa Circle, and additions of 2,712 feet in the Hooghly district, South-Western Circle, and of 1,245 feet in the Malda district, Northern Circle, are also reported. The reductions in length comprise 4 miles 1,120 feet in the 24-Parganas district, owing to the abandonment of the embankments on the Bagmari Khal and portions of those on the Charial Khal, a reduction of 8 miles in the Burdwan district on account of the Chanchai embankment, Schedule D No. 32A, long since abandoned, both in the South-Western Circle; while 12 miles 3,221 feet have been struck off the length of the Champaran embankment in the Champaran district, Sone Circle, of which 1½ miles are due to the washing away of a portion at the northern end of the embankment, 5½ miles to the construction of a shorter retired line at Fatehpur, and 5 miles 3,221 feet to the reductions caused from time to time by numerous retired lines. The lists of the Orissa embankments (class A) are being revised, in view of the land settlement now in progress.

Floods.

4. The floods of the year were of ordinary character, except those in the river Mahanadi and its branches, which rose to an abnormal height, the gauge readings in almost every case being identical with those observed in the great flood of 1872. Although the levels of these two floods are the highest on record, it appears probable, from recent enquiries, that their heights were exceeded by more than six inches by the floods which occurred in the years 1834 and 1835. As might be expected, the embankments were extensively breached, mainly in the Puri Division, where the numerous branches of the Mahanadi which traverse the district are flanked by marginal embankments which cannot be held intact even in years of ordinary flood. No less than 127 breaches occurred in the Puri Division, aggregating 4 miles 87 feet in length, while in the Acquapada Jajpur Division there were 18 of an aggregate length of 1,577 feet. In the Mahanadi Division there was only one large breach, 620 feet long, and three smaller ones, and from the Brahmani-Baitarni Division the number reported is four. The resulting damage to crops was considerable. Remissions of revenue to the extent of Rs. 15,000 are reported to have been given in the Puri district, and in the Cuttack district half the produce of the crops on 226 acres was lost. In the Sone Circle the zamindari bunds on the Gogra river were breached, and a considerable area inundated in the Saran district. These bunds have been allowed by the zamindars to fall into a state of disrepair; but even if restored to their former condition, they would be ineffective against high floods, and would only partially exclude floods of ordinary height. The question of effectively embanking the Gogra river in the Saran district has for some time past been receiving the careful consideration of Government, the decision finally come to, in Resolution No. 210*L*., dated 8th February 1894, being that it is inexpedient to attempt anything in the nature of efficient protection, but that the existing zamindari bunds may, if the landowners desire, be restored to their former condition.

Surveys and investigations.

5. Only two investigations were carried out during the year under review. One of these had reference to a petition for the construction of a protective embankment on the Kana Nadi in the Birbhum district, and the other to the proposal for embanking the Gogra river referred to in the preceding paragraph. The former scheme has not yet been submitted for the orders of Government.

Original Works.

6. An expenditure of Rs. 13,742 was incurred during the year in the Brahmani-Baitarni Division of the Orissa Circle on river protective works, mainly due to the construction of the six groynes at Patamundi, alluded to in last year's Resolution, which were completed in 1892-93. Among works of smaller cost may be mentioned the erection of a self-acting gauge on the Mutla river at Port Canning, and the raising of a portion of the embankment which protects the town of Cuttack from the Mahanadi floods.

Maintenance.

7. (a) Ordinary repairs.—The ordinary repairs to the embankments in the Orissa Circle call for no special remark. In the South-Western Circle, the sum spent on ordinary repairs amounted to Rs. 1,65,357, against an expenditure of Rs. 1,37,460 last year. The difference was due mainly to protective works for the safety of the Doro embankment, and to the extra quantity of work found necessary in raising and protecting embankments in the Midnapore and 24 Parganas districts. In the Sone Circle extensive repairs of river protective works were rendered necessary by the damage caused by the flood which occurred in August 1892.

(b) Breaches and retired lines.—The work of filling the extensive breaches in the Puri Division of the Orissa Circle cost a sum of Rs. 18,571, while in the South-Western Circle the spur works for closing the breaches in the Damodar right embankment at Bangachia were completed, the work having cost in all Rs. 3,715. In this circle the amount expended on retiring embankments, where threatened by encroachments of the rivers, amounted to Rs. 26,621 against

Rs. 29,672 in 1891-92. The principal amounts were Rs. 13,813 for the Sujapur and Mahmudpur retired lines in the Murshidabad district, and Rs. 10,457 for six small retired lines in the 24-Parganas.

The cost of repairing the Burdwan Raj Estate embankments in the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum, Hooghly and Midnapore was Rs. 85,803 against Rs. 89,246 in 1891-92.

Financial. 8. The cost of repairing the Orissa embankments (class A) during the year under review amounted to Rs. 1,18,039, which for a total mileage of 801 miles is at the average rate of Rs. 147 per mile. The schedule D embankments (class B), whose aggregate length is 1,124 miles, were more expensive to repair, the total cost being Rs. 2,03,071, and the mileage rate Rs. 181 per mile.

As regards embankments maintained by Government, under contract, with the persons interested (class C), the actual cost of repairs amounted to Rs. 92,996, or Rs. 197 per mile; the sums payable under contract, compared with the maintenance charges, including book charges for establishment and tools and plant, are shown in the following table, together with the amount recovered during the year, and the balance remaining to be recovered:—

It will be seen from these figures that Government is a loser by Rs. 37,926 on the results of the year, and that the outstanding balance to be recovered amounts to Rs. 42,079.

Under the provisions of Act II (B.C.) of 1882, the outlay incurred by the Public Works Department on embankments of class D cannot be brought on the books of the Civil Department as recoverable until it has been accepted by the Collectors concerned, after somewhat protracted enquiries, the unavoidable result being a heavy arrear balance on the books of the Public Works Department. The actual outlay of the year is stated by the Superintending Engineers concerned (Appendix D) to have been 59,170, while the recoveries of the year as reported by Collectors (Appendix D, column 7) were Rs. 18,443, the arrear balance at the close of the year being Rs. 2,55,626, inclusive of amounts not yet accepted by Collectors pending the completion of the enquiries referred to above. Comparing these figures with those submitted by the Board of Revenue (Appendix C), it will be seen that the recoveries of the year (Appendix C, column 17) amounted to Rs. 46,023 instead of Rs 18,443, as reported by the Collectors. No explanation of this discrepancy is given. The figures in the Board's return only include amounts which have been accepted and apportioned by the Civil Department, and hence no comparison between the "Advances" and outstanding balances as here reported and as given by Superintending Engineers can be made. As regards apportionment, further enquiries are necessary under the Act, and even when the apportionment is completed, the amounts are due in instalments, many of which do not fall due till subsequent years. The time therefore that elapses between the actual outlay by Executive Engineers, and the final recovery of the amounts involved by the Civil Department must necessarily be considerable.

The figures supplied by the Board (Appendix C) are shown in a more concise form in the statement below. It is to be remembered that the figures do not include any outlay which has not been finally accepted and apportioned by the Civil Department. The recoverable amount falling due within the year was Rs. 74,747, out of which Rs. 46,023 was collected, the recoveries thus falling short of the demand by Rs. 28,724. In the explanation given by the Board (Appendix E) it is noticeable that the outstanding balance referred to as amounting to Rs. 28,724 is exclusive of Rs. 61,104 falling due in subsequent years, the total realisable balance being actually Rs. 89,828.

Information regarding the particular works which were actually carried out in each district has not been furnished, but for next year the Board of Revenue will be asked to submit the short report called for in paragraph 1 of Irrigation Department Resolution No. 5T.—I., dated the 2nd May 1893, giving an account of the works executed. The procedure to be followed in sanctioning and carrying these works was amended by the orders in Irrigation Department letter No. 229*I.*, dated the 24th February 1893, and from the year 1893-94 the administrative sanction of Government will be obtained by the Board, after consulting the Chief Engineer, for all works whose cost is estimated to exceed Rs. 1,000.

Works undertaken under the provisions of the Drainage Act.

10. There are five of these works, all of which were undertaken with a view to the drainage of the swamps in the southern part of the Hooghly district. Four of the schemes have been completed, and expenditure on the fifth (the Ampta scheme) has, so far, been confined to preliminary expenses, the project not having yet been sanctioned. The sums required for constructing these works were in the first instance advanced by Government, and are now being recovered by apportionment among the persons benefitted. It was originally intended to recover the cost of maintenance by annual apportionment of the expenditure incurred, but as the number of persons benefitted is large, and the labour and cost of annual apportionment would consequently be extremely great, the cost of maintaining the Dankuni works has been capitalised, and is now being recovered in one apportionment. Government thus accepts the responsibility of maintaining the works in perpetuity. The question of capitalising the Howrah maintenance charges was still under consideration at the close of the year.

The following account of the expenditure incurred to date is given by the Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle; the figures relate to expenditure on construction only, and include charges for establishment and tools and plant:—

		Rs.
1.	Dankuni drainage works ...	3,96,236	Completed.
2.	Howrah ditto ...	2,59,463	Do.
3.	Rajapur ditto ...	8,33,033	Do.
4.	Burrajulla ditto ...
5.	Ampta ditto ...	1,900	Not sanctioned.

The following figures relating to the Dankuni works have been obtained from the Accountant-General, Bengal:—

	Rs.
First apportionment in 1877—
Certified Public Works expenditure to end of June 1877	4,08,869
Cost of maps	1,260
Interest to 30th June 1877	72,570
Total ...	4,82,699
Deduct short apportioned	3,811
Actual first apportionment	4,78,888
Second apportionment	26,277
Third apportionment	5,253
Total ...	5,10,418

The total apportionment, Rs. 5,10,418, includes the actual cost of construction, shown above as Rs. 3,96,236, together with charges for maintenance and interest up to date.

The Collector in his third annual report on the drainage schemes, dated the 17th June 1893, reports that the net recoverable demand of principal, including maintenance charges, is Rs. 5,06,642. Further details regarding these figures are not at present available The recoveries have exceeded the apportionments by Rs. 534, owing to double payments which will be refunded. The capitalised maintenance charges amount to Rs. 65,344, of which Rs. 28,501 had been collected at the close of the year.

The complete account of the Howrah Drainage Scheme up to 31st December 1891, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th June 1894, gives the cost as follows:—

	Civil Department expenditure.	Public Works expenditure.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Original cost, including surveys, establishment and tools and plant	51,331	2,55,121	3,06,452
Maintenance	.....	3,569	3,569
Total ...	51,331	2,58,690	3,10,021
Interest	.....	.....	1,01,702
GRAND TOTAL ...	.....	.....	4,11,723

Adding the expenditure up to the end of March 1893, as given by the Collector in his third annual report on the drainage schemes in the Hooghly district, the account stands as follows: —

	Civil Department expenditure.	Public Works Department expenditure.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Original cost, including surveys, establishment, and tools and plant ...	51,331	2,58,433	3,09,761
Maintenance	.....	4,783	4,783
Total ...	51,331	2,63,213	3,14,544
Interest	.....	.....	1,01,702
GRAND TOTAL ...	.....	.....	4,16,246

The figures were supplied by the Accountant General. The total original cost incurred in the Public Works Department, shown here as Rs. 2,58,433, differs from the amount, Rs. 2,59,463, given by the Superintending Engineer, but no explanation of the discrepancy is at present available.

The expenditure up to 31st December 1892 amounted to Rs. 4,11,723, and the amount apportioned was Rs. 4,17,569, leaving a margin for remissions.

The Accountant-General's account of the expenditure incurred on the Rajapur and Barajolla scheme up to the 31st March 1893 is as follows :—

	Civil Department expenditure.	Public Works Department expenditure.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Original works, including surveys, establishment, and tools and plant.	79,917	8,33,758	9,13,675
Maintenance	.....	3,002	3,002
Total ...	79,917	8,36,760	9,16,677

In this case again there is a discrepancy, though of small amount, between the Accountant-General's figures and those supplied by the Superintending Engineer.

The schemes have proved of great benefit to the lands concerned, being used both for drainage and irrigation purposes. Mr. Grierson, the Covenanted Deputy Collector, remarks, after an inspection of the tract, "great swamps, scarcely habitable by reason of leeches, hot beds of malaria, have been converted into magnificent tracts of rice land cultivated by well-to-do healthy peasants"

Drainage work carried out at the cost of Government.

11. Two original works were completed during the year, viz., the Balliagahi drainage works in the southern portion of the Midnapur district at a cost of Rs. 1,73,998, of which the year's expenditure amounted to Rs. 21,759, and the remodelling of the Protapkhali khal at a total cost of Rs. 7,141. As regards the former, the conversion of the Balliagahi Branch Canal into a drainage channel was undertaken, as explained in last year's Resolution, with the double object of improving the bed of the Rasulpur river by causing an increased scour, and of draining a tract of country known as the Barachauka Jolla, and of that lying to the west of the Argawal circuit embankment. The work has continued to be successful in the above respects during the year under review, while its use as a navigation channel is established. The remodelling of the Protapkhali khal was undertaken in 1891-92, on the representation of the inhabitants living on both sides of the khal, for the efficient drainage of a tract of country about 16 square miles in extent. The khas tahsil drainage khals and the Balli bhil drainage works were maintained, the expenditure on the latter being Rs. 1,001.

Drainage works the Embankment Act.

12. Expenditure was incurred on five original works, of which the most important was the drainage of the Dainan basin, on which Rs. 25,865 was spent during the year. The work was completed in March 1893 at a total cost of Rs. 59,769. The only work maintained was the Charial khal drainage scheme, completed in the year 1890-91.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of its Appendices (A to E) be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette, and submitted to the Government of India, Public Works Department, for information.

Ordered also that copies of this Resolution and of its Appendices (A to E) be forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Revenue and Financial Departments; Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces; Commissioners of the Patna, Bhagalpur, Rajshahi, Presidency, Burdwan and Orissa Divisions; Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western, Sone, Northern and Western Circles, and Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. D. McARTHUR, Lieut.-Col., R.E.,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

APPENDIX E.

Explanation of Appendix B relating to Embankments of class D.

Extract from Board's Resolution on Return No. XXVIII.—Recovery of several kinds of advances made in different districts in Bengal, during 1892-93.

Embankment advances.—There was a balance of Rs. 87,121 remaining unrealised on the 31st of March 1892, and a sum of Rs. 45,710 was advanced during the year under review for the maintenance and repairs of embankments under Act II (B.C.) of 1882, thus making a total realizable demand of Rs. 1,32,831. Out of this Rs. 71,727, or nearly 54 per cent. with interest amounting to Rs. 3,020, fell due during the year. The total collections amounted to Rs. 46,023, and the balance outstanding at the close of the year was Rs. 28,724, of which Rs. 27,020 were on account of principal and Rs. 1,704 on account of interest. The balances are largest in the districts of Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Saran and Monghyr.

In Muzaffarpur, certificates for the recovery of Rs. 964 have been filed, and steps to realize the remainder will soon be taken, as most of the balances were on account of the kist ending on the 28th of March 1893. In Darbhanga, the whole of the balance is covered by certificates. In Saran, a sum of Rs. 950 has been recovered since the close of the year, and the balance is in course of realization. In Monghyr, out of the balance of Rs 1,428, a sum of Rs. 473 has since been realized. The certificate procedure has been resorted to for the recovery of Rs. 134, and post-card warnings have been issued to the defaulters for the recovery of Rs. 821.

NOTE ON THE LATE COTTON CROP IN BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1893-94.

THE following is published for general information.

REVENUE DEPT.,
The 26th April, 1894.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Note on the Late Cotton Crop in Bengal for the year 1893-94.

Explanatory.—There are generally speaking two cotton crops in Bengal, viz., the early crop, which is sown during the monsoon rains and harvested during the cold weather, and the late crop, which is usually sown at the close of the rainy season and harvested in the hot weather.

Under existing orders, returns are required from 23 districts in these Provinces in which cotton is grown. On enquiries recently made, it has been reported that only an early crop of cotton is grown in six districts, viz. Jalpaiguri, Chittagong Hill Tracts, Sonthal Parganas, Hazaribagh, Lohardaga, and Palamau, and that a late crop only is grown in seven districts, viz. Bankura, Birbhum, Patna, Darbhanga, Muzaffarpur, Saran, and Champaran. Both the early and late varieties are grown in the following districts:—Midnapore, Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Cuttack, Balasore, Puri, Angul and Khondmals, Manbhum and Singhbhum. The district of Gaya, which appeared in the early cotton forecast, has been now omitted, both in the estimates of early and late cotton, as the Collector reports that the areas under cultivation (60 acres under early cotton and 40 acres under late cotton) are so nominal that forecasts seem unnecessary. A report on the early cotton crop was issued by this Department on the 8th December 1893. On subsequent enquiry, it was found that, owing to a misunderstanding among District Officers as to what is meant by the early crop and what by the late crop, some districts in which late cotton only is grown were included in the forecast of the early crop, while in other cases it was found that areas returned as planted with early cotton really included cultivation both of the early and late varieties. It has been found necessary therefore to correct the figures furnished in the forecast of the early cotton crop, and to compile them in a revised statement which is hereto annexed.

The cultivation of cotton in these Provinces has, on the whole, very little commercial importance as compared with the cotton crops of other provinces. The Chittagong Hill Tracts is the only district in which cotton cultivation may be said to be increasing, and this is chiefly due to the extension of jum and plough cultivation. It is also the only district in which cotton is now grown for export. The produce of the other districts of Bengal is believed to be locally consumed. From statistics of area given in the attached statements, which it must be remembered are mere estimates, and are not based on measurements, it will be seen that out of the 22 districts of these Provinces included in the returns, nine districts only show areas under cotton exceeding 10,000 acres.

2. Area sown.—The total area under late cotton for the year 1893-94 appears from the estimates attached to this note to be 114,300 acres, as against 127,300 acres under the same crop in the previous year. The decrease is due generally to excess of rainfall, especially at the time of sowing. In Cuttack and Puri, however, the diminution in area is reported to be due to want of rain at the sowing time.

The revised figures for the early crop harvested in the cold weather of 1893-94 show 101,600 acres against 103,600 acres of the previous year.

3. Character of the crop.—Assuming that 20 annas represents a bumper crop, 16 annas an average crop, and 12 annas three-fourths of an average crop, in Birbhum, Saran, Bhagalpur, and Angul alone is the outturn of late cotton reported to be average or above the average. The crop is less than 8 annas in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore, Muzaffarpur, Puri, and Manbhum. In other places, the crop is estimated to be between half an average crop and a full average crop. Taking the arithmetical mean of the figures of outturn of all the cotton-growing districts, the late crop may be estimated to yield an outturn of 11⅛ annas, or about three-fourths of an average crop. The comparatively low outturn may be attributed to excess of rain during the year. Floods are also reported to have affected the crops adversely in most of the districts of the Patna Division.

The revised figures for the early crop harvested in the cold weather of 1893-94 show a two-thirds crop.

Statement I

Forecast of the late cotton crop of Bengal, 1893-94.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Division.	District.	Approximate normal area under late cotton.	Approximate area sown last year (1892-93).	Estimated area sown this year (1893-94).	Taking 16 annas to represent the average outturn per acre, how many annas represented outturn last year (1892-93)?	Taking 16 annas to represent the average outturn per acre, how many annas will represent this year's outturn (1893-94)?	Remarks by the District Officers.	Remarks by the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.
					Annas.	Annas.
Burdwan	Burbhum	1,000	1,000	1,000	16	16
	Bankúra	2,000	1,700	1,400	8	7	Owing to rainfall during the sowing time the cultivation of this crop is not very favourable, and it is expected that the outturn will be much below the normal.
	Midnapore	5,000	5,000	3,100	8½	7	The decrease in the area and outturn is due to the unusually heavy rainfall during the year.
	Patna	2,100	2,500	2,200	12	9	In the Sadar sub-division there is a decrease in the area sown which was due to excessive rainfall, but the area, though smaller, will give a better yield as the crop is doing well. There is a decrease both in area sown and the estimated outturn in Barh sub-division, which is due to excessive rain at the ploughing time. In the Dumpore sub-division, owing to heavy rainfall throughout the season, the seeds did not germinate properly; hence there is a decrease in outturn.

Patna	Saran	40,000	40,000	40,000	13	16	Better outturn this year is due to favourable rainfall.	The estimate of area sown in cotton in Table A of Agricultural Statistics for 1892-93 is 50,300 acres, and in the final bhadoi forecast for 1893 the area is estimated at 11,700 acres. The areas now shown by the Collector for late cotton, which he reports is the only kind of cotton grown in the district, do not agree with either of the above estimates.
	Champaran ...	1,000	1,000	1,000	14	10	Incessant rains and floods are the causes of decrease in the outturn.
	Muzaffarpur ...	9,000	9,000	9,000	16	5	The decrease in the outturn of this year is due to excessive rains and high floods that have caused great damage to this crop throughout the district.	Much of the loss is believed to have been due to floods.
	Darbhanga ...	12,900	12,900	12,900	16	10	The low outturn is due to excessive rainfall and floods this year.	Excessive rain fell in the months of September and October.
Bhagalpur ...	Monghyr ...	10,300	10,300	500	18	10	The crop was sown late owing to excessive rain; hence the outturn is low.	The enormous decrease in the area sown in 1893-94 is not understood.
	Bhagalpur ...	2,700	2,700	2,700	16	16
Orissa	Cuttack	5,700	4,700	4,300	12	14	The decrease in area is due chiefly to the want of rain at the sowing time. In some parts it is reported that the pending settlement has dissuaded the cultivators from sowing cotton on the sarad lands on which they were previously growing this crop.
	Puri	3,300	1,600	1,200	8	6	The decrease in the area and outturn is due to want of rainfall.
	Balasore	200	200	200	15	14	The decrease in area as compared with the normal, and in outturn as compared with that of last year, is due to rains at the time of sowing.
	Angul and Khondmals.	3,500	3,500	3,500	13	16	The statement refers to Angul sub-division only. No cotton is grown in the Khondmals.
Chota Nagpur ..	Manbhum	28,000	28,000	28,000	14	7	The low outturn is due to the excessive rainfall at the time of sowing.
	Singhbhum ...	3,200	3,200	3,200	13	13
	Total ...	139,900	127,300	114,300	13½	11½

STATEMENT II.

Revised forecast of the early cotton crop of Bengal (1893-94.)

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
DIVISION.	DISTRICT.	Approximate normal area under early cotton.	Approximate area sown last year (1892-93).	Estimated area sown this year (1893-94).	Taking 16 annas to represent the average outturn per acre, how many annas represented outturn last year (1892-93)?	Taking 16 annas to represent the average outturn per acre, how many annas will represent this year's outturn (1893-94)?	Remarks by the District Officers.	Remarks by the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.
					Annas.	Annas.
Burdwan	Midnapur	2,000	2,000	2,000	10	9	The decrease in the outturn is owing to excessive rainfall at the sowing time.
Rajshahi	Jalpaiguri ...	500	200	300	14	12	Owing to moderate rain in sowing time an increased area was sown. Heavy rainfall at the growing time injured the growth of the plant; hence this year's outturn will be worse than that of the last year.
Chittagong ...	Chittagong Hill Tracts.	17,000	17,000	17,000	7½	4	Excessive rain did much damage to cotton crop; hence the low forecast. The acreage under cotton crop is shown in Table AI of the agricultural statistics for 1891-92 as 12,500, but 17,500 acres are returned under jum crops in Table AI of 1892-93 representing, according to the process of cultivation followed by hillmen here, the area actually under cotton.	The figures in columns 3, 4 and 5 have been changed, in consequence of the Assistant Commissioner's remarks, to 17,000 acres.
Bhagalpur ...	Monghyr ...	400	200	400	13	8	It is reported that there was a break of rain towards the end of the rainy season, and hence there was damage done to this crop.
	Bhagalpur ...	11,300	11,300	11,300	15	16		No revised return has been submitted by the Collector for the early cotton crop. Bhagalpur having been reported to grow both the early and late varieties, the difference between the figures shown in the forecast of early cotton crop published in December 1893 and the figures of the late cotton crop, as now returned by the Collector, has been shown as the area under early cotton in columns 3, 4 and 5.

	Santhal Parganas	12,800	13,300	13,300	11½	13	.....
Orissa	Cuttack ..	3,100	2,100	1,900	11	10	Owing to unusual heavy rain and consequent floods at the sowing time, the area under this year's cotton crop is below the normal. The low outturn is also due to the same cause and to the high floods and untimely rainfall.	The decrease in area is due to the abnormal fall of rain in the month of May (32·08 inches against a normal average fall of 3·26 inches).
	Puri	14,500	12,500	10,000	6	12	Owing to abundant rainfall in May, the area under cotton decreased, but the outturn is expected to be good owing to the season being favourable.
	Balasore ...	1,000	1,000	900	11	12	The decrease in area is due to excessive rain at the time of sowing, and the increase in outturn, as compared with that of last year, is in consequence of good rains.
	Angul and Khondmals.	1,500	1,500	1,500	16	16	No cotton is grown in the Khondmals.
Chota Nagpur ...	Hazaribagh ...	7,500	7,500	7,500	19½	12	—
	Lohardaga ...	11,000	11,000	11,000	14	12	This is not a cotton-producing district. What is produced is barely sufficient to meet the consumption of the people of the district.
	Palamau	10,000	5,300	5,500	13	11	Owing to excessive rainfall the outturn is worse than last year.	It is not stated why the area sown this year should be below the normal. The decrease may be due to excessive rainfall at sowing time or to misconception as to the term 'normal area,' which is sometimes wrongly taken to be the maximum area ever sown with a particular crop?
	Manbhum	12,000	12,000	12,000	14	7	Heavy rainfall injured the crop.	Excessive rainfall fell chiefly in the months of June and July last, but it does not seem to have affected the area sown.
	Singhbhum ..	7,200	7,200	7,200	13	14
	Total ..	111,500	103,600	101,600	12	10½

Explanation.—Summary—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question. tions in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one of which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 28th of April 1894.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the addition of a rainy day is when at least 0 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 1*st May* 1894.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 28TH OF APRIL 1894.

At the commencement of the week pressure was very nearly normal all round the Bay with an area of abnormally high pressure and abnormally low temperature over the land area to the north. A slight fall of the barometer on the 22nd did not much alter the relative distribution, but transferred the line of zero deviation from normal considerably further north, a movement which was continued during the 23rd by a further slight fall of the barometer. Until the morning of the 26th no serious change had taken place, and so far as Bengal and the adjacent provinces were concerned, the distribution showed the usual isobaric curves in about normal direction. On this date, however, irregular pressure changes in Burma created an area of relatively low pressure off the Tenasserim coast. By the 27th this shallow depression had become slightly deeper, owing to a slow fall in Burma, and the effect was somewhat intensified by a slow to brisk recovery over the west coast of the Bay. The chief indications of unsettled weather, however, were the shift of wind and rising sea at Diamond Island. By the morning of the 28th pressure had given way over the whole reporting area, but especially at Saugor Island and Diamond Island, where the fall amounted to nearly one-eighth of an inch, and it became apparent that a small storm had formed in the Andaman sea almost precisely like the one which formed last year on almost exactly the same date. This is the more noteworthy, inasmuch as a storm in the Bay is a most unusual occurrence for the month of April.

The pressure changes in Bengal on the 27th had altered the distribution very considerably, and the area of lowest relative pressure in this region had become transferred to Assam.

Temperature changes during the week have also been of considerable importance. On the 22nd the defect from the normal in South-West Bengal averaged as much as 6°, while on the 28th it is about normal, being in excess to the east and in defect to the west. There has been a very appreciable rise in temperature everywhere except in Burma, and the eastern districts have been hotter than usual. The week closes with an abnormally hot area in East and North Bengal and temperature slightly deficient in the western districts. The average mean temperature for the whole week is in defect 1·7° for South-West Bengal and 1·4° for Chota Nagpur and Orissa, while it is in excess 0·7° in North Bengal, 0·4° in East Bengal and 0·6° in Bihar. The highest maxima during the week were 107·4° at Dehri and 107° at Gaya.

Rainfall.—All districts have received rain, in all cases arising from local thunderstorms. The average for North Bengal stands as high as 2·62 inches, considerably more than double the normal, and although Chota Nagpur has received only 0·60 inch, still this represents six times its usual share. Bihar obtained about its usual average, but South, West and East Bengal are considerably behind the normal.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 28th of April 1894:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

The 5th May 1894.

No. 20*Marine.*—The following amended rules for the medical inspection of vessels at the port of Calcutta, which have been made by the Lieutenant-Governor in supersession of those issued under notification No. 132Marine, dated the 19th May 1891, which was published in Part I, page 492, of the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th idem, are hereby published for general information.

RULES FOR THE MEDICAL INSPECTION OF VESSELS AT THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

Rule I.—The master of every in-coming vessel, on board of which there is either among the passengers or crew any case of cholera, small-pox, measles, or other epidemic disease or of diphtheria, or scarlatina, or if two or more deaths from unknown or suspicious causes have occurred on the voyage, shall report such case or cases to the pilot immediately upon his going on board at the Sandheads, and the pilot shall hoist a signal, which shall be during the day flag R of the Commercial Code at the main, and during night two white lights, one over the other, at the fore, and the pilot in charge, in addition to hoisting the signal R at the main, is to telegraph from Saugor, or the nearest telegraph station, the name of the particular disease, number of cases on board, and number of deaths from epidemic disease or other suspicious causes that have occurred during the voyage, both to the Port Officer and to the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta, using table 22 of the Pilot's Cypher Code.

Rule II.—The Port Officer on receiving information by telegraph from Saugor, or any telegraph station, that a vessel having small-pox on board has passed the station upwards, shall at once communicate the information to the Health Officer of the Town and the Deputy Commissioner of Police, with a view to obtain the services of vaccinators with a supply of lymph in sufficient time to commence the necessary vaccine operation immediately after the ship's arrival, and to obtain the assistance of the police for removing cases of small-pox on the ship's arrival to the Campbell Hospital.

Rule III.—The Deputy Commissioner of Police, as early as possible after receipt of this information, shall instruct the River Police Inspector to place himself in communication with the Health Officer of the Port to receive such instruction as that officer may consider to be necessary for the efficient operation of these rules, and for the removal of the sick to hospital.

Rule IV.—The Health Officer, as early as possible after the arrival of the vessel in port, shall inspect it, and more especially its sanitary condition, shall enquire into the circumstances attending the case or cases of the said disease, shall arrange for the conveyance of all persons suffering from such disease to a hospital, unless such person, if suffering from a disease other than small-pox, or his friends, can make adequate provision elsewhere, and shall also arrange for the disposal of the dead, if any, if the friends are not able to make suitable arrangements, or are unwilling to carry them out.

Rule V.—Where the disease or diseases in question other than small-pox is or are limited to one or two cases, the vessel shall not be prohibited from taking up the usual place of anchorage in the port, nor shall the passengers be detained on board pending the inspection of the Health Officer; but the master of the vessel shall be held responsible that no passenger suspected of having such disease is allowed to depart before this inspection.

Rule VI.—Where cases other than small-pox have been more numerous than two, or when from their occurring on a pilgrim or emigrant ship or for other special reasons, further precaution may be deemed advisable, the vessel shall anchor at Matiaburj Ghat, and none of the passengers shall be allowed to leave until the Health Officer has made his inspection.

Rule VII.—In case of small-pox (even on the occurrence of one case only) the vessel shall anchor at Matiaburj Ghat, and none of the passengers or crew shall be allowed to leave until the Health Officer of the Port has made his inspection and given permission. It shall be the duty of the Health Officer of the Port to vaccinate or have vaccinated all persons who appear to require this protection, and to arrange with the police for the removal to hospital of all affected persons after their bodies have been anointed with carbolised oil or other disinfectant.

Rule VIII.—Vessels coming under these last two rules shall be thoroughly cleansed and disinfected in the manner provided by the rules made under the Indian Ports Act, 1889.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in and subject to the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Burdwan, will be put up to sale at the Burdwan Collectorate on the 27th June 1894, corresponding with the 14th Asar 1301 B. S.

Bidders will be bound by the following conditions of sale :—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The estates will be sold to the highest bidder, provided his bid reaches the upset price fixed by the Collector. The purchasers of these estates will be considered the proprietors of the estates, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to them as revenue-free or subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity, as indicated in the statement below.

2*nd*.—The sale will be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers will be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount shall be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid shall be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale will be cancelled, (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government,) and the estate again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876:—

Bengal Secretariat Press, 10, Lyon's Range, Calcutta.

Remittances to be forwarded to the Accountant and Treasurer Bengal Secretariat, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta.

All the wanting parts of the INDIAN LAW REPORTS (complete series) having now been reprinted, the complete Reports from 1876 to 1893 may be purchased for all the years, or for any particular year, on application to the Superintendent of Government Printing in Bengal, 10, Lyon's Range, Calcutta.

The subscription, Rs. 22-8 per annum, should be remitted in advance to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat.

Notice

IT is hereby notified, for general information, that subscriptions to the complete series of the Indian Law Reports should be registered during the first three months of each calendar year. Subscribers are therefore requested to send in their subscriptions of the complete series before the 31st March in each year. Those who register their names after that date will understand that copies will be supplied only if available.

INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

SUBSCRIBERS are hereby informed that, unless complaint of non-receipt of any number is made to the Publisher of the series within three months of the date of publication, the benefits of the subscription rates for copies lost in transit will not be allowed, and full rates will be charged. Acts of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

The following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 19th March, 1894, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 14th April, 1894, is hereby published for general information:—

ACT No. III OF 1894.

An Act to give effect to an agreement made between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to sanction and give effect to a memorandum of agreement made the second day of September, 1893, between the Corporation of Calcutta of the one part and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, of the other part, a copy whereof is set forth in the schedule to this Act; and whereas without the authority of the Legislature the said memorandum of agreement would be of no effect; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1894, and it shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor General.

The agreement declared valid.

2. The memorandum of agreement, a copy whereof is set forth in the schedule of this Act, is hereby authorised, sanctioned and declared valid and binding upon the Corporation of Calcutta and upon the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, and its assignees.

SCHEDULE.

(Referred to in section 2.)

Certain beacons and landmarks missing at Mergui.

THE Port Officer, Rangoon, through the Officiating Director of the Royal Indian Marine, has given notice that the following beacons and landmarks are missing at Mergui:—

(1) Both Eastern and Western beacons at the entrance to the port.

(2) The Pagoda shown on the chart as Tree Pagoda; also the Flagstaff at the Deputy Commissioner's house.

(3) The Basket beacon on the trees north of the town is invisible from seaward and therefore useless.

A temporary beacon has been erected on the Spit extending off Kalwin point, two cables south of the position of the old one. This beacon consists of a pole surmounted by a ball.

The beacon in Fell's passage off Pigali island is also missing.

AUSTRALIA—NORTH COAST—TORRES STRAIT, WESTERN APPROACH.

Search for reported rocks southward of Bramble patch.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 72, dated 20th March 1893, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 142 of 1894) that a close but unsuccessful search has been made by Lieutenant and Commander Heming, H.M. Surveying vessel Paluma, for the rocks reported to exist in (1) lat. 10° 32¾′ S., long. 141° 35¼′ E., (2) lat. 10° 37¾′ S., long 141°34¼′ E.

Whilst it is impossible to say positively that these reported rocks do not exist in the area examined, which extends for four miles each side of the positions given by the pearl-shell divers, it appears highly probable that (1) the northern of the two is identical with the West Bramble patch, on which the Paluma found a depth of 17 feet; see Notice to Mariners No. 97 of 1894. This has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

With reference to (2), the southern of the two reported rocks, it is considered advisable at present to retain this on the Admiralty Charts, although the vagueness of the position given by the pearl-shell divers is so great as to render it possible that this also may be identical with the 17 feet found by the Paluma; or may on the other hand be to the south of the area examined.

Amended position of Matty island, and non-existence of Tiger island.

THE following Notice to Mariners, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 146 of 1894), is republished:—

Information has been received through the German Government that Captain Dallman reports that Tiger Island, marked on Admiralty charts in lat. 1° 45′ S., long. 142° 19′ E., does not exist, but is probably identical with Matty island, the correct position of which is lat. 1° 45′ S., long. 142° 47′ E., or 9 miles west of the position given on the Admiralty Charts.

Matty island is said to be 6 miles square, and to be thickly populated with a fine race of a light colour, unacquainted with the use of iron. The island is low and densely wooded.

Positions of Bernodet and Solitary islands and Salamanca rocks.

NOTICE to Mariners, No. 163 of 1894, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

With reference to Notices to Mariners, Nos. 29 of 1881 and 121 of 1891:—

Further information has been received from Mr. Greenstreet, commanding the steamer Rimutaka, that on 13th December 1893, when passing south of Kerguelen island, he sighted Mingan or Round island, which he estimated to be 300 feet high.

The Bernodet (Tremarec) islands were observed to be south (true) of Round island, or in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 55′ E.; or very nearly in the position assigned to them by Mr. Robson, commanding the Talavera, in 1891, who placed them in lat. 50° 1′ S., long. 68° 49′ E.

In consequence of these reports Bernodet islands are now placed on the Admiralty Charts in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 52′ E.

Mr. Greenstreet also sighted the Salamanca rocks, originally reported by Mr. Robson of the Salamanca in 1880, who placed them in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 69° 30′ E., but Mr. Greenstreet places them in lat. 49° 55½′ S., long. 69° 32′ E.

The probable position of these rocks is lat. 49° 58′ S., long. 69° 31′ E., and they are now so shown on the Admiralty Charts.

Solitary island was also stated by the Commander of the Talavera to be 10 miles south of its charted position in 1891, or in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 35′ E., which has been accepted for the Admiralty Charts.

SOUTH INDIAN AND SOUTH PACIFIC OCEANS.

Provision depôts for relief of ship-wrecked mariners.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 133 of 1894, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

The following particulars of all the Provision depôts, established in the South Indian and South Pacific oceans, for the benefit of ship-wrecked persons, are again published for the information of mariners:—

1. CROZET ISLANDS—HOG ISLAND.—The provision depôt is a hut near the landing place on the eastern side of the island, 2½ miles southward of the Five Giants, which lie off the north-east point of Hog island. In December 1887, the French vessel La Meurthe left at this depôt one ton of preserved beef, half a ton of biscuit, three-quarters of a hundredweight of sardines in oil, 20 blankets, 15 pairs of shoes, and 15 pairs of cloth trousers, all carefully packed in boxes. Also 2 spears, 2 hatchets, and cooking utensils.

Approximate position: depôt, lat. 46° 6½′ S., long. 50° 14½′ E.

1*a*. CROZET ISLANDS—POSSESSION ISLAND.—The provision depôt consists of huts situated about 100 yards from the coast in the south-east corner of American bay, which is on the east side of the island, and about 7 miles from Dark head, the north-east point. H. M. S. Comus, in 1880, left here sufficient provisions for 50 people for 50 days; also jerseys, trousers, stockings and shoes. The provisions were intact when Possession island was visited by the French vessel La Meurthe in December 1887.

Approximate position: depôt, lat. 46° 23′ S., long. 51° 46½′ E.

2. KERGUELEN ISLAND.—The depôt established by the French Government is situated in the south-eastern part of Jachmann peninsula, Hillsborough bay, near the south-western shore of the eastern lake, and about half a mile northward of the coast, opposite Gazelle basin. It is in a cave at the foot of the west cliff of a rocky chasm running north and south, and its position is indicated by a stone cairn 11½ feet in height, and about 14 feet broad at the base, erected on the summit of the west cliff of the chasm.

This cairn, visible from Gazelle basin, is painted black, and shows clearly against the grey rocks which form the background.

The entrance to the cave has been closed by large stones, and on the cliff a few yards above it is the inscription—

Vivres et Vêtements, Eure, Janvier 1893.

Approximate position: lat. 49° 16′ 45″ S., long. 69° 40′ 30″ E.

This depôt contains:—

2,250 lbs. of preserved beef in boxes of 9 lbs.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
20 swan-skin shirts.
20 pairs of woollen drawers.
20 woollen blankets.
4 packets of matches.

The boxes of preserved beef are stowed in a pile, coated with coal tar. The biscuits are in 4 iron-hooped barrels, thickly covered with coal tar. The clothes are in two similar barrels. The matches are in a box similar to the beef boxes, painted with minium (red lead) and with a label of the contents on it.

In the event of the cairn being destroyed, the following directions should be followed to find the depôt. Land on the north side of the inlet opposite Gazelle basin, in a small creek, sheltered by a rocky point, where boats may go alongside under any circumstances of wind or tide. Proceed directly inland about half a mile as far as the shore of the lake, then turn to the westward and follow the lake to its western end, where the chasm in which the depôt is situated will be seen on the left land.

3. ST. PAUL ISLAND.—The depôt established by the French Government is in a hut of rough stones with a thatched roof, situated on the northern side of the crater near the jetty and about 50 yards from the flagstaff:—

Approximate position: lat. 38° 42′ 45″ S., long. 77° 34′ 40″ E.

This depôt contains:—

1,350 lbs. of preserved beef in boxes of 9 lbs.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
10 woollen shirts.
10 blankets.
1 soldered metal box containing 4 packets of matches.

The provisions and clothes are in 13 iron-hooped barrels, coated with tar and sand, and placed under a tarpaulin. On the door of the hut is the inscription France, Vivres et Vêtements pour naufragés, Eure, Janvier 1893, and a similar inscription is on a board within the hut.

4. AMSTERDAM ISLAND.—The depôt established by the French Government is in a large cavern in the side of a hill, about W. by S. ½ S. (S. 73° W.), 800 yards from Hosken point, the north-east extreme of the island, and bears W. ½ N. (N. 85° W.), distant about 600 yards, from the first flagstaff southward of that point.

At the entrance to the cavern is a board, fixed to two upright tarred posts, with the inscription, France, Vivres, Vêtements pour naufragés, Eure, Janvier 1893, on it.

This depôt contains:—

1,350 lbs. of preserved beef.
1,125 lbs. of biscuits.
10 woollen shirts.
10 pairs cotton drawer.
10 blankets.

One soldered metal red box containing 4 packets of matches.

Approximate position: lat. 37° 48′ 50″ S., long. 77° 32′ 30″ E.

The landing place used by the Eure is about 400 yards southward of Hosken point, and under the flagstaff mentioned above.

Directions for finding the depôt on Amsterdam:—Having landed, go to either of the flagstaffs, from whence a cross will be seen; from the cross follow the direction of its arms, leading past two ruins of rough stones, and then directly to the cavern, the entrance to which faces seaward. In the cavern, besides the provisions and clothing, there are cots, a cooking pot, and dry wood, left by the fishermen who sometimes live there. Cabbage and celery will be found near, and fish and lobsters (crawfish) abound near the landing place.

The following depôts are maintained by the Government of New Zealand. Those on Auckland, Campbell, Antipodes, Bounty, and Snares islands are visited by a steamer twice a year, and those on Kermadec islands once a year. Finger-posts to indicate the positions of the depôts are to be erected on all these islands.

5. Snares islands.—A provision depôt will be established on North-east island during 1894; it will be situated in Boat harbour at the eastern end of the island.
Approximate position: lat. 48° 4′ 35″ S., long. 166° 34′ E.

6. Auckland islands.—There are three depôts: one, a square wooden house on the south side of Erebus cove, port Ross, on the east side, and at the northern end of the principal island; the second will be placed at the head of Norman inlet, in the middle of the east coast of the principal island, during 1894; the third is in the western arm of Camp cove, Carnley harbour, at the south end of the principal island.
A life-boat has been placed on Enderby island, the north-eastern of the group; another at the north-west end of Adams island, the southern of the group; and one will be placed on Rose island, immediately south-west of Enderby island, during 1894.
Approximate position: Erebus cove depôt, lat, 50° 33½′ S., long. 166° 12′ E.
Approximate position: Norman inlet depôt, lat 50° 40½′ S., long. 166° 8′ E.
Approximate position: Camp cove depôt, lat. 50° 52½′ S, long 166° 3′ E.

7. Campbell island.—The depôt's position, indicated by a white staff, is in Tucker cove, at the head of South or Perseverance harbour, on the east side of the island.
Approximate position: lat. 52° 33½′ S., long. 169° 6½′ E.

8. Antipodes islands.—The depôt is a hut at an elevation of 100 feet above the sea, visible from some distance north-eastward, and situated 300 feet from the landing place, which is on the north-east side of the large island, and half a mile westward of its east point.
Approximate position, lat. 49° 41½′ S., long. 178° 43′ E.

9. Bounty islands.—The depôt is a hut at an elevation of 120 feet above the sea, visible from the northward, and situated southward of the western inlet of the principal island—the north-eastern—of the Western group of the Bounty islands.
Approximate position: lat. 47° 43½′ S., long. 179° 0½′ E.

10. Kermadec islands.—There are two depôts, each a small galvanised iron shed, fitted with spouting and a tank to catch water, and containing a supply of biscuits, medicines, tools, &c. One is situated on the southern side of Macdonald cove (crater), on the north-west side of Curtis island; the other at Lava cascade, about 1½ cables south-eastward of the northern point of Macauley island.
Approximate position: Macauley island depôt, lat. 30° 15′ S., long. 178° 31′ W.

BENGAL MUNICIPAL ACT, III OF 1884, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon moved that the clauses of the Bill to amend Bengal Act III of 1884, as amended by the enlarged Select Committee, be further considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee moved that section 40 of the Bill be omitted. He said :—

"Section 40 provides that the Local Government, on the report of the Commissioner of the Division, may require the Commissioners of a municipality to revise the assessments, on the Local Government being satisfied that the assessments made by them are insufficient or inequitable, or may call upon the Commissioners to show cause against such order. If they fail to comply with such order, or if the assessment, as revised by them, is still considered insufficient or inequitable, the Local Government may require the Commissioners to appoint an Assessor for a period specified in the order, and such Assessor shall exercise all the powers of assessment vested by this Act in the Commissioners. I gratefully acknowledge that the section is a considerable improvement on the original section, which provided that there should be an Assessor in respect of each municipality or an Assessor in respect of two or more municipalities according to the directions of the Government; that he was to be a permanent official; that although appointed by the Commissioners, he was to be appointed under rules to be framed by the Government, and he could be dismissed by the Local Government alone. This somewhat drastic provision has been abandoned in favour of the section to which my amendment refers. I am free to admit that there are instances of unjust or inequitable assessment made by Municipal Commissioners, but I am not satisfied that the section, even as revised by the Select Committee, is necessary. I do not see the justification for this section. Is this the remedy for inequitable or insufficient assessment? Ought we not rather to trust the Commissioners, depend on the steady operation of those forces which are already at work, and which are making our municipal institutions a greater success, day by day. We are familiar with the history of municipal and parliamentary institutions in England; we know how they have outgrown the defects and even the corruptions of their early days until they have become what they now are—the models of similar institutions throughout the civilized world. Similar circumstances will contribute to produce similar results even in India. It is the patience and forbearance of the Rulers of the English people that have produced these results. Patience and forbearance will not be lost upon the Bengal Municipalities. Great administrative achievements are not the work of a day: they are the growth of time, the slow result of those forces which work noiselessly in the bosom of society. They are less the outcome of legislative enactments, however wise in their scope, and however beneficent in their intentions.

"I should feel less hesitation in accepting the amendment of the law proposed by this section, if I could persuade myself to believe that the evil was widespread or general; but, so far from that being the case, every revision of the municipal assessment has been attended with a substantial increase of municipal revenue. I hold in my hand the Government Reports on the Working of Municipalities in Bengal, containing the figures of four years preceding 1893-94 (the figures for 1893-94 are not yet available), and they amply bear out the view which I have ventured to put forward, namely, that the result of municipal assessments shows a distinct increase of municipal revenue each time. For instance, the result of the revision of assessment in 1889-90 was to give an increase of revenue to the extent of Rs. 10,984, taking all the municipalities in Bengal; the result of the revision in 1890-91 was even more satisfactory, the increase being to the extent of Rs. 21,075; in 1891-92 it was still more satisfactory, looking at the figures from the point of view which I shall presently explain; the increase was Rs. 19,926, but this includes a decrease of nearly Rs. 8,000 owing to a revision of the assessments in the Darjeeling Municipality, so that there was an increase of Rs. 26,000 in respect of all the municipalities in Bengal excluding Darjeeling; in 1892-93, the last year for which we have the figures, there was an increase of Rs. 55,234 over the revenues of the preceding year. Could anything be more conclusive or convincing than these figures, in the eloquent testimony which they bear to the capacity and public spirit of our Municipal Commissioners in making assessments? Here and there, there may be cases of partiality—here and there, there may be instances of insufficient and inequitable assessments, but taking the assessments as a whole—and the practical administrator is bound to be guided by general results and not by isolated cases—it must be admitted that the Municipal Commissioners in Bengal have done their duty properly and well, and that, under their fostering care and influence, the municipal revenues have steadily increased. I submit that, under the circumstances, it would be but a poor return for loyal and devoted work done by the bulk of the Municipalities in Bengal for the Government to ask for and to assume a further extension of the powers of control in order to be able to deal with isolated instances of municipal recusancy. Your Honour observed the other day that we ought to assume that Municipal Commissioners would act reasonably. I feel sure that if you trust them and place confidence in them, your trust will not be abused—your confidence will not be misplaced; they will evoke a deeper sense of responsibility, and will call forth a wider effort on the part of the Municipal Commissioners to prove themselves worthy of the confidence which the Government has reposed in them. With these remarks, I have the honour to move that section 40 of the Bill be omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"After the elaborate discussion to which the Assessor sections of this Bill have been subjected, and after the modifications which have been made in them from time to time, with the object of complying, as far as possible, with the reasonable wishes of the public, so far as they could be ascertained, I had hoped that the sections, as they now stand in the Bill, would have been passed into law by this Council without being once more put upon their defence. But it appears, Sir, that this aspiration was premature, and that the hon'ble member who has moved the amendment considers himself bound to press to the very last the views of which he is the exponent, and to attempt what I trust, Sir, will prove to be the hopeless task of persuading this Council that the power which it is proposed to confer upon Government to require the appointment of an Assessor of municipal taxes under certain circumstances is wholly unnecessary and entirely opposed to the best interests of municipal administration in Bengal. As the glove has been thrown down, Sir, I have no alternative but to lift it. I will endeavour to show, with as much brevity as the subject permits, what strong grounds exist for the appointment of an Assessor, and how much the Lieutenant-Governor has conceded to the wishes and the opinions of the numerous advisers of all classes whom he has consulted.

"The circumstances under which the appointment of an Assessor was first mooted are described in a letter addressed by the Government of Bengal to the Government of India on the 21st September, 1891. It was there explained that the Lieutenant-Governor's attention had been drawn during his tours of inspection to the general inadequacy and inequality of municipal assessments throughout Bengal: he had found specific instances where Municipal Commissioners had displayed unfairness and partiality in assessments, and 'he had good grounds for believing that Municipal Commissioners themselves would not be sorry to be relieved of a duty which is profoundly distasteful to them, which places them in positions of considerable trial and temptation, and which, if they do their duty, may expose them to unpleasant social obloquy. Moreover, apart from the question of assessments which are wilfully unfair, very great inequality in assessment arises from the practice of the Commissioners dividing the work and each taking different wards or groups to value. Such a division of duties is inevitable, so long as the difficult task of valuation is discharged by a number of gentlemen who have no special qualification for the duty, and do not work on any common principle. But it is clear that it must tend to produce great injustice in the incidence of municipal taxation on individuals, and that the appointment of a single Assessor would lead to a more equitable distribution of public burdens.'

"The letter then proceeds to point out that exactly similar consequences followed in England upon the attempt to assess the poor-rate through the agency of members of a committee appointed by the vestry, the result being that, by successive enactments, power has been conferred on the guardians of parishes and unions to appoint fit and proper persons to make the assessment for them. The principles of the latest English legislation on the subject (32 and 33 Vict., cap. 67) were adopted as the basis of the sections as first framed, and section 21 of the draft Bill, which accompanied the letter from which I have been quoting, provided that, wherever the tax upon persons or rate upon holdings was imposed or came under revision, the Commissioner of the Division might appoint an Assessor of municipal taxes: this officer was to have the powers of the Commissioners in regard to assessments subject to an appeal to the Magistrate of the District: the Commissioner of the Division was empowered to appoint an Assessor either for a particular municipality or for all or some of the municipalities situated within a certain area, and was to settle his remuneration and regulate his procedure. This draft Bill was circulated on the 21st September, 1891, to local officers for opinion, and that opinion was generally favourable to the principle of these sections, though many officers criticised their details. Several officers corroborated the statement that municipal assessments were unequal and inadequate. After these reports had been considered, a further draft of the Bill was prepared and circulated on the 7th January, 1892, for an expression of the opinion of Commissioners, District Officers and Municipal Commissioners.

"The provisions as to the Assessor were contained in sections 27 to 31 of that Bill. It was then enacted that whenever the Magistrate of the District found reason to disapprove of any assessment, he was to call on the Commissioners to revise it, and if they failed to do so, or to satisfy him that it was fair and proper, he could, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, appoint an Assessor for the purpose: the Assessor was to be associated with two Municipal Commissioners, and arrangements were made for the decision of differences between the Assessor and his colleagues. In commenting upon these sections, the Hon'ble MR. RISLEY wrote as follows:—

'In the sections which have been drafted for this purpose, the Lieutenant-Governor has endeavoured to attain the object in view with the least possible interference with the independence of the Municipal Commissioners. Under section 62 of the Act, as it now stands, the Magistrate of the District has already the power to call for and examine the assessment list: and the procedure provided in section 112A of the Bill gives the Commissioners ample power to remove, of their own motion, the defects to which the Magistrate may draw attention. If, after the full warning which will be given to them, they neglect to take the necessary action to revise the list, they have only themselves to blame when the Magistrate takes the work of assessment out of their hands. Even in that case, however, they will be given ample opportunity to state their views while the assessment is going on.'

"The Government of India gave a general assent to these provisions. Before the third draft of the Bill was introduced into Council on the 16th July, 1892, these proposals had been further modified, and section 28 provided for the appointment of an Assessor of municipal taxes for every municipality or any two or more municipalities according as the Local Government shall direct: he was to be appointed by the Commissioners themselves, subject to the approval of the Local Government, and the Lieutenant-Governor was empowered to make the necessary rules for his pay and appointment: at the same time, a complete set of instructions was elaborated to guide him in the work of assessment.

"The preliminary report of the Select Committee was laid before Council on the 30th August of the same year: the Bill as presented by them made practically no alterations in the Assessor sections, the reason being that until the question was settled whether the tax on persons should be retained, the Committee considered it useless to go into the matter of the Assessor. The Bill in the form which was presented to Council was circulated once more, and when the Select Committee which sat through the cold weather of 1892-93 prepared the draft, which for reasons that I have already stated in this Council was never presented, the Assessor provisions were practically unaltered.

"Then, Sir, came the enlargement of this Council, followed by the appointment of an enlarged Select Committee, and the whole question was re-examined ab initio. A majority of the Committee accepted, as proved, the necessity for the appointment of an Assessor under certain circumstances, but it was felt that the then existing provisions of the Bill for the appointment of an Assessor were of too general application, and that it would be sufficient to provide for the appointment of an Assessor upon proof being given in each case of the necessity for such a course. The words of the Select Committee's report were these:—

'After mature consideration, we have omitted section 31 of the Bill referred to the Select Committee, providing for the appointment of an Assessor of municipal taxes and for his proceedings. We were inclined to doubt the necessity of any general order of this character, and were unable to devise any satisfactory principle for its application. We have therefore met what we consider to be the requirements of the case by providing (section 40 of the Bill) a new section (111A) of the Act, which gives power to the Local Government, whenever the assessment of a municipality appears to be insufficient or inequitable, to call upon the Commissioners to revise, amend or justify it, and in default to appoint an Assessor for the purpose.'

"Such, Sir, in a few words, is the history of what is now section 40 of the Bill, and I have grievously wasted the time of this House, and lamentably misused the gift of speech, if I have failed to show with what scrupulous attention the proposal to appoint an Assessor has been considered, and how carefully the scheme has been remodelled from time to time with the object of placing it before Council in the most suitable form. No general appointment of Assessors is now to take place under the orders of the local officers, but wherever there is reason to believe that the assessment in any municipality is insufficient or inequitable, the Commissioners are to be told by the Local Government of their reputed shortcomings, and are to be invited to correct them: should they fail to do so, even then Government will not appoint an Assessor, but the Commissioners themselves will be directed to do so, the supervision of Government being confined to the regulation of his allowances and to fixing the period within which his labours are to be completed.

"It seems to me, Sir, that this measure is one which should command the unhesitating support of this Council. The existence in many municipalities of inadequate and inequitable assessments has been asserted by the highest authority in the Province as the result of his personal investigations, and I unhesitatingly declare that the experience of every member here, who has ever been conversant with municipal affairs, will corroborate the Lieutenant-Governor's conclusions. It has therefore become essential, in the interests of the municipal public, that the power of ordering a revision of faulty assessments should be conferred upon Government, and I submit that the necessary power of interference has been assumed with a solicitous consideration for the independence and self-respect of municipal authorities which merits the gratitude of the friends of Municipal Self-Government, and should have protected the Administration from the attack of the mover of this amendment."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SYED FAZL IMAM KHAN BAHADUR said:—"I will not detain the Council long, for the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill has very ably and fully given the history of the origin of this section and the changes which it has gone through. I will, therefore, confine myself to the following few remarks:—I was a member of the Select Committee by whom, after a great deal of deliberation, this section (40) of the Bill was framed. I do not think there is any question of distrust or want of confidence, because the power of appeal will still rest with the Commissioners. It is owing to the help which the Commissioners themselves desire to have in making assessments that it is proposed to appoint an Assessor, and from my experience, I believe that in most cases the Commissioners themselves will be glad to get rid of the burden of making the assessments, because their associations with their neighbours and friends will oblige them either to make themselves unpopular, or to yield to private influences. For example: in Patna, the Municipal Commissioners themselves applied to the Commissioner of the Division to permit them to have a paid Assessor, and I am glad to inform the Council that the work is far better done by a paid assistant; the assessments are made properly and equitably and without any hitch, and appeals are heard by the Commissioners without having to take the trouble to go from house to house, and make the assessments themselves. It is not the intention of the Government to take action under this section in every case, but only in cases where the work of assessment is not properly done. The section requires the Government first to call upon the Commissioners to revise and correct the assessment, and the Select Committee were satisfied that such a provision would not detract from the self-respect and dignity of the Commissioners. With these observations, I would strongly oppose the amendment."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABDUL JUBBAR KHAN BAHADUR said:—"I oppose this amendment. Unfortunately I was not in my place in Council when the hon'ble mover of the amendment spoke, and therefore I have not heard what he said in support of his amendment, but I am of opinion that the existence of a provision, such as section 40, is necessary in the cases of municipalities in which the assessments may be inequitable. Hon'ble members may remember that at the last meeting of the Council, the hon'ble mover of the present amendment had an amendment carried which would enable Municipal Commissioners to impose different taxes in different wards of the same municipality. I have reason to apprehend that in the wards where Muhammadan residents predominate the personal tax will be the rule, and as the assessment of this tax is based upon no certain data, but would often be the result of mere guess-work, I am afraid that Muhammadans will be unjustly taxed. Muhammadans as a rule try to live well, while their Hindu neighbours are wisely economical, they will appear better off than they really are, and their income will be taken to be higher than it actually is, and in most cases they will be inequitably assessed; therefore, I say there ought to be a provision in the Act which will enable the Government to do justice to those who may be inequitably assessed. For these reasons, I strongly object to the amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BONNERJEE said:—"It appears to me that this new section, which is intended to be added to the old section 111, will not be of any practical efficacy. The evil intended to be guarded against is, the insufficiency or inequitableness of assessments. The new section provides that where the assessment of a municipality is insufficient or inequitable, the Local Government may, by an order in writing, require the Commissioners to revise and amend the assessment, or to show cause against such order; and if they fail to comply with the order, or if in the opinion of the Local Government the revised and amended assessment is insufficient or inequitable, the Government may require the Commissioners to appoint an Assessor, and such Assessor shall exercise all the powers of assessment vested in the Commissioners. Therefore the appointment of an Assessor is to be made, if the Local Government is not satisfied with the assessment made by the Commissioners, or, in other words, if the Government is satisfied that the assessment is insufficient or inequitable. As has been pointed out by the hon'ble member who spoke last but one, under section 113 of the present Act, any person who is dissatisfied with the assessment made upon him, may apply to the Commissioners to review such assessment. It is proposed by section 41 of the Bill to add to section 113 of the Act the following proviso:—'When an Assessor has been appointed under section 111A, notice of every such application shall be given by the Commissioners to the Assessor.' Assuming that section 41 of the Bill is carried, we shall have appeals preferred to the Commissioners against assessments made by the Assessor, and under section 114 of the Act, appeals so preferred shall be heard and determined by three Commissioners, who, under section 42 of the Bill, if carried, are to be appointed by the 'Commissioners at a meeting.' The state of things, then, will be this: you will have an Assessor appointed because there has been an insufficient or improper assessment; the Assessor will make his assessment, which will be taken to be a sufficient and equitable assessment; then there will be an appeal to the Commissioners, and the Commissioners to whom the appeal will be referred for disposal, will have the power of going back to the old assessment. If they do so, there is nothing in the proposed Act to set them right by any authority.

"If it is intended to guard against insufficient and inequitable assessments by Municipal Commissioners, the Commissioners should have no power to interfere with the assessments made by an Assessor appointed under section 111A; but if you give the Commissioners the power of hearing appeals from such assessments, you practically come back to the original order of things. Besides, these sections will, I apprehend, give rise to a considerable amount of difficulty. You may have a great many intrigues going on at the same time; petition after petition may be submitted to the Commissioner of the Division; they will probably be forwarded to the Government, and the work of the Government will thus be heavily increased. I think that the plan devised by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill is not workable in the spirit in which it is intended to be worked, and will be entirely inefficacious. I therefore suggest that the consideration of this section should stand over, and if it is determined to make provision to guard against insufficient and inequitable assessments, some other plan should be adopted instead of the one provided in the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER said:—"I think the arguments which have been put forward by the last speaker tend to show that section 41 of the Bill should be omitted altogether. Section 40 provides that the Assessor shall exercise all the powers of assessment vested by the Act in the Municipal Commissioners. It will apparently follow that, under section 113 of the Act, any person aggrieved by an assessment should apply not to the Commissioners, but to the Assessor to review the amount of assessment, or to exempt him from assessment. I think this point has been overlooked. The procedure would then work all right."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I shall support this amendment. I consider the words 'insufficient' and 'inequitable' vague. They ought not to be admitted into our Statute Law. 'Insufficient' may mean either that the taxes raised are not sufficient to cover the ordinary requirements and expenses of a municipality, or while the amount raised is sufficient for these purposes, it is capable of increase if assessed in a strict and not liberal manner. The word 'inequitable' is to my mind meaningless. The Roman Prætors were supposed to smooth the asperities of the law; Lord Chancellors in former days decided in Courts of Equity according to their notions of equity and good conscience. There was no limit to their discretion, and their judgments might have overstepped the boundary line which divides discretion from caprice. At the present time, the rules and principles in Equity are as strict as those at Common Law. Popularly speaking, 'inequitable' is applied to cases which, though not illegal or contrary to law, seem to the mind of the speaker as something wrong and beyond the domain of the law. What something is, may be discretion or caprice. Powers of this kind should be clearly defined. They are extraordinary powers. Without a clear specification, mischief or vexation may be occasioned. If by the word 'inequitable' the idea is intended to be conveyed that the amount raised is not in accordance with the law or inequal in its incidence, a clear indication of the exact intention of the Legislature should be given.

"Any individual who is improperly assessed has a right of appeal, under which his complaint may prove successful. And I do not see that he has any 'equity' in saying that his neighbour, according to his views, has not been rightly assessed. That is a matter for the Commissioners; and looking on the subject by the light of my experience, I do not think that leniency is generally to be attributed to them. If municipal constitutions have reached the stage of trust, as I hear it loudly proclaimed at this Council, they should not be submitted to such control as is devised in the proposed section."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"As a member of the Select Committee I wish to explain why I shall vote in favour of this amendment, and also desire to bear testimony to the spirit of conciliation with which the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill approached the consideration of this matter when it was discussed in Committee. I have to thank him and the Government for the various concessions which have been made in regard to these Assessor sections. As these sections stood originally in the Bill referred to the enlarged Select Committee, I felt, with my friends, that they were open to very serious objections. It was then sought to make the Assessor almost wholly independent of the Municipal Commissioners, and to make him a sort of Mayor of the Palace, but all those obnoxious features having disappeared, I should have felt no hesitation in supporting the section as it stands, but for the fact that at a Conference attended by many Municipal Commissioners, mostly Chairmen of Municipalities in the Presidency Division, I found that, while they were unanimous in welcoming the appointment of an Assessor, as they would thereby get rid of a thankless and odious duty which renders them liable either to the imputation of being partial or to that of being unjustly severe, they were also of opinion that there are many municipalities where they can ill afford to pay for the services of an Assessor, because, unless such an officer is sufficiently and adequately paid, you will be importing into the municipal establishment an additional officer, who will make good the deficiency in his pay by levying black mail, and it was felt, therefore, that it would be inadvisable to compel every municipality to appoint an Assessor, but that, when they can afford it, Municipal Commissioners would greatly appreciate the services of such an officer.

"The hon'ble member on my right (MAULVI SYED FAZL IMAM) also referred to the concessions made by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, and especially to the appeal allowed to the Commissioners in meeting; but I am bound to say that no thanks are due to the hon'ble member for those concessions; for whenever we proposed any modification, and the hon'ble member in charge was disposed to make any concession, the hon'ble member on my right always voted against us. The hon'ble member opposite (MAULVI ABDUL JUBBAR) has referred to the Muhammadans, and seems to think that wherever the Muhammadans are in the majority, the tax upon persons would prevail. I must say that if I was in such a position, I should be thankful for it, for I should then know that my tax could never exceed seven rupees a month, whereas in regard to the rate on the annual value of houses and lands there was absolutely no limit. Therefore I say that instead of making that a subject of complaint, the hon'ble member should be thankful. For these reasons, if my hon'ble friend presses his amendment, it will be my duty to support it."

The Hon'ble MR ALLEN said:—"The Hon'ble the Advocate-General has opposed this section on the ground that he is unable to understand what 'inequitable' means. I will say that it would be inequitable if my small house at Ballygunge was to be rated at a higher rate than the Advocate-General's large house in Park Street. He says he is unable to understand what the meaning of 'insufficient' is in this connection. I understand that if the Commissioners absolutely refuse to provide funds enough to keep the streets clean, or to perform the other duties imposed on them under this Act while the wealth of the municipality is amply sufficient to provide those funds, in that case their assessment would be insufficient. This will clear up the Hon'ble the Advocate-General's doubts as to the sense in which those words are used in this section. Then as to what the Hon'ble MAULVI ABDUL JUBBAR said, it was not that rich men would have to pay more than poor men, but that the habit of Muhammadans living with a certain ostentation while in fact they are poor, will lead to their being taxed as if rich, and that a Muhammadan, whose income is barely sufficient to maintain him, may, in consequence of that ostentation, be assessed at a higher rate than a Hindu millionaire who contents himself with a dhoti and an umbrella. The hon'ble member who has pointed out the inconsistency of appointing an Assessor in consequence of insufficient or inequitable assessments made by the Commissioners, and then allowing an appeal from that Assessor's assessments back to those very condemned Commissioners, has apparently scored a point, but this success rests on an assumption that the Commissioners in their first insufficient and inequitable assessment were acting with deliberate and resolute perverseness.

"I have not understood from the first inception of this amending Bill that any such suggestion was meant to be implied or offered. The idea was that for various causes, ignorance, weak amiability, or a dozen other such deceptive and delusive reasons, they were led to make assessments which would not bear close scrutiny. But to say that they will afterwards stand to their doubtful assessment, when its inadequacy has been pointed out by the Assessor, and when all the materials for the assessment are brought before them, is to impute to the Commissioners a wilful perverseness which, though it may be true, and others may have reason to suggest, I myself do not suggest or believe. Therefore it does not appear to me that there is anything so unreasonable in appointing an Assessor to correct an inadequate and insufficient assessment of the Commissioners of a municipality, and afterwards allowing persons desirous of appealing to appeal to those very Commissioners. Everybody, I think, has heard of the soldier who being condemned by Philip drunk, appealed to Philip sober; and here the appeal would be from the Commissioners uninformed to the Commissioners informed. While pointing out these few matters, it must not be supposed that I for one have the least approval or affection for this section of the Bill as it stands I should have much preferred if the original provisions of the Bill as announced by the member in charge when introducing it had been firmly adhered to, and I believe it would have given more satisfaction throughout the country."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE in reply said:—"After the exhaustive debate which has taken place, I am relieved of the necessity of replying at any considerable length. There seems to be some confusion in the mind of the hon'ble member to my right (MAULVI SYED FAZL IMAM). I need hardly say that there is a considerable difference between an Assessor appointed by the municipality of their own free will and accord and an Assessor forced upon an unwilling municipality by the fiat of the Government. The hon'ble member has no experience of a case where a municipality had to appoint an Assessor under orders from Government. I am perfectly certain that this section, if allowed to remain, would lead to considerable friction. Persons dissatisfied with the assessment made by the Commissioners will appeal to the Commissioner of the Division and the Magistrate of the District; explanations will be demanded from the Municipal Commissioners, and in this way considerable irritation will be produced where there should be no irritation at all. And not only this. The section will lead to the creation of an imperium in imperio in many municipalities—a very undesirable state of things. Under the circumstances, I hope the amendment will be accepted by the Government."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"With the permission of the President, I wish to make two remarks. I was about to say that two of the hon'ble members—the Hon'ble MR. BONNERJEE and the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER—appear to have fallen into error in failing to notice that in section 40 no power is given to the Assessor to hear appeals. The only powers conferred upon him are powers of assessment. That was one remark. The other is, that the Hon'ble MR. BONNERJEE also failed to notice that the revision of assessment under sections 113 and 116 would ordinarily proceed from appeals filed by Assessees who are suffering from excessive assessments; whereas the employment and the operations of the Assessor would necessarily result only from inadequate and insufficient assessments. The revision of the assessments in these two cases would therefore start from entirely opposite and distinct poles."

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER said:—"The words in section 40 are 'all the powers of assessment,' and the words in section 113 are 'shall apply to the Commissioners to review the amount of assessment,' and I should have thought that to review the amount of assessment is clearly one of the 'powers of assessment.'"

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"If there is any discrepancy between the wording of any amendments and the section in the Act, we shall have an opportunity of bringing them into harmony with each other in the time which will elapse between the final discussion of the clauses and the passing of the Bill. Any amendment which may not be in accordance with our meaning, and not calculated to carry out the intentions of the Council, may be corrected on that occasion, and be brought into harmony with the provisions of the Act. I have only to express my entire agreement with what the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer has said with regard to the two important objections which were brought forward. He has stated precisely the causes which led to the inception of this section. It was found by inspecting officers that in some cases the valuations were unfair, the houses and property of the Chairman and Vice-Chairman being often assessed at low rates, while those of other members of the community, of very inferior value, were assessed at high rates. This is what the Government considered inequitable, and those are the kind of cases in which the Government would feel bound to interfere. Exactly in the same way, if the expenditure of a municipality is notoriously insufficient for the comfort of the inhabitants and the preservation of health, and if the municipality can bear higher taxation, but the Commissioners are unwilling to impose what is necessary, that also is a case in which the Government might consider that the assessment was insufficient and feel bound to interfere.

"With regard to what fell from the Hon'ble MR. BONNERJEE, I have to say that his remarks are welcome as showing how little the section which we propose to pass is open to the charge of being drastic or subversive of the powers of the Commissioners. We have not attempted to make a root and branch clearance of the cases in which the charge of insufficiency or inequity may be brought, or to take steps to bring the assessment absolutely up to what may be considered by impartial people to be fair. We have taken a middle course, and hope that it will prove sufficient. If it does not, it is possible that on a future occasion, when the Act comes before the Council again, my hon'ble friend will think it his duty to bring in a provision more drastic, possibly like the one first framed by the Government, and which is now considerably modified in order to meet the objections taken to it."

The Motion being put, the Council divided:—

Ayes 7.	Noes 10.
The Hon'ble Mr. Stuart.	The Hon'ble Mr. Womack.
The Hon'ble Maharaja Jagadindra Nath Roy of Nator.	The Hon'ble Maulvi Syed Fazl Imam Khan Bahadur.
The Hon'ble Mr. Bonnerjee.	The Hon'ble Mr. Wilkins.
The Hon'ble Maulvi Serajul Islam Khan Bahadur.	The Hon'ble Mr. Buckland.
The Hon'ble Mr. Ghose.	The Hon'ble Mr. Collier.
The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee.	The Hon'ble Maulvi Abdul Jubbar Khan Bahadur.
The Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul.	The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon.
	The Hon'ble Mr. Lyall
	The Hon'ble Sir John Lambert.
	The Hon'ble Mr. Allen.

So the Motion was lost.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"Since this Bill was printed, an amendment moved by the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE has been passed empowering the Commissioners to appoint an Assessor under section 46 of the Act; it is therefore necessary to make an amendment in section 40 of the Bill by inserting after the word 'inequitable' the first time that it occurs in section 111A, the following words:—'and if the Commissioners have not appointed an Assessor under section 46 as amended.' This is merely an amendment of a verbal character and will doubtless be agreed to without discussion."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER moved that the following be added to section 40 of the Bill:—

"Such order shall fix the pay of the Assessor and the cost of his establishment; and such pay and cost shall be paid monthly by the Commissioners"

He said:—

"The necessity for this amendment appears to be obvious, and I do not think it necessary to submit any explanation of it."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I beg to oppose this amendment, which I do not consider to be so very obvious as not to need any discussion, or at any rate a word of protest from me and other hon'ble members who are representatives of municipal bodies. The amendment is uncalled for and unnecessary, is opposed to the tenor of the Act, and, I venture to add, subversive of the principles of local self-government. Under section 61 of the present Act, no appointment of which the salary is Rs. 200 or upwards a month, shall be created or abolished without the sanction of the Local Government; and the second clause of that section enacts that no person shall be appointed or dismissed from an office the salary of which is Rs. 100 or upwards without the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division. But this is not all. The appointment will have to be provided for in the Budget, and the Budget will have to be sanctioned by the Commissioner of the Division. Thus sufficient powers of check and control are provided, and the amendment is absolutely uncalled for and unnecessary.

"The difference between the position taken up by the hon'ble mover of the amendment and that which I would ask the Council to accept is this: The hon'ble member wants to deprive the Municipal Commissioners of the power of initiation in fixing the salary of the Assessor. The power of revision is there already vested in the Commissioner of the Division or the Local Government according to the salary to be paid to the Assessor. Further, I hold that this amendment is inconsistent with the tenor of the Act. I presume it will be admitted that the Vice-Chairman, or the Secretary, or the Health Officer is a higher officer than the Assessor, yet the Commissioners may appoint any of these officers and fix his salary and the cost of his establishment. Why should the Assessor be singled out for exceptional treatment? Why should his pay alone and the cost of his establishment be fixed by the Local Government? Your Honour observed the other day that we should assume that the Commissioners will act reasonably, and you addressed that remark in connection with this very matter which we are now considering; that is not an unfair assumption to make, and it runs through the whole system of local self-government. For these reasons, I feel it my duty to oppose this amendment and to enter my protest against it."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"I also think it necessary to oppose this motion. The hon'ble member for the Corporation has just pointed out that the Government possesses all the powers of control and authority that are at all necessary. If the salary proposed to be given to the Assessor by the Municipal Commissioners is insufficient, the Commissioner of the Division and the Local Government can always see that a substantial and adequate salary is given. On the other hand, I think that the Commissioners know their own resources, and the presumption is, that they ought to be the best judges in fixing the salary of their own servants, subject to revision or control on the part of Government. I can see no necessity for this amendment. If the Government or the District Officer is to interfere in all these little matters of detail; if the Commissioners are to have no voice in such matters; if the salary of the Assessor is to be fixed by superior authority, whose orders they are bound to obey, a salary which may be beyond their means and which to that extent would swallow up funds which would otherwise be available for the purposes for which municipalities are called into existence, I venture to think that municipal institutions would be reduced to little more than a sham."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I supported the last motion, and now that motion is lost, and section 111A has become law. I think the present amendment is absolutely necessary to make the assessment effective. What is the good of empowering the Government to appoint an Assessor when the Commissioners may, if they choose, give him an altogether inadequate salary? If the Government gives up this amendment, they may as well give up the section just passed, which empowers them to order the appointment of an Assessor against the will of the Commissioners."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bonnerjee said:—"I do not see why, assuming it to be necessary that the Local Government should fix the salary of the Assessor, it should be called upon to say what the cost of his establishment should be. Before its cost can be fixed, the nature and number of the establishment must be determined upon. Who is to do so? The Commissioners or the Local Government? So it seriously intended that the Local Government should in every case coming under this section determine whether the Assessor ought to have two peons or three, one muharrir or two, and so on. If it is, the work of the Local Government would be endless. Moreover, the amendment provides that the pay of the Assessor and cost of his establishment should be paid monthly by the Commissioners. Suppose the Commissioners are in the habit of paying their establishment quarterly, why should you compel them to pay the Assessor and his establishment monthly? I think the object of the amendment will be gained if only the pay of the Assessor is left to be fixed by the Local Government"

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyall said:—"I would ask the hon'ble mover of the amendment in replying to the criticisms which have been made to state the reason for which he thought fit to propose this amendment. It appears to me that section 64 of the Act provides against the possibility of the Commissioners fixing an insufficient salary, so as to render the order of the Government inoperative. Section 64 provides a complete remedy for any default of the Commissioners, and it is unnecessary to provide a double remedy for the same omission. I therefore ask the hon'ble member to explain fully his reasons for considering section 64 insufficient."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon said:—"I wish to say, with reference to the argument that a sufficient power of control will be exercised by the Commissioner of the Division, that doubtless the Commissioner does control the Budget under section 76 of the Act, but if an Assessor is appointed in the course of the year, and irrespective of budget provision, as may well be the case, then neither the Commissioner nor the Local Government will have any power of interference in respect to the salary which the Municipal Commissioners may determine to pay to such Assessor unless power is given to lay this down in the order of appointment. Secondly, the Government will have no voice in the matter under section 61, unless it is proposed to pay the Assessor Rs. 200 or more per mensem, and as the basis of this discussion is that the Commissioners will fix the pay of their Assessor very low, practically Government will have no opportunity of interference. Therefore, if an Assessor is to be appointed at all, power should be taken to fix his salary."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Syed Fazl Imam Khan Bahadur said:—"I think the remark made by the Hon'ble Mr. Bonnerjee is a very proper one. The pay of the Assessor may be fixed by the Government, but it is desirable that the settlement of the details of the establishment of the Assessor should be left to the Municipal Commissioners. I hope, therefore, that the Hon'ble Mr. Collier will make this concession."

The Hon'ble Mr. Collier in reply said:—"It appears to me that this amendment is absolutely necessary, and I am surprised that any one should object to it. Section 111A assumes that the Local Government will order the Commissioners to appoint an Assessor against their will. They do not want an Assessor, and the Government orders them to appoint one. Under these circumstances, are the Commissioners to be left to fix the pay of the Assessor and the cost of his establishment? They may in that case fix his pay at five rupees a month, and a similar amount as the cost of his establishment, and thus render the whole order inoperative. With reference to what fell from the Hon'ble Mr. Lyall, I cannot see anything in section 64 of the Act which will meet the case. That section only applies to cases where there has been a distinct default in the performance of a duty, and not to any case where there is room for a difference of opinion. There might clearly be room for a difference of opinion as to what the salary of the Assessor should be, and if the Commissioners fix an inadequate salary, that cannot be considered to be a non-performance of a duty under section 64."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"In putting this amendment to the vote, I have only to say that if the Hon'ble MR. BONNERJEE had framed and laid before the Council an amendment having for its object the omission of all reference to the cost of establishment, I should have been prepared to accept it. I do not think it is absolutely necessary to have such a power, and the omission of those words might remove the impression that the provision is a little too much of an interference with the authority of the Commissioners; but if hon'ble members will not take the trouble to study the subject and come prepared with amendments which they may think necessary, and will only be guided by happy thoughts which occur to them while the proposals, of which notice has been given, are under consideration, it is difficult to take the same advantage of their suggestions which the Council would have been glad to take if they had been thought out beforehand and presented according to the rules. With regard to what fell from the Hon'ble MR. LYALL, I agree with the hon'ble mover of the amendment that section 64 is not suitable to the case, and I should be very unwilling to attempt to act under it. It is the most drastic section in the whole Bill. It is the very section my dislike to which led me to propose certain amendments and provisions in the original Bill, which were thought to be great alterations in the principles of Local Self-Government, and finding that they were so looked upon, I withdrew them. Section 64 of the Act is one under which the Local Government will never take action without extreme unwillingness, but as we are prepared in exceptional cases to appoint an Assessor, it seems only reasonable that his salary should at the same time be fixed by the Local Government."

The Motion being put, the Council divided:—

Ayes 12.	Noes 5.
The Hon'ble Mr. Stuart.	The Hon'ble Maharaja Jagadindra Nath Roy of Nator.
The Hon'ble Mr. Womack.	The Hon'ble Mr. Bonnerjee.
The Hon'ble Maulvi Syed Fazl Imam Khan Bahadur.	The Hon'ble Maulvi Serajul Islam Khan Bahadur.
The Hon'ble Mr. Wilkins.	The Hon'ble Mr. Ghose.
The Hon'ble Mr. Buckland.	The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee.
The Hon'ble Mr. Collier.
The Hon'ble Maulvi Abdul Jubbar Khan Bahadur.
The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon.
The Hon'ble Mr. Lyall.
The Hon'ble Sir John Lambert.
The Hon'ble Mr. Allen.
The Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul.

So the Motion was carried.

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE moved that in section 22 of the Bill, after sub-section (3) of section 37K, the following proviso be added:—

"Provided further that, in the case of a municipality mentioned in the first schedule and not required to act conjointly with any other municipality or local authority, if within two months from the date of the publication of the particulars of any such scheme in the Calcutta Gazette under section 37F, a petition is presented to the Local Government by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the registered rate-payers of a municipality objecting to the compulsory introduction of such scheme into such municipality, the Commissioners thereof shall not be compelled to carry out such scheme."

He said:—

"This matter was fully discussed at the last sitting of the Council, and it will not be necessary to say anything more on the subject. I have conformed with the wishes of the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill by inserting the words which he suggested."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJUL ISLAM KHAN BAHADUR moved that after section 42 of the Bill, the following new section be added:—

"42A. In section 116 of the Act, the words 'nor shall the liability of any person to be assessed or rated be questioned', and the words 'or by any other authority' shall be omitted."

He said:—

"I may remind the Council that this matter has been the subject of much discussion in the High Court as well as in the subordinate Courts. There have been many cases under this section, but unfortunately the decisions have not all been uniform. I need not, however, take up the time of the Council by referring to all the conflicting rulings on the point. It will perhaps be sufficient if I refer to the latest case under this section, which is reported in the current number of the Indian Law Reports, Calcutta Series, page 319, in which the Chairman of the Barisal Municipality was plaintiff and Adya Sundar Mitter, defendant. In all the cases which have been brought under this section, it has always been contended on behalf of the municipality that section 116 is a bar to the entertainment of any suit against the Municipal Commissioners, and that the words are wide enough to bar any suit. The words of the section are:—'No objection shall be taken to any assessment or rating, nor shall the liability of any person to be assessed or rated be questioned, in any other matter or by any other authority than in this Act is provided.' The contention on behalf of the Municipal Commissioners is, that this section is a bar to the entertainment of any suit. On the other hand, it is maintained by the parties aggrieved, that it could not have been the intention of the Legislature to deprive the people of all remedy against any arbitrary action of Municipal Commissioners which is without jurisdiction and void. The rulings of the Courts have, as I have said, been inconsistent. In some cases it has been decided that these words are a bar to any suit; in others it has been held that they are not. In the last case which came up in the High Court before the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Beverley, after hearing Counsel, the learned Judges say:—'That being so, it is unnecessary to go into the legal question whether section 116 is sufficiently strong in its terms to bar the interference of Courts of Justice in cases in which Municipal Commissioners may have exceeded their powers under the Act, or acted illegally or without jurisdiction.' So that the question is left undecided. The effect of this decision being to leave the law in an undecided state, I think it is the duty of the Legislature to intervene and make the matter clear, and therefore I propose to omit the words set out in my amendment. The result will be that, as far as the question of the amount of assessment or rating is concerned, the adjudication of the Commissioners will be final; but if there be any question as to the liability to assessment, or questions which go to the root of the matter, persons aggrieved should have some remedy. I, therefore, hope the Council will see its way to accept my amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN said:—"I think there can be no objection to this amendment being accepted. As I understand section 116 of the Act, the powers of the Commissioners being powers given by the law can only last as long as they keep within the limits which the law lays down for the exercise of those powers; and it is not, and never was and never could be, intended that the Commissioners should lay hold of a man who was walking through the municipality, levy an assessment upon him, and then plead that this man had no redress in a Civil Court. In fact the amendment does not, to my mind, in any way alter the actual state of the law as it at present exists, and therefore there can be no objection to the amendment being accepted, and I understand that the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill is prepared to accept it."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"The case of the Barisal Municipality is a forcible illustration of the necessity of efficient judicial check upon the action of such municipalities as may be tempted to spread the net of taxation beyond the limits of the law. I only regret that, instead of deciding the wider question, namely, whether any words in the section could possibly take away the jurisdiction of the Courts when the action of a municipality is shown to be utterly illegal and ultrâ vires, the learned Judges should have preferred to base their judgment on what with the utmost deference appears to me to be a narrow and doubtful ground, because, although in an earlier section a dispute regarding occupation is declared to be a ground on which an appeal may be preferred to the Commissioners, and those words are not to be found in section 116, still it does seem to me that the words 'liability to be assessed' are wide enough to cover every imaginable question, be it a dispute as to occupation or anything else. But be that as it may, if the Council accepts this amendment, it will be a great improvement, and will place the law on a clear and intelligible footing. Municipal authorities and the general public will know their rights, and the Courts will be able to decide questions which may come before them without any difficulty."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I think this amendment should be accepted. The meaning of section 116 is quite plain, that an assessment or rating made upon persons who are within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners should not be open to objection. It was never intended that any person outside the municipality could by force be brought within the municipality and rated. That was the view which the Chief Justice took in the last case. The amendment now proposed will make that clear. The other day the Council added three words to a section in the Port Commissioners' Act, 'landed by them,' to make the meaning clear, and in the same sense I think we should amend section 116 of this Bill."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE moved that in section 43 of the Bill, in the first proviso, the words from the word "holding" to the word "business" be omitted, and that the following words be inserted between the word "the" and the word "it":—

"Moveable property is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners to belong to some person other than the defaulter."

He said:—

"Section 43 of the Bill attempts to mitigate the harshness of the existing law under which moveable property found in any house in respect of which default has been committed is liable to distress and sale whether such property belongs to the defaulter or to some other person. Section 43, as it now stands, proposes to grant relief in cases where any moveable property may be left in a shop or place of business for repairs or safe custody. I propose by this amendment to make the section more comprehensive, and the relief more general. I can discover no difference in principle between property left in a shop and property left with a private friend: if protection is needed in the one case, it is equally needed in the other. If a friend of mine, on leaving the country for a time, left some furniture or other moveable property in my house, and if I committed default in respect of the rates and taxes payable on account of my house, it would be monstrous that his property should be liable to be sold on account of such default, although the Commissioners were perfectly satisfied that the property was not mine. Then, again, there is the still harder case of a new tenant coming into a house from which his immediate predecessor after having committed default has succeeded in escaping bag and baggage before proceedings could be taken. It seems utterly unjust that the moveable property of the new tenant should be liable to distress and sale, although he was in no way responsible for the default. Similar objections seem to have struck the Government of India, for in a letter addressed to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Municipal Department by the Legislative Secretary to the Government of India, he says:—'The latter portion of the first paragraph of the proposed section 120A, commencing with the words "or of any moveable property belonging to any other person," appears to be open to the objection which was taken in Mr. Lyall's letter of the 17th June, 1892, to section 26 of the draft Bill therein referred to, viz., that it exposes one man to the risk of having to pay a debt due by another.' I think that is a very cogent objection, and I therefore desire the Council to adopt the principle recognized in the case of property attached in execution of a decree where a claim is made by a third person. The procedure in respect of such cases is prescribed by section 280 of the Civil Procedure Code, which enacts:—

"'If upon the said investigation, the Court is satisfied that, for the reason stated in the claim or objection, such property was not, when attached, in the possession of the judgment-debtor or of some person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of a tenant or other person paying rent to him, or that, being in the possession of the judgment-debtor at such time, it was so in his possession not on his own account or as his own property, but on account of or in trust for some other person, or partly on his own account and partly on account of some other person, the Court shall pass an order for releasing the property wholly, or to such extent as it thinks fit from attachment.'

"Even if you accept my amendment, there will still remain this cardinal distinction between the two classes of cases, that while in the case of a judgment-debtor, the claim of a third person is to be decided by an impartial tribunal, in the case of an attachment by a municipality, the decision will remain in the hands of the Commissioners themselves, although they stand in the position of a creditor. I can conceive of no possibility of such a safeguard being abused, for the condition precedent is that the Municipal Commissioners themselves should be satisfied that the property is really the property of a third person. I do not wish to raise the general question, but I must say that I cannot approve of any system which makes a man a judge in his own cause, nor can I make an exception or even a mental reservation in favour of Municipal Commissioners. However, without raising that question, I simply propose that such protection should be granted to all persons who may be able to prove that the property which has been seized is not the property of the defaulter, but of a third person."

The Hon'ble Mr. Allen said:—"Section 121 of Act III of 1884, which lays down the procedure under which arrears of taxes are to be levied, provides that they shall be levied by distress and sale of the moveable property of the defaulter wherever found, or of any other moveable property belonging to any person which may be found within the holding in respect of which the defaulter is liable to pay the tax. An amendment has now been proposed which will lead to this peculiar result. The body of the section provides that the property of any other person found within the holding shall be liable to distress and sale, but the amendment to the provision added in our Bill practically asserts the exact opposite of what is previously asserted in the body of the section. The amendment says that the moveable property of any one other than the defaulter is to be excepted, but the section enacts that such moveable property, when found within the holding, is to be liable to sale. The principle is no new principle. It has been in force in Calcutta from the first day that the Supreme Court exercised jurisdiction in matters of distraint for rent. It is perfectly well known that property found in the premises is liable to the landlord's claim of rent, or used to be so liable. The same provision has been in force in every Municipal Act passed for the mufassal since the very first. And it is found also in the Calcutta Municipal Act, and it is to follow the latter Act that the qualification is introduced into the Bill exempting property which has been left for repairs or safe custody with persons carrying on business. The proviso in the Calcutta Act originated, I believe, in circumstances connected with the failure of Thomas Smith & Co., horse dealers, in Dhurrumtolla Street. This exception was not found in the former Municipal Act, and the property of others standing at Thomas Smith & Co's. stables was seized by the Municipality on their failure for payment of taxes. Proceedings were taken by the owners to resist this, and when the Calcutta Municipal Act came up for amendment, this proviso was introduced to guard against a repetition of such action. In the Bill now before the Council, the wording of the Calcutta Act has been strictly followed. It is perfectly well recognized that the property of an innocent tenant is liable for taxes on the premises which he occupies, and which are left unpaid by the previous tenant, and it is the duty of a tenant entering on premises to make sure that all taxes have been paid up to the date of his entry. If he neglects to do so, he has only himself to blame if his property is seized. The liability to the tax is not of a personal character, but arising from the ownership or occupation of a holding. The law has from the first made the moveable property in a holding responsible for all rates then outstanding and due. The amendment before the Council can, by no possibility, be accepted as it stands at present. If this principle is to be introduced and the rate on a holding is to be regarded as a personal tax leviable from the individual, this section of the Act must be cut down and the provision in section 121 must be excerpted."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"This amendment, as has been pointed out by the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer, is certainly out of order, and as the section of the law stands it is no amendment of the Bill before the Council. The two provisos in the Bill are additions to section 121 of the Act, whereas the Hon'ble MR. GHOSE's amendment is an amendment of Act III of 1884, because it is under that Act that all moveable property is liable to distress and sale, and a right of action is given against the person on whose default the property is sold. These two clauses of the Bill are added merely to diminish the force of it with respect to one particular matter, namely, when the place in which the property is is a place of business. If the Hon'ble MR. GHOSE's amendment is introduced, then the words in section 121 must be struck out. I am not attempting to justify the principle that a man's goods may be taken for payment of a tax due by another. The law of distress has been modified here, so that you cannot now distrain the property of other persons, but still as the law stands, the amendment of the hon'ble member must be an amendment of the section of the Act and not of the proviso in this Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. LYALL said:—"In the enormous mass of correspondence and literature before the Select Committee, I failed to observe any demand on behalf of any single municipality or rate-payer for an alteration of the law in the direction now proposed. I do not think we are asked to amend the law on points in which it cannot be said that the law has worked unjustly or has damaged any one. I am, therefore, opposed to a motion like the present, which seems to be of a sentimental character, and not to be practically required."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE in reply said:—"I desire to point out to the Hon'ble and learned Advocate-General that he is somewhat misinformed as to the nature of my amendment. Section 121 enacts that any property found on the premises in respect of which default in the payment of rates is committed shall be liable to be attached. What is attempted to be done is, to regard all property found on the premises as the property of the defaulter; therefore, all property so found is, in the first place, liable to be distrained, but my amendment proposes that if it should be proved afterwards that some of the property which has been distrained is not the property of the defaulter, but of some third person, then that property should be released. My amendment, therefore, is not an amendment of the body of section 121, but of the proviso in the Bill. I go one step further than that proviso, and say that in every case where property is attached under section 121, if it can be proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that the property so attached is not the property of the defaulter, but of some third person, then it should be released. I do not think I am asking the Council to take any step which is opposed to the ordinary ideas of justice and fair play. As to what fell from the Hon'ble MR. LYALL, Municipal Commissioners are not likely to complain if they are given such large powers; nor is it from mere sentimental considerations that I propose this amendment. I say that when you are taking a step in the right direction by granting relief in certain cases, you will only be acting logically if you give the same relief in all cases."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"Speaking on behalf of the Government, I may say that my sympathy is with the amendment, but I think we ought to be guided by the counsel tendered to us by our legal advisers, that it is not convenient to go in this Municipal Bill beyond what has been provided in the Calcutta Municipal Act, and what is now the Municipal Law prevailing in the country. I would, therefore, suggest that the hon'ble member should not press his amendment."

The amendment was, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER said:—"Since I gave notice of this amendment, I have been considering the section somewhat carefully. The result is that I am not satisfied with the amendment proposed, and would ask permission to alter it. I would substitute the following for it:—

'After the first paragraph of section 142, the following shall be added:—

"In regard to carts not kept within the municipality, only such as are kept within two miles of it shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, to be habitually used within it for the purposes of this section."

"The amendment now proposed follows very closely the provision proposed by the original Select Committee. The object of the alterations made in it is to make it clear that the definition is exhaustive, and that all carts kept beyond the two miles' radius are exempted. Whether this was the intention of the original Select Committee, I do not know, but am now inclined to think it must have been. The enlarged Select Committee, however, did not understand the provision in this sense. They rejected it because they thought it left the case of carts kept more than two miles from a municipality unprovided for. Whatever the original meaning may have been, the alterations made in the clause leave no doubt as to its meaning now.

"I think this amendment is preferable to the other for the following reasons:—The number of times a cart visits a municipality within a month is a difficult fact to verify. The evidence on the subject will be that of the municipal servants and will not be trustworthy. On the other hand, the place where a cart is kept is a simple and easily-ascertained fact, in regard to which there can be very little room for dispute. Further, this amendment is more in accordance with the original intention of the section than the other.

"Habitually used means generally used, and a cart kept more than two miles from a municipality will not be generally used inside it but outside it. I believe that the abuse of the existing vague provisions of the Act is notorious. On this point, I will read an extract from the last report on the working of Municipalities in the Presidency Division:—'In Jessore several cartmen were arrested for evasion of the tax, and police were called in to prevent breaches of the peace. (Parenthetically I may remark that the Chairman of the Jessore Municipality has reported that it is the practice there to consider carts as habitually used within the municipality, if they visit it four times in a month. It is hardly a matter of surprise that friction should occur under such circumstances.) There appear to be some very objectionable features in the taxation of carts, which appear to be often taxed not for plying regularly within a town, but for carrying agricultural produce to a bazar. In fact, many of the municipalities are not towns at all, but consist only of a bazar and a group of villages, with a large area of arable land, and I doubt much whether it was ever the intention of the Legislature that carts should be taxed only for coming into such places. A case is now before me in which a municipality, having by their taxation on carts driven trade to a place outside their limits, are applying to have their limits extended in order to include that place—an application which I do not view with favour, as they show very little in the way of administration, and make no attempt at conservancy in the area now under their control, and, therefore, are scarcely entitled to ask that more should be made over to them. In another case—that of Chanduria, in the district of Khulna—out of a total income of Rs. 2,300, Rs. 1,300 are raised by taxing the carts which bring in raw produce to a certain sugar factory. To the taxation of carts regularly plying in a town, which, I presume, is what was intended by the Legislature, I see no objection, but I do see considerable objection to the tax as it is actually levied, where in the first place there is no town, and in the second the carts are employed only on import into the place.'

"It seems clear that we are bound to enact some definition, and I think that the one I have now proposed is, on the whole, the best."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"I am entirely opposed to this amendment. It seems to involve great hardship to municipalities, as they will be bound to keep the municipal roads in order, notwithstanding that they are broken up by carts which, if this amendment is accepted, will pay no taxes. Only the other day the hon'ble member for the Chittagong Division and myself had the honour of receiving a deputation from the Municipality of Baidabatty. Those gentlemen informed us that they have a market which is held twice a week there, and no less than some three thousand carts come from various neighbouring villages with produce to this market. One can readily imagine the damage done to municipal roads by this long procession of three thousand carts, and consequently a small fee is levied from each cart, which gives that Municipality an income of something like Rs. 6,000 a year. I venture to think that there can be no objection to the levy of such a fee; whereas, if we adopt the amendment of the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER, it will, by one stroke of the pen, deprive that Municipality of by far the larger portion of the income derived from such fees; and it seems that very few of these people have complained, and if there are any complaints of the character of those made in Jessore, I do not think such complaints ought to be listened to. The fees which are levied are an infinitesimal and microscopic fraction of the profits derived by the owners of these carts by bringing their goods to the market, nor is it fair that the rate-payers of a municipality should bear the whole burden of repairing and maintaining the roads, especially when it is remembered that there is no form of traffic more destructive to roads than loaded bullock carts."

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN said:—"The amendment entered in the agenda paper against the name of the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER is one to which I have many objections. The amendment which has been substituted for it is, I think, hardly less objectionable. It is characteristic of a young legislator to wish to define everything, but there is nothing which an old Parliamentary hand dreads more than to have to define. I think we may rest content with the words 'habitually used' of the section in the present Act, and allow those who have to work it to put a meaning to the words. If any person is aggrieved, as I have no doubt that in the case of outside carts there is room for oppression, that person has his redress, but that is no reason to submit a still more vague form of words for the word 'habitual,' the meaning of which is more or less understood by every one. I can quite believe that there is no form of taxation in regard to which there is more oppression practised than the levy of the registration fee on carts not only throughout all the mufassal municipalities, but in Calcutta itself. And that numbers of carts not 'habitually used' therein are subjected to the fee. I found a Calcutta Inspector three miles out of Calcutta looking out for carts on which to impose the registration fee. The speech of the hon'ble member opposite (MR. GHOSE) advocates a system of taxation which reminds me strongly of the old days when the Barons used to send out their retainers to tax every one who passed by. In such proceedings there is a total disregard of the ordinary meaning of the words 'habitually used' by those who are charged with the levy of this tax; but the fact that administrators are perverse and oppressive is not a reason for changing plain simple words for a very complicated and confused definition. I doubt whether we have any power to raise a presumption of the kind proposed by the amendment. The Bengal Council has no power to impose upon me, sitting as a Judge, a presumption of fact of this nature, and therefore, for a totally different reason from that which commends itself to the Hon'ble MR. GHOSE, I think it will be wiser to abandon the amendment and leave the section as it stands."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I must protest against some of the remarks which fell from the hon'ble member who has just spoken. The administrators of our municipalities have been declared to be perverse. I should like to ask—how many cases of perverse administration have been brought to notice? The hon'ble mover of the amendment has stated a case which occurred in the Municipality of Jessore. We know that the administration of the Jessore Municipality till lately was not the most perfect example of municipal administration, and therefore there is no wonder that what he stated did occur. I have some experience of municipal administration, and I challenge the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER to bring forward a substantial number of cases in reference to other municipalities which would prepare the ground for his amendment. [The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER:—"I could."] At any rate the cases are not before us. But however that may be, the present Act has been in operation for a number of years, the people are accustomed to it, and no case has been made out for a change. I hope, therefore, that the amendment will not be accepted."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I think the sense of the Council is decidedly against the amendment, and I would suggest to the hon'ble member to withdraw."

The amendment was, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA JAGADINDRA NATH ROY OF NATOR moved that section 53 of the Bill be omitted. He said:—

"Section 200 of Act III of 1884, as amended by section 53 of this Bill, empowers the Municipal Commissioners to require the owners or keepers of tanks to re-excavate or to fill them up within a certain limited time. A single individual may possess a large number of tanks or pools within the same municipality, and if he has to re-excavate or to fill them all up with suitable materials at one time, it will involve an enormous expense, and will simply be ruinous to him. Under the provisions of this section, if the owner or occupier of pools or tanks is unable to carry out the order of the Commissioners, they may do the work and may retain the tanks in their possession until all the expense of re-excavating or filling them up is realized. This will be regarded by the public to a certain extent as the confiscation of private property, which is not at all desirable. I think the intention and object of this section is to improve the public health of the neighbourhood, but that purpose is amply served by section 200 of the Act. For these reasons, I beg to move that section 53 of the Bill be omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. LYALL said:—"Does the hon'ble mover of the amendment propose to omit the word 'well' also? His remarks did not apply to wells."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA JAGADINDRA NATH ROY OF NATOR said:—"I have no objection to the word 'well' being inserted in section 200 of the Act."

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN said:—"The section of the Bill, which the hon'ble mover of the amendment desires to omit is practically identical with the section which exists in the Calcutta Municipal Act, and as hon'ble members are anxious to hold up that Act as a model which all other municipalities should endeavour, at however great an interval, to follow, it will be wiser not to adopt the amendment now proposed. If a private person has a number of offensive tanks, it is perfectly right that he should be compelled to render them inoffensive, and if he fails to do it, it is for the general good that the Municipal Commissioners should do so; and when municipal funds have been appropriated to the purpose of removing offensive tanks and pools of water, for which private owners are responsible, it is also right that the expenditure so incurred should be recovered, and retaining possession of the improved tank or its site, is some small security for the recovery of the expenditure. I think we can do no better than to imitate the Calcutta Municipal Act."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"I desire to express my sympathy with this amendment. It seems to me that the real objection lies not to the cleansing of tanks and pools of water, which is right enough. But section 53 of the Bill goes much further. It leaves to the Commissioners the discretion of deciding whether a tank is to be cleansed, or re-excavated, or filled up. Re-excavating or filling up a tank of any considerable size is a matter of very great expense, and as the hon'ble mover of the amendment says, if a person has the misfortune of being the owner of a number of tanks, and the Commissioners decide that he must re-excavate them, it might involve such enormous expense that it may amount to confiscation of his property. In this connection, I will read an extract from a letter of the Government of India, which says :—

'Section 35 of the former draft Bill appeared to the Government of India to be needlessly severe; but as now amended, the section has been made still more stringent. The amendment does not seem to be called for, and the clause as to forfeiture is, in the opinion of the Government of India, open to strong objection. The whole section requires re-consideration, particularly in respect of the following points, first, whether a mere occupier should be held liable at all in such cases, and, secondly, whether the option between re-excavating, or filling up, or cleansing should be left to the Commissioners (with or without appeal) or to the party concerned.'

"My hon'ble friend, the mover of the amendment, is supported by the high authority of the Government of India, and I hope the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill may see his way to accept the amendment, of course, with the exception of the provision relating to 'wells,' which stands on a different footing."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I think there is serious objection to the amendment as it stands. Under the existing law, the Commissioners may require the owners or occupiers of any land within eight days to cleanse any water-course, private tank, or pool therein, and to drain off and remove any waste or stagnant water, which may appear to be injurious to health or offensive to the neighbourhood. No one can object to any of these things. Suppose the occupier should say he will fill it up, but the Commissioners say no you must re-excavate? I think the power conferred upon the Commissioners is too large. As to the latter part of the section, I think it right that if the municipality spends any money, they should recover it. But to compel a man to re-excavate when he wants to fill up, or to fill up when he wishes to re-excavate is, I think, hard. If the owner or occupier is allowed his choice, I have no objection. It should be left to his own judgment to do one or the other."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I believe it is the intention of the existing law as it was of the Select Committee to allow the owner or occupier the option of cleansing or of re-excavating or of filling up, and as far as I understand the words of the section that is permitted now."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"With regard to the objection taken to the whole of section 53 of the Bill by the hon'ble mover of the amendment in the part of the Government, I think the section should stand. It seems to me quite reasonable that if the Commissioners are put to expense in doing what the owner or occupier ought to do, they should have the means of recouping themselves. And with regard to the objection of the learned Advocate-General, there is no doubt that the view he expressed is the view intended by the framers of the section, and that we should add words something to this effect: 'either to fill up or re-excavate, at the option of the owner or occupier,' and that the municipality should only step in when he refuses to do one or the other. I shall put the motion on this understanding, that if the motion of the hon'ble mover of the amendment is carried, the whole of section 53 will be struck out: if the motion is rejected, then at the next meeting we shall add words which may be necessary to secure that the re-excavation or the filling up shall be at the option of the owner or occupier."

The Motion being put, the Council divided :—

Ayes 5.	Noes 13.

	The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton.
	The Hon'ble Mr. Allen.
	The Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul.

So the Motion was lost.

The Hon'ble Mr. Ghose moved that section 55 of the Bill be omitted. He said :—

"If my motion is carried, the result will be that section 210 of Act III of 1884 will stand, instead of the new section which is proposed to be substituted for it. Section 210 proceeds on the recognized and intelligible principle of interfering with private rights on the supreme ground of the public safety. Section 55 of the Bill, on the other hand, makes quite a new departure. It proposes to confer the most ample and plenary powers on Municipal Commissioners to interfere not only on the ground of the public interests being endangered, but in the supposed interest of the private owner himself. The interests of the public are amply safe-guarded by section 210 of the existing Act, coupled with section 242 as amended by section 65 of the Bill, the result of that amendment being that the owner is forbidden to let his house for hire if it is in an unsafe or unstable condition; while section 210 provides against any danger to the public. But the result of passing section 55 of the Bill will be this: that if a person has a house surrounded by a large compound, so that the condition of that house can by no possibility be a source of danger to the public or to passers by, and although the owner does not let the house for hire, but lives in it himself, still the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the Municipality, if he happens not to be on very good terms with the owner of the house—and there is a great deal of party-feeling in the mufassal—it will be in the power of that official to inspect the premises, and having discovered, or pretended to discover, some crack in a wall of the house—and there are few houses, not excepting public buildings, and certainly not excepting the High Court, which have not some cracks in the walls—he will be at liberty to call upon the owner to pull down his house within seven days; and if he fails to carry out that order, then the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, under section 175 of the Act, may proceed to pull down the house, and hold the unfortunate owner responsible for the expense incurred in doing so. And when it is remembered that the order under this section is final and not open to appeal to any independent tribunal, the Council will, by passing section 55 of the Bill, place a most terrible engine of oppression in the hands of an unscrupulous Chairman or Vice-Chairman.

"Besides, if you once depart from the recognized principle of legislation in these matters, where are you to draw the line? If you give this power, are you going to authorize the Commissioners to order their Health Officer to pay domiciliary visits in order to see that nobody takes any unwholesome food, or to order the Constable of the beat to see that every person takes a certain amount of healthful exercise, and retires to rest at a particular hour? I venture to think that interference with the rights of private property is only justifiable on the principle of safe-guarding the interests of the public, and, as might be expected, that is the principle upon which the law of England is based. The section of the Towns Improvement Clauses, Act of 1847 (section 75), which corresponds with this section, says:—

'If any building or wall, or anything affixed thereon, within the limits of the special Act, be deemed by the Surveyor of the Commissioners to be in a ruinous state, and dangerous to passengers or to the occupiers of the neighbouring buildings, such Surveyor shall immediately cause a proper hoard or fence to be put up for the protection of passengers, and shall cause notice in writing to be given to the owner of such building or wall, &c., &c.'

"Therefore, the only safe and sound principle of legislation in this direction is the principle of protecting the public from danger. I think no case has been made out for departing from that principle, and allowing Municipal Commissioners to interfere at their own sweet will with the rights of private owners of property. I therefore move the omission of section 55 of the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER said:—"I drafted the section, and it is as well I should say what I have to say in advance of the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill. The hon'ble mover of the amendment referred to section 75 of the Towns Improvement Clauses Act. You will observe that that Act goes further than this section which we propose to abolish. It gives the Commissioners power to take down a building which is dangerous to passengers and to the occupiers of neighbouring buildings. The inmates of dangerous buildings are dealt with in England under other Acts. There are three classes of persons to be protected in regard to dangerous buildings. These classes are the inmates of the building, the occupiers of neighbouring buildings, and passers-by, or the public generally. Section 210 gives no power to interfere when a building is dangerous to the inmates or to the occupiers of a neighbouring building. It may be about to fall on the heads of the inmates, or to bring down the neighbouring building, and yet the Commissioners are not to interfere. The Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer will be able to inform you that there have been several cases in which references have been made to him as to whether action could be taken under section 210 to prevent a house falling down on the head of the inmates. The answer in all such cases has been in the negative, section 210 only conferring powers to protect passers-by and the public. The hon'ble mover characterizes this section as a new departure. In the Calcutta Act, section 233 gives the Commissioners the powers which are proposed to be given by section 65 of this Bill. It provides that if any building be deemed by the Commissioners to be in a ruinous state, or likely to fall or to be in any way dangerous, they shall cause a hoard or fence to be put for the protection of passengers, and shall cause notice to be given to the owner and to the occupier, requiring them forthwith to take down, repair, or secure such building as the case shall require. It gives the Commissioners full discretion as to whether they are to require the owner or the occupier to take down the building or not. The same power is conferred in the Municipal Acts in other parts of India. In the City of Bombay Municipal Act, section 354 authorizes the Municipal Commissioners to compel a building to be taken down, for the protection of the inmates, or for the safety of the occupiers of neighbouring buildings, or to protect passers-by.

"Nothing can be fuller than the language of the Bombay Act. Then in the City of Madras Municipal Act, section 298 provides that if any building is in any way dangerous either to the inmates, or to the occupiers of neighbouring buildings, or to passers-by and the public generally, similar action may be taken.

"Other Municipal Acts also contain practically the same provisions. The Central Provinces Municipal Act, the Punjab Municipal Act, and the British Burma Municipal Act, contain similar provisions, but I do not think it necessary to read them all. I have shown that the Calcutta, Madras and Bombay Municipal Acts contain precisely the same provisions in this case. The hon'ble mover's remark, therefore, that section 65 of the Bill represents a new departure is quite unfounded."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I do not know whether the hon'ble mover of the amendment has read section 210, the language of which appears more extensive than section 55 of the Bill. It provides that if any house, wall or structure shall be deemed by the Commissioners to be in a ruinous state or in any way dangerous, they may do such and such things."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE in reply said:—"My objection to this section is to the words 'dangerous to the inmates of such building.' I have no objection to the power given to interfere where the safety of the public or of passengers, or of neighbouring buildings is concerned, but I object to the Commissioners interfering with me as respects my own house, and saying to me when I am living in my own house, and there is absolutely no danger to the public, you must pull down your house. If it will commend itself to the learned Advocate-General, I would ask leave to alter the form of section 55 of the Bill by omitting the words 'inmates of such building,' and leave it to apply to the inmates of any other building."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I certainly think that the inmates and servants of a building which appear to be dangerous should be protected. I prefer section 210 of the existing Act."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"The hon'ble mover of the amendment spoke as if the only case that is intended to be provided, is the case of a person living in his own house, and he maintains that the owner has a perfect right to commit suicide and to slaughter the members of his own family and his servants; the Council will remember the cases of collapsed houses which occurred in Bombay, where the inmates had no connection with the proprietor of the house, save that they had to pay rent to him. We have as much right to protect the inmates of the house itself, as the passers by on the road, from the collapse of the house. My feeling is, that the section we have in the Bill ought to stand."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE moved that in section 59 of the Bill, in section 218, the words "two hundred and six" be omitted. He said:—

"Under section 206, a house which has been burned down or taken down for the purpose of repair, such house projecting beyond the regular line of the road or drain, may be required to be set back to the regular line of the road or drain. The section does not provide any penalty for non-compliance with the requisition that may be issued in this behalf, and it is proposed to correct this alleged defect in the law by section 59 of the Bill. To me this appears to be a very hard measure—when a house is burned down, it is a great misfortune to the owner; the Commissioners take advantage of his misfortune and call upon him to put the house back, and under this section he will be liable to a penalty for not doing so. This does not commend itself to my notion of the fitness of things. So far as one can judge, section 206 has been inserted in section 59 of the Bill to bring about legal symmetry, but it appears to me that it is attended with practical hardship. Having regard to the fact that no administrative inconvenience has been felt, I submit that my amendment should be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I do not think the Council will be affected by the sentimental argument, which the hon'ble mover of the amendment has brought forward. It is not the intention of the Bill to enable Municipal Commissioners to aggravate the misfortune of a rate-payer whose house has been burned down by fining him for not carrying out orders to rebuild it. The intention is only to place the section on a par with similar sections in the same part (Part V) of the Act. The words 'section two hundred and six' were added of set purpose, because, as the hon'ble mover of the amendment has pointed out, no sanction is provided in section 218 for the disregard of an order passed under section 206. The only difference between that section and other sections of a similar character for a breach of the provisions of which a penalty is prescribed under section 218, is that when a house has to be rebuilt, the Commissioners may order it to be set back under section 206, and in this solitary case may offer compensation. In the other cases no compensation is required, but the mere fact that compensation is to be awarded under that section is obviously no ground for saying that the person who receives an order passed for the general good may be at liberty to set it at defiance."

The Hon'ble MR. BONNERJEE said:—"I do not quite understand the meaning of this section. It says that in section 218 of the Act, the words 'two hundred and six' shall be inserted: in other words, it provides a penalty for non-compliance with the requirements of section 206. That section authorises the Commissioners to insist that a person, whose house is burned down, should set it back to the line of adjoining buildings. Is it intended that a person, who has received direction from the Commissioners to set back his house, but who does not re-build at all, should be liable to the penalty? That certainly is the grammatical construction as I read the proposed section and section 206 of the Act. Why should not this matter be left to be dealt with under the building regulations?"

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER said:—"I wish to point out that the order to be made by the Commissioners under section 106, will be an order to the owner of the house that if he does rebuild it, he must build it at a certain distance from the road. They will not order him to rebuild the house, and his not rebuilding it would not be an offence, but if he rebuilds it in a different position from that indicated in the order, that will be an action which it is intended to punish."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"I desire to point out that section 206 deals with the case of a house which, having existed before the Act is introduced into the municipality, the Commissioners desire to take advantage of the owner's misfortune to do what but for that misfortune they would have no power to do. Section 206 of Act III of 1884 is not coupled with any penalty, but I do not think that was an oversight, but was deliberately done, because in the latter part of the section it is provided that the Commissioners may pay reasonable compensation to the owner of the house if any damage is caused. Therefore the Legislature did not look upon the owner in this case as a wrong-doer, but simply empowered the Commissioners to take advantage of the opportunity to widen the road; consequently in this class of cases there is no reason why a penalty should be attached."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"There really must be some misconception of the meaning of section 206. It merely provides that where a house is burned down or taken down to be rebuilt, the border line of the house shall be set back. Section 59 of the Bill merely provides for an omission. Why should a penalty be provided for omitting to remove a projection or encroachment under section 204, and not for neglecting to put back a house to the line of road when it is going to be rebuilt? The one is as necessary as the other."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I understand that the only objection made to the inclusion of section 206 is that in section 59 there is already a provision in the law, and therefore there is no necessity for inserting that section. Where section 175 of the Act is in force, it provides that the Commissioners may execute the work themselves. That obviously does not apply to the case under consideration: the Commissioners could not rebuild the house for the owner. The requisition is not that he should build, but if he does build he must comply with the requisition. The building regulations to which the Hon'ble MR. BONNERJEE refers, are only in force in about forty municipalities in the whole of Bengal. Sections 236—244 therefore we cannot fall back upon. It is obviously necessary that if the Commissioners do issue a requisition, there should be some power to enable them to carry it out, and therefore I think this amendment should be rejected, and the words 'section two hundred and six' should remain in section 59 of the Bill."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble MR. WOMACK moved that in the second line of sub-section (3) of section 237, after the word "house" the following words be added:—"any alteration from the plan submitted be made, by which." He said:—

"The object I have in view in proposing this amendment is not the protection of the owner of any property or house which is being erected or re-erected from penalty on account of any wilful breach of the building regulations, but the prevention of an injustice being imposed upon him in being compelled to alter a building which is erected in accordance with plans which have been approved by the Commissioners. It occasionally happens that plans are submitted and sanctioned which contain some breach of the building regulations. I submit that it is the duty of the Executive to thoroughly examine the plan before giving permission to build. Provided the plans and specifications are not departed from, I hold that the Commissioners have no right to cause any alteration of the building to be made afterwards, or any portion of it to be pulled down."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"This amendment does not seem to be a very important one, or to raise any question of principle. It will have the effect certainly, as pointed out by the hon'ble member, of protecting from interference persons who have commenced in good faith to build according to a plan wrongly sanctioned by the Commissioners. It is conceivable, however, that not only by departing from the sanctioned plan, but also by deviations from the sanctioned materials and so forth, the orders of the Commissioners may be disregarded, and, if the amendment is carried, the Commissioners will be authorized to step in and interfere in only one class of cases. It is for the Council to determine whether they will confine the power of the Commissioners to one class of cases, or not."

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN said:—"I think the amendment is somewhat in a wrong place. The new section 237 gives power to make rules in certain matters, and sub-section (3) provides that if any rule is violated, the Commissioners may require the building to be altered or pulled down. There is nothing about a plan in the section."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I think I may venture to say on behalf of the Council that the intention of the hon'ble mover of the amendment is to provide that when a building plan is sanctioned and the building is erected in accordance with that plan, it should not be open to the Commissioners afterwards to say that the plan was in violation of the rules; but I think the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer is right in saying that the place in which it is proposed to introduce the amendment is not the right place, the first reference to a plan being in section 238. I propose at the next meeting that we should adopt this amendment and introduce it in a place most suitable for carrying out the intention of the hon'ble member."

The further consideration of this amendment was postponed to the next sitting of the Council.

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE rose to order. He said:—"I find that the hon'ble member, who represents the Trades Association, has an amendment on sub-section (4) of section 237 in regard to the same matter with reference to which I have also an amendment. I gave notice of this motion several days before the meeting of the Council on the 17th of March last. I did not receive notice of the motion which the hon'ble member intends to propose until the meeting of the Council on the 14th of April. I find on the agenda paper of the 17th of March my amendment finds a place, but there was at that time no amendment in the name of the hon'ble member. But on the agenda paper for to-day, I find the hon'ble member's amendment on the same subject as mine, but in a diametrically opposite direction has precedence of my amendment. I desire to know on what principle precedence has been given to the hon'ble member's amendment?"

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"In regard to the question put by the Hon'ble Mr GHOSE, I do not think there is any definite rule on which motions are arranged, and it will certainly be inconvenient always to arrange notices of motion according to the priority in which they are sent in The Assistant Secretary attempts to arrange them according to the convenience of the subjects for discussion. In the present case, one hon'ble member proposes to omit the words 'at the request of the Commissioners;' another proposes to add to them the words 'at a meeting.' It seems to me that the motion to leave out the words should come first, because, if the motion is carried, then there will be nothing to which any words can be added. If, on the other hand, the motion is lost, then the motion to add the words 'at a meeting' comes in. Therefore the order in which these motions have been put in the list is the correct one, having regard to the convenience of the Council in discussing the subject."

The Hon'ble Mr. WOMACK also moved that in sub-section (4) of section 237, the words "at the request of the Commissioners" be omitted. He said:—

"The building sections are to my mind among most important provisions of the Bill. They will if properly carried out contribute not only to the increase in the value of property, but also to the health and comfort of those who live in the municipality. I think therefore that the Local Government should reserve to itself the power of bringing these regulations into force in the event of the Commissioners failing to apply for their extension. I believe I am right in stating that the building regulations in Calcutta are in a manner permissive, that is to say, they are not embodied in the Act; they are governed by bye-laws having the force of law, adopted by the Commissioners themselves. I think it will be admitted that the building regulations in Calcutta are far from satisfactory, and we may assume that the Commissioners themselves are of this opinion, seeing that some months ago they appointed a Committee to reconsider them. I think I am also right in saying that although the Committee was appointed seven or eight months ago, the subject is beset with so many difficulties that the Committee have not yet ventured to take up the consideration of the matter. If this has happened in the Presidency town and in a municipality which is naturally supposed to be the most enlightened in Bengal, is it reasonable to suppose that we can expect better action in far less advanced municipalities in the mufassal; therefore I submit that the Government should reserve to itself the right of taking the initiative in the event of the Commissioners not themselves taking action."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I must express my surprise at the hon'ble member who represents the Trades Association, bringing forward such an amendment. None of the official members of this Council have ever brought forward an amendment so drastic, and the hon'ble member's own speech affords the completest answer to the amendment he proposes. The building regulations are no doubt sanitary regulations of the greatest importance. In Calcutta they are not permissive, they are compulsory; they have been supplemented and added to by bye-laws passed by the Corporation under the sanction of the Government. That the administration of the building regulations is attended with considerable difficulty in Calcutta has been admitted, and a Committee has been appointed to re-adjust them on the lines that experience has taught. The question being so very difficult and complicated, it stands to reason that the representatives of the people ought to be permitted to deal with them, and that the Government should not force these regulations on an unwilling municipality. It strikes me that it would be exceedingly unwise to accept this amendment; and that the extension of these regulations ought to be brought about with very great care and deliberation, and that they ought not to be extended to any municipality, except on the distinct representation of that municipality; and that the Government ought not to take the matter out of the hands of the Commissioners and by its order impose these regulations on any municipality that may not be inclined to apply for them. I therefore hope and trust the Council will not accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. BOURDILLON said:—"On behalf of the Government, I must state to the Council that it is not the intention of Government to support the amendment of the hon'ble member who represents the Trades' Association. The hon'ble member has forgotten I think what kind of municipalities exist in the mufassal, and does not sufficiently realise that they are still very far from that stage of development which would justify them in accepting the advanced provisions of section 237. As section 237 stands, its provisions cannot be extended to any municipality except at the request of the Commissioners, and considering what very stringent powers and very elaborate rules this section will enable the Commissioners to exercise and make, I think the provision in section 237 is a very wise and necessary one. I must therefore advise the Council to allow the Bill to stand as it is, and to reject the amendment before it."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Mr. Ghose moved that in section 64 of the Bill, at the end of sub-section (4) of section 237, after the word "Commissioners", the words "at a meeting" be inserted. He said:—

"My motion relates to the same matter as the last amendment. The hon'ble member in charge of the Bill has already said that there is no intention on the part of the Government to take away the power now conferred on Municipal Commissioners to apply to the Government whenever they desire that any provisions contained in Parts VI—X of the Act ought to be extended to their municipality. It was never intended to repeal sections 220 and 221, and we all understood in Select Committee that the new and more elaborate sections framed in substitution of the present sections, were also to stand on the same footing, namely, that they were not to be extended, except on application from the Commissioners at a meeting. The Bill as printed after the final approval of the Select Committee does not contain the words 'at a meeting' after the word 'Commissioners', the effect of which would be to leave the power in the hands of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, as the case may be. It was certainly not understood that these sections could be extended on the application of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, and it was never proposed in Committee. I myself am inclined to believe that the omission of the words 'at a meeting' is a clerical error, and I apprehend the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill will find no difficulty in accepting this amendment."

"The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon said:—"The Government has no objection to accept this amendment as far as regards this section. But with regard to what fell from the hon'ble member as to the effect of section 220, we shall hear more about that when the next amendment is brought forward."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee moved that in section 64 of the Bill, after sub-section (4) of section 237, the following proviso be added:—

"Provided that in the municipalities to which sections 237, 238 and 239 of Act III of 1884 have already been extended, so much of this section shall be deemed to be in force as may correspond with the provisions of those sections."

He said:—

"The building regulations in the Bill are of a very elaborate and complicated character, and they can only be extended to a few of the more advanced municipalities, and are inapplicable to the majority of our municipalities. In about 30 or 40 of our municipalities out of a total number of 150, the building regulations under Act III of 1884 are already in force, Part VI of the Act having been extended to them. But under the provisions of the Bill, as now drafted, it occurs to me that the existing building regulations would cease to be in operation as soon as the present Bill has been enacted into law. The building regulations represent a step in advance, and I do not think the municipalities to which they have been extended ought to be allowed the opportunity of reconsidering their position and resiling from them. I do not think there will be any difference of opinion as regards the principle which underlies my amendment. If there should be any doubt as to the effect of the provisions of the Bill in regard to those municipalities to which the building regulations have already been extended, the question should be set at rest by the adoption of my amendment, which provides that the existing regulations will be in force in the municipalities to which they have already been extended."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"This matter is one which is not quite free from difficulty. A doubt has been suggested as to how far the new sections, which bear the same numbers as the old ones, will be in force in municipalities to which sections with the same numbers have already been extended. Section 220 of Act III of 1884 provides that no provision contained in this Part shall apply to any municipality unless and until it has been expressly extended thereto by the Local Government in the manner provided by the next succeeding section. Sections bearing the numbers of the sections in the Bill have already been extended to about 40 municipalities. The Bill before Council if passed into law will be merely an amending Act, and so there is no question of the rescission or cancellation of the old Act, or of substituting a new one for it; and I am advised that when section 239 for instance has been extended to a municipality, the new section 239, though it may contain very different provisions, is still in force there. I should like to have the advice of the legal advisers of the Government on this matter. Section 237 being a very advanced provision, has been placed first, and sub-section (4) of that section says that this section shall not take effect in a municipality until it has been specially extended thereto by the Local Government at the request of the Commissioners; as regards the remaining sections, the numbers of the sections have been reduced by one, sections 237-240 being very much the same as 237-241, but the aggregate of the provisions is practically the same."

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN said:—"In section 61 of the Bill there was an amendment of section 120 of Act III of 1884, which the Council accepted without discussion. The amendment consisted of the addition of the following proviso:—

Saving clause.

'Provided that, except as is otherwise provided by this Act, in the case of any municipality to which all the provisions of any one of the Parts VII, VIII or IX of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1876, may have been extended, and provided that such provisions were still in force in such municipality immediately before the commencement of this Act, all the provisions of the corresponding Part of this Act, namely, of Parts VI, XI or X respectively, shall be, and shall be deemed to have always been, in force in such municipality without such provisions being expressly extended thereto.'

"That seems to cover all the substantial part of the intention of the hon'ble member who is moving this amendment. The alteration in the numbers of the sections made in this Bill introduces an element of confusion into the matter. The relations between the amending sections Nos. 238, 239 in this Bill, and those in the existing Act are clear and obvious; but it appears to me that the amendment which the hon'ble member proposes, introduces an element of confusion and complexity into the understanding of the question, and it would be very much wiser to reject the amendment. If there are some few municipalities, as I believe there are,—I saw a list of some six of them—to which the provisions referred to in section 61 of the Bill have not been extended as a whole, it should be taken probably that the corresponding sections of this Bill are not in force in those few exceptional municipalities, but no difficulty can arise if the Commissioners of those municipalities apply to the Government, and get the corresponding provisions of this Bill extended to their municipalities. If this amendment is passed, there will be very great difficulty in understanding how the matter stands with reference to such municipalities. The new section 237, which will not come into force in any of the municipalities in Bengal, unless specially asked for, will, by the force of this amendment, be declared to be in force as far as it corresponds with the provisions of the existing Act. But the section does not correspond at all. It is a totally new section, and contemplates a state of circumstances very different from those under the Act of 1884. It will, therefore, I think, be unwise to accept the amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE in reply said:—"I think the hon'ble member who has just spoken has indulged in a little hypercriticism, in commenting upon my remarks. The words 'so much of this' in my amendment are evidently a mistake. They should be 'so much of the provisions of the Bill.' If the hon'ble member had exercised a little of the legal ingenuity which he possesses, he might have seen that that was what was intended."

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON said:—"It seems to me that what we want is to ensure that the sections in the old law should remain in force until they are superseded by the provisions contained in the new Bill. I should say, although I speak with no authority as a lawyer, that it is more than doubtful whether the old sections can possibly remain in force after the new sections have become law. Not only are the sections themselves somewhat different, but their numbering has been transposed, and the section 237 of the Bill now before us, relates to a different subject-matter from section 237 of the existing law. Speaking under correction, therefore, I consider that the extension of the sections of the old law to a municipality will be invalid as soon as the new law is passed, and unless we provide—"

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN rose to order. He said:—"The mover of the amendment having made his final reply, the hon'ble member is not now entitled to speak."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I did not consider the remark made by the hon'ble mover of the amendment to be his final reply. I look upon what he said as a mere interpolation to explain the intention of his amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON continued:—"I was suggesting that the Council should legislate to provide that the existing sections shall remain in force until the new sections are extended to a municipality which is affected by them. That seems to me to be a far simpler proposal than that of the hon'ble mover of the amendment, and to be the only way in which any building regulations at all can exist in the municipalities affected. It is most important that this point should be made clear. There is a risk of any one or more of these municipalities, who neglect to apply to the Government to extend the new provisions, finding that the provisions of the old law do not continue to apply to them. Therefore, we shall be giving them an opportunity of backsliding, which is just what I apprehend the hon'ble member is not prepared to do. I am not ready at this moment to come forward with an amendment, but I think the matter deserves consideration, and would suggest that time should be allowed for the preparation of an amendment which would maintain the old sections in the case of such municipalities, until the provisions of the Bill now before us are substituted for them."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"We are all agreed to carry out the views of the hon'ble mover of the amendment, but there is a difficulty in deciding upon the exact form of words by which that should be done. If the consideration of this amendment is postponed, the hon'ble member can, in the interval, with the assistance of the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, and the legal advisers of the Government, settle the exact form of words which will be necessary, and bring forward a revised amendment at the next meeting of the Council."

The further consideration of this amendment was postponed to the next sitting of the Council.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE also moved that in section 64 of the Bill, the following be substituted for clause (a) of section 240:—

"any alteration or enlargement affecting two-thirds of any building."

He said:—

"Section 240, clause (a), provides that the expression 'erection of a house' includes any material alteration or enlargement of the house. The word 'material' is not defined, and I want to define it. In the definition I propose, I follow the lines laid down by the building bye-laws of the Calcutta Municipality, where bye-law number 1 (e) contains the following definition of a new building:—'Whenever any old masonry building has been taken down to an extent exceeding one-half, the rebuilding shall be deemed to be the erection of a new building.'"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"The Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer, not long ago, advised a young legislator to avoid definitions, and I should like to repeat that advice. It seems to me that the clause is quite clear and specific enough. The hon'ble member does not say how the two-thirds is to be ascertained, and I think we should do well to leave the question, whether the alteration is material or immaterial, to the decision of the local authorities."

The Motion was, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble MR. STUART moved that after section 72 of the Bill, the following section be inserted:—

"In the section 263, the words 'exceeding ten in number' shall be omitted."

He said:—

"This amendment does not involve any principle, but its adoption will greatly facilitate the municipal authorities in their endeavours to promote sanitation. The result of the working of section 263 is that practically the municipal authorities have no control over stables and cattle-sheds. I may take, as an instance of this, the municipality of Cossipore-Chitpur, one of the Municipal Commissioners of which asked me to visit the place, and I saw in one shed over 20 horses, and in one yard over 50 head of cattle. The municipal authorities are not able to enforce the taking out of licenses, because the proprietor states that only 10 or a less number belongs to him, the rest being apportioned among his servants. It was stated to me that at the time of the periodical fairs, over 2,000 cattle are collected in a small space within the municipality; but the municipal authorities have no power to compel the owners to keep these places clean, the consequence being that they are kept in a most filthy condition, and the refuse is not removed, but is allowed to foster in the sun or flow into wells, whence the neighbours draw their drinking water. The fee for registration is a very small one, the object being only to enable the municipality to enforce cleanliness. In Calcutta, any one who keeps animals for profit under section 235 of the Calcutta Municipal Act is obliged to take out a license; and I think that in the suburbs of Calcutta and in large towns, it is quite as necessary to take the same precautions."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"I do not see how the difficulty arises. Under section 263 the Commissioners seem to have ample powers. It provides that 'within such limits as the Commissioners at a meeting may determine, no milkman, cartman, livery stable keeper or keeper of hackney carriages, shall keep horses, ponies, or cattle exceeding ten in number for the purpose of trade or business, except in a place licensed by the Commissioners'. The section does not say anything with reference to such horses or cattle belonging to one person or more than one person. I think the Commissioners have ample powers for dealing with such matters, but if there is any doubt, it would be removed by adding the words 'whether singly or jointly' between the words 'shall' and 'keep.' If, on the other hand, you omit the words 'ten in number,' it might cause great hardship to particular persons, for there are many poor women who keep one or two cows and make their living by selling milk. Such cases ought not to be covered by this section. 'Milkman' includes 'milkmen.' When the aggregate exceeds the number ten, I think the section makes ample provision; but to make the section applicable to every person who keeps a cow, would involve hardships which are not called for under the circumstances."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I think the Hon'ble MR. STUART'S amendment should be accepted. He says that the provisions of this section obstruct the Commissioners in maintaining in a proper sanitary condition places where cattle, horses, &c., are kept. With all respect to the legal knowledge of the hon'ble member who spoke last, it seems to me very doubtful whether in this case the singular does include the plural. It is not reasonable to suppose that the taking out of a license will be required in the case of a poor woman who keeps a cow for her support, and the Commissioners are not anxious to tax poor persons, but to obtain effective control over those who keep considerable numbers of cattle and yet just manage to evade the law as it now stands, it seems to me very unlikely that so large a sum as that provided in the section will be levied from any poor persons."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"It seems to me that it is not the case of singular and plural, but the aggregate number of cattle kept in any one place. Suppose any ten milkmen combine to keep nine head of cattle each, would they not come within the section?"

The Hon'ble MR. STUART in reply said:—"I can only say that this has proved an actual difficulty, and the difficulty is aggravated owing to the number of cattle brought together at certain times of the year. I would like the hon'ble member on my right (MR. GHOSE) to visit the goalu bustee at Cossipore, where these 'poor women' each keep one or two cows. The bustees consist of a number of huts and cattle-sheds, and the condition of the place is not to be described. The section provides for places outside the limits fixed by the municipality where these licenses would not necessarily be required."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJUL ISLAM KHAN BAHADUR moved that in line 4 of section 81 of the Bill for "words" the word "word" be substituted, and that the words "and cesspools" be omitted. He said:—

"I do not quite see the reason which induced the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill to include 'cess pools' in Part IX of the Act, nor do I see any reason given in the Report of the Select Committee for the alteration proposed. It appears from paragraph 34 of the Report of the Select Committee that no alteration was intended. They said:—

'After careful consideration we recommend that the present system of levying fees for the construction and cleaning of privies and cess-pools may be left unaltered.'

"The impression left on one's mind in reading this paragraph is that it is not intended that there should be any alteration, but on a careful reading of the sections of the Act and of the Bill, it would appear that the inclusion of cess-pools in Part IX makes an important change, and indirectly gives the Commissioners power to impose additional fees on the rate-payers under that Part. As the law at present stands, under section 186 of the Act, the Commissioners are bound to provide for the removal of sewage out of the general fund. The word 'sewage' is defined in section 6, clause 17 of the Act as including the contents of cess pools; so that the cost of clearing cess-pools is provided for out of the general fund. Now section 321 of Part IX gives Municipal Commissioners power to levy an additional fee, called the latrine-fee, and section 322 provides that such fees are to be levied solely for the maintenance of establishments for cleansing latrines, privies, &c. Therefore, if cess-pool is included in this Part, the Commissioners will have to provide for the maintenance of a larger establishment under that Part, and will have power to impose additional taxes on the rate-payers. I would leave the law as it stands, and therefore move this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"The hon'ble mover of the amendment has not, I think, given sufficient consideration to the fact that Part V, which provides for conservancy, generally applies to all municipalities, and that Part IX, which applies to the cleansing and maintenance of latrines only, is extended to municipalities by the order of the Government on the application of the Commissioners. All that the Committee wished to do was to make the existing law clear. The words 'and cess-pools' have been included only to secure correspondence with the definition of sewage in section 6. The words 'privies and cesspools' have been substituted for 'latrines,' because it was generally thought that the word 'latrine' rather imports a public convenience, but by using the words 'privies and cesspools,' it will be made more clear that the provisions of this Part apply to private places. The hon'ble member will see that no great change is intended, and the Bill should be allowed to stand as it is."

The Motion was, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJUL ISLAM KHAN BAHADUR also moved that in section 83 of the Bill the words "if there is no occupier or" and "and the provisions of section one hundred and ten shall be applicable" be omitted. He said:—

"Under the provisions of the present Act (section 322), the owners of holdings which have no occupier are not liable to pay the latrine fee. Reading the whole section, it would appear that under the existing law as it stands, such owners are not made liable to pay any latrine fee. The effect of the amendment made by the Select Committee is to make the owner liable to pay the latrine-fee in cases where there are no occupiers, only receiving a remission of half the amount under section 110. In paragraph 34 of the Select Committee's report, they say:—'We have allowed a remission or refund on account of vacant holdings. This shows as if the Select Committee are making a fresh concession to the owners of vacant holdings; but under the law as it stands, they are not liable to any latrine fee for vacant holdings. I do not see why owners should be liable to pay any latrine fee for vacant houses."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"The question between the Select Committee and the hon'ble mover of the amendment is, whether a latrine rate should or should not be levied from vacant holdings. The hon'ble member has overlooked one point, namely, that the latrine tax is not a fee for services rendered, but it is a rate on holdings. It was proposed and at one time strongly pressed, that the tax should be a fee for services rendered, but the Committee decided that it should continue to be a rate on holdings. They have not therefore in this respect interfered with the existing law, which provides that the latrine rate should ordinarily be paid by the occupier, but where a house is occupied in severalty, the owner pays the rate, and recovers it proportionately from the several occupiers. The words to which the hon'ble member objects are intended to provide for the payment of the rate when a house is not occupied, and in making that provision we have followed the analogy of the house-rate, and we have followed out the parallel by allowing a partial reduction when the holding is vacant for any considerable time. When a house is vacant for sixty consecutive days in the year, the owner can apply and obtain a proportionate refund, or if he has not paid any rate, the appropriate amount will be remitted."

The Hon'ble MR. LYALL said:—"As a member of the Select Committee, I have a word to say. I voted for the section as it stands, because it seems to me a matter of expediency that the tax should not be allowed to fall off on account of houses being vacant. A portion of the establishment cannot be dismissed or discharged as a house becomes vacant, and, moreover, in most mufassal municipalities, sweepers have to be imported, and the establishment has to be maintained whether they are employed fully or not. I therefore voted for the remission of half the rate only in such cases, so that the proceeds of the tax might vary as little as possible."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Mr. Ghose moved that in section 83 of the Bill, after sub-section (4) of section 322, the following proviso be added:—

"Provided that no such fee shall be levied in respect of any shop or place of business which does not contain any privies or cess-pools, when a fee under this Part is levied from the occupier thereof in respect of his dwelling-house within the same municipality."

He said:—

"My amendment also relates to the matter of this latrine tax. As a member of the Select Committee, I agreed to the compromise arrived at, although at first I was inclined to think that it was unfair to tax vacant houses where no service was necessary; yet, recognising that a particular establishment had to be kept up, for the purpose, I agreed to the compromise of requiring half the fee from vacant houses. But there is another class of cases which is covered by my amendment, and in which there will be great hardship unless my amendment is accepted. It is the case of a shop-keeper who resides in his own house, and has a shop in another house. It does seem to me to be hard that a man should have to pay the latrine tax twice over, once for the house in which he resides, and again for his shop or place of business, although there is no privy or cess-pool in the latter. I think that whenever he is assessed in respect of his dwelling house, he should not be taxed for his shop or place of business in which there is no privy or cess-pool."

The Hon'ble Mr. Bourdillon said:—"The amendment seems to me, as a member of the Select Committee, to be conveniently reasonable, and I desire to support it."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Maulvi Serajul Islam Khan Bahadur moved that after section 85 of the Bill, the following new section be added:—

"85A. In line 5 of section 339 of the Act, between the word 'Commissioners' and the words 'may grant' the following words shall be inserted:—

'shall, as regards markets (already existing) at the time of the extension of this Part to the municipality, and in all other cases.'"

He said:—

"I am sorry I have to detain the Council with this amendment at this late stage; but it is after much deliberation and consultation with some of the most eminent members of the Calcutta bar that I have been induced to bring forward this motion. On a reference to Part X of the Act, sections 335 to 340, it would appear that the power of the Commissioners to grant licenses for markets is purely discretionary, and cases have occurred in which the Commissioners have exercised their purely arbitrary powers without due regard to the private rights of parties. The well known case of the Motihari Municipality is an instance in point. In that case the Municipal Commissioners refused to grant a license to Messrs. Moran, the owner of an old and very valuable market, simply because they themselves had set up a rival market; and although Messrs. Moran obtained a certificate from the Chairman under section 340 to the effect that they had complied with the provisions of the law, still the Commissioners did not think it proper to grant a license. The result was that Messrs. Moran were deprived of their market, and when they went to law, the Courts declared that they could not interfere. I would invite the attention of the Council to a passage in the judgment of Mr. Justice Pigot, at page 333 of the Indian Law Reports, Volume XVII, Calcutta Series). The learned Judge says:—

'There is no doubt that the powers possessed by the municipality under the Part X of Bengal Act III of 1884 have been so used as to put an end to that market to the profit of a market established by the municipality under the authority of one of the sections of Part X of the Act; and the question before us is whether, under the provisions of Bengal Act III of 1884, power was conferred upon the municipality of doing those acts destructive of the plaintiff's property, and yet no remedy or no right was allowed by the Act to persons in the position of the plaintiffs in case of the Act being so used to the destruction of their property.'

"Their Lordships held that under the law as it at present stands, a person who is deprived of his property by the Municipal Commissioners under Part X has no remedy. I therefore submit that it is the duty of the Legislature to step in and remedy such a state of things, and on these grounds the amendment I have the honour to propose should be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I may at once inform the hon'ble member that the Lieutenant-Governor has considered this matter, and read the case to which the hon'ble member has referred me—as well as another case, the case of the Madaripur Municipality—and the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor is, that if the hon'ble member will substitute the words 'lawfully established' for 'already existing', there will be no objection to the amendment."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SERAJUL ISLAM KHAN BAHADUR said:—"I accept the alteration."

The Motion as amended was then put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE moved that in section 86 of the Bill, sub-section (3) of section 349B be omitted. He said:—

"This amendment deals with the question of fires and the action taken for preventing the spread of fire, and the last clause of the section runs thus:—'Any damage done in the exercise of a power conferred or a duty imposed by this section shall be deemed to be damage by fire within the meaning of any policy of insurance against fire.' It is a very rare thing for a dwelling-house, even in Calcutta, to be insured, and I am not aware that any house in the mufassal, unless it be a factory or a mill, is ever insured. When we speak of pulling down houses to prevent the spread of fire we practically refer to thatched houses and huts which are never insured. Under these circumstances, I do not see the necessity for a clause of this kind, and it very seems doubtful whether this Council in amending the Municipal Act can indirectly alter the law as regards policies of insurance, especially as there is no necessity for it. I think the wiser course will be to drop this sub-section, and I should very much like to have the opinion of the learned Advocate-General."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I am quite sure that we cannot legislate to declare that damage done in putting out a fire is 'damage by fire within the meaning of any policy of insurance against fire.'"

The Hon'ble MR. COTTON said:—"The point was considered when the Fire-brigade Bill was under consideration, and it was then decided to omit a somewhat similar section in that Act. I think there will be no objection to the omission of the clause in the Municipal Bill."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I am of opinion that the Council ought to follow the advice of the Hon'ble the Advocate-General."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I thank the hon'ble members for their patience in sitting so long to finish this Bill. At the next meeting of the Council, after the wording of the Bill has been thoroughly considered, and any alterations made in grammar or other minor points, in order to make the amendments which have been accepted fit in with each other and with the rest of the Bill, I hope we shall be able to pass the Bill into law."

The motion No. 2 in the List of Business was postponed to the next sitting of the Council.

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 28th instant.

Assistant Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal,

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 8 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0°·2 lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

* Mean of five days. † Mean of six days.

Explanation.—Summary—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the
The Assmidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an ove cast sky by 10. 'The mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in questio stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one of which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·10 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 8th May 1894.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 5TH OF MAY 1894.

THE previous week closed with a small storm which had formed in the Andaman Sea and pressure below the average over the whole reporting area and relatively lowest in Assam. The storm developed very rapidly on the 28th and advanced into the Gulf of Martaban, so that the chart of the 29th showed a well-defined storm advancing into Burma. The centre passed about noon almost midway between Rangoon and Moulmein, and the storm broke up on the night of the 29th. It appears to have done considerable damage to native craft, but full reports have not yet been received. On the 29th the distribution of pressure was, of course, very abnormal, varying from a defect of over one-third of an inch at Rangoon to a defect of nearly one-tenth in Bihar. On the 30th a very rapid rise of the barometer had taken place in Burma, while it continued to fall in Assam. The area of relatively lowest pressure was, hence, once more transferred to Assam, and distribution was still of very abnormal character. Next day, however, a very rapid increase of pressure in Assam and Eastern Bengal changed all this, the defect was more than made up at all the northern stations except in the extreme north-east of Assam, and the resulting distribution almost resumed its normal character. On the 1st and 2nd May the increase of pressure continued, but much less rapidly so, that the chart for the 3rd May shows pressure everywhere above the normal and relatively highest in North Bengal, conditions which were not much altered by the 5th, as the brisk rise shown in Bihar on the 4th was succeeded by a brisk fall in the same district on the 5th. The week closes therefore with pressure slightly above the normal in Bengal, and actually highest in Assam and lowest in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

Temperature.—The main feature of the week has been the excessive and steadily increasing temperature in Assam, which has averaged 5·4° above the normal. East and North Bengal have also been much hotter than usual, the former 3·1° and the latter 2·6°, but the excessive heat has been to a small extent modified by local storms in both districts. South-West Bengal and Bihar are slightly above, and Orissa and Chota Nagpur slightly below, the normal. In all these districts considerable variations have taken place due to local storms, so that the week closes with an area of abnormally excessive heat in East Bengal and particularly in Assam, and an area of considerable deficiency in Bihar, the former a permanent feature the latter merely transitory.

Rainfall.—Although a considerable number of local thunderstorms have taken place and have had a marked influence on temperature, still they have not brought much rain. Bihar has received one-third of an inch, or about three-fourths of its normal average, South-West Bengal a fifth of an inch, and the other districts smaller amounts. Strangely enough in East Bengal, which usually receives the greatest amount, the rainfall has been less than that of any other district except Orissa and the quantity (one-twelfth of an inch) quite insignificant.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 5th of May 1894:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Statement of principal commodities carried on the Eastern Bengal State Railway during the month of February 1894.

INCREASES.

	Tons.		Tons.
Coal	6,439	Salt	1,139
Large despatches to Bracebridge Hall account for this increase.		In upward despatches from Chitpur and in despatches from E. I. Railway vid Moniharighat.
Rice not in the husk	6,577	Spices	1,463
The increase was chiefly in despatches from Chitpur, Armanianghat, Magrahat and the Bihar Section stations, due to brisk demand in the eastern districts where scarcity prevailed.		Chiefly in despatches from Calcutta and Chitpur.
Jute, raw	3,921	Sugar	1,058
Principally in despatches from Kissengunge, Mymensing, Serajgunge and Goalundo due to favourable market in Calcutta.		The increase was chiefly in upward despatches from Calcutta, Krishnagunj Bazar and Alamdanga due to demand upcountry.

DECREASES.

	Tons.		Tons.
Kerosine oil	5,153	Tea	1,170
The market having fallen, the merchants held on.		Falling off in despatches of Cachar and Assam Tea.

CHAPTER VI

Rules under section 189 of the Bengal Tenancy Act as to the procedure to be followed by Revenue Officers in regard to the Record of Rights and Settlement of Rents.

1. Revenue officers appointed for the purpose of making surveys, record of rights, settlement of rents, determination of proprietors' private lands, and such like proceedings, or any one or more of them under the Tenancy Act, are hereby vested with the powers mentioned in section 189 (1) (a), (b) and (c), Tenancy Act VIII of 1885.

2. Deputy Superintendents of Survey and Assistant Superintendents of Survey employed in operations under these Rules are hereby declared to be Revenue officers for the purposes of performing any duty imposed upon them by these Rules, or by instructions consistent with these Rules, issued by the Board of Revenue. They are hereby vested with the powers specified in section 189 (1)(b), provided that an Assistant Superintendent shall not exercise the powers vested in a Superintendent under the Bengal Survey Act.

PROCEDURE FOR CADASTRAL SURVEY AND RECORD OF RIGHTS.

3. The following processes will ordinarily be comprised in a cadastral survey, record of rights, and settlement of rents:—

I.—Demarcation of boundaries.
II.—Measurement.
III.—Khanapuri, i.e., preliminary preparation of the record.
IV.—Attestation of the record.
V.—Draft publication of the record of rights.
VI.—Settlement of fair rents, disposal of objections and trial of disputes under sections 104, 105, 106 of the Tenancy Act.
VII.—Final publication.

I.—DEMARCATION OF BOUNDARIES.

4. (a) In the demarcation of village boundaries care shall be taken to preserve as far as possible, for the unit of survey and record, the area contained within the exterior boundaries of the village maps of the revenue survey.

(b) Where there is no dispute the boundary of the village according to possession should be followed, and where that boundary does not differ substantially from the boundary of the Revenue Survey, the latter need not be separately shown in the map.

(c) Where there is considerable difference between the boundary according to the revenue survey map and the boundary of the village as now understood, the latter should be followed for the purposes of map and record; but the boundary of the Revenue Survey map should also be marked on the new village map.

(d) Where there is dispute as to village boundaries, the Revenue officer shall decide what shall be the unit of survey and record.

5. Boundary pillars of a permanent nature shall be erected at every point where the boundaries of three or more villages meet, and may be erected wherever the Revenue officer considers it necessary to define by pillars the boundaries of estates or tenures, or of lands which have been the subject of dispute.

II.—MEASUREMENT.

6. A field map of every village shall be prepared. It shall show the boundaries of every field separately assessed to rent, or of such plot of land as the instructions of the Board of Revenue for giving effect to these rules may lay down.

III.—KHANAPURI, i.e., PRELIMINARY PREPARATION OF THE RECORD.

7. (a) Settlement records made under Chapter X of the Tenancy Act shall be prepared in such manner as the Board of Revenue may prescribe, and shall consist of the following documents:—

Village map ;		Khewat ;
Khasra ;		Khatian ;
	Tirij ;

and any other papers which the Board of Revenue may prescribe.

(b) While the writing of the khasra proceeds, extracts therefrom, known as parchas, shall be prepared in such form as the Board may prescribe, and shall be distributed to the occupants of the lands entered in the khasra, in order that they may be informed from the first as to the entries which are being made in the records.

8. The record of rights which shall be published under section 105 of the Tenancy Act, shall be contained in the khewat and the khatian.

9. (a) The khewat shall show the character and extent of proprietary interests; and the character and extent of interests of such large tenure-holders as in the opinion of the Revenue officer require to be recorded in such form in addition to being recorded in the khatian.

(b) The khewat of proprietary interests shall first be drawn up in accordance with the registers maintained by the Collector under the provisions of the Land Registration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1876. As the record-writing proceeds, the proprietary khewat shall be corrected in accordance with the facts of possession.

10. (a) The khatian shall show in detail for all the lands of the village, mahal by mahal, landlord by landlord, and occupant by occupant, the lands included in each mahal, owned by each landlord and occupied by each tenant, with particulars of rent and of the incidents of each tenancy.

(b) Lands cultivated or otherwise held direct by the proprietor shall be shown in detail in the khatian, and shall be entered either as proprietor's private land, or as land held by the proprietor but not private land, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XI of the Tenancy Act.

IV.—ATTESTATION OF THE RECORD.

11. (a) When the map, khasra, khewat, and khatian for a village have been prepared in such manner as the Board may prescribe, the Revenue officer shall issue a notification in such form as may be approved by the Board of Revenue, fixing a day, which shall be not less than a week from the date of issue of the notification, on which he will be present at some place to be specified, at or near the village, for the purpose of attesting and completing the record of rights.

(b) The notification shall further state that on the day so fixed, or on any other day to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the Revenue officer will proceed to record rents when the circumstances are such as are specified in section 104 (1), and to receive applications for the settlement of fair rents; and it shall require all parties interested in the subject-matter of the enquiry to attend at the time and place specified with such evidence as they have to offer in connection with the proceedings. Such notice shall be published by proclamation and beat of drum and fixed up in the presence of not less than two persons in some conspicuous place in the village to which it refers.

12. The Revenue officer may also, if he deem fit, take such additional measures under Rule 1 of this Chapter as may be desirable to procure the attendance at the place specified in the notice to be issued under the last preceding rule of the under-raiyats, raiyats, tenure-holders, and proprietors, or their authorized agents.

13. On the date specified in the notice to be issued under Rule 11, or on any other date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the entries which have been made in each tenant's khatian shall be read out in the presence of such of the interested parties as are in attendance. If the correctness of the entries be disputed, the Revenue officer shall summarily decide the dispute after local enquiry; provided that if the correctness of the measurement is called in question, and a fresh measurement be demanded, the Revenue officer may require the costs of the re-measurement to be deposited. If the remeasurement show the original measurement to have been inaccurate, the amount deposited shall be refunded to the objector.

14. The Revenue officer shall ascertain what raiyats claim the right to hold at fixed rates (shara muayyan) or fixed rents (mukarrari jama) or to be settled or occupancy (kaimi) raiyats, explaining as far as may be necessary the provisions of the Act in this respect. If the right claimed is disputed by the landlord, the Revenue officer shall call on the claimants for proof of such right.

15. If a raiyat claims to hold at fixed rates or a fixed rent, the Revenue officer shall call on the raiyat to adduce proof that he and his ancestors have resided and cultivated in the village for at least three generations, and have paid rent in cash, and that the rent or rate of rent has not been changed for 20 years. If he produces satisfactory evidence on this point, the onus of rebutting his claim will rest on the landlord.

16. In the case of non-occupancy raiyats, the Revenue officer may call upon the landlord or his agent to produce a statement showing the names of the raiyats alleged by him to be non-occupancy raiyats. On production of such statement, the Revenue officer shall explain to the raiyats whose names are entered in the statement, the nature of the presumption raised by section 20(7) of the Act. If, after such explanation, a raiyat admits himself to be a non-occupancy raiyat, he shall be recorded as such. If he does not admit himself to be a non-occupancy raiyat, the Revenue officer shall call on the landlord to prove the allegation made by him in regard to such raiyat.

17. Abwabs shall not be recorded with, nor entered as forming part of, the existing rent. Cesses which are authorized by law shall be recorded separately from the rent in the khatian.

18. If no dispute exists as to the amount of rent actually due from the raiyat, the Revenue officer shall confirm the entry made in the khatian as to the rent at present payable, or, if there be a dispute, shall summarily ascertain the tenant's present rent and record it in the khatian.

V.—Draft Publication of the Record of Rights.

19. (a) When the record of rights and of existing rents has been prepared and attested in the manner prescribed in rules 11 to 18, the Revenue officer shall give notice verbally to the assembled villagers that on a date which he shall name at the time a draft of the khewat and khatian will be published in the village. He shall record the fact of having given this notice in a proceeding, in which he shall state that attestation of the records of the village has been completed. A notice shall also be posted up at the landlord's office in the village, or in the presence of not less than two persons, in some conspicuous place in the village, stating that the draft of the record will be published in the village on a day to be specified, not more than a week from the date of such notice, and calling on all persons interested to attend on the date so specified.

(b) On the date fixed for draft publication, the Revenue officer shall either proceed to the village himself, and read the contents of the record in the presence of the parties who attend, or he shall depute an officer, not below the rank of kanungo, who shall read out the contents of the record in the presence of so many of the parties as attend, and the Revenue officer or officer deputed by him, as the case may be, shall at the same time inform the parties who attend that the draft record will be open for inspection for three months in the office of the Revenue officer, or in such other convenient place as the Revenue officer may determine. The Revenue officer shall receive and consider any objection which may be made to any entry during the period named.

VI.—SETTLEMENT OF FAIR RENTS, DISPOSAL OF OBJECTIONS, AND TRIAL OF DISPUTES UNDER SECTIONS 104, 105, AND 106 OF THE TENANCY ACT.

20. After draft publication of the record of existing rights and rents has been made, the Revenue officer shall proceed to decide applications made by landlord or tenant for a settlement of rent, or, in cases where a settlement of land revenue is being made under section 101, (2)(d), shall settle fair and equitable rents for all tenants, under section 104(2) of the Tenancy Act.

21. Applications for the settlement of fair rents may be made at any time up to the limit of two months from the date of draft publication. But in special cases the Revenue officer may exercise his discretion as to receiving such applications on a date outside of this limit. If the landlord applies for the settlement of a fair rent, he shall be considered as plaintiff and the tenant as defendant, and the proceeding shall be dealt with as a suit under this Act. If the tenant applies for the settlement of a fair rent, he shall be considered as plaintiff and the landlord as defendant, and the proceeding shall be dealt with as a suit under this Act.

22. If it appears on legal evidence that a tenant is holding land in excess of, or less than, that for which he is paying rent, the Revenue officer shall proceed to fix a fair and equitable rent for the holding under section 104(2) and (3).

23. When the estate or tenure belongs to, or is managed by, the Government or the Court of Wards, the procedure laid down in the preceding rules for recording or settling rents shall be followed, the Government or the Manager of the estate or the tenure respectively, as the case may be, being regarded as the landlord.

24. (a) When a settlement of land revenue is being made under section 104 (2) read with section 101 2(d) of the Tenancy Act in respect of any lands, it shall be the duty of the Revenue Officer to record a proceeding for each village which may be in the form prescribed below, or in such other form as may be approved by the Board of Revenue, setting forth that on a date named and at a place named he will settle fair rents in respect of all estates, tenures or holdings and for unsettled lands included in such village.

Proceeding for settlement of fair rents in connection with a settlement of the land revenue.

Whereas it is my duty as Revenue Officer, under section 104 (2) read with section 101 (2) (d) of the said Act, to settle a fair and equitable rent in respect of the lands of village or mahal or taluk or jote, &c., in respect of which a settlement of land revenue is now being made in village of thana it is hereby directed that notice be given in terms of this proceeding that on the at I shall proceed to fix fair and equitable rents for all lands included in such village or mahal, &c.

Revenue Officer.

(b) A schedule may be appended to the proceeding, giving the names and numbers of all estates, tenures and holdings, paying revenue or rent to Government, and particulars of unsettled lands for which revenue will be settled.

(c) Such proceeding shall be sufficient authority for making a settlement of all rents within such estates, tenures or holdings, and it shall not be necessary to state that Government or the Secretary of State is plaintiff, or to join any landlord as co-plaintiff, or to draw up any plaint or application.

(d) It shall not be necessary to register such proceeding as a plaint under section 58 of the Code of Civil Procedure, but applications made by landlords or tenants for settlement of fair rents shall be so registered.

Notices.

25. When (1) a landlord or tenant applies for the settlement of a fair rent, or (2) in any case in which a Revenue Officer engaged in the settlement of the land revenue proposes to alter an existing rent, notice shall be given in the following manner to persons interested.

(1) In the case of an application made by the landlord or tenant, notice shall be served on every person interested in the application.

(2) In the case of a settlement of the land revenue, a copy of the proceeding prescribed in rule 24 shall be served by proclamation and beat of drum, and by posting it in the presence of not less than two persons in some conspicuous place in the village, comprising the lands under settlement. Proof of service of such notice at least one week previous to the date fixed for settlement of fair rents shall be sufficient notice to all persons concerned.

26. With the consent of the Revenue officer, any number of tenants occupying land under the landlord in the same village or estate may make a joint application for the settlement of rents, or may be joined as defendants in the same proceeding on a similar application by the landlord; or when settlement of the land revenue is being made under section 101(2) (d), the Revenue officer may of his own motion join all landlords and tenants in a mahal or village in one proceeding; provided that if at any time it shall appear to the Revenue officer that the question between any two of the parties of whom one is so joined with others cannot conveniently be so jointly tried, he may order a separate trial to be held of that question, or he may pass such other order, in accordance with the Civil Procedure Code, for the joint or separate disposal of the application as he may think fit.

27. On the date fixed for settlement of fair rents in connection with a settlement of the land revenue or on any subsequent date to which the proceeding may be adjourned, the Revenue officer shall proceed to read or cause to be read aloud the name of each tenant, the area of his tenancy, the existing rent, the rent claimed or, in the case of a settlement of land revenue, the rent proposed (by the Settlement Officer), and shall ask the landlord and tenant, if they are present, whether the proposed rent is accepted. If the landlord and tenant be present, and if both accept the proposed rent, the Revenue Officers shall record their acceptance, and if in his opinion the rent proposed be fair and equitable, he shall settle it accordingly.

In cases where a landlord or tenant does not attend after due service of notice has been proved, the procedure will be ex-parte.

In cases where a landlord or tenant appears, and does not accept the rent proposed, the Revenue Officer shall deal with the case in the manner prescribed in clauses (e) and (f) of section 148 of the Bengal Tenancy Act for trial of rent suits.

28. It shall not be necessary for a Revenue officer to draw up a separate decree with regard to the fair rent settled; but the entry made in his decision or schedule attached thereto with regard to the fair rent settled shall be held to be a decree.

29. When a fair and equitable rent has been fixed under the preceding rules, it shall be entered in the khatians as the rent payable in respect of the holding.

30. When an objection is made before the final publication of the record regarding the correctness of an entry (not being an entry of rents settled under Chapter X) or as to the propriety of any omission, notice of the objection shall be served on all persons whose interests may, in the opinion of the Revenue officer, be affected thereby, and they shall be called upon to attend at such time and place as the Revenue officer may fix for the disposal of the objection. If no person attends to contest the objection, the record may be amended accordingly, or the person who made the objection may, if the Revenue officer thinks fit, be called upon to produce evidence in support of his objection, which shall in that case be tried summarily, unless in his petition of objection the objector shall have expressly asked that his objection shall be tried as a civil suit. In the latter case, if the persons interested having been duly served with notices shall fail to attend, the objection shall be heard and decided as a suit ex-parte under section 106 of the Tenancy Act. If any person attends and contests the objection, the proceeding shall be dealt with as a suit between the parties under section 106 of the Tenancy Act, in which the objector shall be plaintiff and the other parties defendants.

31. (a) A Revenue officer who, under the designation of a Settlement Officer, has been appointed for the purpose of making a survey and record of rights and settlement of rents under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885, shall have power to make over applications for settlement of fair rents made under section 104 or objections prefered under section 105 of the Act or dispute cases instituted under section 106 of the Act to the officers subordinate to him, who have been duly empowered under the designation of Assistant Settlement Officers to act as Revenue Officers under the provisions of the same chapter of the same Act.

(b) On the application of either party, after giving notice to the other party interested and hearing objections preferred, if any, or of his own motion without giving such notice, a Revenue Officer so appointed under the designation of Settlement Officer shall have power to withdraw from the file of any Revenue Officer (designated Assistant Settlement Officer) who is subordinate to him any such applications made under section 104 or objections preferred under section 105 or dispute cases instituted under section 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and to dispose of such applications, objections or dispute cases himself or to transfer them for disposal to another officer similarly subordinate to him, who is duly empowered to act as a Revenue Officer.

VII.—FINAL PUBLICATION.

32. When all applications for settling a fair rent have been disposed of, and all objections and disputes of the nature mentioned in rule 30 have been decided by the Revenue officer, he shall make in the appropriate columns of the khewat or khatian such corrections as are required to carry out the orders passed in regard to those applications, objections and disputes. He shall then finally frame the record and cause it to be published by notifying that its contents will be read out in the village on a date to be specified not less than a week from the date of such notice, and by reading it out himself or causing it to be read in the village on the date so specified, in the manner prescribed in Rule 19, in the presence of the parties or of so many of them as attend.

SUPPLY OF COPIES OF THE RECORD OF RIGHTS TO PARTIES INTERESTED.

33 (a). The Revenue officer having completed the record, shall cause copies of it to be made, one of which, or extracts from which, will be made over to the landlord concerned or, where there are more landlords than one, to their common agent or common manager, as the case may be, and one to the Collector of the district.

(b) An extract from the khatian relating to his tenancy shall be given to every tenant under the seal of the Revenue officer and under the signature of an officer duly authorized by the Revenue officer to give copies.

(c) Copies of records supplied to landlords and tenants under this rule shall be given free or on payment according as in the case of each local area the Local Government may direct. When payment is required, the sums so recovered shall be adjusted against the expenses incurred on account of survey and settlement.

Final Reports.

34. The Local Government may, if it thinks fit, direct that a final report be written in English for each village and each local area under survey. The report for the village will show—

(b)—The area and classification of the village lands according—(a) to survey and settlement; (b) to landlord's jamabandi, if known.

(c)—The rental according to settlement, and according to landlord's jamabandi, with explanation of increase or decrease, amount of Government revenue, and comparison of rent with revenue.

(g)—Village customs, including customs as to payment of village officials.

The report for the whole area under survey will contain the following particulars:—

I—General description of the tract.

II—Its fiscal history.

III—Statistical results.

IV—Comparison of condition of tract as regards rentals before and after survey.

V—Financial results, including approximate division of expenses under the heads—

(c)—Preparation and distribution of records.

These reports shall not form part of the record of rights.

Applications by Proprietors for Survey and Record of Rights.

35. Section 103.—Applications under this section shall be made to the Collector of the district.

36. The application shall specify—

(a)—The status of the applicant, viz. whether he is a proprietor or a tenure-holder, and the particulars in respect of which the application is made.

(b)—The number of tenants (so far as the applicant is able to state it) occupying the estate or tenure, or part thereof in respect of which the application is made, the total rent payable by them at the time, and the estimated area covered by the application.

37. If the application is made by a proprietor, it shall not be admitted unless the name of the applicant and the extent of his interest are registered under Act VII (B.C.) of 1876.

38. On receipt of the application, the Collector shall forward it to the Commissioner with any remarks which he may think necessary.

39. The Commissioner may call for further information, or may require the application to be amended.

40. If the Commissioner shall have reason to believe that the number of tenants affected by the application does not exceed 1,000, and that the rent payable by them at the time the application is made does not exceed Rs. 25,000, he shall pass an order allowing or rejecting the application; but otherwise he shall forward the application with an expression of his opinion for the orders of the Board of Revenue.

41. A Commissioner rejecting an application shall record his reasons for doing so, and the applicant, if dissatisfied with the order, may appeal within one month to the Board of Revenue.

42. When an application is referred to the Board under Rule 40, or in consequence of an appeal under Rule 41, the Board shall pass such orders as it may think fit for allowing or rejecting the application.

43. The Commissioner or the Board, as the case may be, when allowing an application, shall specify the Revenue officer or officers by whom the record is to be prepared.

44. As soon as an application is allowed, the Collector shall call upon the applicant to deposit the expenses at the rate of eight annas per acre for the estimated area in respect of which the application has been allowed. If the Collector is unable to estimate the area, he shall calculate the expenses at the rate of

Rs. 2 per each tenant. If the amount does not exceed Rs. 500, the applicant must deposit the whole amount in advance. If it exceeds Rs. 500, the applicant shall deposit the sum of Rs. 500, and shall give such security as the Collector may require for the balance. The applicant shall, when called upon from time to time, deposit such further sum as may be necessary for carrying on the operations. On completion of the proceedings, any unexpended balance shall be refunded to the applicant.

45. In conducting the operations, the Revenue officer shall proceed in accordance with the rules for the guidance of officers acting under orders made under section 101.

NOTIFICATION—No. 2580J.

The 15th May 1894.—The following draft notification of a rule which it is proposed to make under section 7 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby. Notice is hereby given that the draft will be taken into consideration after the expiry of one month from the date of this notification, together with any objections or suggestions with respect thereto received during that period.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 7 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, in substitution of No. 27 of the rules published in notification dated the 9th July 1887, at page 620, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 13th July 1887, to make the following rule:—

The officers herein undermentioned are authorised, within the areas respectively specified below—

(a) to enter, inspect and examine any place, carriage or vessel in which an explosive is being manufactured, possessed, used, sold, transported, or imported under a license granted under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, or in which they have reason to believe that an explosive has been or is being manufactured, possessed, used, sold, transported or imported in contravention of that Act, or of the rules made under that Act;

(b) to search for explosives therein;

(c) to take samples of any explosive found therein, on payment of the value thereof; and

(d) at their discretion to seize, detain, remove, and, if necessary for the public safety, destroy any explosive found therein, in respect of which there may be reason to believe that the provisions of the said Act or of the rules made under the said Act have been contravened.

CALCUTTA REGISTRY OFFICE, the 28th February 1894. PRATAPACHANDRA GHOSHA, Registrar.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in and subject to the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Burdwan, will be put up to sale at the Burdwan Collectorate on the 27th June 1894, corresponding with the 14th Asar 1301 B. S.

Bidders will be bound by the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estates will be sold to the highest bidder, provided his bid reaches the upset price fixed by the Collector. The purchasers of these estates will be considered the proprietors of the estates, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to them as revenue-free or subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity, as indicated in the statement below.

2nd.—The sale will be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers will be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount shall be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid shall be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale will be cancelled, (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government,) and the estate again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

THE following rates and charges for shipping wheat and seeds and coal through the Kidderpore Docks, and for the hire of Cranes at the Docks, framed by the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta under section 106 of Act III (B.C.) of 1890, and approved by the Local Government, are published for general information under the provisions of section 107 of Act III (B.C.) of 1890.

By order of the Commissioners,

R. A. DONNITHORNE, Secretary.

The 15th May 1894.

KIDDERPORE DOCKS.

Rates for shipping Wheat and Seeds.

1. The shipping rate to be 8 annas a ton of 20 cwt., whether brought direct to the Docks by railway or cart, or delivered into the Commissioners' wagons at any of the stations on their Tramway.

2. The same rate of 8 annas a ton will be charged for cargo put into boats or flats at the Docks for shipment in the stream.

3. An extra rate of 3 annas for removal from one shed to another, or from the Docks for shipment at the Jetties.

4. The shipping rate of 8 annas a ton will be charged for goods brought into the Docks by boats or flats, stored in the sheds and re-shipped in a vessel lying alongside the Dock quay.

5. Boats and flats will be allowed to go alongside and discharge free of charge into a vessel lying in the Docks.

6. Shippers will be allowed 14 days shed accommodation rent free, counting from midnight of the date of arrival in shed until shipped; after the 14 days the goods will be liable to shed rent at the rate of 8 annas a ton a month.

7. Any shipper guaranteeing shipments of his own during the season up to 31st July on a minimum of 15,000 tons, not including any shipment made under rule 5, a shed will be assigned for his special use for which no rent will be charged, but the shipper must take full responsibility of the goods after they have been tallied and stored in the sheds allotted to him by the Port Commissioners, who will then supply labour only for shipping, the shipper tallying into the ship or steamer and obtaining mate's receipt.

8. To such shippers, if the minimum quantity of 15,000 tons is reached, a rebate of two annas per ton will be refunded on all wheat and seeds shipped by them through the Docks within the season ending 31st July.

Rates for shipping coal.

1. Coal sent down to the Docks by rail will be shipped direct from the wagons for a charge of eight annas a ton including trimming in the ship's hold.

2. The Commissioners guarantee shippers against liability for wagon demurrage, but when coal arrives before the ship is ready to receive it, and it has to be stacked in order to release the wagons, an additional charge of two annas a ton will be levied from the shipper.

3. The Commissioners guarantee to ship coal as fast as it is sent down up to a maximum of 250 tons a hatch between 6 A.M. and 6 P.M., to be reduced by 50 tons for each intermediate deck in the vessel

Subject to the above conditions, the Commissioners will be responsible for demurrage of the vessel.

4. At the request of the shipper, night work will be undertaken, an additional rate of one anna a ton being charged. The guaranted minimum for each hatch for a night's work to be half of that given above for a day.

5. Any coal shut out not exceeding 200 tons will be stacked and shipped by the next vessel under charter to the coal company at whatever berth she may load for an extra charge of two annas a ton.

Rates for hire of cranage.

1. It is optional with a vessel whether she uses her own or the Commissioners' cranes. If she uses the latter, the charges will be as follows :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For each 35 cwt. crane per day or per night	5	0	0
„ 35 „ per ½ day or per ½ night	2	8	0
„ 5 ton crane per day or per night	10	0	0
„ 5 „ per ½ day or per ½ night	5	0	0

2. Day to be from 6 A.M. to 6 P.M. Half day to be from 6 A.M. to noon or noon to 6 P.M. Night to be from 6 P.M. to 6 A.M. Half night to be from 6 P.M. to midnight, or from midnight to 6 A.M.

3. Any part of a day or night less than a half will be charged as a half day or night.

4. On a ship applying for cranes, if they are supplied, payment must be made for at least half a day, whether they are used or not.

5. Should the application have been for the first half only of a day, and the crane be required for a longer time, another application must be made through the Shed Officer at least one hour before the expiration of the first half of the day.

6. Application for cranes required for the whole or half of the following day to be made by 4 P.M. to the Shed Officer.

7. If required during the day, application to be made to the Shed Officer.

8. Applications for cranes at night, whole or half, to be made to the Shed Officer before 4 P.M.

9. Should cranes for which application has been made for the whole day or night not be required for more than the first half day or night, written notice must be given to the Shed Officer at least one hour previous to the end of the half day or night, or full day or night will be charged for.

10. Should cranes for which application has been made for half night only be required for the whole night, application to be made at least two hours before the end of the half night to the Shed Officer.

11. All applications for cranes to be in regular book forms with counterfoils, and to be signed by the ship's officer on duty, showing number of cranes required, from what time, and for how long.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

The following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 19th March, 1894, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 14th April, 1894, is hereby published for general information:—

ACT No. III OF 1894.

An Act to give effect to an agreement made between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to sanction and give effect to a memorandum of agreement made the second day of September, 1893, between the Corporation of Calcutta of the one part and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, of the other part, a copy whereof is set forth in the schedule to this Act; and whereas without the authority of the Legislature the said memorandum of agreement would be of no effect; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1894, and it shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor General.

The agreement declared valid.

2. The memorandum of agreement, a copy whereof is set forth in the schedule of this Act, is hereby authorised, sanctioned and declared valid and binding upon the Corporation of Calcutta and upon the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, and its assignees.

SCHEDULE.

(Referred to in section 2.)

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this second day of September 1893 BETWEEN THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA incorporated under Act II of 1888 of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council hereinafter called "the Corporation" of the one part and THE CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS COMPANY LIMITED a Company incorporated under the English Companies Acts having its Registered Office in England hereinafter called "the Company" of the other part WHEREAS the Corporation are the successors of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta the parties of the first part to the annexed articles of agreement dated the 2nd day of October 1879 and the Company is the assignee of the rights and liabilities under the said articles of agreement of Dillwya Parrish Alfred Parrish and Robinson Souttar the parties thereto of the other part AND WHEREAS under and by virtue of the 17th Clause of the said articles of agreement the present rent payable by the Company to the Corporation is calculated at the rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line AND WHEREAS the said articles of agreement do not contain any express provision prohibiting the Company after the opening of any Tramway from discontinuing the working of such Tramway AND WHEREAS the parties hereto have deemed it expedient and have mutually agreed subject to the sanction and authorization of their said agreement by an Act of the Bengal Legislature that the said articles of agreement should be varied or modified to the extent and in the manner hereinafter appearing NOW these PRESENTS WITNESS that subject to these presents being sanctioned and authorized by an Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council to be hereafter passed for the purpose and in consideration of the said mutual agreement and of the covenants hereinafter contained and on the part of the Corporation and of the Company respectively to be observed and performed the Corporation do hereby covenant with the Company and its assigns and the Company for itself and its assigns doth hereby covenant with Corporation in manner following that is to say—

1. Subject as next hereinafter provided the rent payable by the Company to the Corporation from the 1st January 1894 to the 31st December 1900 being the end of the 21st year referred to in the said 17th clause of the said articles of agreement shall be calculated and paid at the present rate namely at the rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line anything in the said articles of agreement to the contrary notwithstanding. Provided nevertheless that a remission of fifteen thousand rupees a year shall be granted for five years with effect from 1894 subject to the condition that the dividends declared by the Company do not exceed three and-a-half per cent. per annum during that period.

2. The Company shall not during the period from 1st January 1894 to 31st December 1900 without the previous sanction of the Corporation discontinue the working of any of its tramways which now or hereafter may be opened for traffic.

AUSTRALIA—NORTH COAST—TORRES STRAIT, WESTERN APPROACH.

Search for reported rocks southward of Bramble patch.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 72, dated 20th March 1893, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 142 of 1894) that a close but unsuccessful search has been made by Lieutenant and Commander Heming, H.M. Surveying vessel Paluma, for the rocks reported to exist in (1) lat. 10° 32¾′ S., long. 141° 35¼′ E., (2) lat. 10° 37¾′ S., long 141°34¼′ E.

Whilst it is impossible to say positively that these reported rocks do not exist in the area examined, which extends for four miles each side of the positions given by the pearl-shell divers, it appears highly probable that (1) the northern of the two is identical with the West Bramble patch, on which the Paluma found a depth of 17 feet; see Notice to Mariners No. 97 of 1894. This has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.

With reference to (2), the southern of the two reported rocks, it is considered advisable at present to retain this on the Admiralty Charts, although the vagueness of the position given by the pearl-shell divers is so great as to render it possible that this also may be identical with the 17 feet found by the Paluma; or may on the other hand be to the south of the area examined.

Amended position of Matty island, and non-existence of Tiger island.

THE following Notice to Mariners, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 146 of 1894), is republished:—

Information has been received through the German Government that Captain Dallman reports that Tiger Island, marked on Admiralty charts in lat. 1° 45′ S., long. 142° 19′ E., does not exist, but is probably identical with Matty island, the correct position of which is lat. 1° 45′ S., long. 142° 47′ E., or 9 miles west of the position given on the Admiralty Charts.

Matty island is said to be 6 miles square, and to be thickly populated with a fine race of a light colour, unacquainted with the use of iron. The island is low and densely wooded.

Positions of Bernodet and Solitary islands and Salamanca rocks.

NOTICE to Mariners, No. 163 of 1894, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

With reference to Notices to Mariners, Nos. 29 of 1881 and 121 of 1891:—

Further information has been received from Mr. Greenstreet, commanding the steamer Rimutaka, that on 13th December 1893, when passing south of Kerguelen island, he sighted Mingan or Round island, which he estimated to be 300 feet high.

The Bernodet (Tromarec) islands were observed to be south (true) of Round island, or in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 55′ E.; or very nearly in the position assigned to them by Mr. Robson, commanding the Talavera, in 1891, who placed them in lat. 50° 1′ S., long. 68° 49′ E.

In consequence of these reports Bernodet islands are now placed on the Admiralty Charts in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 52′ E.

Mr. Greenstreet also sighted the Salamanca rocks, originally reported by Mr. Robson of the Salamanca in 1880, who placed them in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 69° 30′ E., but Mr. Greenstreet places them in lat. 49° 55½′ S., long. 69° 32′ E.

The probable position of these rocks is lat. 49° 58′ S., long. 69° 31′ E., and they are now so shown on the Admiralty Charts.

Solitary island was also stated by the Commander of the Talavera to be 10 miles south of its charted position in 1891, or in lat. 50° 0′ S., long. 68° 35′ E., which has been accepted for the Admiralty Charts.

COMPENSATION ALLOWANCE TO NON-DOMICILED EUROPEANS AND EURASIANS.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied as follows to the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE'S question regarding compensation allowance to non-domiciled Europeans and Eurasians, asked at the meeting of the 31st March last:—

"The number of non-domiciled European and Eurasian servants of the Government on the Bengal establishment who draw compensation allowance is 520. There is nothing in the records of Government to show how many of these are Europeans and how many Eurasians.

"The Lieutenant-Governor does not believe that there are any non-domiciled European and Eurasian employés appointed since 1879 whose appointments required the sanction of the Governor General in Council and have not received it. It is the duty of the Accountant-General of Bengal to draw attention to such cases should they occur through oversight, and the Lieutenant-Governor has received no application to this effect from him.

"The third part of the question is answered by what has just been said. As far as the Lieutenant-Governor knows, there are in Bengal no officers of the class indicated."

BENGAL MUNICIPAL ACT, III OF 1884, AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON moved that the clauses of the Bill to amend Bengal Act III of 1884, as amended by the enlarged Select Committee, be further considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON also moved that in section 7 of the Bill, after the words and figures "in section 15" the following be inserted:—

"After the word 'election', at the end of the first sentence, the words 'and the authority who shall decide disputes thereunder' shall be inserted."

He said:—

"The necessity for this amendment has been explained by a confidential memorandum, which was circulated at the beginning of this week, and it is therefore unnecessary for me to detain the Council now at any length. The object of the amendment is simply to obtain greater administrative convenience. I have already pointed out in the memorandum referred to that, under section 15 of the Act, power is given to Government to make rules as to the manner in which municipal elections shall be conducted, but nothing is said as to the authority by whom election petitions or disputes arising therefrom may be decided. Since the late general elections which have taken place all over the Province, many applications have been received both by Government and by Commissioners of Divisions, asking that certain election proceedings may be set aside, but hitherto the policy of the Government, based upon the present state of the law, has been to decline to interfere, and to refer the parties to the Civil Courts. It is now suggested that an alternative and more summary procedure should be adopted, that Government should take power to decide these disputes summarily when moved to do so, and that with this object the Government should be empowered to appoint the Magistrate or such other person as they think proper to consider such petitions. It is not the intention of the Government to interfere with such jurisdiction as the Civil Court now may possess in regard to such matters, and apparently if any party is dissatisfied with the finding of the local officer, it will always be open to him to seek his fortune in the Civil Court. I trust that after this explanation the amendment may be passed without dissent."

The Motion was carried nem con.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"Before calling upon the Hon'ble MR. GHOSE to move the next amendment which stands in his name, I wish to observe that at this stage of the proceedings of the Council, we ought not to admit any new contentious matter, and if any hon'ble member objects to any amendment which may be proposed, it should be withdrawn without discussion."

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIER said :—"I object to the following amendment, of which the Hon'ble MR. GHOSE has given notice, as it is not only unnecessary, but at variance with the Act:—

"That in section 55 of the Bill, at the end of section 210, the following proviso be added :—

'Provided that any person aggrieved by an order under this section may appeal to the Commissioners within seven days of the service of the notice upon him, and such appeal shall be dealt with in the manner prescribed by section 242A.'"

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—"The objection will be considered when the amendment to which it relates is before the meeting."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE moved that the following proviso be added to section 15 of the Act:—

"Provided that nothing contained in this section, nor in any rules made under the authority of this Act, shall be deemed to affect the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts."

He said:—

"I do not apprehend that my hon'ble friend, the member in charge of the Bill, will find any difficulty in accepting this amendment, for I find that in the confidential memorandum, to which the hon'ble member referred, he said :—

'I am to disavow in the plainest terms all intention of interfering with any jurisdiction that the Civil Courts now possess. The design of the proposal is to provide for those who desire it a simple summary method of having their disputes settled, any person dissatisfied with the orders so passed being still at liberty to try his fortune thereafter in the Civil Courts.'

"This is also to be gathered from the speech which the hon'ble member has just made in proposing the amendment which has been accepted by the Council.

"My amendment seeks to give effect to the intentions of the Government, so that it may not be possible for any ingenious lawyer to create any doubt with regard to the intention of the Legislature. With these observations I submit my amendment to the Council, and I trust that the Government will see its way to accept it."

The Hon'ble MR. LYALL said:—"Will the Legal Remembrancer say whether there is any necessity for this amendment? No attempt is being made to bar the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"The meaning of this amendment is that this Bill shall not give a right to the Civil Court, if such right does not previously exist. I think, therefore, that the amendment has been carefully worded, so as to give no offence."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I will ask the Hon'ble MR. GHOSE to withdraw the following amendment, to which objection has already been taken by the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER:—

"That in section 55 of the Bill, at the end of section 210, the following proviso be added:—

'Provided that any person aggrieved by an order under this section may appeal to the Commissioners within seven days of the service of the notice upon him, and such appeal shall be dealt with in the manner prescribed by section 242A.'"

The amendment was accordingly withdrawn.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said :—"I have been in communication with the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, and I understand that he has renumbered the sections relating to the building regulations, and the learned Advocate-General is of opinion that, having regard to the renumbering of the sections, the effect will be to keep the building regulations intact in those municipalities into which the whole of these regulations have been introduced. I was anxious that none of those municipalities should have the opportunity of resiling from the position which they have taken up in this matter, and which represents a step in advance in sanitation. On the understanding that the effect of the renumbering of the sections is to keep intact the building regulations in municipalities, to which the whole of these regulations have been extended, I beg leave to withdraw the following amendment which stands in my name:—

"That in section 64 of the Bill, after sub-section (4) of section 237, the following proviso be added:—

'Provided that in the municipalities to which sections 237, 238 and 239 of Act III of 1884, have already been extended, so much of this section shall be deemed to be in force as may correspond with the provisions of those sections.'"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"By direction of the President the discussion of the above amendment was postponed at the last meeting in order that the question might be discussed informally by a sub-committee of the Council.

"It occurred to me during the discussion, and the Hon'ble MR. ALLEN has independently made the same proposal, that the difficulty may be most easily got over by re-arranging the new sections and following as closely as possible the numbering and order of the sections as they stand at present in the Act.

"Section 237 in the Bill, which is entirely new, was put first on account of its advanced character, but it can easily come in last. I have in the paper just laid before all hon'ble members re-arranged the numbering, and it will be found that the correspondence is now very close. I have also made some necessary verbal alterations.

"Taking the new numbering it appears that section 237 as it will now stand will include old sections 237, 238 and 239. The only change is (a) that 'six weeks' is substituted for 'fourteen days' as the period within which sanction is to be given or refused, and (b) that 'compensation may be given in consequence of any prohibition,' &c. Both these changes are in the direction of further leniency and cannot be objected to by the rate-payers.

"Then section 238 (new style) embraces old sections 241 and 240. Here again six weeks take the place of fourteen days; that is the only difference.

"I propose to make a new section (239) out of the clause dealing with the period for which sanction is to hold good.

"New section 240 is a definition section, and new section 241, formerly 237, is intended for the advanced municipalities only, and it is specially provided by sub-section (4) that it shall not be extended to any municipality unless specially applied for.

"All the sections in the Act (237-241) hang together, and so do sections 237-240 of the Bill as now re-arranged. The aggregate of the provisions of the two groups is exactly the same except—

(a) that six weeks have been substituted for fourteen days,
(b) that compensation is to be payable in certain cases, and (c) that sanction only lasts for one year.

"I feel sure that the mover of the amendment will now agree that his amendment may be withdrawn on the understanding that the order of the sections is re-arranged as above proposed.

"I stated in Council that there were only six municipalities* in Bengal in which there would be difficulty on the ground that these sections were extended to them in part only. I have now myself scrutinised the papers of these six municipalities, and find that as a fact it is only in two of them, viz., Ramjibanpur and Sassaram, that these sections are in force piecemeal. The cases of these two municipalities can easily be dealt with, and it can be explained to the Commissioners that they had better apply for a fresh extension of these sections.

* Jhalokati. | Bogra.
Kendrapara. | Ramjibanpur.
Mohespur. | Sassaram.

"The result is, that there can be no doubt except in two municipalities what sections are in force; in 38 all the building sections are in force, and in 109 none of them. This takes away all doubt and uncertainty. I have already shown that the changes are infinitesimal, and that such as there are make for leniency, and I hope that on this explanation the Council will agree that the amendment has been properly withdrawn."

The amendment was accordingly withdrawn.

The Hon'ble MR. WOMACK moved that the following be added after clause (z) of section 238:—

"Provided that no rule under section 241, and no legal order shall be held to have been contravened by anything done in accordance with plans and specifications forwarded to the Commissioners under section 237, and not objected to by them."

He said:—

"This amendment embodies in terms which have been come to between the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill and myself since the last meeting of the Council the principle which Your Honour was good enough to accept at that meeting, and I trust it will meet with the approval of the Council. The proviso, I expect, will remain more or less a dead-letter, but it will have the effect of ensuring on the part of building committees a stricter examination of plans submitted to them for sanction, and may under certain circumstances prevent injustice being done; as therefore it will on the whole work for good, I hope the Council will see fit to accept the amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"I have only one word to say, and that is, that the reference to sections contained in the proviso it is proposed by this amendment to add will have to be corrected, with reference to the renumbering which has already taken place in the numbers of the sections relating to the building regulations."

The Motion was carried nem con.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"In rising to propose four small amendments, it is necessary for me to explain that after the Council dispersed last Saturday, His Honour the President desired the Hon'ble MR. COLLIER, the Assistant Secretary and myself, to go through the Bill in order to make sure that it contained no grammatical or typographical errors We discovered several errors in punctuation and other grammatical errors, which were not worth being put before the Council, but the four amendments which have been printed on a separate piece of paper seem to require mention as being somewhat more important. I will first refer to section 40 of the latest version of the Bill, which amends section 98 of the Act. The section as it stands gives 'the Commissioners,' with the sanction of the Local Government, power to exempt from assessment any holding used for purposes of public charity. It occurred to the President that this important power should not be left to the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, who exercise all the powers of the Commissioners, but that it should be exercised by the Commissioners at a meeting. I conceive that there can be no objection to this proposal.

"The next section in regard to which an amendment has been prepared is section 43 of the Bill, which enacts a new section 111A. It will be in the recollection of hon'ble members that at the last meeting of Council the question was raised whether the powers given to the Assessor should or should not include the power of revision vested in the Commissioners by sections 113-115. I do not myself think that the question is open to doubt, but as a doubt has been raised, it seems better to remove it by enacting that the Assessor shall exercise all the powers of assessment vested in the Commissioners, except those under sections 113, 114 and 115. That makes the matter perfectly clear, and this amendment has already been incorporated in the Bill in anticipation of the sanction of the Council.

"The next amendment refers to section 72 of the Bill. This amendment refers to an oversight which has been brought to notice. Section 256A, which is enacted by section 72 of the Bill, says:—'Where notice is given of the intention to close any burial-ground under the last preceding section, private burial-places in such burial-grounds may be exempted from the notice, subject to such conditions as the Commissioners may impose in this behalf.' The privilege of having a private burial place exempted when the general cemetery in which it is included is closed is an important one, and it is conceivable that if the power to grant or withhold it were left in the hands of a Chairman or Vice-Chairman, serious complaints of injustice might sometimes arise. It is therefore proposed to insert the words 'at a meeting' after 'Commissioners,' so as to make the power exercisable only by the Commissioners as a body.

"The last of these amendments refers to section 78 of the Bill, which amends section 270 of the Act. It adds to section 270 the following clause:—'makes a roof or wall with grass, leaves, mats or other inflammable material in contravention of the provisions of section 236.' The proposed amendment inserts the words 'or repairs' after 'makes,' and substitutes 'of' for 'with', so that the clause will now run thus:—'makes or repairs a roof or wall with grass, leaves, mats, or other inflammable material in contravention of the provisions of section 236.' The object of the amendment is merely to make section 270 correspond with section 236.

"These are the small amendments which the Council are asked to accept, and as they are all, I think, obviously desirable, I trust that there may be no demur to any of them."

The Motions were carried nem con.

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"I beg to ask the permission of the President to move that in section 200, as amended by this Bill, option be given to the owners of private tanks or pools as regards all the three processes of re-excavating, filling up or cleansing them when such tanks or pools are declared by the Commissioners to be dangerous to health, or offensive to the neighbourhood. At the last meeting when this section was being discussed, I drew the attention of the Council to a passage in a letter from the Legislative Secretary to the Government of India to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department (No. 17, dated Calcutta, 5th January, 1893), in which the Government of India point out that the whole section requires reconsideration, particularly as to whether a mere occupier should be held liable at all, and whether the option between re-excavating, or filling up, or cleansing should not be left to the party concerned. I have had an opportunity of consulting the learned Advocate-General, who thinks that the best way of meeting the difficulty would be to add a proviso to the section in these words: 'whenever an order is made by the Commissioners under this section, it shall be at the option of the owner either to re-excavate, or to fill up with suitable material, or to cleanse, &c.' This is the amendment which I would wish, with the permission of the President and the Council, to move."

The Hon'ble MR. ALLEN said:—"I entirely oppose this amendment on the ground that it is very dangerous to allow this option, which may have the effect of entirely defeating the original purpose of this section."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I think it will be a very great error not to accept this amendment. Every one is at liberty to have a tank in his own compound, and if the tank requires cleansing, the owner or occupier may be called upon to do so. To impose upon him the burden of re-excavating it or filling it up with suitable material will, I think, be very hard. In cases, however, where it is absolutely necessary to re-excavate a tank or to fill it up, it should be done by the municipality at its own cost after acquiring the land; but when the Commissioners are not prepared to do so, they should give the option to the owner of doing one of these three things. That is the view of the Government of India, I understand, in the instructions which have been received from that Government."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"This is an amendment which was the subject of much consideration and discussion at a previous meeting of the Council, and having regard to the objection which has been taken by the Legal Remembrancer, I feel bound to stand by what I said at the commencement of this meeting that only non-contentious amendments should be passed. I therefore am obliged to say, under the ruling which I have laid down for the guidance of the Council, that I cannot put the amendment of the Hon'ble MR. GHOSE to the Council."

The Motion was accordingly not put to the Council.

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON said:—"It now becomes my duty to move that the Bill, as it has been settled in Council, be passed. The Bill has been for so long a time before the members and the public, that I feel no compulsion to say many words upon this occasion. I will only congratulate the Council that this Bill, which has been on the stocks for more than three years, which has grown from 53 sections to 99 sections, which adds 37 new sections to the existing Act, and which has taken up a very large portion of the time of the Council during the present Session, is now approaching completion. It is idle to hope that a Bill of this kind will please all parties, or any one party. It has from the first been a measure of compromise, but I think the Council may congratulate themselves that they lent a ready ear to reasonable representations, and that whatever has been worthy of consideration has been very carefully considered. Time alone will show what the effect of this enactment will be, but I, for my part, believe that the effect will be on the whole beneficial. I therefore move that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I feel that I cannot allow this motion to pass unchallenged. I cordially acknowledge that the Bill which is now before us, and which is about to pass, is a very different measure from the Bill which was introduced into this Council in July, 1892, and that it has been very considerably modified in deference to public opinion. But I state the bare truth when I say that the Bill, even as modified after the elaborate discussions which it evoked, does not contain a single concession to popular rights—that it does not contain a single provision which is calculated to broaden the institution of Local Self-Government, or to widen the sphere of rights and privileges already possessed by the local bodies. In this respect, it represents an unhappy departure from similar enactments in the past. Sir, I have had occasion to remark in this Council that the history of Municipal laws in Bengal is the history of progressive legislation. The Act of 1876 was a distinct improvement upon the earlier Act. The Act of 1884 was even a greater improvement upon the legislation of 1876. Can it be said that the Bill which is before us will be an improvement upon the Act of 1884, so far as the principle of Local Self-Government is concerned? It will promote administrative convenience; it will strengthen the interests of sanitation in the mufassal; it will perhaps place municipal taxation upon a sounder basis, but it will weaken the principle which lies at the root of the system of Local Self-Government, and which has been happily described by a great authority as the government of the people by the people and for the people in regard to their local concerns. I gratefully admit that concessions have been made, but not in regard to crucial questions, save and except in the matter of sanitation, where the principle of local option has been allowed to supersede the principle of coercion. Where the Executive officers of Government are sympathetic and kindly disposed, I apprehend no difficulty: the municipalities will work smoothly enough. But where the officers are differently disposed, where they are the reverse of being sympathetic, friction will arise and the municipalities will not work satisfactorily. It seems to me to be a matter of infinite regret that advantage should not have been taken of this opportunity to place our municipal institutions upon a satisfactory footing—to relieve them of the risks of personal likes and dislikes—to reduce to a minimum the element of personal government, and to ensure the future success of municipal self-government upon the basis of well-recognised rules which would make our municipalities independent of the influence of personal idiosyncracies."

The Hon'ble MR. GHOSE said:—"I regret that my hon'ble friend, the member for the Corporation, has thought it his duty to challenge the last motion in connection with this Bill. I agree with him in thinking that there are matters as to which the Bill is susceptible of improvement, but I cannot forget that legislation by a Legislature constituted even as this Council is must be to a certain extent a matter of compromise. I cannot agree with my hon'ble friend when he says that no concession has been made to public opinion, nor is it consistent with his own admission that the amended Bill scarcely bears any resemblance to the Bill as originally referred to the enlarged Select Committee. I cannot forget that many concessions have been made and many a compromise arrived at out of deference to public opinion, and in consideration of the objections made in the Select Committee and in this Council. We have moved our amendments and made our protests whenever we considered that any section of the Bill was legitimately open to criticism or protest. Some of our amendments have been carried, some have been accepted with modifications, while others have been lost. I regret quite as much as my hon'ble friend that all our amendments were not successful. But having already recorded our protest against those sections of the Bill which seemed objectionable to us, I do not conceive it to be my duty to oppose the Bill as a whole including all our own amendments, and although it contains some provisions that are positive improvements upon the existing law. Therefore I do think it is an unwise proceeding on the part of my hon'ble friend to oppose the passing of the Bill, merely because certain amendments which were moved by the hon'ble member or by myself, or by other hon'ble members with whom we have the pleasure of acting in concert, were not carried. Under these circumstances, I think it is our duty at this stage of the Bill not to offer an uncompromising opposition, such as I understand my hon'ble friend to offer, but having made our protest in respect of the several amendments standing in our name, which have been rejected, now to accept the decision of the Council and let the Bill pass."

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON in reply said:—"The hon'ble member who opposed my motion opposed it, I understand, on general grounds, and he did not pause to say against what particular measure or part of the Bill his objections were strongest. However, anticipating that there would perhaps be some objection at the last moment to the passing of the Bill, I have been at the pains to jot down a few notes to show how far an allegation, if made, that the measure was retrograde and hostile to Local Self-Government, would be borne out by the facts.

"The sections of the Bill naturally divide themselves into three groups, viz., (a) those which deal with large questions of principle; (b) those which make administrative changes of a lesser character; and (c) those which are merely corrective, which repair omissions, give effect to the decisions of the Law Courts, recast the wording of old sections, and repeal those which are no longer necessary. The latter is, of course, far the larger group. It has constantly been asserted—and the latest assertion appears in the Amrita Bazar Patrika of two days ago—that the Bill represents a determined and long-sustained attack upon the principle of Local Self-Government and the powers of Municipal Commissioners. Nothing could be further from the truth, for the powers of the Commissioners have been greatly increased in very many ways, while they have been curtailed in one or two respects only.

"The administrative changes involving no particular loss or gain of power to either the Government or the party which calls itself the party of Local Self-Government are these:—First, the introduction of the drainage and water-supply sections (Bill section 23), which are so carefully balanced as to give to Government and governed equal powers; and, secondly, the extension of the franchise as provided for in section 7 of the Bill.

"The matters on which Government, on behalf of the rate-payers or for the better administration of the country, has felt itself obliged to intervene are few in number, and each is carefully safeguarded. First comes the power taken in sections 4 and 5 of the Bill to disestablish a municipality, or to alter its boundaries when it no longer fulfils the conditions which originally justified its creation; then follow the power to appoint Commissioners ex-officio, a small matter of administrative convenience (section 8), the delegation to Commissioners of Divisions of certain of the smaller powers of Government (section 21); the appointment of a special Auditor when the accounts are in confusion (section 33); and, lastly, the power to appoint an Assessor when it has been proved that the affairs of the municipality require it, and when the Commissioners will not move of themselves (section 43).

"On the other hand, the powers and responsibilities of the Commissioners have been advanced in many ways. They will now be able to order a survey (section 66) and to organise a fire-brigade (section 92). Their financial powers are increased by the provision that the Commissioners shall not finally pass orders on their Budgets till they have had an opportunity of replying to his criticisms (section 32), and their income may be considerably developed in several ways, i.e., the maximum of the water-rate is increased to 7½ instead of 6 per cent. (sections 35 and 81). They may levy in the same municipality both the tax on persons and the rate on holdings (section 34); arable lands may now be assessed where the personal tax is in force (section 36); property in their temporary possession may be turned to pecuniary advantage (section 57); licenses may be issued at burning-ghats and burial-grounds (section 73), and the latrine rate may be levied from vacant holdings (section 88). Not less important are the larger powers of administrative control now confided to Municipal Commissioners. They may control the water-supply where its purity is suspected, even when private rights are affected (sections 56-57); they will exercise larger powers over ruined and dangerous houses, walls and trees (sections 58 to 60). Their powers in regard to building regulations may be greatly increased at their option (section 68),, and they have been enabled to frame wider bye-laws and to enact rules of business for their own guidance (sections 93 and 96).

"Surely, Sir, these numerous and important provisions refute the allegation that this is a narrow and retrograde Government measure aimed at the development of Local Self-Government, and corroborate my assertion that it is on the contrary a carefully-considered and temperate enactment, dealing with acknowledged wants and difficulties, and framed to facilitate and improve, not to embarrass and restrict, Municipal Government in these Provinces."

The Motion being put, the Council divided:—

RESETTLEMENT OF LAND REVENUE AND AMENDMENT OF BENGAL TENANCY ACT, VIII OF 1885.

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND moved for leave to introduce a Bill to remove doubts which have arisen in connection with the resettlement of land revenue in temporarily-settled areas, and to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885. He said:—

"Mr. President, as I do not propose to offer any remarks at this stage, but will do so at a later stage if this motion is carried, I will now simply make the motion standing in my name."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND also applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business. He said:—

"I will say just one word in justification of this motion. The Local Government has only within the last nine or ten days received the permission of the Government of India to introduce this legislation, and it is very desirable that the Bill should be read in Council, and published before the end of this Session of the Council, so as to give time for consideration during the time the Council will be in recess. It is therefore my duty to ask Your Honour to suspend the Rules, to admit of the Bill being read in Council at once."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND introduced the Bill and also moved that it be read in Council. He said:—

"Mr. President, I have now, Sir, to make such observations as I have to offer, as regards the Bill in my hands. I ought to explain, first, the circumstances under which the necessity for legislation has arisen. The Council may be aware that very large settlements of land revenue are in progress in these Provinces, especially in Orissa and Chittagong. I may mention that Chittagong contains 1,000 square miles, and about 250,000 tenants; while Orissa contains something like 5,000 square miles, with 6,000 estates, and about one million tenants, whose rents have to be settled. It is obvious that the settlement of the rents of such an enormous number of people cannot be undertaken in a day or a month, or even within two or three years, the operations to be gone through being very considerable and requiring the greatest care. The land revenue settlement in Orissa and Chittagong, to which I have referred, will be falling in before very long; in Orissa, in September, 1897, and in Chittagong some of the earlier taluks in 1898, and the later taluks in subsequent years. The settlement of land revenue, as every one in this room probably knows, depends upon the settlement of rents. It becomes therefore necessary in dealing with such an enormous number of people to undertake the settlement of rents at a reasonable time beforehand—in such time that they may be all completed and the records all written, so that the new rents and the new land revenue may come into force together on the expiration of the current land revenue settlement. While these proceedings have been in progress in the two areas I have mentioned, a question has been raised by the officers concerned as to the date on which the settlement of rents may be legally taken in hand.

"Questions of this sort have to be decided according to law, and the question was naturally referred to the legal advisers of the Government, namely, my hon'ble friends the Legal Remembrancer and the Advocate-General. The Legal Remembrancer gave an opinion to the effect that, although all preliminary enquiries may be taken in hand whenever convenient, the earliest period when any raiyat can be called upon to consider the table of proposed rents, and acquiesce in or object to the rent entered against him is during the currency of the last year of the existing settlement. The Advocate-General said that no measures can be taken requiring tenants to appear and contest anything in the shape of rent, until after the expiration of the current settlement. The receipt of these opinions raised considerable difficulty, and I am not saying too much when I mention that a Conference was held with the legal advisers of the Government, and the Advocate-General to some extent modified his previous opinion, on it being pointed out to him what was considered by the Government to be the full force of the old Regulations VII of 1822 and IV of 1828, under which the land revenue settlements are being carried out. On his attention being drawn to those Regulations, that is, to certain portions of them, the Advocate-General expressed an opinion to the effect that when the term of engagement has been extended for one year beyond such term by six months' notice, immediately preceding the termination of such engagement, a revision of the settlement may be entered upon and commenced after this notice, and within the six months last mentioned, that is, resettlement is possible during six months before the expiry of the land revenue settlement. Obviously if all revenue resettlements could not be begun until six months previous to the expiry of the current settlement or until after the expiry of the settlement, it will be impossible to get all the work done, and to make the new rents and land revenue come into force on the expiry of the settlement.

"'But it is contended by the Government that it is perfectly reasonable that such increased revenue as may be acquired by the settlement should be obtained from the expiry of the previous settlement, and on consideration of the old Regulations and the North-Western Provinces Land Revenue Act, XIX of 1873, which was based on the old Regulations, it appeared to the Government that this was a reasonable view to adopt. When Act XIX of 1873 was passed for the land revenue settlement of the North-Western Provinces, it was then expressly declared in Council—I have my finger on the reference—that the Act then passed was merely a consolidation of the old Regulations, which I have enumerated. By this Act (XIX of 1873, sections 36-37) all that is necessary is, for Government to issue a notification to declare when a local area has been brought under settlement, and a local area shall be held to be under settlement from the date of such notification, and that notification immediately legalises all operations. But when we come to look at our own Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885, under which the rent settlement must be made simultaneously with the land revenue settlement, we come to an expression in section 101, clause 2 (d), read with section 104, clause 2, that rents must be settled by the Revenue Officer when the settlement of the revenue is being made in respect of a local area.

"The question thus arose, what is the meaning of the words 'land revenue settlement is being made.' It is to meet that difficulty that the legislation on which we are now embarking has been proposed. The Advocate-General holds that the words 'is being made' shall be read to mean 'is about to be made,' or 'is being revised.' He holds, as I understand him, that if such words as I have mentioned are introduced into the Tenancy Act, then it would be legal for such rent settlements to be made some time before the expiration of the current land revenue settlement. In other parts of India no difficulty has been raised with regard to the land revenue settlement and the simultaneous rent settlements being made before the expiration of the current settlement. And I believed it has happened in other parts of India that the Local Governments have received severe censure from the Supreme Government for not entering in time on the resettlement of an area or district, whereby considerable sums of money have been lost to the estate, and considerable rents to the landlords in such areas.

"I trust I have made myself clear that the Local Government is anxious to do in this matter what is reasonable in the public interests in regard to the land revenue. The objection which has been taken has been regarded by the Government as a somewhat technical one; but as it has been raised by the legal advisers of the Government, it is impossible to ignore it, and it is proposed to adopt the simple method proposed by the Advocate-General to make things clear. The result will be that when a settlement of land revenue is to be made or is being made in respect of a local area, then under section 101, clause 2 (d), and section 104, clause 2, it will be incumbent on the Settlement Officer to resettle the rents upon which the land revenue depends.

"These are the remarks I have to offer with regard to the general scope of the measure. I have in doing so practically run over the greater part of the first section of the Bill. All that it is proposed to do by the first section is to insert the words 'is to be or' after the word 'revenue' in section 101, clause 2 (d) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. My learned friend the Advocate-General has informed me since entering this Council Chamber that it is quite unnecessary to say anything about the omission of commas in the section which can be done without any mention of them in the Bill. This little point can easily be rectified hereafter.

"I turn now to the second section of the Bill, which practically follows as a necessary consequence of the previous portion of the Bill. By section 110 of the Tenancy Act, when any rent is settled under Chapter X, it is laid down that the settlement shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the final publication of the record. As I have said in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, the date of the agricultural year next after the final publication of the record will not necessarily be the same date as the commencement of the new revenue settlement. All that is meant by the first part of section 2 of the Bill is to provide that all fair and equitable rent settlements under section 104, clause 2, of the Tenancy Act, that is to say, rents settled when a land revenue settlement is in progress—not all rents settled under any part of section 104—shall take effect from the date from which the new revenue settlements come into force. I submit that this is a very obvious and reasonable provision, and I do not suppose there can be any serious objection to the first part of section 2.

"Then I come to the proviso of section 2, which is rather a long one, but comparatively simple. As I have intimated, it may be necessary to settle many of these rents at some considerable time before the current land revenue settlement expires, and the new settlement comes into force. It may, for instance, happen that in Orissa the settlement of rents may be going on now, whereas the land revenue settlement may not expire until September, 1897, and obviously a great many things may occur in the interval, such as a cyclone or flood or unexampled droughts, which may render it necessary and equitable to alter the rents settled some time previously. Therefore the proviso leaves it open either to the landlord or the tenant to apply on the ground of special circumstances having occurred to have the settlement of his rent revised. The proviso also goes on to make it competent for a Revenue Officer, if so directed by Government, to revise such rents without any application being made. It is quite possible that these words of the proviso may be challenged, because, as is well known, it is one of the important features of the Tenancy Act that the settlement of rents is a judicial proceeding, and this proviso may be challenged on the ground that the Local Government will be interfering to set aside the settlement of rents made by its officers. I wish to say here that there is no intention whatever on the part of the Government to interfere on a large scale, and the chances are very great that, if the Government does interfere of its own motion to get revised such rents as have been settled, they will do so rather in the direction of a reduction of rent than an enhancement. But it is desirable that the Government should have such power.

"It often happens that landlords or tenants who would have a perfect right to appeal within thirty days to the Special Judge do not appeal, either through apathy, or indifference, or ignorance of their legal rights, and they similarly might omit to apply for a review under the power which it is proposed to give them under this proviso. It is therefore considered very desirable for the Government to possess this power, though it will be exercised with very great discrimination, and probably very seldom. But when you have these settlements going on in such great dimensions as I have stated, rents being settled in many places in a district at the same time by officers, some of whom perhaps have not very great experience and are comparatively new to such work, it becomes necessary for the Government to have full power to supervise, and, if necessary, to revise the proceedings of its own officers. I know that there is power on the part of the Government to appeal to the Special Judge, but that right has to be exercised within thirty days, and practically, through want of adequate means of supervision, it becomes very difficult for the Government to exercise that right of appeal within the specified time. I think therefore that it is not unreasonable, and may be very desirable, for the Government to have this power in their own hands. It would be a monstrous thing if, for want of a power to get them reviewed, rents settled by subordinate officers which are either notoriously low or oppressively high should, on the lapse of the right of appeal, be unalterable, and the local area become excited and disturbed, and perhaps such riots occur as we have heard of lately in Assam. At any rate it is quite possible that circumstances may occur in which it may be desirable for the Government to interfere by way of review to put matters right before they become serious in any local area under settlement.

"There is at present a provision in the Tenancy Act which authorises the Government to order a special settlement in special cases, but that section (112) was framed for a state of things which might be held to be very serious. It was meant to take the place of the Agrarian Outrages Act of 1876, and was intended to be used as an extreme power for a state of circumstances of no ordinary character—cases where local disturbances have occurred or are likely to occur,—but the object of the words in the present proviso is to enable the Government to interfere at a much earlier stage to prevent any such scandal of either notoriously low rents or oppressively high rents being fixed, and such review, as I have said, would take place more probably in the direction of reduction than enhancement of rent.

"This power of review is, I am informed, in existence in other parts of India. In the North-Western Provinces and the Central Provinces, it is quite open to the Government to order a review of the assessment of revenue, possibly entailing a review of the rents that have been settled. The words which I propose to introduce are really only intended to extend to Bengal the principle which is in force in other provinces of India. Then the proviso goes on to say that the Revenue Officer or such officer as the Government shall select for the purpose shall take such application into consideration, and shall make such revisions of rent as may be fair and equitable, and make such corrections in the record as may appear necessary by such revision. The object of these words is merely to compel the Government officer to take action when applications have been made or he is directed to do so. The third section of the Bill is merely intended to give retrospective effect to the Bill, where the work of assessment has been already done. I think it is a very salutary provision, as it legalises any mistakes which have been made inadvertently under the reading of the law by the Executive Government, in regard to which certain objections have been raised by their legal advisers. It is merely a precautionary provision, and I think it an important one, which I commend to the Council.

"I think I have now exhausted all I had to say to commend this Bill to the notice of the Council. The intention is that the Bill should now be published in the Gazette, and later on, if there is an autumn session, or as may be otherwise thought fit, it will be necessary to appoint a Select Committee to deal with the Bill, and to take into consideration such opinions as may be offered by any persons who may wish to submit a report to the Council. It is not considered desirable to appoint a Select Committee now, as the Bill has only just been introduced, and the members of the Council are now dispersing. I will therefore, with Your Honour's permission, merely move that the Bill be now read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I propose to ask hon'ble members to meet again in July next, when we hope to carry on this little Bill, and if we have received by that time sufficient replies, we may be able to push forward the Sanitary Drainage Bill. I do not think there is any other business which will be taken up in the summer session, and possibly it may be too early to take up the Drainage Bill at that time."

The Council adjourned sine die.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES FOR APPOINTMENT AS DEPUTY MAGISTRATES-COLLECTORS AND SUB-DEPUTY COLLECTORS.

RESOLUTION—No. 131 A.D.

APPOINTMENT.

Dated Darjeeling, the 12th May 1894.

READ—

The Resolution of the 22nd May 1893, reviewing the result of the examination held in March of that year, and appointing candidates to be probationers in the Executive Branch of the Provincial and Subordinate Civil Service.

The notification of the 14th November 1893, publishing rules for the examination for admission to the Executive Branch of the Provincial and Subordinate Civil Service of 1894.

The reports of the Examiners at the examination held on the 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th March 1894.

In the rules for the examination for the Executive Branch of the Provincial Service held in March 1893, it was announced that seven candidates would be selected for Deputy Collectorships and seven for Sub-Deputy Collectorships. It was subsequently found possible, however, to raise the number of Probationary Deputy Collectors to be selected from among the candidates at that examination from 7 to 10 and the number of Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors from 7 to 14. These officers have all since been absorbed into officiating or substantive pro tempore appointments. At the same time, in order to avoid a block among the Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors, it was decided to select ten officers from the Sub-Deputy Collectors during the year to officiate as Deputy Collectors, the choice being made with reference to character, qualifications, standing in the service, and the result of the competitive and departmental examinations. As a matter of fact, no less than 16 Sub-Deputy Collectors have received promotion during the past year to the grade of Officiating Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector.

2. In November last it was notified, in the same way as had been done in the previous year, that at an examination to be held in March 1894, seven candidates would be selected for Probationary Deputy Collectorships on a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 a month, and seven for Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectorships on a subsistence allowance of Rs. 30 a month respectively. It was announced that four of the probationers for Deputy Collectorships would be appointed from the first four candidates on the list in order of merit, that three would be selected by the Lieutenant-Governor from amongst those who have obtained a minimum of one-third of the total marks, and that from the remainder of those qualified by obtaining one-third of the total marks, the Lieutenant-Governor would select seven more candidates as probationers for Sub-Deputy Collectorships.

3. The examination so notified was held on the 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th of March 1894. No fewer than 154 competitors obtained permission to compete, and of these 148 (of whom all except nine * were graduates) actually appeared and sent in papers. Of these 148 candidates, 125 took up Bengali as their vernacular, 20 took up Hindi or Hindustani, and 3 took up Uriya. It is a matter of regret that out of this large number of candidates there should have been only eleven Muhammadans, five Behari Hindus, and three Uriyas. No less than 136 of the candidates have obtained the minimum of one-third marks necessary for appointment into the Subordinate Executive Service by nomination.

* Of these nine, five failed to obtain one-third marks.

4. A consideration of the number of probable retirements and casualties during the current year, and of the number of vacancies which will be likely to be occasioned by the deputation of officers on settlement or other duty, has shown that it is reasonable to assume that there will be 17 vacancies in the grades of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors. Of this number, 7 will in due course be filled up by the appointment of candidates selected to be Probationary Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors at the result of the late examination, and the remaining 10 appointments will be filled up, as was done last year, by selection from among Sub-Deputy Collectors. Assuming that four ordinary vacancies will be created in the grade of Sub-Deputies during the year, this decision enables the Lieutenant-Governor to raise the number of officers to be appointed as Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors from among the candidates at the late examination from 7 to 14.

5. The following Sub-Deputy Collectors who passed 5th, 9th, 10th, and 18th respectively at the recent examination, will now be promoted to officiate at once as Deputy Collectors :—

Babu Charu Chandra Kumar, B.L.	Babu Rama Ballabh Misra, M.A.
„ Jadu Nath Chatterjea, M.A.	Maulvi Mohamed Habibar Rahman, B.A.

6. The following four gentlemen who stood first in order of merit are entitled to appointments as Probationary Deputy Collectors:—

	No. of marks.
Babu Atal Behary Bose, B.L.	509
„ Kumud Bandhu Das Gupta, B.A.	495
„ Upendra Mohun Sen Gupta, B.A.	483
„ Atul Chunder Dutt, M.A., B.L. (No. I, Roll No. 40) ...	467

7. The following three candidates have been selected by the Lieutenant-Governor for appointment as Probationary Deputy Collectors after careful consideration of the number of marks obtained, the claims upon Government of members of the candidate's family, the interests of the different classes of the community, and the requirements of the public service:—

Babu Harbans Sahay, B.A.	Maulvi Aminul Islam, B.A.

Mr. R. A. Stephen.

8. All these probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 per mensem, and if the report from the districts in which they are stationed is favourable, they will, after such period of probation as may seem advisable, be appointed to be Officiating Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. They will not ordinarily be vested with magisterial powers until they are so appointed. Separate orders will now be passed posting all the gentlemen above named to districts.

9. The following are the 14 candidates selected by the Lieutenant-Governor from among those who have obtained one-third marks to be Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors:—

Babu Sarat Chunder Mukherjee, B.A.	Babu Bijoy Kumar Ganguli, B.A.
„ Syama Charan Sen, B.A.	„ Hemanto Kumar Moitro, B.L.
„ Annada Churn Guha, M.A., B.L.	Maulvi Atzalur Rahman, B.A.
„ Revati Mohun Chuckerbutty, B.A.	Babu Ajoy Chunder Das, B.A.
„ Monmohan Chatterjee, B.A.	Mr. C. H. J. Craven.

10. These probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs 30 per mensem at present, and will, if they are satisfactorily reported on, be gradually absorbed in the fourth grade of Sub-Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. Separate orders will at once be passed posting them to districts.

ORDER—Ordered that the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORT OF THE CHEMICAL EXAMINER TO GOVERNMENT FOR THE YEAR 1893.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 10th May, 1894.

RESOLUTION—No. 2195Medl.

READ—

A letter from the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, No. 2761, dated the 21st March 1894, forwarding the report of the Chemical Examiner to Government for the year 1893.

Read also—

The Report for 1892 and the Resolution recorded on it.

The number of analyses performed during the year was 3,462 against 3,403 in 1892 and 3,063 in 1891. The following table compares the work done during the past two years:—

Medico-legal.

	1892.	1893.
Human viscera tested for poison	276	269
Portions of human body other than viscera (scrotal tissue, &c.)	...	3

Other departments	100	211
Total tested for purity and quality ...	1,658	1,841
GRAND TOTAL ...	3,403	3,462

2. There was an increase of 59 cases in the number of analyses performed during the year as compared with 1892, and of 399 cases as compared with 1891. The increase occurred chiefly under the heads "Potable water" and "Petroleum and inflammable oils," and in the number of articles tested for other departments. In addition to the analytical work, the Chemical Examiner had to report on ten technical questions and eight applications for leave to file specifications for patent processes.

3. The number of medico-legal cases fell off by 124, the decrease being mainly under the heads "Other substances suspected to be or to contain poison, including cattle poison," and "Articles tested for blood stains." Two hundred and sixty-nine human viscera and three human tissues other than viscera were examined for poison, against two hundred and seventy-six in the year before, and in 45·05 per cent. of these cases poison was found, against 45·65 in 1892 and 43·42 in 1891. Opium was the most common form of poison, and it was found in 26·1 of the cases, against 26 09 in the year before. The other principal poisons detected were arsenic and aconite. In 147 out of 272 human viscera and tissues other than viscera, and in 445 other cases of suspected substances out of 911 sent up for analysis, no poison was found. In 74·02 per cent. of the suspected cattle-poisoning cases in which animal viscera were sent up for examination, arsenic was discovered, against 79·59 in 1892.

4. It appears from Table No. VI given in the report that out of the 269 cases in which human viscera were sent for examination, death in forty-one cases was, in the opinion of the officers who conducted the post-mortem examination, due not to poison, but to the causes noted in the margin. In only four of these causes was any poison detected, and the Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to think that if a little more care and judgment had been exercised by the despatching officers in each case, it would have been found unnecessary to send the majority of them for examination, and much waste of labour would have been avoided.

Opinion as to cause of death.	No. of cases sent up.	No. of cases in which poison was found.
Abortion ...	16	Nil
Suffocation ...	4	2
Natural causes ...	15	2
Drowning ...	2	Nil
Strangulation ...	2	Nil
Hanging ...	1	Nil
Apoplexy ...	1	Nil
Total ...	41	4

5. The number of articles tested for purity and quality rose from 1,658 in 1892 to 1,841 during the year under review. The increase occurred in the number of samples of petroleum and potable water and of articles sent from other departments for analysis. Out of 198 samples of potable water examined, 103 were sent up by municipalities, 52 were from jails, and 43 from other departments, against 13, 69, and 67, respectively, in 1892.

6. In the Resolutions on the Chemical Examiner's Reports for 1891 and 1892, the Sanitary Commissioner was requested when inspecting a municipality to procure samples of the water in ordinary use and to send them to the Chemical Examiner for examination. He was also asked to authorise and enjoin the Civil Surgeon, whenever an epidemic or sickness occurs which might be attributed to the water of the locality, to send in samples of the water for analysis to the Chemical Examiner. These orders contributed to the increase in the number of samples of potable water examined. It having, however, been represented that the Chemical Examiner was unable to cope with the increased number of samples of water likely to be sent to him under these orders, and that some of them had had to be delayed for so long a time as to render them unfit for analysis, Chairmen of Municipalities and District Officers have since the close of the year been authorised to send from municipalities and rural areas specimens of the water required to be analysed to Mr. Norman Rudolf, who has established a Chemical Laboratory at Siwan in the district of Saran. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that these orders will relieve the Chemical Examiner of a good deal of his work in this direction.

7. The results of the analysis of the 198 samples of potable water examined during the year are set forth in a special table in the Chemical Examiner's report. The information which this table at present furnishes conveys but little information to the ordinary reader. Little is to be gained, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, by setting forth in the body of the report the analysis of every sample of water tested, and His Honour would prefer that in future the Chemical Examiner should classify them, showing in how many cases the water is pure, passable, objectionable, and dangerous to life. He might also select a few of the most signal instances for his special notice, and add some remarks showing his general conclusions on the result of the analyses conducted during the year. The detailed statement might be added in the form of an appendix.

8. The acknowledgments of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Evans for the full yet concise report that he has submitted, and for the good work done by him during the period he held charge of the office of Chemical Examiner. His Honour also records his approval of the efficient manner in which the Assistant Chemical Examiner, Rai Tara Prasanna Roy Bahadur, performed his duties during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. A. BOURDILLON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET ESTIMATES OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1894-95.

Rs.

Estimated balance on 1st April 1894 3,73,917

Receipts.

2. Part I.—Jetties.—The receipts are taken at Rs. 1,29,100 more than those of 1893-94. The increase is based on the actuals up to the end of January 1894.

3. Part II.—Inland Vessels, Wharves.—The receipts are taken at Rs. 9,400 over last year's estimate. The increase is based on actuals.

4. Part IV.—Port or Harbour Master's Department.—The receipts are taken at Rs. 65,103 over last year's estimate. Under "Mooring hire" there is an increase of Rs. 75,000, which has been based on the actuals for the ten months of 1893-94. The earnings of the steam-tug Hetty show an increase of Rs. 12,000, as the entire earnings of the vessel are now credited to the Port.

5. PART VI.—Tramway.—The earnings are estimated at Rs. 10,000 less than those of the previous year. The decrease is based on actuals.

6. PART VII.—Port Approaches.—The actual receipts from port dues from April 1893 to January 1894 amount to Rs. 3,00,038, or an average of Rs. 30,000 per month. The receipts for 1894-95, calculated on that average, have therefore been estimated at Rs. 3,60,000, being Rs. 1,15,000 less than that of the previous year.

7. PART VIII.—Kidderpore Docks.—The receipts are estimated as follows:—

	Rs.
Receipts from graving dock	1,00,000
„ „ import }	1,50,000
„ „ export }
Rent and miscellaneous	15,000
Proportion of receipts for towing vessels by hopper barges ...	5,100
Total ...	2,70,100

There is an estimated increase of Rs. 1,10,000 under the heads "Import" and "Export," and of Rs. 10,000 under the head "Rent and miscellaneous."

8 Special Toll.—The receipts from Special Toll for ten months from April 1893 to June 1894, amount to Rs. 6,46,384, and it is expected that the earnings for the remaining two months will come to Rs. 1,60,000. The receipts for 1894-95 have consequently been taken at Rs. 8,00,000. In future budgets the receipts from this source should be shown and commented on in a separate paragraph and not under the head "Kiddepore Docks."

EXPENDITURE.

9. PART I.—Jetties.—The estimated expenditure amounts to Rs. 10,43,539 against Rs. 9,74,914 of the previous year. The principal items under which there has been an increase are given in the following statement:—

Particulars.	Rs.
Repairs to jetties, sheds, tramway and compound ...	40,300	over last year's estimate.
Working expenses	30,613	ditto.
Renewals and improvements	30,000	ditto.

The increase under the head "Repairs to Jetties, &c.," is due to provision having been made for repairs to the sheds, which are very necessary for metalling the jetty yard, for renewing defective beams, planks, and girders in the jetties, and for improving the railway lines where they enter the south end of the jetty compound.

The increase under the head "Working expenses" is due principally to the additional cost of cooly labour consequent on increase of work at the jetties as anticipated from increased receipts.

The estimate under the head "Renewals and Improvements" has been increased with a view to meet the cost of the improvements that have become necessary in the Petroleum Wharf at Budge-Budge, of the repairs to the landing stages, and of the protection of the foreshore.

10. PART II.—Inland Vessels' Wharves.—Under this head there is an increase of Rs. 13,352 over the estimate sanctioned last year. This is principally due to an increased provision of Rs. 4,500 under the head "Salaries," of Rs. 7,200 on account of the necessary repairs of the wharves, and of Rs. 3,360 on account of the construction of a new chandney on the river side, in lieu of the one at the site of the old Nimtollah Bathing Ghat, which is to be closed.

11. PART IV.—Port Harbour Master's Department.—There is an increase of Rs. 25,612 under this head over the estimate of last year. Under the head "Renewal of block" there is an increase of Rs. 20,220, due to the maximum amount of contribution of Rs. 55,110 towards the Depreciation Fund having been budgetted for. This has been necessary, as the whole amount at credit of the Depreciation Fund, viz., Rs. 1,98,200, will be absorbed in meeting the cost of a new dredger. Under "Repairs to boats, vessels, &c." there is an increase of Rs. 6,000 mainly on account of the heave-up and hawser-boats being in need of very extensive repairs. Under "Working expenses" there is an increase of Rs. 5,520, due principally to increased provision having been made for coal and stores for the tug Hetty, which is no longer under the control of the Bridge Commissioners, but has been placed exclusively under the Port Commissioners. Under "Salaries" there is an increase of Rs. 11,664, as the cost of the establishment of the Hetty will now be charged solely to the Port Fund.

12. PART VI.—Tramway.—Under this head there is an increase of Rs. 16,999. This is due to increased provision on account of municipal taxes, salaries and working expenses.

13. PART VII—Port Approaches.—There is a decrease of Rs. 16,227 under this head as compared with last year's estimate. This is due almost entirely to the grant on account of repairs of vessels and boats being reduced from Rs. 43,000 to Rs. 25,000, which amount, it has been estimated, will be sufficient for ordinary repairs on account of wear and tear.

14. PART VIII.—Kidderpore Docks.—The expenditure under this head is estimated at Rs. 16,53,709 against Rs. 15,69,876, the estimate for last year. The increase is due principally to an additional provision of Rs. 43,774 having been made under "Working expenses": of Rs. 15,823 on account of "Interest on Dock loan," and of Rs. 19,427 on account of "Salaries of Traffic Establishment." Under the head "Interest on Dock loan," the amount estimated for is Rs. 11,50,832, being the annual interest on the full amount advanced by the Government, viz, Rs. 2,87,70,566, including the sum of Rs. 5,30,655 advanced by the Government to enable the Commissioners to pay the interest for the half-year ending 31st October 1892. The increase under the head "Salaries of Traffic Establishment" has been made to provide for the extra establishment which will be necessary in the case of there being work enough to produce the estimated receipts, but which will not be employed unless required.

15. Subject to the remarks contained in the foregoing paragraphs, the Lieutenant-Governor, in pursuance of the powers vested in him by section 71 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, approves the estimate of income and expenditure of the Commissioners for the year 1894-95.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. D. McARTHUR, Lieut.-Col., R. E.,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FOURTH QUARTER OF 1893-94.

No. 396B., dated Calcutta, the 8th May 1894.

From—N. K. Bose, Esq., Offg. Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L.P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

SALT.

E. V. WESTMACOTT, ESQ.

I AM directed by the Board of Revenue to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the fourth quarter of 1893-94, comprising the months of January, February and March 1894.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter under report amounted to 27,29,108 maunds, against 24,95,688 maunds in the previous quarter, and 24,22,398 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the net amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 63,17,446, against Rs. 58,03,459 in the previous quarter, and Rs. 56,82,664 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. In all cases fractions are omitted.

3. The quantity of excise salt removed from the golahs in Orissa during the quarter under review, and the quantity which remained in store at the close of the quarter, are shown in table I:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.
